

Vintner's Dinner

At the home of Fery Haghighi

A night you can sink your teeth into.

This year Russell Bevan is challenging Fery Haghighi to create a menu that can stand up to his monstrous red wines. There will be no quail or frogs legs, this year we are drinking big reds, the kind of wines that make alter boys nervous and give sous chefs the shakes. This year it is all about Russell, the foods he loves and the wines he makes. This meal is not for the faint of heart or high of cholesterol, if you plan on attending this dinner you had better start training soon. This will be the type of night your prom night should have been.

This dinner will take place on Friday, February 12th, 2010.

Russell Bevan is a wine expert in the Napa Valley. He is a 1988 Gonzaga Graduate and recently started his own winery "Bevan Cellars" in the Napa Valley.

Thank you to Ahmad & Fery Haghighi, Russell Bevan and Dean Barnes!
