Financial Assistance:
Financial assistance for students comes primarily from four sources: federal loans, graduate assistantships, scholarships, and private loans. Students interested in applying for a Graduate School of Business Scholarship and/or Graduate Assistantship should complete the appropriate application form which is available online. NOTE: Each form has specific deadlines.

Graduate School of Business Scholarships:
Graduate School of Business Scholarships provide financial assistance to students of high promise who demonstrate significant potential to benefit from graduate education. Students should refer to the application for specific requirements. Applications are due June 1st of each year, and students must be accepted by that time in order to be eligible.

Federal Loans:
- Federal Subsidized Stafford Loan
- Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan
- Federal Graduate PLUS Loan
- FAFSA Website: www.fafsa.ed.gov

Please refer to www.gonzaga.edu/financialaid for more information.

Private Loans:
Numerous banks offer private educational loan programs to further assist students and families with college expenses. All private educational loan programs are based on creditworthiness. Your lender may offer a type of private educational loan through their website that does not require school certification. Borrowing this type of private educational loan may have a serious negative impact on your existing financial aid package. Please contact your financial aid office before borrowing one of these loans. Please see www.elmselect.com for a list of lender options.

Graduate Assistantships for the School of Business:
Numerous students also receive Graduate Assistantships working for the School of Business: GAs receive $15 per hour and are required to work anywhere from 6-12 hours per week assisting a faculty or professional staff member. In order to be eligible for a GA, students must be registered for at least 6 credits during the semester in which the assistantship applies and have a US social security number. Applications for graduate assistantships are due with a current resume by July 1st for Fall semester, December 1st for Spring semester and April 1st for Summer semesters.
