Bringing enrichment to women leaders

Considering the massive worldwide women’s march in January, Gonzaga’s two all-day Women’s Leadership Conferences seem quite timely: March 18th Hemmingson Center, and May 19 in Seattle.

Staged by Professional Studies, “The programs are designed to re-engage alumni, and educate and empower women for professional and personal enrichment, and workplace advancement,” says Sherri Lynch, outreach and recruiting specialist in the School. “And these conferences are not just about women; they’re for men, too. We need their voices to help women’s voices to be heard.”

“Gonzaga alumnae have told us that what they really want is networking opportunities within our alumni base;” Lynch says. “Time is set aside in both conferences for that purpose. The weekend conference features an interactive presentation by Sara Jordan Bloch, Stanford University/Clayman Institute for Gender Research, on Unruly Double-Binds, and a panel discussion with Dr. Madonna Huder, ‘Iron Nun’ Kay LeClaire, oldest woman to successfully climb the 7 Summits; and Sandra Williams, activist, filmmaker and Sender of the Black Lens. Seattle’s conference features speakers Caroline Simard, senior research director at Clayman, GU Basketball Coach Lisa Fortier; and discussions focusing on emotional intelligence and embodying core leadership values.

Learn more: gonzaga.edu/womensleadership

Benefit Updates

 Talks: Employees covered under GU’s medical plan can now use Teladoc to speak with and get prescriptions from a U.S. board-certified doctor 24 hours a day, with a $25 copy.

 GU Living: Our new concierge service provides GU employees 24/7 free personalized reservations and referrals for everyday needs.

 Licenses: Employees and covered dependents on GU’s medical plan can use our new diabetic management program offering a state-of-the-art meter, coaching, lancets and test strips at no cost.

 ZAGFIT: Learn new ways to earn ZAGFIT points and new goals added to Tracker.

 To learn more visit http://benefits.gonzaga.edu

Upcoming Financial Seminars – 25 ZAGFIT Points

Register at gonzaga.edu/Training

Designing Your Financial Roadmap: March 30, noon-1 p.m., Hemmingson Auditorium

Social Security Seminar: April 4, 2:30-4 p.m., Hemmingson Ballroom

Within Reach: May 5, 8:30-11 a.m., Hemmingson Auditorium

Transitioning to Retirement: August 10, 8:30-11 a.m., Hemmingson Auditorium

Gaining Insights: December 5, noon-1 p.m., Hemmingson Auditorium

Continuing work toward our goals

1. Entering the second phase of “Gonzaga WiFi” – our capital campaign

2. Designing and beginning construction on the Center for Integrated Sciences and Engineering

3. Optimizing the University’s administrative structure for the greatest benefit to faculty and students

4. Reviewing & implementing cleaner compensation systems for both faculty and staff

5. Bolstering our institutional values and a work culture rooted in mission identity

6. Nurturing and developing the UW-GU partnership

7. Engaging faculty in dialogue around the future of higher education

8. Exploring non-tuition sources of revenue

9. Expanding campus engagement around ecological sustainability

10. Addressing issues of racial, ethnic and cultural diversity, equity and inclusion

We’re constantly involved in modeling: Our students pay attention to what we say, but also to what we do, and how we do it.

A steadfast belief in the democratic process depends on engaged citizens, he continued. “We have an opportunity – and responsibility – to engage young people who are consistently barraged with a message that being involved in civic life does not matter; that there are too many issues and participants for any one individual to have significant impact. These are questions that really matter. Will our students choose to become more, or less, engaged in democratic discourse and decision making? Amid difficult evening news and related conversations on campus, McCulloh reminds us of Ignatius’ instruction to his own community of brothers – that we assume the spirit possessed of hope: a belief in people and that institutions bring something in addition:

“For truth at all universities, but the Jesuit community of brothers – that we assume the spirit possessed of hope: a belief in people and that institutions bring something in addition:

“Amid difficult evening news and related conversations on campus, McCulloh reminds us of Ignatius’ instruction to his own community of brothers – that we assume the spirit possessed of hope: a belief in people and that institutions bring something in addition:”

The president encouraged colleagues to engage students in conversation, reminding them that our students pay attention to what we say, what we do and how we do it.

The president encouraged colleagues to engage students in conversation, reminding them that our students pay attention to what we say, what we do and how we do it.
At least 35 Gonzaga Alumni Chapters in 15 states and three countries will host a Gonzaga men’s basketball game-watch versus Saint Mary’s as part of the fifth annual Gonzaga Day festivities. Faculty and staff are invited to join 400 Spokane fans expected to watch this road game in the auditorium and on other screens throughout Hemmingson. Tipoff Feb. 11 is Moraga-Orinda at 5:03 p.m. on ESPN.

A 2 p.m. Zag women’s basketball game against the Gaels will feature a first-ever halftime performance by the GU Dance Team and Bomb Squad.

Fans will be given an update on Gonzaga Women’s Basketball: The Campaign for Our Future, as Zags all over the world unite to celebrate all things Gonzaga. The $850 million Campaign is emphasizing the importance of giving to GU’s endowment. Already, 32,000 supporters have given to the Campaign. The Zag Day Giving Challenge runs Feb. 9-11, offering alumni, faculty, staff and friends a chance to help make Gonzaga more affordable so future Zags can have the same experience alumni had. Visit gonzaga.edu/zaggive.

Venetie launches a new alumni chapter on Gonzaga Day. Trustee Kathleen Magnuson-Sheppard will be in Tokyo to celebrate with alumni, and Education Dean Vinny Alfonsino will be with Calgary alumni to celebrate the school’s 40 years of offering graduate education programs there. Visit gonzagaday.org for more.

GONZAGA DAY CAMPAIGN UPDATE, PUSH FOR ENDOWMENT GIFTS

New Hires
Danielle Bennett, cataloging/database maintenance assistant, Foley; Sarah Verden, admissions externs/office worker, Mission; Crystal Callaghan, admissions counselor, Virtual Campus; Jeremy Armes, landscape designer; Virtual Campus; Mike Lash, HVAC technician; Rant; Tanya Stewart, project manager, ITS; Allissa Adams, program assistant II, Athletics; Matthew Morris, recruiting & research specialist, Career & Professional Development; Judy McKay, field-based mentor, Education; Stephen Hess, alumni chaplain, Mission; Christopher Vivas, alumni’s soccer team coordinator, Brent Diebel, lecturer-IR; Philosophy; Bruce Beerman, lecturer-IR, professional.

New Positions/Promotions
Shawn Wheatley, assistant professor/Platt; Spencer Alexander, total security officer; Joanne Shiosaki, assistant director, Student Media; Lori Leonard, concierge, Hemmingson; Mariceline Cioccielli, concierge, Hemmingson; Erin McKinney, assistant professor, Business; Michelle Wheatley, assistant VP Mission/Ministry & director, University Ministry; Cindy Perry, assistant to the VP, Mission; Adrian Hall, marketing & special events coordinator, Business; Vivi Windsor, senior event manager, conferences & camps; GUEST, Tara Graham, event manager; GUEST, Julie Schaffer, assistant director, Law in Public Service (CLIPS); Clement Lee, digital content producer, Virtual Campus.

Goodbyes
Anabel Madora, admin assistant, Education; Lane Lewis, schedule & events coordinator, Education; Stephanie Ranstrom, program coordinator, Leadership; Richard Nunez, lecturer-IR, Electrical & Mechanical Engineering; Mark Boorum, administrative assistant-IR; Philosophy; JLyas Nunemacker, lecturer-AT; Foley; Kasey Barghout, alumni event coordinator; Jennifer Love, temp assessment evaluator, Business; Amy Edwards, head women’s soccer coach; Catherine Brown, assistant director, Law in Public Service; Donna Byrd, nurse; Health Center; Elizabeth Musick, associate director, Facility Management; Brid Smith, layout designer, Virtual Campus; Carly Gerard, Elec IT Accessibility Tech; Valerie Sherman, academic advisor; Academic Advising & Assistance; Edgar Anzalco, assistant women’s soccer coach; Mike Davis, assistant women’s soccer coach.

Anniversaries
30
Matthew Gerdes, parking enforcement & transportation officer; Celina Bajrag, custodial specialist; Plant; Susan English, associate professor, Integrated Media; Michelle Wissink, Mail Services clerk

10
Debra Louden, assistant director, Student Accounts; Kim Dayot, web application support specialist, CSNSS; Katie Herzog, assistant director, Community Relations; Billon McKinstry, assistant director, Engineering; Transmission & Distribution; Cory Bell, grantwriter/internship coordinator, Plant; Suzanne Ostermiller, assistant professor, Theater & Dance; Shannon Sanders, custodian, Plant

8
Kim Callahan, administrator and grounds manager; Plant; Andrew Kratz, chef; Plat; Sarah Kelly, office assistant II; Student Development; Heather Shilley, assistant director, Budget & Finance

Cradle Call
Drew Satter, area coordinator, Housing & Residence Life, and spouse Joe Pros, area coordinator, National Communication Association, in front of is 5,000 scholars, at a hermeneutical symposium, “Teaching on Teaching Series: The Pedagogy of John Caputo.”

Former CCASL Associate Director Chris Wheatley and AJP Office Coordinator MaryAnn Sikelski were recently honored with the Staff Assembly’s Outstanding Service in Support of Mission Award. Wheleey was cited for his commitment to our students and the University at large, embodying magi by consistently giving more and providing tremendous value to GU. Rindelle has done the work of two people for almost a year due to illness, channeling magi and doing everything necessary to ensure the AJP’s office, and colleagues throughout the University, are successful. “She is the perfect example of what it means to live the mission,” her nominator said. Wheatley has since left GU to work in organizational development at Numeric Credit Union.

Magis embodied in Mission Award recipients

SOURCE: GONZAGA UNIVERSITY PLANNING DIVISION
GONZAGA DAY FEATURES CAMPAIGN UPDATE, PUSH FOR ENDOWMENT GIFTS

At least 35 Gonzaga Alumni Chapters in 15 states and three countries will support Gonzaga men’s basketball game-watch versus Saint Mary’s as part of the fifth annual Gonzaga Day festivities. Faculty and staff are invited to join 100 Spokane fans expected to watch this road game in the auditorium and on other screens throughout Hemmingson. Tipoff is Feb. 11 in Mora in 5:05 p.m. on ESPN.

At 2 p.m. Zag women’s basketball home game against the Gaels will feature a first-ever halftime performance by the GU Dance Team and Bomb-Squad.

Fans will be given an update on Gonzaga Will: The Campaign for Our Future, as Zags all over the world unite to celebrate all things Gonzaga.

The $850 million Campaign is emphasizing the importance of giving to GU’s endowment. Already, 32,000 supporters have given to the Campaign. The Gonzaga Day Giving Challenge runs Feb. 9-11, offering alumni, faculty, staff and friends a chance to help make Gonzaga more affordable so future Zags can have the same experience alumni had. Visit gonzaga.edu/give.

NOTEWORTHY

New Hires

Danielle Bennett, cataloging/database maintenance assistant, Foley; Sydney Verden, admissions counselor; Veronica Vaccaro, Callaghan, admissions counselor, Virtual Campus; Jeremy Armes, landscape designer; Virtual Campus; Mike Leach, HVAC technician; Plant; Tanya Stewart, project manager, ITS; Allison Adams, program assistant II, Athletics; Matthew Morris, recruiting & research specialist, Career & Professional Development; Judy MacKay, field/functional based manager; Education; Stephen Hess, alumni chaplain, Mission; Christopher Vinn, women’s soccer assistant coach, Athletics; Brent Dickel, lecturer-IR, Philosophy; Bruce Beerman, lecturer-IR, Professional Business

New Positions/ Promotions

Shane Robbins, student union lead, Plante; Spencer Alexander, total security officer; Joanne Shoskull, assistant director, Student Media; Lori Leonard, concierge, Hemmingson; Maricel Cistocchi, concierge, Hemmingson; Matt Bennett, director of leadership development, Student Development; Plant; John Maxwell, assistant professor, Civil Engineering; Maureen Duoden, budget & program analyst; Business; Michelle Wheatley, assistant VP Mission/ Ministry & director, University Ministry; Cindy Perry, assistant to the VP, Mission; Alison Hawk, marketing & special event manager; Business; Viki Windsor, senior event manager, conferences & camps; GUEST, Teresa Graham, event manager; GUEST, Julie Schaffer, assistant director, Law in Public Service (CLIPS); Clement Lime, digital content producer, Virtual Campus.

Goodbess

Anabah Modena, admin assistant, Education; Lame Lewis, schedule & events coordinator, Education; Stephanie Ronstrom, program coordinator, Learning Strategies; Richard Nangste, lecturer-IR, Education; Mike Markum, maintenance supervisor, Plant; John Maxwell, Philosophy; JLynn Numenaker, lecturer-AT, Foley; Kasey Barbour, alum event coordinator; Michelle Beuthe, temp assessment evaluator, Business; Amy Edwards, head women’s soccer coach; Catherine Brown, assistant director, Law in Public Service; Donna Byrd, nurse, Health Center; Eileen Delacruz, associate administrative assistant, Plant; Bridget Smith, layout designer, Virtual Campus; Carly Gerlach, Elect IT Accessibility Tech; Valerie Sherman, academic advisor, Academic Advising & Assistance; Edgar Anzaldo, assistant women’s soccer coach; Mike Davis, assistant women’s soccer coach;

Anniversaries

30

Matthew Gerdes, working environment & transportation officer; John Sadjie, custodial specialist, Plant; Susan English, associate professor, Integrated Media; Michelle Wissink, Mal Services clerk

10

Debra Louden, assistant director, Student Accounts; Kim Dayot, web application support specialist, CCNSS; Katie Herzog, assistant director, Office of Information Technology; Allison McKinney, assistant director, Engineering: Transmission & Distribution; Cary Neill, greenhouse supervisor, greenhouse branch, Plant; Suzanne Outsmather, assistant professor, Theater & Dance; Shannon Sanders, custodian, lead; Plant

5

Kathleen Aff, Feb. 10, 17, 16 and 17 at 7:30 p.m., Feb. 11, 12 and 18 at 2 p.m. in Maginnis Theatre; Call is $10 with a QUID card. $15 for general public. Lighting design by Assistant Professor Courtney Smith, costume design by faculty member Leslie Stamoolis

Former CCASL Associate Director Chris Wheatley and AIP Office Coordinator MaryAnn Rinderle were recently honored with the Staff Assembly’s Outstanding Service in Support of Mission Award. When Wheatley was cited for his commitment to our students and the University at large, embodying magi by consistently giving more and providing tremendous value to GU. Rinderle has done the work of two people for almost a year due to illness, channeling magi and doing everything necessary to ensure the safety of the office, and colleagues throughout the University, are successful. “She is the perfect example of what it means to live the mission,” her nominator said. Wheatley has since left GU to work in organizational development at Numeric Credit Union.

Venetucci launches a new alumni chapter on Gonzaga Day. Trustee Kathleen Magnuson- Sheppard will be in Tokyo to celebrate with alumni, and Education Dean Vinny Alfonsi will be with Calgary alumni to celebrate the school’s 40 years of offering graduate education programs there. Visit zagdaygog.org for more.

Magis embodied in Mission Award recipients

Smiles are common place on Chas Wheatley and MaryAnn Rinderle.

Former CCASL Associate Director Chris Wheatley and AIP Office Coordinator MaryAnn Rinderle were recently honored with the Staff Assembly’s Outstanding Service in Support of Mission Award. When Wheatley was cited for his commitment to our students and the University at large, embodying magi by consistently giving more and providing tremendous value to GU. Rinderle has done the work of two people for almost a year due to illness, channeling magi and doing everything necessary to ensure the safety of the office, and colleagues throughout the University, are successful. “She is the perfect example of what it means to live the mission,” her nominator said. Wheatley has since left GU to work in organizational development at Numeric Credit Union.

Venetucci launches a new alumni chapter on Gonzaga Day. Trustee Kathleen Magnuson- Sheppard will be in Tokyo to celebrate with alumni, and Education Dean Vinny Alfonsi will be with Calgary alumni to celebrate the school’s 40 years of offering graduate education programs there. Visit zagdaygog.org for more.

Fr. Mike Maher and Pat Clelland mapping out plans for a Knights of Columbus dinner.

Pat Clelland lives a small farm in Ellwangen, Germany, is a teacher, and has 1 old daughter, Coron. She grew up on a farm, browned in a pot, and sold up to 470 steaks. “It’s not unusual to see him coming to work early, in his farm boots, a sport coat and stacks. He dropped his briefcase and coat in his makeshift office about the size of an elevator, just off side door of a small building on Main Street in Hemmingson. From there Sodex’s Regional District Manager hits the ground running, engaging with the campus community, keeping up with appointments, and working with us to foster exceptional experiences.

Clelland’s values fit the Jesuit model to perfection. “Food is only part of my job,” Clelland says. “Serving our community and seeking ways to better serve our students, providing educational opportunities, contributing to student and institutional success, building collaborative relationships, diversity and equity, these are very high priorities for me personally.”

On Community: “Being part of the Gonzaga community is an honor, I felt welcomed before I even started.”

It’s not uncommon seeing Clelland chatting with students along Main Street, talking about local COC. Students are much more attentive to him now than when he started his career with Sodexo 25 years ago.

“What has changed most dramatically is the way students see me. “Students want choice, driven by the propensity of TV food networks, social media and dietary restrictions. We have to keep up with technology because it is a way to keep the command, a way of the CoC today, and the difference is like comparing an ant to a truck.”

On Sustainability: “Believe in being proactive for our health, our community, our people and our planet. As an institution, we have the opportunity to continuously improve upon our journey of sustainability,” Clelland says, who pride himself on living the path personally and professionally.

Top of Mind: “Food insecurity for students concerns me but we are fortunate enough to have a deep culture of collaboration at Gonzaga; I am confident in the progress we will make.”

Always Reaching Out to Help: “We have a project in which a nonprofit we visited and it would be a great project to have a deep culture of collaboration at Gonzaga.”

Education preparing to launch doctoral program in 2018

A doctor of educational leadership is on the way as Gonzaga in July 2018, says Dan Mahoney, program director. The program is designed to provide advanced preparation for educational leaders in United States, Canada, Indigenous and Catholic pre-K-12 settings. The hybrid program includes both on-site coursework and distance learning, regular contact with coursework and advisors.

“We have designed the program to enable candidates to continue working as they pursue their seven-year doctoral degrees,” Mahoney says.
Bringing enrichment to women leaders

Considering the massive worldwide women’s march in January, Gonzaga’s two all-day Women’s Leadership Conferences seem quite timely: March 18, Hemmingson Center, and May 19 in Seattle.

Staged by Professional Studies, “The programs are designed to re-engage alumni, educate and empower women for professional and personal enrichment, and workplace advancement,” says Sherri Lynch, outreach and recruiting specialist in the School. “And these conferences are not just about women; they’re for men, too. We need their voices to help women’s voices to be heard.

“Gonzaga alumni have told us that they really want networking opportunities within our alumni base,” Lynch says. “Time is aside in both conferences for just that. The Professional Studies conference features an interactive presentation by Sara Jordan-Bloch, Stanford University/Clayman Institute for Gender Research, on Untying Double-Binds, and a panel discussion with Dr. Madonna Buder, ‘Iron Nun’ Kay LeClaire, 64, oldest woman to successfully climb the 7 Summits; and Sandra Williams, activist, filmmaker and member of the Black Lens.

Seattle’s conference features speakers Caroline Simard, senior research director at Clayman; GU Basketball Coach Lisa Fortier; and discussions focusing on emotional intelligence and embodying core leadership values.

Learn more: gonzaga.edu/womeninleadership

BENEFIT UPDATES

Telefax: Employees covered under GU’s medical plan can now use Telefax to speak with a pharmacist to get filling prescriptions from a U.S. board-certified doctor 24 hours a day, with a $25 copay.

Licensing: Employees and covered dependents on GU’s medical plan can use our new diabetes management program offering a state-of-the-art meter, coaching, lancets and test strips at no cost.

ZAGFit: Employees have new ways to earn ZAGFit points and new goals added to the Trakr.

To learn more visit http://benefits.gonzaga.edu

Upcoming Financial Seminars — 25 ZAGFit Points

Register at www.gonzaga.edu/Training

Designing Your Financial Roadmap March 30, noon-1 p.m., Hemmingson Auditorium

Social Security Seminar: April 4, 2:30-4 p.m., Hemmingson Ballroom

Within Reach: May 23, noon-1 p.m., Hemmingson Auditorium

Transitioning to Retirement: Aug. 10, noon-1 p.m., Hemmingson Auditorium

Gaining Insights: Dec. 5, noon-1 p.m., Hemmingson Auditorium

Continuing work toward our goals

1. Entering the second phase of “Gonzaga WiFi” — our capital campaign

2. Designing and beginning construction on the Center for Integrated Sciences and Engineering

3. Optimizing the University’s administrative structure for the greatest benefit to faculty and students

4. Reviewing & implementing cleaner compensation systems for both faculty and staff

5. Bolstering our institutional values and a work culture rooted in mission identity

6. Nurturing and developing the UW-GU partnership

7. Engaging faculty in dialogue around the future of higher education

8. Exploring non-tuition sources of revenue

9. Expanding campus engagement around ecological sustainability

10. Addressing issues of racial, ethnic and cultural diversity, equity and inclusion

The president encouraged colleagues to engage students in conversation, reminding them that our students pay attention to what we say, but also to what we do, and how we do it.

A steadfast belief in the democratic process depends on engaged citizens, he continued. “We have an opportunity – and responsibility – to engage young people who are consistently barraged with a message that being involved in civic life does not matter; that there are too many issues and participants for any one individual to have significant impact. These are questions that really matter. Will our students choose to become more, or less, engaged in democratic processes going forward? Amid difficult evening news and related conversations on campus, McCulloh reminds us of Ignatius’ instruction to his own community of brothers – that we assume the best intentions in our colleagues as we grapple with difficult decisions. “There is a sense for truth at all universities, but the Jesuit institutions bring something in addition: people can make a difference for the future of our world.”

GONZAGA FACULTY AND STAFF NEWSLETTER

FEB. 2017 \ VOL 18 \ 85

FEB. 2017

Gonzaga Day Feb. 11, 2
Sodexo chief hands-on, 3
Empowering women, 4

CONTINUE TO SEE: www.gonzaga.edu/society