Mission Statement

Gonzaga University is an exemplary learning community that educates students for lives of leadership and service for the common good. In keeping with its Catholic, Jesuit, and humanistic heritage and identity, Gonzaga models and expects excellence in academic and professional pursuits and intentionally develops the whole person -- intellectually, spiritually, culturally, physically, and emotionally.

Through engagement with knowledge, wisdom, and questions informed by classical and contemporary perspectives, Gonzaga cultivates in its students the capacities and dispositions for reflective and critical thought, lifelong learning, spiritual growth, ethical discernment, creativity, and innovation.

The Gonzaga experience fosters a mature commitment to dignity of the human person, social justice, diversity, intercultural competence, global engagement, solidarity with the poor and vulnerable, and care for the planet. Grateful to God, the Gonzaga community carries out this mission with responsible stewardship of our physical, financial, and human resources.
Introduction

What's in a Name?

The University is named after the sixteenth-century Italian Jesuit saint, Aloysius Gonzaga. A descendant of a noble Renaissance family and a page at the court of Francesco de Medici, Aloysius Gonzaga entered the Society of Jesus (the Jesuit order) in 1585. Later, while a seminarian in plague-stricken Rome, he attended to the sick and dying; as a result of his heroic service, he died of exhaustion on June 21, 1591, only twenty-three years old. He was declared the patron saint of youth in 1726.

Quality That Earns National Recognition

U.S. News and World Report's most recent America's Best Colleges ranked Gonzaga in the top 20% — 79th (tied) among National Universities. Fiske Guide to Colleges, Kiplinger's Best Colleges and The Princeton Review have also consistently praised the academic strength and quality of education provided at Gonzaga University.

Spokane and the Inland Northwest

Spokane, Washington and Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, form a flourishing metropolitan area with a population of approximately 722,000. This area offers many opportunities for work, service and relaxation for Gonzaga students.

Gonzaga's campus overlooks the Spokane River, where the Washington Centennial Trail extends 39 miles between northwest Spokane and Coeur d'Alene. Students enjoy biking, rollerblading, running and walking along the trail. Downtown Spokane is just a few blocks' walk from the campus, providing easy access to shopping, dining, and entertainment. The nearby 12,000-seat Spokane Veterans Memorial Arena, a multipurpose entertainment venue, hosts concerts, sporting events, and special programs such as Gonzaga's undergraduate commencement ceremonies.
Spokane boasts many parks, including the 100-acre Riverfront Park in the heart of the city. In addition, there are 21 public golf courses within an hour’s drive, ice- and roller-skating rinks, theaters, and art galleries. A symphony orchestra, civic theatre and professional athletic teams add to the cultural and entertainment opportunities of the urban core.

Nearby recreational areas are easily accessible to students. Seventy-six lakes and five ski areas provide swimming, water skiing and winter sports activities. Spokane has consistently been lauded for its quality of life.

Students: The Center of the University

Total enrollment each semester at Gonzaga is over 7,500 of which almost 70 percent are undergraduates and around 30 percent are in graduate programs, including the School of Law and four doctoral programs. Our student body are from nearly every state and over forty countries.

Three quarters of undergraduates are ranked in the top quarter of their graduating class. Approximately 25 percent hold formal student leadership positions in Gonzaga student government, residence halls, clubs and organizations.

More than half of the undergraduate student body comes from homes at least 200 hundred miles from Spokane. The result is a diverse, welcoming campus community, where cultures and friendships are shared warmly.

The academic curriculum is supported by over 800 faculty. The ratio of students to faculty is 11-to-1.

Finance: An Important Part of Your Education

As you begin your academic career, it is important to remember that although tuition at independent or private universities is typically higher than at public universities, the ultimate value of a degree from Gonzaga University is well recognized by members of business and industry.

Gonzaga is committed to assisting students in financing their college education. Over 95% of our students receive financial aid. The Financial Aid Office welcomes your inquiries and is prepared to provide assistance in the development of your financial aid award, assuring you the best package possible.

The Campus: Your Home Away From Home

Gonzaga's campus has grown from one building which housed both students and Jesuit faculty in its early years to 105 buildings spread over 152 landscaped acres. The University site is along the north bank of the Spokane River and includes its own small lake and an attractive, well-kept campus. Some highlights of the campus include the following:

The Department of Housing and Residence Life provides living options for around 3,000 undergraduate students, including men's, women's or coeducational residence halls with capacities ranging from 40 to 620. Residence halls are staffed by Professional, Graduate and Assistant Residence Directors, Resident Assistants, Resident Ministers, and Social Justice Peer Educators who collectively provide a large range of services as live in staff members. Full-time unmarried first and second year students who are under age 21, not living at home, must live in on-campus residence facilities. Upper-division students have access on a first come/first served basis to some apartment-style living units, and the University owns three apartment complexes and up to 12 houses in the neighborhood depending upon the year. At this point in time the university does not provide married or family housing in any on or off campus property, yet is happy to assist students in locating such.

John J. Hemmingsson Center is over 167,000 square feet of contemporary space that supports a fun, healthy living and engaged community. It is a living and learning environment where students, faculty, staff, alumni and members of the larger community can interact with one another.

Dining options include the COG with two floors of diverse resident dining with six restaurant-style platforms, Starbucks, Wolfgang Puck, the Marketplace convenience store and The Bulldog, a full-service restaurant. A state-of-the-art rooftop hydroponic greenhouse grows organic produce that is served in resident dining. Additionally, the Hemmingsson Center offers U.S. Bank, Next Gen Tech Bar, a grand ballroom, auditorium, meetings room and spaces for events, a reflection room, pop-up retail alcove, outdoor fire pit, and many places for students to meet and study.
Administrative offices within the building include:

- Mission & Ministry
- Diversity, Inclusion, and Cultural Engagement (DICE) including Unity Multicultural Education Center (UMEC) and Lincoln LGBTQ+ Resource Center
- Center for Community Engagement (CCE)
- Student Involvement and Leadership including Payne Center for Leadership Development (PCLD), Center for Student Involvement (140+ clubs and student governments), Gonzaga Outdoors (including bike and ski repair shop), Gonzaga Student Body Association (GSBA), and Transfer, Veteran, and Returning Adult Services (TVRAS)
- Center for Global Engagement (CGE) including Study Abroad and International Student and Scholar Services (ISSS)
- Gonzaga University Event Service Team (GUEST)

Gonzaga University Athletic Facilities

The Charlotte Y. Martin Centre is the home of Gonzaga volleyball. The gym, which is the birthplace of the Kennel, seats 2,000 fans. As a whole, the Martin Centre is 136,000 square feet and houses the volleyball gym, but is also the location of athletic department offices and Diedrick & Delong Sports Medicine Center. The athletic training facility is a wonder on its own, covering nearly 5,000 square feet and featuring two state-of-the-art rehabilitation whirlpools.

The Rudolf Fitness Center is a 38,000 sq. ft. facility with cardiovascular and weight areas containing a full line of Olympic benches, dumbbells, Hammer Strength equipment, treadmills, elliptical machines, rowers, versaclimber, bikes, and steppers with 14 televisions. Also available are four racquetball courts, two aerobics rooms, a field house with three full basketball or volleyball courts, a (1/11 mile) rubberized running track, a six lane 25-yard swimming pool and a smoothie snack bar. The Rudolf Fitness Center also houses a majority of the physical education classes offered by the University and is open throughout the year for use by students, staff/faculty, and spouses.

The McCarthey Athletic Center is home to the Gonzaga men's and women's basketball teams as well as the Harry A. Green Indoor Rowing Facility. The facility, which features a 6,000-seat arena, is 144,000 square feet of screaming fans come basketball season and lives and breathes the legacy of past basketball greats, such as John Stockton.

Patterson Baseball Complex and Washington Trust Field became the home of Gonzaga baseball in the spring of 2007. The completion of the facility brought GU baseball back to the campus for the first time since 2003. The complex is named after benefactor and former Chairman of the Board of Trustees Mike Patterson, while Pete Stanton and Washington Trust Bank of Spokane were also major contributors.

Luger Field is home to Gonzaga’s Men’s and Women’s soccer programs. Phase I of the new facility was finished in fall 2008. Phase II of the facility was completed in the fall of 2015 with the addition of state of the art lighting which will allow our soccer teams to play their home games under the lights. The new facility provides not only a playing field, but a practice field for both the men's and women's teams as well as a press box and ticket booth. Phase III and IV will include the installation of permanent seating and a locker room for the home and visiting teams.

The Stevens Center, Gonzaga University’s new state-of-the-art indoor tennis and golf facility, opened in January 2014. This 72,000-square-foot facility includes six regulation tennis courts and a golf practice area with putting green, chipping area and four TrackMan simulators. Other prominent features include locker rooms, training rooms, team lounge, offices and balcony seating overlooking the tennis courts.

The Volkar Center for Athletic Achievement is a 51,240-square-foot facility built directly south of the Martin Centre, and helps student-athletes succeed in competition, in the classroom and in the community. The building houses the Rian G. Oliver Student Athlete Enrichment lab, The Karen Gaffney Champions room, The Steve Hertz Practice facility, Brown court, and the Hall of Honor presented by the Wolff Family, along with multiple meeting spaces. The building provides Gonzaga student-athletes with some of the finest facilities and support services in the nation.
Campus Buildings

The Gonzaga University Campus includes 105 buildings. Among these are several new buildings, including the new Hemmingson University Center which houses the Center for Global Engagement, the Mission & Ministry offices, the Center for Community Engagement, the Diversity, Inclusion, Community, and Equity (DICE) office, the Student Involvement and Leadership Center, student government offices, multiple meeting rooms and lounges, a US Bank branch, a ballroom, as well as multiple food venues. Since 2000, fourteen other new buildings have been constructed, including the bookstore and parking facility; the Corkery and Kennedy Apartments; Coughlin, Dillon, Goller, and Twohy Residence Halls; the Law School; the McCarthey Athletic Center; the Paccar Center for Engineering; the Patterson Baseball Complex; and the Stevens Center for Tennis and Golf. The Rudolph Fitness Center was also added to the Martin Centre sports facility, and the Tilford Center for Nursing and Human Physiology, as well as Leadership Studies, was created from a purchased facility. The Magnuson Theater was also renovated during this time frame.

The Foley Center library was opened in the fall of 1992, providing sophisticated on-line computer access to libraries across the United States. It also contains one of the finest rare book rooms in the country.

In addition to the library, Foley is now the home for the Writing Center, the Center for Teaching and Advising, the Center for the Virtual Campus Digital Design and Production Center, the Center for Academic Advising and Assistance, including the Disability Access, and Academic Testing Center, and Information Technology Services (ITS).

Other new buildings as well as historic ones grace the Gonzaga campus. The Jundt Art Center and Museum was completed in 1995. The Jepson Center for the School of Business was remodeled and expanded in 2004. The Rosauer School of Education building was completed in 1994. The historic Huetter Mansion was relocated to the University Campus and houses the Office of Campus Security and Public Safety, while the graceful 1902 Monaghan Mansion continues to house offices and practice rooms for the Music department. The Alumni Association along with the Division of University Advancement is now located in the BARC.

A new Performing Arts Center, the Myrtle Woldson Performing Arts Center, opened in the Spring of 2019 and a new integrated science and engineering facility is currently under construction. Additionally, the Volkar Center for Athletic Achievement as well as the new the Della Strada Jesuit residence have recently been completed. The former Jesuit House has been renovated into a new facility for the Humanities and contains a new office suite for the Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, as well as offices for the Honors Program, Women and Gender Studies, the Center for Public Humanities, and the Center for Undergraduate Research and Creative Inquiry, as well as the Science in Action outreach program, English, and Religious Studies.

St. Aloysius Church, the Student Chapel, and the spires of St. Al’s Church are landmarks of the Spokane area. The chapel, located in College Hall, offers students a place for solitude and reflection as well as daily Masses.

A Century of Educational Leadership

After forty years of pioneer missionary efforts to bring Christian civilization and culture to the Pacific Northwest, the Rev. Joseph M. Cataldo, S.J., an Italian Jesuit missionary, initiated plans to build a mission school in Spokane Falls Territory. Out of the vision and courage of early Jesuits, Gonzaga College became a reality and admitted its first students in 1887, two years before Washington became a state.

The College became Gonzaga University with the opening of the School of Law in 1912. In 1916 the School of Philosophy of Letters for Jesuit Scholastics became part of the University. In 1921 the University opened the School of Business Administration and in 1928 the School of Education. The School of Engineering was established in 1934 and in 1975 the School of Continuing Education was recognized and named as the School of Professional Studies. The School of Professional Studies was renamed the School of Leadership Studies in 2018. Gonzaga is an independent, Roman Catholic and Jesuit university committed to ensuring our students an educational experience that encourages individual intellectual, moral, and spiritual development.
Accreditation: The Mark of Excellence

Gonzaga University is accredited by the Northwest Commission on Colleges and Universities (NWCCU), an institutional accrediting body recognized by the Secretary of the U.S. Department of Education. Gonzaga University holds specialized accreditations for specific degree programs through:

- The Council of the Section of Legal Education and Admissions to the Bar of the American Bar Association (ABA)
- The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business (AACSB)
- The Commission on English Language Program Accreditation (CEA)
- The Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE)
- The Engineering Accreditation Commission of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (EAC/ABET)
- The Computing Accreditation Commission of the Accreditation Board for Engineering and Technology (CAC/ABET)
- The Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Education Program (CACREP)
- The Council on Accreditation of Nurse Anesthesia Educational Programs (COA)
- The British Columbia Ministry of Advanced Education and the Degree Quality Assessment Board (consent)
- The Alberta Ministry of Education and Technology and the Campus Alberta Quality Council (approved)
- The National Association of Schools of Music (Associate member NASM)
- The Washington State Professional Educator Standards Board
GU Coat of Arms - The University Seal: The Mark of Distinction

The Coat of Arms of Gonzaga University was assembled in 1914 is an adaptation of the coat of arms of the Loyola family, members of the Spanish nobility from whom the founder of the Society of Jesus descended. It combines symbols representing both the paternal and the maternal houses, Loyola and Onaz. The Coat of Arms contains:

- Hatchment Number 1 (dexter chief): Two gray wolves leaning on a black pot and chain, all on a white field. It represents the House of Loyola, as the founder of the Jesuit Order was Inez Loyola. The pride of the House was that they fed the poor, kept the wolf from the door.

- Hatchment Number 2 (sinister base): The arms of the House of Gonzaga, a red cross sustaining an in-escutcheon, the lions of Florence and two black for the ecclesiastical dignity of their House. The four falcons in the corners of the escutcheon represented the hunting prowess of the family. Now the faculty of Gonzaga are first, Jesuits founded by Loyola; secondly, the patron of the University is St. Aloysius Gonzaga; thirdly, the House of Onez was associated with Loyola; and lastly, the University is situated in Spokane, represented by the river, the sunburst, and the Indian symbols.

- Hatchment Number 3 (sinister chief): The colors of Spain, seven red bars on a field of gold, given to the House of Onez by the King, because seven brothers of that House distinguished themselves in the service of Spain.
- Hatchment Number 4 (dexter base): Sun burst over the Spokane Falls, a pine tree to the right and an Indian tepee to the left. The Spokane Indians were so called because they were in their interpretation, children of the sun. The colors are natural, the tepee being a russet, or dun color.

- Eagle crest: American bald eagle of the Republic, protecting the Institution.

- IHS: The name of Jesus, His cross, and the three nails of His crucifixion. The nails and lettering are black, surrounded by a halo for gold.

- In-escutcheon: Blue and White, a royal blue field on which the letter G stands for Gonzaga, the University colors are Royal Blue and Immaculate White.

- AMDG scroll: Stands for “Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam”, for God’s greater glory, the motto of the Society of Jesus as given to it by its founder, St. Ignatius Loyola.

- 1887: University was founded in 1887, and was only a college until 1912.

- Wreath: Bays on the right, representing classic renown, Oak on the left signifying civic pride, both in natural colors.

Our Commitment to Non-Discrimination

Gonzaga University subscribes to the principles and laws of the federal government and Washington State pertaining to civil rights and equal opportunity. The university does not discriminate against any person on the basis of race, color, religion, national origin, sex, marital status, sexual orientation, gender identity, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other non-merit factor in employment, educational program, or activities that it operates. All university policies, practices, and procedures are consistent with Gonzaga’s Catholic, Jesuit identity and Mission Statement.
As a church-related institution, in conformity with federal and state law, Gonzaga reserves the right to take religious faith into consideration where it is deemed appropriate. As a federal contractor, Gonzaga University maintains an Affirmative Action Plan.
Gonzaga University Strategic Planning Process

Vision Statement

Approved by the Board of Trustees on July 17, 2015

Gonzaga is a premier Liberal Arts based University recognized nationally for providing an exemplary Jesuit education that empowers its graduates to lead, shape, and serve their chosen fields and the communities to which they belong.

Institutional Priorities and Strategic Objectives

Gonzaga University is a complex organization that encompasses multiple channels of accountability, functions in a shifting competitive environment, serves a variety of constituencies and pursues a wide array of goals. Additionally, the University is increasingly being asked to become more sophisticated in how it makes decisions, delivers educational content, supports students and approaches its strategic planning. Meeting these expectations currently involves the work of more than 1,400 full-time employees, involves in excess of 2.6 million square feet of facilities and operates with a gross annual operating budget surpassing a quarter of a billion dollars.

At the beginning of the current administration, the President set forth three institutional priorities to guide decision-making and resource allocation:

- Gonzaga University an exemplar of American Jesuit higher education,
- of academic and educational excellence across all programs,
- with a commitment to institutional viability and sustainability.
Strategic Plan

The Vision, Institutional Priorities, and Strategic Objectives articulated above served as the foundation for the development of the Gonzaga University Strategic Plan. This Plan identifies four primary guideposts toward our vision, called “commitments” – an acknowledgment that we do our work in an active, relational context, possessed of mutual accountabilities.

Commitment 1: Foster Responsibility For Shared Mission
Commitment 2: Animate Academic Excellence Across The Institution
Commitment 3: Provide An Integrative Jesuit Educational Experience For Our Students Commitment 4: Optimize Institutional Stewardship And Sustainability

Each commitment in turn contains strategic objectives that serve as declarations of continuous institutional improvement. The thirty-five (35) specifically identified goals provide a means of defining institutional success in achieving the objectives.

Admission

Policy

Decisions on admission to any undergraduate school or college of the University are made after a careful review of an applicant's academic achievement, scholastic aptitude, and personal characteristics which may predict success at the University. High school or college grades, course rigor, test scores, essays, extra-curricular activities and character play an important role in the admission process. All applicants are reviewed according to these criteria without discrimination on the basis of race, age, color, creed, national or ethnic origins, marital or financial status, disability, gender, or sexual orientation. For admission to an undergraduate program for any term in 2021, neither the SAT nor the ACT will be required.

Prerequisites

Applicants for regular admission are expected, prior to enrollment, to have graduated from an accredited high school in a college preparatory curriculum while showing evidence of ability to complete the University’s requirements for graduation.

The following pattern of coursework is recommended, but not required, for admission to Gonzaga University:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Subject</th>
<th>Credits</th>

Gonzaga recommends high school calculus and physics for students seeking admission to an engineering major. Gonzaga recommends science and math in the senior year for first-year applicants seeking admission to nursing.

For spring and fall of 2021, Gonzaga will not require an SAT or ACT to be submitted as part of an application; students may apply with or without ACT or SAT scores and there is no penalty or preference for either. Candidates submitting SAT or ACT scores to the University are urged to take their tests no later than the first semester of their senior year in high school. Scores must be submitted through the testing agency or be posted on the high school transcript to be considered official.

Review admission requirements at www.gonzaga.edu/admissionreqs.

An application for undergraduate admission will not be considered until all required documents are filed with the Office of Admission.

How to Apply for Admission

Application for First-Year Students:

1. Students applying to Gonzaga University must submit the Common Application. Applications can be accessed online at the Common Application website www.commonapp.org.
2. Students must complete all parts of the Common Application including the Member Questions.
3. Submit the non-refundable application fee. The application fee may be submitted via the Common Application website.
4. Forward an official high school transcript to the Office of Admission. The application may be completed after the student has finished six semesters (or nine trimesters) of work in a college preparatory program.
5. Have ACT or SAT scores forwarded to the Office of Admission if they do not already appear on the high school transcript.
6. Home-schooled students are a significant part of Gonzaga University’s applicant pool. Students may choose home schooling for a variety of reasons and may implement a variety of styles. Therefore, home-school applications receive highly individualized attention. The Office of Admission requests the following information:
a. The Common Application
b. Any transcript(s) of academic work
c. Test scores: ACT and/or SAT
d. A one to two-page essay (topics given on the Common Application)
e. A list of activities and honors, or a resume
f. One letter of recommendation, by someone other than a parent, addressing academic accomplishments
g. The Common Application School Report, which can be filled out by a parent/guardian

7. Gonzaga’s Nursing Program accepts first-year applications only. Applicants interested in the Nursing Program must choose "Nursing" on their application to be considered. Students not admitted into the Nursing Program through the application process will not be permitted to change their major to nursing.

8. The School of Engineering and Applied Science has competitive, direct admission for engineering programs. This includes civil, computer, electrical, mechanical, engineering management as well as students who are undecided but desire a major in an engineering discipline.

Application for Transfer Students:

1. Submit the Transfer Application for Admission at www.gonzaga.edu/transfer.

2. Request one Academic Evaluation and/or a letter of recommendation from a college advisor or professor.

3. Request one Transfer College Report from an official at your current or most recent institution and forward it to the Office of Admission.

4. Submit an official college transcript for each institution attended.

5. Submit a final high school transcript and ACT/SAT test scores, if you have not yet earned 30 or more transferrable semester credits (or 45 quarter credits) by the time of application. Note: if you are over the age of 21, you are not required to submit ACT/SAT test scores.

6. Submit the non-refundable application fee.
Application for International Students

Gonzaga welcomes applications from international students, who make up a valued part of the University’s student body. Since 1969, Gonzaga has been authorized by the Federal government to issue both I-20's and DS-2019's so that international students can secure visas and enroll in our programs. To be considered for undergraduate admission, international applicants are required to submit the following:

1. A completed application:
   a. First-year applicants must complete the Common Application at www.commonapp.org.
   b. Transfer applicants must complete the Transfer Application at www.gonzaga.edu/transfer.

2. Transcripts:
   a. First-year applicants must provide proof of academic preparation through the submission of official academic transcripts, demonstrating satisfactory achievement in the completion of a secondary education equivalent to that offered in the United States.
   b. Transfer applicants must submit official transcripts from any post-secondary institution attended. Please submit transcripts in both your native language and in English. If admitted, a professional course-by-course evaluation will be required.

3. School Report:
   a. First-year applicants must provide a completed Common Application School Report (completed by the high school counselor).
   b. Transfer applicants must provide a completed Transfer College Report (completed by a school official at your current or most recent institution).

4. A letter of recommendation from a professor or school counselor, to be sent directly to Gonzaga University.

5. A copy of your current passport.

6. Proof of English language proficiency adequate for undergraduate study at Gonzaga, which may be demonstrated by any of the following:
   a. Test Scores
1. A TOEFL score of at least 550 written/213 computer/80 internet-based administered and reported directly to Gonzaga University by the Educational Testing Service.
   1. The TOEFL at home will also be accepted in 2021.
2. An IELTS score of 6 or higher administered and reported directly to Gonzaga University by the British Council.
3. An official ACT composite of 23 or higher and reported directly to Gonzaga University by ACT, Inc.
4. A new SAT Evidence Based Reading and Writing score greater than 550.
5. Duolingo score of 110 higher. Duolingo tests can be taken between February 3, 2020 and July 31, 2020 will be accepted. Students who submit Duolingo scores will be required to take Gonzaga’s English placement exam when they enroll.

b. Successful completion of the course of study offered by Gonzaga University’s ESL Program with faculty recommendation.

c. Completion of two U.S. college-level English composition and/or speech courses with a 3.00 or higher (on a 4.00 scale).

d. Applicants from the following countries are exempt from providing proof of English proficiency: Australia, Canada (except Quebec), Republic Ireland, Liberia, New Zealand, United Kingdom, Commonwealth Caribbean Countries.

Application fee note: Gonzaga offers an application fee waiver for international students. To receive the waiver, please select the International Student Fee Waiver on the Common Application.

Once admission has been granted and students pay their confirmation deposits, Gonzaga University requests international applicants to provide documentation of sufficient funds for academic and living costs while studying in the United States for at least the academic year (two consecutive full-time semesters) so that immigration documents can be issued.
When to Apply for Admission

All new students may apply for admission to either the fall or spring semesters.

FIRST YEAR: Gonzaga has a first-year deadline of December 1st, and will take late applications until February 1st. Decisions are released by early March. Students seeking entrance into the spring semester should apply for admission by November 15.

TRANSFER: All students who wish to transfer to Gonzaga from another college or university should submit an application early in the semester preceding their intended enrollment at Gonzaga; this is especially true for transfer students who wish to apply for financial assistance. Transfer students applying for the fall semester should apply no later than June 1st, and students applying for the spring semester, no later than November 15.

Enrollment in a summer session does not imply admission for the regular academic year. Summer session students who desire regular admission to the University should submit an application to the Office of Admission.

All applicants seeking financial aid should also complete and submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The FAFSA is available starting October 1 of the year prior to the year for which admission is sought, and families are encouraged to submit the FAFSA as soon as possible. The FAFSA priority deadline for first-year students is February 1 and for transfer students, March 1. This form can be accessed online at https://studentaid.gov/h/apply-for-aid/fafsa. Gonzaga's FAFSA code is 003778.

Credit Earned Elsewhere

Transfer of Credit

Applicants who have earned college credit at other regionally accredited colleges or universities should note that all credits submitted for transfer approval must have a grade of at least 2.00 (on a 4.00 point scale), must represent college-level course work, and must be academic in nature for acceptance by the University. Students may not transfer more than sixty-four semester credits or ninety-six quarter credits from a two-year college. Students transferring to Gonzaga University with sixty-four semester credits from a community college may not return to a two-year college for any additional transfer credit. All transfer students must complete at least thirty semester credits at Gonzaga immediately preceding their graduation from the University. For further information on transfer credit policies, applicants should consult the Academic Policies and Degree Requirement sections of this catalog.

Advanced Placement/International Baccalaureate Credit

The University welcomes requests for special placement evaluation for incoming students who have taken the Advanced Placement (AP) Examinations of the College Board or International Baccalaureate Examinations. Examination results should be forwarded to the Office of Admission. Applicants may be granted credit, advanced standing, or a waiver of requirements depending on the field of study, the scores achieved, and the general regulations of the University. AP and IB Examination policies at Gonzaga University are available on the Office of Admission website, www.gonzaga.edu/creditbyexam.

Cambridge International A and AS Level Exams

Cambridge International A Level is a two-year course, and Cambridge International AS Level is a one-year course offering advanced curriculum to students preparing for colleges worldwide. The Cambridge International A and AS level curriculum is recognized as a rigorous college preparatory curriculum. Based on the results of Cambridge International Exams, students may receive 3 to 6 credits per advanced level exam. Review Gonzaga’s policy for granting credit based on the advanced level exam or certificates online at www.gonzaga.edu/creditbyexam.

German Abitur (Zeugnis der Allgemeinen Hochschulreife)

The Abitur is certification that a student has successfully completed the German college-preparatory educational program and has scored passing grades on the Abitur examinations administered during the final year of secondary school. Based on the results of the Abitur exam, students may receive up to 6 semester credits per Leistungsfach subject area with a minimum grade of 10. Review Gonzaga’s policy for granting credit based on the advanced level exam online at www.gonzaga.edu/creditbyexam.
Honors Program

Gonzaga University has long challenged exceptional students through its Honors Program. This interdisciplinary, competitive program seeks academically gifted and intellectually curious students who are willing to put their talents to work for the service of others.

The four-year Honors curriculum allows a student to choose any major or minor course of study. Although primarily geared for students in the College of Arts and Sciences, adjustments are made for those pursuing degrees in engineering, education, nursing, human physiology or business. In addition to small classes and close personal advising and counseling, a scholarship, a waiver of tuition fees for excess credit, an optional Honors Living Learning Community residence hall, flexible scheduling, unique study abroad opportunities and pride of place at graduation are provided.

Admission to the Honors Program is highly competitive: sixty to eighty places are open each year. Candidates must complete a separate Honors application to be considered for admission. Acceptance is based on independent intellectual achievement, creativity, skill in effective expression, standardized test scores (if taken), high school rigor, and the Honors portfolio on the Honors application form. Potential applicants are encouraged to visit the campus and to meet with the Honors Director or an Admission Counselor or to schedule a video or phone call to learn more about the Program. For further information, please consult the Honors Program section of this catalog.

Campus Visit

The Office of Admission offers an extensive visit program for those interested in attending Gonzaga. An individualized visit may include an overnight stay, class visit, faculty meeting, admission interview, information session, and campus tour. In addition to individualized visits, several Preview Days (larger open-house days), Saturday Visits, and Nursing Fridays are offered throughout the year. To schedule a visit, contact the Visit Office at visit@gonzaga.edu or www.gonzaga.edu/admission/visit. A notice of at least two weeks is appreciated.
Dual Enrollment

High school students who have not yet completed their graduation requirements may enroll (with certain restrictions and on a space-available basis) in a maximum of two courses per semester while still enrolled in high school. This program is reserved for juniors and seniors who present a minimum cumulative grade-point average of 3.50 (4.00 scale) and a letter of recommendation from their principal or counselor. A special tuition rate is available for all students taking Dual Enrollment courses. For more information on this program, students may contact the Office of Admission.

Non-Matriculation

Non-matriculated students not seeking a degree may enroll in courses at Gonzaga on a space-available basis after matriculated students have registered. Contact the Registrar’s Office for further information.

Financial Information

General Information

The University's cost of providing a Gonzaga education is not borne solely by student tuition and fees. The annual Jesuit Community gift, endowment income, and gifts of many types from individuals, firms, and foundations constitute some of the other revenue sources essential for a balanced budget.

However, revenue from student charges constitutes most of Gonzaga’s income. Student charges (less verified financial aid) are payable in full in U.S. dollars on a per semester basis, no later than three weeks prior to the beginning of the term. Knowing that payment in full presents a burden for many parents and students, Gonzaga offers two installment plans which cover the academic year and spread payments over a period of either eight or ten months.
Please Note Beginning with the 2020-2021 academic year, the 8 and 10 month installment plans will no longer be offered.

4-Month Installment Payment Plan (per semester)

Beginning with the Fall 2020 semester, Gonzaga University has partnered with CASHNet to provide a completely automated and paperless 4-month semester payment plan.

Installment Payment Plan features:

- Interest free
- Real-time account balance information through CASHNet for students and their authorized payers.
- The total semester cost, less verified financial aid (excluding work study and pending outside scholarships) can be set up in 4 equal monthly installments.
- Automatic payment enrollment (optional)
- Enrollment is now by semester and includes a $50 non-refundable enrollment fee each term

Fall Semester 4 Month Plan (Enrollment Deadline August 10, 2020)

- Sign up for the Installment Payment Plan (online only). There is a $50 application fee, which will be required in addition to your first payment for August.
- In mid-July, all registered students and their authorized payers will receive email notification that the fall semester Statement of Account and payment options are ready to view in CASHNet. At this time, the option to enroll in the Installment Payment Plan for fall semester will be available.
- Payments are due monthly, the tenth of each month, beginning August 10, 2020 through November 10, 2020.
Spring Semester 4 Month Plan (Enrollment Deadline January 10, 2021)

- Sign up for the Installment Payment Plan (online only). There is a $50 application fee, which will be required in addition to your first payment for January.
- In mid-December, all registered students and their authorized payers will receive email notification that the spring semester Statement of Account and payment options are ready to view in CASHNet. At this time, the option to enroll in the Installment Payment Plan for spring semester will be available.
- Payments are due monthly, the tenth of each month, beginning January 10, 2021 through April 10, 2021.

Additional information:

- Students accepted to the University after the installment plan deadline dates may still enroll within two weeks of their acceptance, making up any missed payments and will not be assessed the additional $25 late enrollment fee.
- Students are not eligible to enroll in an installment plan if they owe for a previous term.
- The payment plan covers only one term, so you will need to re-enroll every term.
- Students can only be enrolled in one Payment Plan each semester.
- Note: All charges are payable in U.S. funds. Student Accounts accepts cash and checks for payment on account. Electronic payment is also available which includes e-Check at no charge to the student and credit card payment through American Express, MasterCard, Discover and VISA with a 2.75% convenience fee. An international payment option is available through Western Union Business Solutions (WUBS). Billing statements are available ONLINE only. For additional information, go to: www.gonzaga.edu/studentaccounts and click on the 'Billing and Payment' link.
Third Party Sponsors

A student whose account will be paid by a corporate or foreign sponsor, a government agency, a religious institution, a scholarship foundation or trust account, requires written proof of sponsorship in the Student Accounts Office to settle their account.

Confirmation Deposit

In order to reserve a place in the student body, each first-time student is required to pay a $500.00 confirmation deposit. This will apply as a credit toward first semester tuition expenses. Confirmation deposits are non-refundable unless written notification of cancellation of enrollment is received by the Admission Office prior to its deadline dates.

Room Reservation/Damage Deposit

Students are expected to make housing reservations with the Housing office prior to May 1st for fall semester and prior to December 1st for spring semester. All new students must complete and sign a Residential Living Application/Agreement. Reservations for new students must be accompanied by a $200 advance room deposit fee which is non-refundable after June 1st for fall semester and January 1st for spring semester. This room reservation deposit converts to a room damage deposit at the time of first registration. Damage deposits are left on account until the student leaves the housing system permanently. Damage deposits are refundable when a student checks out of the residence hall or leaves the University and appropriate damage charges, if any, have been assessed.

Returning students who have been refunded their damage deposit are required to resubmit a damage deposit of $200. Room reservation deposits are non-refundable unless written notification of cancellation of room reservation is received by the Housing office prior to the deadline dates.
Withdrawals from the University

Students completely withdrawing from the University must obtain a Complete Withdrawal form from the Registrar's Office. Tuition adjustments are calculated in Student Accounts. Final adjustments are based on the effective date of the withdrawal and exclude non-refundable fees. Room and board are pro-rated throughout the semester. Laboratory and course fees are not refunded after the first full week of classes. Financial aid funds are refunded in accordance with federal, state, and University regulations.

The withdrawal refund schedule and refund schedule for dropped classes are available at www.gonzaga.edu/studentaccount and in the Student Financial Services office.

Miscellaneous

The University reserves the right to change any costs and/or provisions without notice. It further reserves the right to withhold student information, including transcripts of record and diplomas, until a student's account has been paid in full. No student will be allowed to register for an ensuing semester if a balance is owed for a prior semester. A finance charge of 12% per annum pro rata (365 days) or a rebilling fee of 1% of the total amount due or $2.00, whichever is greater, will be added to a student’s account on any amount more than 30 days past due. A “No Payment/No Arrangement Fee” of 3% of the amount due will be charged to a student not meeting the established payment deadlines.
Financial Aid

Gonzaga University consistently is ranked among the best regional comprehensive colleges and universities in the West. In addition, Gonzaga is ranked extremely high in value among regional comprehensive universities. A primary reason for this recognition is the excellent quality of financial aid awards provided Gonzaga students. In addition to the University’s significant institutional grant and scholarship program, Gonzaga participates in all federal and state financial aid programs. The Financial Aid Office provides numerous services to meet the needs of those who wish to obtain a Gonzaga degree.

Applying for Admission

Students are encouraged to apply for admission and financial aid concurrently in order to expedite each important process. However, aid applicants must be admitted to the University in order to receive a financial aid award.

Applying for Financial Aid

All applicants seeking financial aid should also complete and submit the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The FAFSA is available starting October 1 of the year prior to the year for which admission is sought, and families are encouraged to submit the FAFSA as soon as possible. The FAFSA priority deadline for first-year students is February 1 and for transfer students, March 1. This form can be accessed online at https://studentaid.gov/h/apply-for-aid/fafsa. Gonzaga’s FAFSA code is 003778.

Financial Aid Process

The FAFSA data is processed by the Federal processor, and an Expected Family Contribution (EFC) is calculated utilizing a formula mandated by the federal government. The results of this calculation are forwarded to the University, and utilized to determine each applicant’s financial need and eligibility for specific types of financial assistance.
The Financial Aid Package

Once financial need is established, the Financial Aid Office assembles the best possible financial aid package for each applicant. This package generally combines several types of aid from sources inside and outside the University. Rarely does total student aid come from a single source. A typical financial aid package is developed from four sources: scholarships, grants, work-study, and long-term educational loans. The proportions of aid from each of these sources vary greatly, depending upon individual circumstances and available funding. Financial aid packages can vary from year to year, depending on changes in a student's financial need, grades, and date of filing. Students must reapply for financial aid each year by the priority date to ensure maximum eligibility. Institutional assistance covered by the Gonzaga Guarantee provides four years of Gonzaga based funds or scholarships provided the recipient maintains full-time, continuous, undergraduate enrollment and maintains good academic standing according to this University catalog.

Scholarship Aid

Gonzaga University offers scholarship assistance exceeding $50 million on an annual basis. Eligibility for scholarships is based solely on academic merit or on a combination of merit and financial need.

Merit-Based Scholarships

By applying for admission to the University, all incoming freshmen are automatically considered for one of a series of merit-based institutional scholarships. Other merit-based scholarships require separate applications with varying deadlines. These can be found at https://www.gonzaga.edu/undergraduate-admission/tuition-aid/scholarship-opportunities.

Need-Based Scholarships

Students who have been admitted and who have filed the FAFSA are automatically considered for Gonzaga funding which incorporates academic achievement and financial need. These funds are renewable by maintaining a specified grade point average and successful completion of specified credit hours.

Grants

Grants are a form of financial aid for which eligibility is based upon financial need, not academic achievement. Grants do not have to be repaid.

Federal Pell Grants

This program provides grant assistance from the federal government to needy students. The amount of the grant is determined by the federal government, and it is prorated to reflect actual enrollment status. https://studentaid.gov/understand-aid/types/grants/pell

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (SEOG)

This is another form of federal grant assistance provided to students with substantial financial need. The amount of the grant varies according to funding and need criteria. https://studentaid.gov/understand-aid/types/grants/fseog

Federal TEACH Grant

This annual grant/loan can be awarded to students who meet the federal academic requirements, have filed a FAFSA, and agree to teach for four years as a highly-qualified teacher in a high-need field at a low-income school after completing their degree. If the four-year service requirement is not met, the funds must be repaid by the student as an unsubsidized loan. The grant/loan amount is based on enrollment status and is determined each year by the federal government. https://studentaid.gov/understand-aid/types/grants/teach

Students who meet the 3.25 gpa requirement can request the Federal TEACH Grant by completing the required Agreement to Serve and Counseling online at https://studentaid.gov/app/launchTeach.action. Students must also meet Gonzaga’s School of Education requirement of having passed the EDTE 101 course.
Washington State Need Grants/College Bound Grants

These state-funded programs provide financial assistance to undergraduate students who are residents of the State of Washington and who demonstrate substantial financial need. https://readysetgrad.wa.gov/college/washington-college-grant https://readysetgrad.wa.gov/college/college-bound-scholarship-program

University Grants

Gonzaga awards a significant number of grants from University funds. The amount of these grants varies according to an applicant’s financial need and date of application. https://www.gonzaga.edu/admission/tuition-scholarships-aid/financial-aid/types-of-aid/grants#Institutional

Loans

Student and parent loans are available from a number of sources to assist with the financing of a college education. Federal Loan eligibility is based upon FAFSA data, and require on-line counseling and a separate promissory note. Student loans must be repaid. While Gonzaga students have demonstrated responsible loan repayment, all students are encouraged to borrow only that amount which is necessary. https://www.gonzaga.edu/admission/tuition-scholarships-aid/financial-aid/types-of-aid/loans

Federal Direct Subsidized Loan

This type of student loan is made available by the federal government to students with financial need. The amount you can borrow depends on your grade level and your financial need as determined by the FAFSA. The U.S. Department of Education pays the interest on this loan so long as you are enrolled at least half-time. Repayment begins six months after you graduate, withdraw, or drop below half-time enrollment. https://studentaid.gov/understand-aid/types/loans/subsidized-unsubsidized
Federal Direct Unsubsidized Loans

This type of loan is not based on financial need, but a FAFSA is still required to borrow from this loan program. The loan is identical to the Federal Direct Subsidized Loan, with the exception that the borrower is responsible for the interest which accrues while the student is enrolled and during any other deferment period. Repayment begins six months after graduation or withdrawal from a degree program. https://studentaid.gov/understand-aid/types/loans/subsidized-unsubsidized

Federal Nursing Loans

After a student has finished their first year of Gonzaga’s Undergraduate Nursing Program, they may be able to borrow this type of loan. The loan opportunity is based on available funding and a student must have financial need as determined by the FAFSA to be considered. The Federal Nursing Loan carries a fixed 5% interest rate, with no accrual of interest while enrolled at least half-time. Students have a nine month grace period after their enrollment drops below half-time before monthly payments are required. Minimum monthly payments of at least $40 per month and interest begin after the nine month grace period. https://www.gonzaga.edu/admission/tuition-scholarships-aid/financial-aid/types-of-aid/loans/federal-nursing-loan

Federal Direct Plus Loans (PLUS)

The PLUS Loan is available to all credit-worthy parents of dependent undergraduate students. These loans are not based on financial need, although the student must submit a FAFSA form to receive these funds. The applicant of this loan must be the biological or adoptive parent (or in some cases, the stepparent) of a dependent undergraduate student. The maximum amount that can be borrowed is the Gonzaga “cost of attendance” minus other financial aid. : https://studentaid.gov/understand-aid/types/loans/plus/parent

Other Loan Funds

Other loan funds have been established to assist students with expenses due to emergencies or other special circumstances. Eligibility is based on need and available funding. These funds include the Gonzaga Loan Program, the Bigelow Loan (funded by the Fred E. and Venora Bigelow Trust), the Leo J. Brockman Loan Fund, and the Carrie Welch Loan Fund. Inquiries should be directed to the Financial Aid Office. https://www.gonzaga.edu/admission/tuition-scholarships-aid/financial-aid/types-of-aid/loans

Private or Alternative Loans

Private or Alternative Loans that are not need-based can also be obtained from private sources such as banks or credit unions. The maximum amount that can be borrowed in private or alternative educational loans is the Gonzaga “cost of attendance” minus other financial aid. https://www.gonzaga.edu/admission/tuition-scholarships-aid/financial-aid/types-of-aid/loans/private-alternative-loans

Student Employment

Studies done regarding the relationship between academic achievement and working show that working part-time, especially on campus, results in students more invested in their education, better able to prioritize, and use campus resources for success. The Gonzaga Financial Aid Office supports these findings and encourages students to pursue part-time employment opportunities. https://www.gonzaga.edu/admission/tuition-scholarships-aid/student-employment/student-employment-opportunities

Federal Work Study Program

This financial aid program, funded by the federal government and the University, provides a variety of on campus employment opportunities for students. Jobs range from assisting with research to general office work to community action projects. Students work an average of 10-12 hours per week during the semester. Eligibility for FWS is based on financial need as determined by the FAFSA.

State Work Study Program

This financial aid program is funded by the State of Washington and private employers. It allows Washington State residents to work with Spokane area employers during the academic year and summer sessions. These opportunities provide an excellent way for students to gain valuable experience in their fields of study, network, and earn money to help pay for college. Eligibility for SWS is based on financial need as determined by the FAFSA.

Satisfactory Academic Progress

The Higher Education Amendments of 1992, and the Washington Student Achievement Council, require that a student receiving federal and/or state assistance must demonstrate satisfactory academic progress (SAP). In general, SAP is defined as “proceeding toward successful completion of degree requirements.”

Full-time students who are eligible for, and receiving, financial aid must successfully complete 12 credits with a minimum GPA of 2.00 each semester. Students who fail to achieve this criterion are placed on Financial Aid Warning and may lose all financial aid if their academic performance does not reflect satisfactory progress during the next semester. Additionally, State of Washington financial aid recipients who are enrolled full-time are required to successfully complete at least six credit hours per semester or risk immediate suspension of state aid. Please note that current financial aid awarding procedures reflect the expectation that undergraduate students enrolled on a full-time basis will complete their degree requirements in eight semesters.

The policies and procedures governing SAP and its relationship to financial aid are available online at www.gonzaga.edu/SAP. Students with additional questions regarding this policy are invited to inquire at the Financial Aid Office.

Meal Plans* (per semester)

Food services to the University students are provided by Zag Dining by Sodexo. The University facilitates those arrangements by billing, collecting and remitting charges for those services. Each plan provides access to dining in two formats: community resident dining in the COG and Bulldog Bucks to spend at both on and off campus locations. Students required to fulfill the residency requirement may choose from the following five meal plans:

Platinum All Access  $3,165
Provides unrestricted entrance into the dining halls and $500 in Bulldog Bucks per semester.

Gold 16  $3,140
Provides 16 meals (swipes) per week in the dining halls and $550 in Bulldog Bucks per semester.

Silver 12  $3,040
Provides 12 meals (swipes) per week in the dining halls and $700 in Bulldog Bucks per semester.

Blue 225  $3,070
Provides 225 meals (swipes) in the dining halls and $600 in Bulldog Bucks per semester.

White 175  $3,040
Provides 175 meals (swipes) in the dining halls and $800 in Bulldog Bucks per semester.

*No meals are served during the Christmas or Spring Break periods. All board charges are subject to further increase should rising food costs make it necessary.

Additional meal plans are available for students who have fulfilled the residency requirement. Please visit Zag Dining for details.
Books and Supplies

- The cost of books and supplies will vary depending on your major and class schedule. (Used books may be available at substantial savings.)
- Books and supplies are not billed through the Student Accounts Office. Please visit the Zag Shop website or call (509) 313-6390 for information regarding costs and payment options for purchasing books.
Mission Statement

Grounded by the University mission, the Division of Student Affairs provides educational opportunities and services that transform student’s lives.

We achieve this through priorities of:

- Finding Purpose
- Developing resilience
- Cultivating intercultural competence
- Promoting well-being and healthy living

As Student Affairs professionals we are committed to this work because we believe Gonzaga students, as individuals and in community, are on a quest for self-knowledge and character formation. We live out our calling to journey with them during this life-long transformation: “Transforming Together”

Student Affairs Vision Statement

We envision a community where students LIVE the University’s mission.

Offices

Resolution Center for Student Conduct and Conflict

The Resolution Center for Student Conduct and Conflict is responsible for reconciling issues of student misconduct. Our processes provide transformative opportunities as we guide students to engage in ethical discernment, develop enhanced decision-making skills, and learn to accept ownership for actions. The Student Code of Conduct contains the University's standards of conduct and the accountability processes that address allegations of misconduct.

Gonzaga University's expectations for conduct go beyond what is minimally required for maintaining public order, both on and off-campus; and our student conduct processes are educational in nature as we actively seek to create an environment conducive to living and learning together. Our processes are not civil or criminal proceedings and our standard for determining a finding of misconduct is based upon what is “more likely than not” to have occurred.

By attending Gonzaga University, you agree to abide by University standards of conduct, expectations and policies. All students should be familiar with the Student Code of Conduct which is published at: www.gonzaga.edu/studentcodeofconduct.
Center for Cura Personalis (CCP)

The Center for Cura Personalis (CCP) exists to empower students to be their best selves. Cura Personalis means care for the whole person and our case managers are here to meet one-on-one with students, support them in dealing with life’s challenges and help connect them to useful offices and resources both on and off campus. Case managers at Gonzaga operate in a non-clinical capacity which means they do not provide counseling or therapy to students, though will quickly outreach to students who are struggling and connect students to resources for additional support. Case managers aim to build self-advocacy skills and promote personal growth through individualized meetings in a comfortable, private setting. If you or a fellow student are struggling, but not sure where to start, Case Management is a great option for you. Learn more by visiting gonzaga.edu/CCP or calling us at (509) 313-2227.

Health & Counseling Services

Health & Counseling Services functions as your private physician's office and counseling center. The Health & Counseling Services staff have a strong focus on wellness and want students to benefit fully from Gonzaga’s Jesuit education. Our Board Certified Family Physicians, Psychiatrist, Psychologist, Nurse Practitioners, Registered Nurses, and Counselors are here to give you their expertise and care in a confidential setting. Our clinicians are able to diagnose and treat illnesses, prescribe medications, provide psychological counseling, and support students with long-term health concerns. For our hours, more details on available services, costs and billing, please visit our website.

The Office of Housing and Residence Life

The University operates 22 traditional residential communities, largely devoted to first, and second year students. These on campus options offer you a variety of housing experiences as you complete your residence requirement. Most students in their third and fourth year live off campus in the surrounding neighborhood. A few hundred beds usually exist for a few students wishing to remain on campus after the residence requirement, yet the demand significantly exceeds supply. The approximate student population in housing is 3000 students, inclusive of some off-campus spaces.

A Faculty in Residence and Visiting Scholar program exists which allow for a few opportunities for faculty to live in facilities with residents and contribute to the community.

Residential housing and dining options are open throughout the academic year with the exceptions of Christmas vacation and spring breaks. During these times there may be limited service provided. Opening and closing dates are published and decimated by various means; including the housing and residence life website, departmental publications, and community meetings. As the university may observe and publish various dates of openings and closings of numerous offices, it is important to note only those dates communicated by the Office of Housing and Residence Life pertain to their operation. You should rely on these dates when making travel and lodging arrangements. The university will not be held responsible for expenses incurred by referencing conflicting dates referenced by other offices or departments.

Living in any residential setting (on or off campus) may present risk to personal property. As such, the University does not assume responsibility for the loss or damage of personal property. You are encouraged to obtain “Renter’s Insurance”. Information from private insurers will be made available during summer communications and will be posted on the department’s website. Additionally, a comprehensive list of residential regulations and expectations is published separately in the student

Residence Policies (overview)

The University requires all full-time first and second year students, who are unmarried and under the age of 21, to reside on campus in university managed residential facilities. Likewise, students required to live on campus must take part in the university dining program. All students residing in housing owned, leased, or managed by the university are contractually obligated to the University for the Room and Board Fees as outlined in the “terms and conditions” portion of the Residential Living Application/Agreement. Campus dining services are operated by Zag Dining by Sodexo. For more information about meal plans and other services provided, you may visit Zag Dining’s website at http://zagdining.sodexomyway.com or call the Zag Dining office at (509) 313-6906.

To be eligible for University housing, you must be at least 17 years and 3 months of age prior to the first day of class. Students younger than this must reside off-campus with their parent(s) or legally recognized guardian who must be over the age of 21 (typically an immediate family member). Exceptions to this policy or special requests, including those of students who are under 21 and unmarried but want to continue living with parent(s) or immediate family members, should be made in writing to the Senior Director of Housing and Residence Life. Students who reach the required age for residency after the first day of class may request a housing assignment during term. Accommodation of these requests will be honored as appropriate vacancies exist. Note, sometimes there is confusion when referencing this residential requirement policy. This requirement refers to the actual time a student has attended Gonzaga University and not to their academic standing.

Residential Living Application/Agreement

All students who are required to live in University Housing or who wish to continue in housing after their first and second year must complete and sign a Residential Living Application/Agreement. This document serves several purposes: it serves as the room and board contract between the University and the student, and outlines some of the University’s housing policies, and refers students to where they may obtain the rest of the policies regarding on-campus living and expected behaviors, and it provides information on room and damage deposits.

It should be noted by first year students that acceptance of the Residential Living Application/Agreement does not constitute acceptance to the University as a matriculating student. Prospective students, however, are encouraged to apply for housing as early as possible prior to their expected term (fall or spring) of attendance.

If you withdraw from the University during the semester, you will be refunded room and board fees on a prorated basis.
Room Reservations

It is expected and highly recommended that you apply for housing at least five months prior to the beginning of the semester you intend to occupy an assignment. Completion of the Residential Living Application/Agreement found on-line provides the Office of Housing and Residence Life the information they need to plan for you being a part of the living community at Gonzaga University. Along with the finished application, you must submit a $200 housing deposit, which is automatically converted to a “damage deposit” upon check-in to your assignment and will be used to defray any damages up to that amount which may have occurred while you are in residence. Any remaining balance of the $200 will be refunded when you check out after all applicable fees and charges have been processed.

Room assignments are processed by the Office of Housing and Residence Life. As a new student, you will have the opportunity to select the space you live in. Students who do not select by the deadline will be assigned a space based on vacancy, and the profile question responses. Living-Learning Community housing options are also available each year and these options will be published on the Office of Housing and Residence Life website. Living Learning Communities requires supplemental questions on the application to be answered. Additional information on each Living Learning Community can be found on the website.

No guarantees can be made to first-year students regarding building, roommate, or Living Learning Community preferences, but all realistic attempts will be made to honor requests. Returning residential students are eligible to take part in a sign-up process during the spring semester which allows for selection of specific rooms for the following fall semester.

Sodexo Zag Dining

All students who reside in the residence halls are required to eat on campus under a board plan. Sodexo Food Service provides a full service food program to the University under the direction of the Executive Vice President.

Sodexo Food Service assists students with many health needs, including special diets when prescribed and approved in writing by a medical doctor.
The food service offers a "flex-dollar" option (Bulldog Bucks) to enhance the student's board plan. Students may use this allotment to purchase meals and/or snacks at any on-campus Sodexo food service location.

Meal Plan changes can usually be made during the first week of each semester.

Lincoln LGBTQ+ Resource Center

The purpose of the Lincoln LGBTQ+ Resource Center is to develop and sustain Gonzaga University as a safe and welcoming community for people of all sexual orientations, gender identities, and expressions by engaging in education, advocacy, outreach, and programming. This center is part of the Diversity, Inclusion, Community, & Equity (DICE) department which also includes the Unity Multicultural Education Center (UMEC). Both centers organize their work around three pillars:

Pillar One - Mentoring

- Act Six
- BRIDGE (Building Relationships in Diverse Gonzaga Environments)

Pillar Two - Programming

- Monthly Series
  - Crafting Unity: Art & Activism Series
  - Multiple Lenses Film Series
  - Speak Up Series
  - Out to Lunch with Allies Series
- Signature Programs
  - International Day of Tolerance (IDOT)
  - Diversity Monologues
  - Lavender Graduate Celebration
Pillar Three - Intercultural Development

- Intergroup Dialogue (IGD)
- Social Justice Peer Educators (SJPE)
- Diversity Conference Advisory Team (DCAT)

Both UMEC and the Lincoln LGBTQ+ Resource Center work closely with the Unity Alliance of Cultural Clubs and employ approximately 35 student leaders.

Center for Community Engagement (CCE)

For over twenty years CCE has been putting Gonzaga's mission into action through a wide spectrum of volunteer and community engaged learning projects. CCE's programs offer you the opportunity to develop a personal commitment to service, social justice, and leadership. We take seriously the Jesuit mission of forming “women and men for and with others.” You can find our office in the Hemmingson Center. CCE serves as a resource center for students, faculty, alumni, and community partners.

Housed within The Center are the following programs and initiatives:

Community-Engaged Learning

Gonzaga University has offered community-engaged learning (also known as service-learning) courses for over 20 years. These classes are taught across the curriculum and offered by the various schools, including the Law School. Over 1500 students are actively engaged in community-engaged learning each year. This office coordinates service fairs each semester which invite non-profit agencies to campus to share opportunities and recruit student volunteers.

Gonzaga's Youth Programs & Initiatives

For over 20 years, the Center for Community Engagement has paired well-trained and passionate college students together with school-aged youth from the Spokane community. Started in 1995 with the creation of Campus Kids at Stevens and Logan Elementary, CCE's Youth Programs & Initiatives have expanded by leaps and bounds. Today, we run 7 distinct mentoring programs in 13 Spokane Public Schools, with approximately 350 Gonzaga students serving over 700 youth.

Weekly Student Engagement Volunteering

We have many ways for you to volunteer alongside other Gonzaga students addressing a variety of local community issues. You can serve meals with Campus Kitchens, form a community with adults with disabilities with Gonzaga University Specialized Recreation, or serve weekly at a local non-profit with your peers through the Zag Volunteer Corps Semester of Service program.

Zag Volunteer Corps (ZVC) Program

Join the ZVC Semester of Service program and serve weekly at a local non-profit organization. Partner organizations engage students in a range of projects serving youth, senior citizens, or members of the homeless community.

If you don't have the ability to serve weekly throughout the semester, consider participating in a ZVC Saturday of Service project. You can serve several times a year with a group of fellow students all over the city with our half-day Saturdays of service. This will give you a chance to work with various non-profits serving youth, helping construct homes, building trails, serving meals and much more.

Wolff Fellowship Program

Wolff Fellows co-design projects with local community-based organizations that build community capacity and strengthen partnerships between Gonzaga and the host agency. Projects are designed around CCE's six Arrupe Engagement Pathways: Advocacy & Awareness, Community-Engaged Learning & Research, Direct Service, Faith & Justice, Philanthropy, Policy & Politics, and/or Social Innovation. Through their unique projects, Wolff Fellows explore the connection between their disciplinary/career interests and public service, learn about community needs and assets, and partner with community organizations to build community capacity.
Service Immersion Programs

During winter or spring break, you can commit a week to serving in communities all over the country, from New York City to San Francisco and many in between. Our immensely popular service immersion programs, Mission: Possible and Justice in January, send groups of students across the country to serve, learn and engage in a diverse set of communities. We also provide an international immersion each summer.

Unity Multicultural Education Center (UMEC)

The purpose of UMEC is to advocate for underrepresented students and to provide experiential learning opportunities for all students in order to create a university community that integrates and values multiple perspectives and cultural narratives. UMEC is part of the Diversity, Inclusion, Community, & Equity (DICE) department which also includes the Lincoln LGBTQ+ Resource Center. Both centers organize their work around three pillars:

Pillar One - Mentoring

- Act Six
- BRIDGE (Building Relationships in Diverse Gonzaga Environments)

Pillar Two - Programming

- Monthly Series
  - Crafting Unity: Art & Activism Series
  - Multiple Lenses Film Series
  - Speak Up Series

  - Diversity Monologues
  - Lavender Graduate Celebration
Pillar Three - Intercultural Development

- Intergroup Dialogue (IGD)
- Social Justice Peer Educators (SJPE)
- Diversity Conference Advisory Team (DCAT)

Both UMEC and the Lincoln LGBTQ+ Resource Center work closely with the Unity Alliance of Cultural Clubs and employ approximately 35 student leaders.

Transfer, Veteran, and Returning Adult Services

This office serves as your central point of information and provides you with the opportunity and resources to address any questions or concerns you may have about being a transfer, veteran, or returning adult student at Gonzaga University. We understand that transfer, veteran, and returning adult students face unique challenges when returning to college. We are committed to supporting your successful transition to college and to connecting you to the services available at Gonzaga to support your educational journey. We value and appreciate the diverse skills, talent, and knowledge that you bring to Gonzaga University.

Student Involvement and Leadership

Student Involvement and Leadership is dedicated to inspiring and empowering students! The Department of Student Involvement is home to:

- The Gonzaga Student Body Association (GSBA)
- Student Clubs and Organizations
- Gonzaga Outdoors
- Payne Center for Leadership Development
- SpikeNites
- Student Media
The Gonzaga Student Body Association (GSBA) is committed to helping students. Through programs, sponsorships, events, and other academic and social activities, GSBA strives to meet the student's needs. GSBA partners with student clubs and organizations to offer an array of events, from weekly coffeehouse artists, to guest speakers and lectures, and even big name concerts like Yellowcard and Ben Folds. GSBA also offers everyday programs like the Partnership in Education Readership Program, Safe Ride, the Wall, and much more! Most importantly, GSBA acts as the voice of the students to the administration. GSBA prides itself on a strong relationship with the faculty and administration which helps students' voice their concerns and suggestions. Need more information, a GSBA form, curious about GSBA funding or painting the wall? Visit the GSBA website at www.gonzaga.edu/gsba.

Student Clubs and Organizations: Gonzaga currently has over 130 active and recognized student clubs that cover a wide range of interest. GSBA and the office of Student Involvement and Leadership work together to provide support and services for all student clubs and their members. Visit the Zagtivities site to view all the clubs and organizations that are available, and to learn how to sign up! Curious about starting a club? Check out Gonzaga's Student Group Policy. If you have questions about guidelines, policies, processes and/or resources for Gonzaga University Student Groups, check out the Gonzaga University Student Group Manual. For more information visit our website at www.gonzaga.edu/getinvolved

Gonzaga Outdoors strives to keep the outdoors as accessible as possible by providing inexpensive gear rentals, subsidized outdoor adventures, and educational clinics. Their goal is to give as many students as possible the opportunity to enjoy the beautiful local surroundings. A few of the activities offered by Gonzaga Outdoors focus on: Skiing/snowboarding, snowshoeing, hiking, backpacking, kayaking, biking, fishing, rock climbing, and more. The Gonzaga Outdoors office is located in lower Hemmingson. Contact us at 509-313-4189 or outdoors@gonzaga.edu

The Payne Center for Leadership Development engages and supports all students seeking to develop their leadership potential and inspire positive change on campus and in their local and global communities. Our programs, services and resources offer students a deeper understanding of leadership in the Jesuit context of knowing self, building community, and impacting our world. We are also home to the Experiential Leadership Institute, a year-long leadership program for sophomore students.
Gonzaga's Community of Leaders is comprised of over 800 student leaders who facilitate, manage, and impact positive change for over 100 student clubs and organizations. The Payne Center helps students make meaning from their leadership experience and transform that learning into valuable lifelong leadership skills.

The Payne Center for Leadership Development offers a variety of services including:

- Student Leadership Summits
- Leadership Workshops and Consulting
- Access to personal leadership inventories
- Guest speakers and professionals in the field
- Library of Leadership Resources

For more information visit our web-site at www.gonzaga.edu/leadership-resource-center

SpikeNites is the late night programming series in Hemmingson Center. Every Friday and Saturday from 10pm-2am SpikeNites will feature free movies, video game tournaments, comedians, special events and late night food options. Learn more about SpikeNites on Zagtivities.

Student Media

Student Media provides a number of publications that feature student work. All publications are written, designed, and staffed by students under the guidance of a faculty or staff advisor. Our current publications include:

- The Gonzaga Bulletin
- One World
- Charter
- Our Voices
- Reflection
- GU Bulldog Blog
- Spires Yearbook
The First-Year Experience Program

First Year Experience Programs is dedicated to assisting you in a successful transition into the Gonzaga University community. First Year Experience Programs is a one-stop resource for you. Whether you are looking for assistance in academic tutoring, finding a flag football team or ways to serve the community, we will be able to get you on the right path. Through the rich experiences and supportive campus community.

First Year Experience Programs develops and facilitates an exemplary program of New Student Orientation and year-long transitional programs such as How to Zag and Zaglink. New students (including first year, international, athletes, transfer, veterans, and non-traditional) are provided a holistic introduction to the university, connections to students with faculty, staff, and current students and support to their development and success during their first year.

Parent and Family Relations

Parent and Family Relations, in collaboration with the Gonzaga Parent and Family Council, promotes each student's learning experience by engaging parents and families as active partners in supporting student success at Gonzaga University.

We serve as an advocate for parents and the university internally and externally, by facilitating communication and creating a climate that fosters mutual understanding.

We develop and implement programs and services that inform and educate parents and families about valuable resources, critical issues and topics relevant to student success.

We design and sponsor programs that promote parents and family involvement in the life of the university and create opportunities for participation in their student's experience.
Career & Professional Development

Career and Professional Development (CPD) helps students clarify and attain their educational and career goals by 1) developing a collaborative, community-wide network of career educators, 2) offering relevant and meaningful services and programs to foster and support their success, and 3) teaching them how to navigate lifelong career development.

CPD Services

- Individual Career Counseling & Advising: Schedule an appointment over the phone, by email or online at www.gonzaga.edu/ZagsIgnite. Open hours: 1-4pm Monday-Friday

- Engineering and Computer Science Career & Internship Fair (October)
- FUSE Career Fair (February/March)
- School of Education Career Fair (March)
- Graduate and Professional School Fair (March)

Career Treks

CPD organizes regional career development and networking events in popular geographic areas. Treks include visits to employers and opportunities for students to network with alumni and parents in the following locations:

- New York City (September/October)
- Spokane (October)
- London (January)
- Portland (January)
- Seattle (January)
- San Francisco (March)
- Silicon Valley (March)
• Denver/Los Angeles (May/June alternating years)

Gonzaga Alumni Mentor Program (GAMP)

GAMP is a career development and networking resource for students and alumni. This award winning program assists students in exploring alternative career fields and in developing a personal network of contacts by matching them with alumni mentors. The program has almost 3000 participating alumni that represent a broad range of careers, experiences, and geographical locations. These mentors are willing to help students clarify academic and career decisions with real-world knowledge and experience. By taking part in this program students will gain realistic and current information from Gonzaga graduates. They will also begin to develop the relationships they will need to help in the transition from school to the professional world of work. This program is intended for all majors and students are encouraged to use these services throughout their college experience. To sign up as a mentor or mentee, go to zagsconnect.gonzaga.edu.

Office of Investigation and Inquiry

This office works in conjunction with the Director of Title IX and the Office of Community Standards (OCS), to conduct inquiry and/or investigation of alleged violations of the Student Code of Conduct as related to sexual misconduct or Sexual Harassment. Investigations are conducted through trauma informed practices and are unbiased.

At times, the Office of Investigations and Inquiry is used to complete larger scale investigation not involving Title IX or sexual misconduct. These cases typically involve complex student conduct issues involving multiple parties (complainants and respondents).

Office of Health Promotion

The Office of Health Promotion (OHP) envisions a campus environment that fosters health and well-being. We believe all students deserve opportunities to learn and practice strategies that will help them thrive at Gonzaga and beyond. The professional Health Educators of this area partner with student well-being interns to lead initiatives, create programs, deliver trainings, and identify services and spaces that promote positive, holistic well-being and reduce high-risk behaviors. Our primary areas of focus include: mental and emotional well-being, healthy relationships, and substance use. Contact us if you are interested in consultation for an event, project or idea you have.

Zags Help Zags – This is a program coordinated by OHP that helps develop students, faculty, and staff members to be active bystanders who step in to make a positive difference in the Gonzaga community. As a Jesuit University, we have a commitment to the dignity of the human person and strive to be in service to others. We aim to find proactive ways to establish healthy community norms, as well as identify strategies for intervening when challenging situations do arise.

Collegiate Recovery Community (CRC) - The mission of this program is to foster a common, collective sense of purpose for students in recovery from substance use disorders or those exploring sobriety. OUR House (the physical location for the CRC) provides a safe, recovery-positive environment where students can get support from other students who have had similar experiences.

Academic Events

Academic Events provides project management support for activities that foster academic engagement and promote community relationships.

Programs include:

Commencement: All students graduating in the calendar year are invited to join the one annual celebration event in May of that year, Commencement. Whereas graduation is the completion of studies resulting in a diploma, commencement is the celebratory acknowledgement of this academic achievement with ceremonies for Law, Graduate, and Undergraduate students. Collaboration and partnership with all areas of the university are necessary for successful events.
The Presidential Speaker Series: An annual event hosted by the University President featuring a high-profile author with a message of social justice, particularly highlighting the value of education.

Academic Honors Convocation: An annual event hosted by the Provost to honor student achievement and faculty excellence awards, as well as recognize retiring and emeriti faculty.

Mass of the Holy Spirit: A Jesuit education tradition for blessing the opening of the academic year, hosted by Mission and Ministry. Academic events provides project planning support and manages the academic procession.

Constitution Day: Activities to honor the United States Constitution on September 17 are created in partnership with Financial Aid and Student Involvement and Leadership.

Support is also provided to First Year Experience for Undergraduate New Student Orientation and to the Parent and Family Relations team for Family Weekend. In general, any academic area hosting a program or speaker event needing assistance may receive support from the Academic Events team.
Student Services

Mission and Ministry

Mission and Ministry supports the spiritual development of all members of the Gonzaga community, regardless of religious affiliation and tradition. Mission and Ministry provides opportunities and resources for spiritual growth and fellowship through retreats, liturgies, music ministry, small groups, spiritual direction, residence hall programs and more. These activities invite participants into a deeper understanding of Gonzaga’s Jesuit and Catholic identity as well as a profound respect for other religious and spiritual traditions.

Retreats

Mission and Ministry’s retreat programs provide opportunities to practice reflection, leadership, fellowship and self-examination according to our Ignatian heritage. More than a thousand students participate in these retreats each year. We coordinate one Pilgrimage, two First Year Retreats, four Search Retreats, one Men’s Retreat, one Women’s Retreat and two Montserrat Retreats every academic year. Each retreat is coordinated by a Mission and Ministry staff member and many are led by student crews.

CLC/Life Groups

These are intentional small groups that meet weekly to reflect, share life, pray, laugh and grow. Each year, roughly 500 students gather in these small groups to deepen their relationship with God, form lasting relationships with others, and walk through the valleys and peaks of college life together. CLC/Life Groups also gather regularly for large-group activities, social events, and service projects.

Mass and Sacraments

As a Catholic university, we hold Masses on campus to unite us as a faith community. Two public liturgies are available each day in the Gonzaga community. People of all religious paths are welcome to join us in prayer and worship. In addition, we help students connect with other local churches and places of worship.

Not only are students invited to come to Mass, but they are also invited to take on leadership positions, such as Eucharistic Minister, Lector, Server, or Sacristan. Mission and Ministry also offers students the Sacrament of Reconciliation through appointment or before Sunday evening Mass.

If you have questions about other Mission and Ministry events and programs, please contact the office at (509) 313-4242 or umin@gonzaga.edu. Mission and Ministry is located on the main floor of the Hemmingson Center (Suite 104) and online at www.gonzaga.edu/missionandministry.

Veterans

Gonzaga University’s academic programs of study are approved by the Washington State Higher Education Coordinating Board’s State Approving Agency (HECB/SAA) for enrollment of persons eligible to receive educational benefits under Title 38 and Title 10 USC.

For graduate students enrolled in academic programs offering courses in non-standard terms, the number of credits required to achieve a time status of "full time" shall be proportional to the number of weeks in that non-standard term divided by sixteen (e.g. 8 divided by 16, times 6 credits equals a full-time status of three (3) credits for a non-standard term of eight (8) weeks duration).

In accordance with Title 38 US Code 3679 subsection (e), this school adopts the following additional provisions for any students using U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) Post 9/11 G.I. Bill® (Ch.33) or Vocational Rehabilitation and Employment (Ch. 31) benefits, while payment to the institution is pending from the VA. This school will not:

- Prevent the students enrollment;
- Assess a late penalty fee to;
- Require student secure alternative or additional funding;
- Deny their access to any resources (access to classes, libraries, or other institutional facilities) available to other students who have satisfied their tuition and fee bills to the institution.
However, to qualify for this provision, such students may be required to:

- Produce the Certificate of Eligibility by the first day of class;
- Provide written request to be certified;
- Provide additional information needed to properly certify the enrollment as described in other institutional policies.

Satisfactory Academic Progress for Veterans

Veterans failing to achieve minimum standards of academic progress are placed on probation for the following semester and notified via email by the University's Veterans' Advisor. Should satisfactory academic progress not be achieved by the following term, certification of veteran benefits will be suspended and the VA Regional Processing Office will be notified. Certification of veteran benefits can resume once satisfactory academic progress standing is attained.

Eligible veterans needing to apply for their benefits, approved veterans needing certification of enrollment, or students with questions about possible veteran benefits should contact the University's Veterans Advisor in Room 234 of College Hall.
The Center for Student Academic Success (CSAS) is an all-inclusive academic support center designed, through programs and retention initiatives, to empower Gonzaga students to be active and independent learners in pursuit of their academic success. The Center includes three integrated areas:

Academic Advising and Assistance

Professional advisors in AAA provide developmental academic advising across all curricula at Gonzaga. They assist students on a variety of topics, including academic planning, policy clarifications, crisis management, transitional advising for students between majors, and academic skill development. AAA is responsible for academic standing and probation, freshman registration, as well as individual assistance for students and faculty on academic issues. In partnership with the Center for Cura Personalis, AAA coordinates a campus wide early alert and referral system called REFER. www.gonzaga.edu/aaa.

Learning Strategies

Students seeking strategies, tools and resources to enhance academic success can sign up for one-on-one peer tutoring and academic mentoring in The Learning Studio. Professional Strategic Learning Specialists are available to work with students on individualized learning plans, provide accountability, develop metacognitive skills and explore opportunities to improve academic success and increase resiliency. For more information please visit www.gonzaga.edu/learningstrategies.

Disability Access

Disability Access provides access services to Gonzaga University's programs, services, activities and facilities for qualified students with disabilities in compliance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and Washington State laws. Disability Access serves students with permanent or temporary disabilities. Disability Access may arrange or provide appropriate and reasonable academic accommodations, auxiliary aids, assistive technology, physical/mobility aids and other types of accommodations for students with disabilities. Students should contact Disability Access to inquire about the procedure for requesting accommodations. The University recommends the student contact Disability Access at least four weeks prior to the semester for which they are requesting services. However, Disability Access continuously evaluates student documentation and requests for accommodation throughout the school year.

If at any time during the process of application, admission, and enrollment, individuals feel that they have been discriminated against because of disability, they are encouraged to notify Disability Access. Incidents which have occurred more than 120 days prior to making the complaint may or may not be given consideration. To obtain copies of GU's Informal Complaint Process for Reasonable Accommodation or the Formal Grievance Procedure, please contact the Disability Access office.

Disability Access is located in Foley Center Library, 2nd floor, Room 209 and is at extension 4134. Visit www.gonzaga.edu/disabilityaccess.

Center for Global Engagement

Richard Menard, Director

The Center for Global Engagement believes a stellar international experience should encompass and epitomize all the strengths of an excellent university education. Positive international experiences should offer an immersion into a new culture through rigorous academics, dynamic exchange and dialogue with diverse groups, and a broad exposure to new ideas and experiences.

Study Abroad

Gonzaga believes that a critical part of any education is the growth of skills, knowledge and attitudes that nurture an active engagement with the world and the people who inhabit it. If you are looking for an education that will challenge you as well as position you for an outstanding career in our increasingly interconnected world, studying abroad is a popular option at Gonzaga. Studying abroad is part of our tradition at Gonzaga. Gonzaga allows you to use your scholarships and financial aid to pay for programs that fit into your degree plan with the goal of graduating on time.
Nearly 50% of Gonzaga graduates study abroad compared to less than 9% of US graduates who achieve a baccalaureate degree. CGE boasts programs in over 60 locations and there are multiple programs that will allow students to earn credit towards their Gonzaga Core Requirements, major and minor requirements. To learn more about what credits can count towards degree requirements explore the Study Abroad web section at www.gonzaga.edu/studyabroad.

Application & Eligibility: All students studying abroad for academic credit must submit their application through the Center for Global Engagement. Approval requires Student Affairs clearance, as well as demonstration of high-quality academic performance, grade point average and faculty recommendations.

International Students

Gonzaga welcomes applications from international students to become part of Gonzaga’s Global Community. Non-native English speaking students must present evidence of their ability to perform in undergraduate studies at Gonzaga, including one of the following exam results as proof of sufficient English proficiency:

1. TOEFL score of at least 550 written / 213 computer / 80 IBT OR
2. Score of 6.0 or better on the IELTS OR
3. ‘New SAT’ combined score of 1150 or an ‘Old SAT’ combined score of 1070 Critical Reading and Math OR
4. Composite ACT score of no less than 23

In lieu of test scores, Gonzaga will accept satisfactory completion of Gonzaga University’s Global Bridge 1 with a grade point average of at least 3.00 and the recommendation of the ESL faculty. Applicants should submit transcripts in both their native language and an official English translation issued by the institution.

Once admission has been granted, Gonzaga University requests international applicants to provide documentation of sufficient funds for academic and living costs while studying in the United States for at least the academic year (two consecutive full-time semesters). On the Financial Declaration students state that they have access to a certain amount of funds and indicates the source(s) of these funds. Students must provide documentation regarding the source of funding such as written notification from a sponsor or a certified bank statement.

The Financial Declaration and supporting documentation is required in order to process a U.S. immigration document known as an I-20 form. The International Admission office collects the information and accompanying documents; and when the student is accepted, prepares and mails the I-20 to the student. The student must report to the Center for Global Engagement immediately upon arrival in the United States in order to receive a travel signature and to submit immigration information.

The Center for Global Engagement provides an international student orientation prior to the new student undergraduate orientation as well as ongoing academic, cultural, and immigration support for the duration of program at Gonzaga University.

English Language Center

Since 1978, the University's English Language Center (ELC) has addressed the needs of multilingual student whose primary native language is not English. Gonzaga’s ELC has served nearly 10,000 international student, introducing them to academic language and culture, higher education in the United States, and providing opportunities for intercultural exchanges with students from the U.S. and more than seventy other nations.

English as a Second Language (ESL) Courses

The ELC offers year-round intensive classes in ten levels of instruction in English as a Second Language (ESL). These courses are designed to meet the needs of international students seeking undergraduate and graduate admission to Gonzaga, as well as to assist international professionals in improving their English language ability. Instructional policies and program guidelines of the Gonzaga University ESL Program are in accordance with the Commission on English Language Program Accreditation (CEA), the national professional organization in this field, which approved Gonzaga's ESL accreditation in 2002 and ten-year reaccreditation in 2008.
Undergraduate Global Bridge Courses

The ELC offers Global Bridge courses to all international students and scholars. Global Bridge courses help international students with the linguistic and cultural adjustment to integrated academic language and culture courses that will enrich each student’s academic program.

Global Bridge Program

For students who are ready to pursue undergraduate studies, but do not currently meet Gonzaga’s English proficiency requirements, admission to the Global Bridge Program offers integrated academic language and culture courses that will enrich each student’s academic program. The program enables students to improve English proficiency, while earning 12 credits toward a degree at a discounted tuition rate. Global Bridge courses are English for Academic Purposes (EAP) courses linked to specific Core classes. International students will be placed into the appropriate courses and simultaneously enroll in one (or more) freshman Core course(s) and its linked ELCT (English Language Center) course.

Specialized English Language Programs

In addition to the academic ESL Program, the ELC offers short-term Specialized English Language Programs for contracted groups of students, faculty and international visitors.

Academic Support and Testing

The ELC conducts English Placement testing to determine which undergraduate Global Bridge classes incoming international students may be required or qualify to take. We provide testing and services for all multilingual students at Gonzaga who require or desire focused academic English language and culture instruction or support.

ELC and MA-TESL Program Affiliation

The ELC is affiliated with the following programs in the School of Education: Master of Arts degree in Teaching English as a Second Language (MA-TESL); Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) Certificate; and ELL endorsement. This important affiliation between programs includes shared faculty, curricular and programmatic integration, and opportunities for diverse student groups to collaborate in creative ways.

For more information about the English Language Center, visit www.gonzaga.edu/elc, or call 313-6562.

Gonzaga in Florence

Gonzaga in Florence is Gonzaga University's flagship study abroad program. Established in 1962, this program is run as a branch campus and accepts 185 students per semester. With over a half-century of history, Gonzaga in Florence has been leading the way in study abroad for decades and continues to play an important part in student's experiences at Gonzaga.

The city of Florence was chosen because of its tradition as the intellectual and artistic center of both the Middle Ages and the Renaissance. It also was the student home of Aloysius Gonzaga. Its libraries, museums, churches and monuments provide today's students with unique opportunities for understanding the forces which shaped European civilization. Florence is considered one of Europe's first “global” cities, attracting students, artists, and intellectuals for over 500 years.

Gonzaga in Florence is located in the center of Florence not far from the Duomo and looks onto the Giardino dei Semplici, a 16th-century garden created by the Medici family. It is a few steps from Fra Angelico's frescoes painted for the San Marco monastery and from Michelangelo's David housed in the Galleria dell'Academia.

Gonzaga in Florence, which is housed in the Mozilo Center, provides students with all the facilities required for learning and student activities. The school is wired with the latest technology which includes wi-fi. In addition, the center's Martin Library collection consists of over 10,000 volumes. For research, students have also access to Gonzaga University's Spokane campus Foley Library resources and databases. A student lounge and fitness center are located on the lower level.

For more information about Gonzaga in Florence, visit www.gonzaga.edu/gif.

The Center for Global Engagement is where all students and faculty can engage in shared exploration of diverse ideas, identities and traditions that constitute our global heritage. This humanistic exploration is grounded in the Jesuit tradition of seeking to find the divine in all people. For more information about the Center for Global Engagement, visit www.gonzaga.edu/cge.

Campus Security & Public Safety

Campus Security and Public Safety (CSPS) facilitates the safety and security of students, staff, faculty, visitors and the property of the University. The department operates 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Officers make regular checks of all university buildings and grounds with an emphasis on the residence halls and areas where students gather. Other services provided from this Department are: Emergency Communications, Emergency Preparedness, Crime Prevention and Education, Behavioral Threat Assessment, Parking, safe escorts from location to location (on campus), jump starts, alarm checks, and suspicious activity investigations. CSPS works closely with the Spokane Police Department to coordinate criminal investigations and for requests of police services outside the authority of this department. They also work collaboratively with all local law enforcement and emergency service providers. To contact CSPS dial (509) 313-2222.
A. Degrees Offered

Gonzaga University offers programs leading to the degrees listed below. For specific majors within these degrees, more information can be found under the listing of the individual School or College. This document provides undergraduate degree information and references to the other divisions of the University. Information on graduate and legal studies can be found in the separate catalogs of the Graduate School and the School of Law. The University has the following advisory programs to assist students in preparation for admission to professional schools: pre-dentistry, pre-law, and pre-medicine. The Department of Military Science also offers a program leading to a commission in the United States Army.

- The College of Arts and Sciences confers the degrees of Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) (Honors and General), and Bachelor of Science (B.S.) (Honors and General).

- The School of Business Administration confers the degree of Bachelor of Business Administration (B.B.A.) (Honors and General).

- The School of Education confers four degrees: Bachelor of Education (B.Ed.) (Honors and General) in Special Education, Bachelor of Education (B.Ed.) in Sport Management, Bachelor of Education (B.Ed.) in Kinesiology and Physical Education, and Bachelor of Education (B.Ed.) in Community, Culture, and Language Education. The school also provides programs leading to initial and continuing teacher certification in elementary, secondary, and special education in conjunction with the B.A. degree.

- The School of Engineering and Applied Science confers the degree of Bachelor of Science (B.S.) (Honors and General) in Civil, Computer, Electrical, Mechanical Engineering, Engineering Management, and Computer Science.
• The School of Nursing and Human Physiology confers the degree of Bachelor of Science in Nursing (B.S.N.) (Honors and General) and B.S. in Human Physiology (Honors and General).

• The School of Law confers the degree of Juris Doctor. In cooperation with the Graduate School of Business, a combined program is offered for the M.B.A./J.D. and MACC/J.D.

A listing of graduate programs in the above College and Schools can be found at www.gonzaga.edu/catalogs.

B. Programs Offered

1. Special University-Wide Programs

Gonzaga makes available special programs for selected students in all of its Schools and the College. Further information on the following programs can be found on the Gonzaga website.

• Honors Program: A distinctive curriculum for academically motivated undergraduates, featuring innovative, collaborative courses and immersive educational experiences. The program is designed to complement all majors and programs at Gonzaga. Upon graduation, students in this program receive an Honors designation as part of their degree. For further information visit www.gonzaga.edu/honors.

• International Admission: Gonzaga University welcomes international students and provides guidance on admission criteria and required documentation. International applicants are encouraged to contact Gonzaga at iadmissions@gonzaga.edu.

• International Student and Scholar Services (ISSS): International Student & Scholar Services (ISSS) offers centralized support to all international undergraduate, transfer, graduate, PhD, law, ESL, Global Bridge, exchange and visiting students attending Gonzaga as well as support for visiting scholars. The office specializes in academic and immigration advising; international student, visiting professor and scholar support; international student employment authorization; tax assistance; workshops and specialized international programming.

• Ministry Institute: An international educational discernment community for service and leadership. Students develop or improve their ministerial skills in a community setting by working toward graduate degrees at the University (i.e., religious studies, leadership, counseling), studying English as a second language, or participating in the sabbatical spiritual renewal program in religious studies while auditing religious studies courses.

- Study Abroad Program: Gonzaga University offers a multitude of different study abroad opportunities in Africa, Asia, Europe, Latin America, the Middle East, and the Oceania for the academic year, semester, or summer study. Opportunities to complete internships and service learning abroad are also available.

2. Pre-Professional Programs

Pre-Medicine, Pre-Dentistry, and Pre-Veterinary Studies: Gonzaga University offers a number of programs for students who are interested in pursuing careers in medicine, dentistry and veterinary medicine. Gonzaga graduates have recently attended medical, dental or veterinary programs at the following universities: Harvard University, John Hopkins University, Emory University, Loyola University Chicago, Georgetown University, Mayo Medical School, Colorado State University, Creighton University, Georgetown University, Marquette University, Oregon Health & Science University, Tulane University, University of Colorado at Denver, University of Colorado, University of Hawaii, University of Washington and Washington State University, to name a few.

Members of the Committee on Health Science Careers (CHSC) share a commitment to preparing students for graduate studies in the health sciences. Faculty members of the CHSC represent a broad range of departments including Biology, Chemistry and Biochemistry, and Human Physiology, as well as Physics, Psychology, Sociology and English. Not only are committee members active in pre-health science advising, but they also support the student's application by providing mock entrance interviews, reviewing personal statements, and writing letters of recommendation. Students who indicate an interest in the health sciences are encouraged to consult with committee members or an advisor with expertise in advising in that area.

Students interested in medicine, dentistry or veterinary studies choose and complete a regular undergraduate major under the supervision of their academic advisor. There is no "pre-medicine" or any other pre-health science major at the undergraduate level. Health science students must demonstrate strong achievement and aptitude in the natural sciences. Professional school requirements are in most cases embedded within Biology, Biochemistry and Human Physiology majors; however, a science major is not required. Admission committees consider each candidate based on record of academic success, score on the standardized entrance examination (MCAT, DAT, or for most Veterinary schools the GRE), personal characteristics, which are further developed through the core curriculum, demonstrated commitment to service, and knowledge of the chosen career field. The CHSC recommends that students select a major based on individual interests and potential alternative career plans as well as a thorough exploration of the sum of requirements for their degree and entry into specific professional programs.

All pre-professional health science students should complete certain science courses as minimum preparation for professional programs. These courses should be finished prior to the spring semester of the junior year, which is when most students take standardized entrance examinations. The following courses offered at Gonzaga fulfill the minimal science requirements established by most health science programs:

- One semester of General Chemistry (CHEM 101 and CHEM 101L)
- Three semesters of Biology (BIOL 105, BIOL 105L, BIOL 106, BIOL 207, and BIOL 207L)
- Two semesters of Organic Chemistry (CHEM 230, CHEM 230L, CHEM 231 and CHEM 231L)
- One semester of Inorganic Chemistry (CHEM 205)
- One semester of Biochemistry (CHEM 245 and CHEM 245L)
- Two semesters of Physics (PHYS 101, PHYS 101L and PHYS 102, PHYS 102L) or (PHYS 103, PHYS 103L and PHYS 204, PHYS 204L)
- One semester of Sociology (SOCl 101)
- One semester of Psychology (PSYC 101)
- Many schools recommend one semester of calculus (MATH 148 or MATH 157).
- Many schools recommend at least one additional semester of upper division molecular biology or physiology (many of the courses offered in the Biology or Human Physiology Departments fulfill this recommendation)

It is the responsibility of each student to learn about the requirements of specific professional programs and take additional courses, if needed. The CHSC can advise students on the most appropriate courses to meet or exceed those requirements and the sequencing of these courses. As a complement to science courses, the University Core Curriculum provides students with a broad liberal arts education that will help them develop the philosophical and humanitarian perspective necessary to handle complex social and ethical issues. Knowledge of psychology, sociology and statistics is also expected, as questions related to these topics are included in several sections of the new MCAT exam that was introduced in 2015. Courses exploring these topics are widely available. Moreover, the CHSC encourages students to seek out volunteer opportunities and exposure to health care providers and work environments. Students who demonstrate a humanitarian concern for others through regular volunteer work in the community have higher acceptance rates than students who show no such interest or concern. Additionally, health science students must learn about their chosen career through direct interaction with health care providers. In fact, some professional programs require entering students to obtain substantial exposure to their chosen field. Lastly, Gonzaga's science programs have excellent opportunities to participate in fascinating faculty research throughout the academic year and during the summer. Health science students are encouraged to participate in mentored research either at Gonzaga or through summer research opportunities at other institutions to demonstrate their resourcefulness and aptitude. For further information on the CHSC, or preparation for health science careers, contact the committee (hsc@gonzaga.edu). Information can also be found at the websites for the American Association of Medical Schools (aamc.org), the American Dental Education Association (adea.org), or the Association of American Veterinary Medical Colleges (aavmc.org).

Pre-Law: A bachelor’s degree is normally required by law schools for admission. No particular major is required, but these schools look for students who have done well in their undergraduate program and on the Law School Admission Test. Further information can be found at: The School Of Law.

The best preparation for law school is a solid liberal arts education with particular emphasis on those majors and courses that develop the ability to read critically, to analyze difficult written material carefully, to think logically, and to write clear, coherent, and effective English prose. More pre-law students major in Political Science than any other field, but Gonzaga graduates have done well in law school recently with majors in all rigorous academic programs. The pre-law program is administered by the Department of Political Science. Students can request to be assigned to the pre-law advisor, Dr. Joseph
Gardner. The pre-law advisor can suggest an individually tailored minor in legal studies, upon request, or specific pre-law courses typically offered by the Political Science department. A course helping students to prepare for the LSAT examination is generally offered in the fall semester. Internships with private law firms, prosecutors and public defender offices, or the Office of the State Attorney General can be arranged for qualified students.

Preparation for Careers in Allied Health: The University provides students with opportunities to prepare for graduate or professional study in a variety of health related areas including physical and occupational therapy, physician assistant programs, cardiopulmonary rehabilitation, public health, business careers in health fitness and human performance, corporate fitness, health education, and sport and fitness business administration. Careers in allied health require additional study after completion of an undergraduate degree and therefore consideration of the prerequisites for admission to individual graduate programs is critical and should be considered by the student in selecting an undergraduate major. For further information on preparation for careers in allied health, contact the Department of Human Physiology in the School of Nursing and Human Physiology or the Department of Sport and Physical Education in the School of Education.

3. Miscellaneous Programs:

Students who wish to pursue degrees in medical records, physical therapy, optometry, pharmacy, agriculture, architecture, forestry, or mining are encouraged to complete the core curriculum at Gonzaga as well as those courses which will form a foundation for further study in the field of their choice.
Degree Requirements

A. University Wide Undergraduate Degree Requirements

- Completion of a minimum of 128 semester credits.
- Completion of the core requirements of the University.
- Completion of all common curriculum from the individual school or college.
- Undergraduate courses or post baccalaureate course work may not be counted toward a graduate level degree. Graduate and doctoral level courses may not be counted toward an undergraduate or post baccalaureate degree.
- A minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.00.
- Completion of upper-division major and minor requirements with a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.00 in those courses. At least 50% of the required upper-division degree credits must be from Gonzaga.
- Courses graded with a “P” (pass) grade mode can only be used as elective credit. Credit earned with a “P” may not be used to satisfy core, major, minor, or concentration requirements.
- Senior Residency Requirement: The last thirty semester credits immediately preceding graduation must be earned in Gonzaga University course work. Students can petition for a waiver of this requirement via the Permission to Transfer Credits/Senior Residence Waiver form available in the Registrar’s Office. Under a Senior Residence Waiver, students may petition to take up to a maximum of eighteen credits off campus. Students whose cumulative or major GPA is below a 2.00 are not eligible for a waiver.
- Formal application for graduation: Students must file an application and pay the graduation application fee according to the instructions and dates published by the University Registrar. Degrees will be awarded upon completion of all requirements in March, May, June, August, October or December, with one public commencement ceremony held in May. Administration of honors level designations will be based on the fall semester credits earned and cumulative GPA for inclusion in the annual May commencement ceremony. The final honors designation if earned by the student, will be reflected on the transcript and the diploma for the semester of degree conferral.

- Fractional credit is never rounded up on a course nor is the total minimum credits required for a Gonzaga degree of 128 semester credits. The calculation of the cumulative GPA and major GPA is never rounded up.
- Once a student has graduated from the University and a degree has been posted, no further change can be made to the academic record (i.e. grade changes).
- Course attendance is not allowed without official registration and financial confirmation.

Note: Payment of all indebtedness to Gonzaga University, the return of all equipment to the appropriate entity, and the return of all books to Foley Library are required prior to graduation. Holds may be placed on transcripts and diplomas for any of these deficiencies.

B. University Core Curriculum

In addition to their major and minor areas of study, all undergraduate students follow a common program designed to complete their education in those areas that the University considers essential for a Catholic, Jesuit, liberal, and humanistic education. The University Core curriculum consists of forty-five credits of course work, with additional designation requirements that can be met through core, major, or elective courses.

The University Core curriculum is a four-year program, organized around one overarching question, which is progressively addressed through yearly themes and questions. Hence, core courses are best taken within the year for which they are designated. First year core courses encourage intellectual engagement and provide a broad foundation of fundamental skills. Second and third year courses examine central issues and questions in philosophy and religious studies. The fourth year course, the Core Integration Seminar, offers a culminating core experience. Taken at any time throughout the four years, broadening courses intersect with the core themes and extend students’ appreciation for the humanities, arts, and social and behavioral sciences. Finally, the designation requirements (writing enriched, global studies, and social justice) reflect important values and reinforce students' knowledge and competencies.

Overarching Core Question: As students of a Catholic, Jesuit, and Humanistic University, how do we educate ourselves to become women and men for a more just and humane global community?

Year 1 Theme and Question: Understanding and Creating: How do we pursue knowledge and cultivate understanding?

- The First-Year Seminar (DEPT 193, 3 credits): The First-Year Seminar (FYS), taken in the fall or spring of the first year, is designed to promote an intellectual shift in students as they transition to college academic life. Each small seminar is organized around an engaging topic, which students explore from multiple perspectives. The FYS is offered by many departments across the University.

- Writing (ENGL 101, 3 credits) and Reasoning (PHIL 101, 3 credits): The Writing and Reasoning courses are designed to help students develop the foundational skills of critical reading, thinking, analysis, and writing. They may be taken as linked sections. Writing (ENGL 101) carries one of the three required writing-enriched designations (see below).

- Communication & Speech (COMM 100, 3 credits): This course introduces students to interpersonal and small group communication and requires the application of critical thinking, reasoning, and research skills necessary to organize, write, and present several speeches.

- Scientific Inquiry (BIOL 104/104L, CHEM 104/104L, or PHYS 104/104L, 3 credits): This course explores the scientific process in the natural world through evidence-based logic and includes significant laboratory experience. Students pursuing majors that require science courses will satisfy this requirement through their major.

- Mathematics (above Math 100, 3 credits): Mathematics courses promote thinking according to the modes of the discipline—abstractly, symbolically, logically, and computationally. One course in mathematics, above Math 100, excluding MATH 193 and including any math course required for a major or minor, will fulfill this requirement. MATH 100 (College Algebra) and courses without the MATH prefix do not fulfill this requirement.
Year 2 Theme and Question: Being and Becoming: Who are we and what does it mean to be human?

- Philosophy of Human Nature (PHIL 201, 3 credits): This course provides students with a philosophical study of key figures, theories, and intellectual traditions that contribute to understanding the human condition; the meaning and dignity of human life; and the human relationship to ultimate reality.

- Christianity and Catholic Traditions (RELI, 3 credits). Religious Studies core courses approved for this requirement explore diverse topics including Christian scriptures, history, theology, and practices as well as major contributions from the Catholic intellectual and theological traditions.

Year 3 Theme and Question: Caring and Doing: What principles characterize a well lived life?

- Ethics (PHIL 301, RELI 330, or RELI 331, 3 credits): The Ethics courses are designed to help students develop their moral imagination by exploring and explaining the reasons humans should care about the needs and interests of others. This requirement is satisfied by an approved ethics course in either Philosophy (PHIL 301) or Religious Studies.

- World/Comparative Religion (RELI, 3 credits): Religious Studies courses approved for this core requirement draw attention to the diversity that exists within and among traditions and encourage students to bring critical, analytical thinking to bear on the traditions and questions considered. These courses carries one of the required two global-studies designations (see below).

Year 4 Theme and Question: Imagining the Possible: What is our role in the world?”

- Core Integration Seminar (DEPT 432, 3 credits). The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) offers students a culminating core experience in which they integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the core, and their disciplinary expertise. Some CIS courses may also count toward a student's major or minor. The CIS is offered by several departments across the University.

The Broadening Courses

- Fine Arts & Design (VART, MUSC, THEA, 3 credits): Arts courses explore multiple ways the human experience can be expressed through creativity, including across different cultures and societies. One approved course in fine arts, music, theatre, or dance will fulfill this requirement.
- History (HIST, 3 credits): History courses are intended to develop students' awareness of the historical context of both the individual and the collective human experience. One course in History (HIST 101, HIST 102, HIST 112, HIST 201, HIST 202) will fulfill this requirement.
- Literature (3 credits): Literature courses foster reflection on how literature engages with a range of human experience. One approved course in Literature (offered by English, Classics, or Modern Languages) will fulfill this requirement.
- Social & Behavioral Sciences (3 credits): Courses in the social and behavioral sciences engage students in studying human behavior, social systems, and social issues. One approved course offered by Criminology, Critical Race and Ethnic Studies, Economics, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, or Women and Gender Studies will fulfill this requirement.

The Designations

Designations are embedded within already existing core, major, minor, and elective courses. Students are encouraged to meet designation requirements within elective courses as their schedule allows; however, with careful planning students should be able to complete most of the designation requirements within other core, major, or minor courses.

- Writing Enriched (WE; 3 courses meeting this designation): Courses carrying the WE designation are designed to promote the humanistic and Jesuit pedagogical ideal of clear, effective communication. In addition to the required core course, Writing (ENGL 101), which carries one of the WE designations, students must take two other WE-designated courses.
• Global-Studies (GS; 2 courses meeting this designation): Courses carrying the GS designation are designed to challenge students to perceive and understand human diversity by exploring diversity within a context of constantly changing global systems. In addition to the required core course, World/Comparative Religion (RELI 300-level), which carries one of the GS designations, students must take one other GS-designated course.

• Social-Justice (SJ; 1 course meeting this designation): Courses carrying the SJ designation are designed to introduce students to one or more social justice concerns. Students must take one course that meets the SJ designation.

Please consult the University Core Registration Guide posted on the University Core Website for lists of approved core courses in each area: www.gonzaga.edu/core.

Major-specific adaptations to the University Core Curriculum

All Gonzaga students, regardless of their major, will complete the University Core curriculum requirements. However, some Gonzaga students will satisfy certain core requirements through major-specific programs or courses. Any major-specific adaptations to the core are described with the requirements for the majors to which they apply.

C. Catalog Options

Students entering Gonzaga after June 1, 1981 may select the core and degree requirements from any appropriate catalog which is within six years prior to their graduation. Students who entered before June 1, 1981, do not have a time limit regarding the catalog they select. An appropriate catalog is one in effect when a student attends with regular status as an undergraduate in a degree program. Summer session attendance does not qualify. The complete degree requirements of only one catalog must be followed. Selections may not be made from more than one catalog. Substitutions for discontinued courses are required and must be authorized by the proper University authorities.
D. Major Area

Either at the time of entrance or by the end of their second year, undergraduates should declare the particular field in which they wish to do their major work. They are then directed to the proper department for advice in planning a program of study.

The major normally consists of at least eighteen credits of upper-division course work in the major field and such supporting courses as the department requires. The major is listed on the final transcript but not on the diploma with the exception of Engineering, Education, Human Physiology, and Nursing.

E. Minor Area: Minor Courses of Study

An optional minor study program is offered by most of the departments within the University. Specific requirements can be found under the individual departments. The minor must be officially declared and is listed on the final transcript.

F. Second Majors, Minors, and Degrees

Under a Gonzaga baccalaureate degree, a student may complete more than one major and/or minor under that degree type (i.e. Bachelor of Arts with majors in Sociology and in Psychology). Students can receive more than one baccalaureate degree at the same time (i.e. Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Science). This is accomplished by completing the common curriculum in both schools and major requirements in addition to completing a minimum of 158 semester credits. Students who already hold an undergraduate degree from Gonzaga or any other institution can enroll at Gonzaga for a second degree as a post baccalaureate student. Gonzaga University offers second majors, second minors, and second degrees according to the following norms:

Second Major:

- The student must fulfill all departmental requirements for the second major and all the common curriculum requirements of the school or college wherein the major is offered.
• The student must formally declare the second major.
• At least during the third and fourth years, the student should utilize the advice of a faculty member in the department of the second major.

Second Minor:

• The student must fulfill the requirements of the department. If the minor is in a school other than the major, the second school common curriculum requirements need not be fulfilled.
• The student must formally declare a second minor.
• The diploma does not indicate a minor, but it is listed on the transcript.

Second Degree (Undergraduate):

• The student must fulfill thirty Gonzaga credits beyond the 128 completed for the first degree.
• The student must fulfill all University core requirements, individual school curriculum requirements and departmental requirements for the second degree; credit and requirements fulfilled under the first degree cannot be repeated in the second degree.
• The student must formally declare the second degree and apply for the second degree prior to graduation.
• A second diploma is awarded only when the second degree is distinctly different from the first.

Second Degree (Post Baccalaureate):

• The student must be admitted to the University by the Office of Undergraduate Admission.
• The student will enter under the academic curriculum of the current catalog and be subject to the current academic policies. This will require the student to take all courses that are new requirements for the school/college since his/her original degree.
• The minimum GPA requirement to receive the degree is a 2.00.
• Students must complete a minimum of thirty credits at Gonzaga University. Any course work considered transferable toward the second degree would require a student to adhere to the course substitution petition process.
• Courses used to complete another degree either through Gonzaga University or another institution cannot be used toward the second degree.

G. Activity Courses

No more than eight (8) activity credits can be counted toward a baccalaureate degree.

The following courses, which may be repeated, are designated as activity courses: Journalism (JOUR): 220 & 230; Music (MUSC): 131A-131Z, 133-134, 136-137, 143-154, 156, 331A-331Z, 358; Theatre Arts (THEA): 124-125, 226, 260-261, 320, 324; Physical Education (EDPE): 101-188

Exceptions to these limitations:

• Kinesiology & Physical Education Majors (B. Ed.) are, with the permission of the Chairperson of the Physical Education department, allowed a total of four (4) EDPE activity courses beyond the eight (8) credit limit for all activity courses. (twelve (12) credit maximum)
• Majors and minors in Music or Music Education may exceed the eight (8) credit limit.
• Majors in Theatre Arts are allowed a total of four (4) performance credits beyond the eight-credit limit (twelve (12) credit maximum).

H. Multiple Usage of Courses for Meeting Degree Requirements

1. A course may be used to fulfill any number of MAJOR, MINOR, AND CONCENTRATION requirements while also fulfilling a University Core requirement. Using a course to meet more than one core requirement is not allowed with the exception of the designation requirements (i.e., Writing Enriched (WE), Global Studies (GS), Social Justice (SJ)).
2. When multiple usage of a course occurs in meeting degree requirements, the course credit is counted only once. The grade is used in determining the major and minor grade point averages.

3. The 128 credits required as a minimum for degree completion (and the additional 30 credits required for a second degree) are not reduced by a multiple count toward meeting a major, minor, concentration or core requirement.

I. Pass/Fail Grade Course Limit

No more than five (5) Pass/Fail graded courses can count toward a baccalaureate degree, and no more than two (2) can be taken in any one department. This grading option only applies to courses taken as general elective credit.
A. Disclaimer for Academic Policy and Program Changes

The University reserves the right to make changes in courses, programs, faculty, calendar, tuition and fees, grading procedures, graduation requirements, admission criteria, and any other information contained in this catalog at any time without notification. Changes become effective when the University so determines, and applies to prospective students as well as students currently enrolled. The University will make an effort to notify students of changes through publications and notices.

B. Disclaimer for Course Availability

All reasonable care is taken to ensure that both course offerings and degree requirements contain no erroneous, deceptive, or misleading information by omission, actual statement, or implication. Every effort will be made by the University to offer at least the courses listed in this catalog during the period in which it is in effect; student enrollment and faculty availability, however, may affect the courses offered. Some courses listed in this catalog are offered only as needed. The decision to offer such courses rests with the Chairperson in consultation with the appropriate Dean. Final course information is published on ZAGWEB.

C. Course Numbering System

Lower Division Courses:

Below 100 - Remedial in nature; University credit is granted for no more than two courses numbered below 100 and they do not fulfill any core or major requirements.

100-199 - Primarily first and second year courses for which there are normally no prerequisites.
200-299 - Courses with usually one prerequisite; primarily for first and second year undergraduates.

Upper Division Courses:

300-399 - Courses usually with prerequisites; primarily for third and fourth year undergraduates.
400-499 - Courses with prerequisites; primarily fourth year undergraduates.
500-599 - Graduate courses which may be taken by third and fourth year undergraduates with Dean's permission (these courses do not count toward a baccalaureate degree).
600-699 - Graduate courses for graduate students only.
700-799 - Graduate courses for doctoral students only.

D. Classification of Students

An undergraduate student is classified as a First Year, Second Year, Third Year or Fourth Year based upon the cumulative number of semester credits he/she has earned.

<table>

A post baccalaureate student holds a bachelor’s degree from an accredited university and has not been admitted to a graduate program. They may be pursuing a second bachelor’s degree or attending for personal enrichment.
E. Transfer and Evaluation of Credits

Gonzaga aims to award all eligible transfer credit for coursework completed at regionally accredited institutions, while maintaining the high standards of a Gonzaga degree. To be eligible for transfer credit, an official college transcript must be delivered to the Office of Admission. Applicants with credit earned at other colleges and universities should note the following conditions regarding transfer credit:

- Transfer credit from a U.S. institution must have been completed at a regionally accredited college or university.
- College credit earned outside of the U.S. must be accompanied by a professional foreign credential evaluation, unless credit was earned through an approved study abroad program.
- Transfer credit may not be technical or vocational in nature.
- Transfer credit is evaluated on a course-by-course basis.
- Transfer credit must be completed with a minimum of 2.0 (or “C”) grade.
- Pass (P) grades, or the equivalent, will be accepted as elective credit only and will not fulfill any core, major, minor or concentration requirements.
- Transfer coursework may have a specific Gonzaga equivalency if the courses are similar in content and depth. In order to fulfill a specific core, major or minor requirement at Gonzaga, the transfer course syllabus must be presented to the department Chairperson and Dean of the College/School for review. Upon approval, the initial transfer credit equivalency may be updated to reflect the faculty’s decision.
- When transfer credit is posted as the equivalent of a Gonzaga course and the student elects to retake that course at Gonzaga, the transfer credit will be removed from the student’s academic record.
- Quarter credit hours can be converted to semester credit hours when multiplied by 0.66.
- Transfer credit from a two-year institution (community or junior college) is limited to a maximum of 64 semester credits (96 quarter credits) that can be applied to a baccalaureate degree at Gonzaga.
• Students transferring with a maximum of 64 semester credits from a community or junior college are not permitted to further enroll at a two-year institution for additional transfer credit.

• There is no limit to the amount of credit that may be transferred from another baccalaureate institution. However, all transfer and post-baccalaureate students must complete a minimum of 30 semester credits at Gonzaga immediately preceding graduation from the University.

• Students may not register in courses through any other institution while on a Leave of Absence status at Gonzaga (with the exception of non-sponsored study abroad programs.)

• Transfer students in the School of Business Administration must earn at least 50% of their business core and major coursework at Gonzaga University.

F. Transfer of Credits

Associate of Arts Degree (AA-DTA) and Associate of Science Degree (AS-T)

Students with an earned Associate of Arts (AA-DTA) or Associate of Science (AS-T) degree from a Washington State Community College or North Idaho College are generally given junior standing and will have fulfilled many of the requirements within the University Core curriculum. University Core requirements to be completed upon transfer include: First-Year Seminar, Christianity & Catholic Traditions, and the Core Integration Seminar. Students will also take a major-appropriate college Mathematics, Reasoning, Human Nature, and Ethics, unless they have already fulfilled these requirements with approved transfer credit. Communication & Speech is recommended, but not required, for students who have not completed a course in speaking skills.

NOTE: Gonzaga does not currently participate in Reverse Transfer partnerships and will not recognize an approved AA-DTA or AS-T degree that is obtained using Gonzaga coursework. Therefore, former Gonzaga students who re-enter the University from a two-year college to complete their undergraduate degree will not benefit from the core waiver privileges offered to an approved Associate degree holder from a Washington State community college or North Idaho College. All readmitted students must fulfill the University's core requirements in its entirety. Eligible transfer credit completed by a reapplying student, however, will be evaluated and accepted on a course-by-course basis.

Post Baccalaureate Students:

Post-baccalaureate students may benefit from the same policy that Gonzaga affords a transfer student with an approved AA-DTA or AS-T from a Washington State community college.

Post-baccalaureate students who had earned their first undergraduate degree from Gonzaga will be considered as having completed the core in its entirety, including the designations, regardless of when the student completed their first degree.

All other requirements within a student's post-baccalaureate degree would be waived (such as a lower division major, minor, concentration requirement) if completed as a requirement of the first degree earned, or if completed at Gonzaga.

Any waiver of upper division major requirements would be at the discretion of the department chair for which the student is completing the post-baccalaureate major.

Post-baccalaureate students will be required to complete a minimum of thirty semester credits in residence to earn a second bachelor degree from Gonzaga along with completion of any outstanding major, minor, or concentration courses required for the degree.

University Core Waivers

- Students transferring to Gonzaga with 30 or more earned semester credits are permitted to waive the College of Arts and Sciences language requirement.
- Students transferring to Gonzaga with 45 to 59 earned semester credits are permitted to waive the following University Core requirements: World or Comparative Religion and its corresponding Global Studies designation, one Writing-Enriched designation, and one of the additional three designation requirements (either Writing Enriched, Global Studies or Social Justice).
• Students transferring to Gonzaga with 60 or more earned semester credits are permitted to waive World or Comparative Religion and all designation requirements.

Transfer of Credit from the Military

Gonzaga University may offer up to twenty-five elective credits for successfully completed educational experience in the Armed Forces. Credit must be supported by an official military transcript, such as the Joint-Services Transcript or the Army/American Council on Education Registry transcript. Gonzaga uses credit recommendations from the American Council on Education’s (ACE) guidelines for baccalaureate institutions. Up to eight (8) elective credits may be granted for physical fitness courses and training. Graded coursework from accredited institutions such as the Community College of the Air Force or the Defense Language Institute, is evaluated in the same manner as credit from regionally accredited institutions. Vocational level coursework is not transferrable.

Permission for Transfer of Credits by Current Students

Consistent with University policy and existing articulation agreements, courses accepted in transfer must be similar in content and depth to courses taught at Gonzaga. Courses should generally align with the course/designation descriptions and learning outcomes.

For students entering the University prior to Fall of 2016, in order to fulfill a core, a major-specific requirement, or elective credit at Gonzaga, the transferred course must receive the approval of the department chairperson and dean of the college/school by way of the Permission to Transfer Credits/Senior Residency Waiver form.

For students entering the University in Fall of 2016 and forward, course syllabi detailing course requirements must be provided; course titles and descriptions are not sufficient. AP courses will not be accepted in fulfillment of designation requirements (eg., GS, SJ, WE).

For current students irrespective of the semester of entry, the following applies:
• Students must obtain permission to transfer credits prior to taking these credits from department chairpersons and the deans or the core curriculum director.

• Pass (P) grades, or the equivalent, will be accepted as elective credit only and will not fulfill any core, major, minor, or concentration requirements.

• Transfer course grades are not calculated into the Gonzaga University cumulative GPA.

• When transfer credit has been posted to a student record that has equivalency to a Gonzaga course and a student elects to complete the same course at Gonzaga, the transfer credit entry will be removed from the student's academic record. If a student elects to complete a transfer course deemed equivalent to a course previously taken at Gonzaga after the Gonzaga course has been completed with a D grade and credit earned, the transfer course will not be accepted in transfer at Gonzaga.

• Taking a course in transfer in order to replace a grade earned at Gonzaga (excluding W, V or F grade) does not qualify under Gonzaga's Repeat of Credit Policy.

• Quarter credit hours are convertible to semester credit hours when multiplied by 0.66.

• Transfer credit from a two-year institution (community or junior college) is limited to a maximum of 64 semester credits (96 quarter hours) that can be applied toward a baccalaureate degree at Gonzaga.

• It is not permissible for students who transfer to Gonzaga with a maximum of 64 semester credits from a community or junior college to further enroll at a two-year institution to complete additional transfer credit.

• There is no limitation to the number of credits that may be transferred from a baccalaureate institution. However, all transfer and post-baccalaureate students must complete a minimum of 30 semester credits at Gonzaga immediately preceding graduation from the University.

• Students may not register into courses through any other institution while on a Leave of Absence status through Gonzaga (with the exception of non-sponsored study abroad programs.) Doing so will invalidate the Leave of Absence request and students will be required to reapply for admission.
• Credit earned from transfer courses is not rounded up. Current students may view the Transfer Guide on the Admissions website as a guideline for courses previously approved in transfer from other universities; individual approval is still required by way of the Permission to Transfer Credits/Waiver of Senior Year in Residency form.

• As soon as credit is completed from another institution, students must request official transcripts be forwarded to the Registrar's Office AD Box 83, Gonzaga University, 502 E Boone Ave, Spokane, WA, 99258-0083. Official electronic transcripts will be accepted, but only when sent directly from the transfer credit institution to Gonzaga. Electronic transcripts forwarded from students will be considered unofficial.

• A student wishing to register simultaneously at Gonzaga and another college or university must obtain prior written permission from the appropriate academic dean.

• Transfer students in the School of Business Administration must earn at least 50% of their business core and major coursework at Gonzaga University.

G. Transfer Transcripts

Based on standard institutional practice, copies of transcripts from other educational institutions attended by Gonzaga students are housed in student files and will not be provided back to the student upon their request. Students are asked to contact the issuing transfer institutions directly to obtain further copies of their transfer transcript records.

H. Registration Procedures

Every semester, a Student/Advisor Action Guide, providing a detailed registration timeline can be found on the Registrar Office web pages. If a student attends a course section in which he or she is not registered or financially confirmed, no credit or grade will be recorded. Attendance in a course without registration is not permissible.

I. Change in Course Registration

Courses may be changed only during the period listed under Important Dates and Deadlines on the web pages of the Registrar's Office.
Courses dropped during the official change of registration period do not appear on the student’s record; courses officially withdrawn after that period will appear on the transcript with a designation of “W” (Official Withdrawal).

J. Course Overload

Students in good academic standing may petition their School’s Dean to take more than the maximum of eighteen credits. Additional tuition charges apply for the extra credits. Students in the Honors Program, the Comprehensive Leadership Program, the ROTC Program, or the Hogan Entrepreneurial Leadership Program, however, with the approval of the respective Program Director, may take extra credits without charge.

K. Audit a Course

Audit grading option (AU grade assigned):

Auditors are students who register for a course under the 'Audit' grading option by signing the audit form in the Registrar’s Office. Regular tuition is charged. Activity courses (e.g., physical education, music, art, etc.) are not permitted to be taken under the Audit grading option. Auditors will not be allowed access to individual instruction, to equipment, or to supplies in conjunction with the course. Once a course is registered for under the 'Audit' grading option, students who fail to attend the class according to the regular attendance requirements of the class are liable to receive a “V” grade at the discretion of the professor.

- Registration is available through the add/drop period. The auditor registers for a lecture method course under the Audit grading option and pays tuition based on this option and course credits. A designation of “AU” is recorded on the auditor’s academic transcript if the auditor satisfactorily attended the course. An “AU” on a student’s transcript reflects no academic credits earned and indicates that the person has received exposure to the course content for an academic semester/term. The “AU” designation does not apply toward meeting degree requirements.
- A professor may assign a “V” grade for unofficial withdrawal when attendance is unsatisfactory.
Under this option, audited course credits are not counted toward meeting full-time credit requirements for financial aid eligibility, student loans, VA benefits, etc., although standard tuition is paid for the credits. Auditors should be very cautious about registering using the 'Audit' grading option.

L. Course Challenge Program

Students who have completed at least twelve credits at Gonzaga who are matriculated students may be able to take advantage of the Course Challenge option. Detailed information and regulations regarding this program can be obtained from the Registrar’s Office. There is a fee charged per credit challenged and credit taken under the program may not exceed the maximum credit allowed of 18 credits in a semester.

M. Complete Withdrawal from the University

Undergraduate students who register but decide not to attend the University should contact the Registrar’s Office. The complete withdrawal process requires approvals and an interview with a professional in the Registrar's Office. Tuition adjustments are based on the date a University official is notified by the student that he/she wishes to withdraw. The tuition adjustment schedule for a complete withdrawal is posted on the Student Accounts webpage at https://www.gonzaga.edu/admission/tuition-scholarships-aid/student-accounts/refunds. Refunds for room and board will be prorated throughout the semester. Financial aid funds will be refunded in accordance with University and governmental regulations.

N. Leave of Absence

Students who are pursuing a bachelor’s degree at Gonzaga and must interrupt their education for a period of not more than two semesters (summer not included) may be eligible for a Leave of Absence (LOA) from the University. To be eligible for a LOA, a student must have a minimum G.P.A. of 2.00 in the preceding fall or spring semester and a cumulative grade point average of 2.00 or higher, as well as obtain approval from the Office of the Registrar and the Office of Community Standards.
Students are not eligible to reside on campus, attend classes, or participate in regular campus activities during their absence. Students who attend another school during their LOA will have that status voided and they must apply for re-admission to the University. The LOA will not extend beyond two semesters. Students who wish to return to the University after the termination date of their LOA must apply for re-admission to the University.

Any LOA request completed by a student while allegations of misconduct are pending will have their LOA status revoked.

Students who have been suspended through the Office of Community Standards do not qualify for a LOA and must apply for re-admission to the University.

Grading Policies

A. Grading Procedures

A student's scholastic standing is based on the GPA earned each semester. This is determined by the combined results of examinations, assignments, class attendance, and general evidence of regular and consistent participation. Due weight will be given to mastery of the subject and the ability to communicate clearly, effectively, and accurately in both oral and written form. There are several GPA's including the semester GPA, the cumulative GPA, and the upper division major GPA.

Specific information on the grading policy of any course is typically provided via the course syllabus. To indicate a student's quality of achievement in a given subject, final grades in the form of letters and plus/minus indicators are used by all instructors in the University's undergraduate programs. The letter grades A, A-, B+, B, B-, C+, C, C-, D+, D, F, V, and NS are assigned a “quality point value” for purposes of cumulative grade point average calculations, certification, and convenience in reporting.

The GPA is calculated by dividing the total quality points earned by the total credits graded.

The letter grades AU, I, IP, P, RD, S, and W do not count as credits graded and quality points are not awarded. Grades of “S” and “P” do not calculate into the GPA but count as credits earned.

A minimum cumulative and upper division major grade point average of 2.00 is required for completion of an undergraduate degree. Transfer credits accepted by Gonzaga may count toward degree completion; however, grades associated with transfer credits are not used in the calculation of the cumulative GPA at Gonzaga.

Grade awarded to students who have not officially dropped or withdrawn from a course and consequently have not met class attendance requirements or participation in the course through the end of a semester. The grade is given at the discretion of the professor. Students should not assume that professors will automatically initiate course drops/withdrawals for non-attendance.

AU - Audit grading option: The “AU” grade is assigned by the Registrar’s Office and is not an option of the instructor. Students must register for this grade mode no later than the close of the add/drop period. A complete description of this option is given earlier in the Academic Policies section.

I - Incomplete: Given when a student with a legitimate reason as determined by the instructor, does not complete all the work for the course within the semester that he/she is registered for the course. A provisional grade should be what the student would earn if no additional work is submitted. The faculty member may assign a provisional grade through ZAGWEB’s Faculty Services tab and the “Email Provisional Grades” block which will initiate an automated email to the Registrar’s Office. The provisional grade received will be applied to a student’s academic record thirty (30) calendar days into the following semester (summer sessions are not included) as outlined every semester on the Academic Calendar. Date extensions beyond this date may be requested and must be approved through the appropriate Deans’ Office and the Office of the Provost. Forms for this action can be obtained from the Registrar’s Office.

If the instructor does not submit a Change of Grade form before the Academic Calendar’s grade conversion date occurs or an approved date extension lapses, a provisional grade received will be recorded on the student’s transcript. If no provisional grade has been provided, the "I" grade automatically becomes an "F" grade and is recorded on the transcript as an "I/F". Whenever an "I" grade has been assigned, the "I" grade becomes part of the permanent record. i.e. "I/B", etc.

IP- In Progress: Assigned only for courses in Internships, Research, and Comprehensive Exams as well as courses that Deans recognize as eligible due to the nature of the course and the need for more than a semester to complete the work. An “IP” may remain for one calendar year. If a grade is not submitted within one year, an “IP” automatically becomes a “W” (official withdrawal). Requests for an extension beyond the deadline must be submitted by the instructor to the Registrar’s Office by completing the Extension form and obtaining signatures from the Dean of the School the course falls under as well as the Provost & Senior Vice President. Once the course has been completed and graded, the Change of Grade form needs to be processed and the grade will be entered on the student's academic record by the Registrar's Office.

P- Pass: Designated elective courses may be taken on the Pass/Fail grading option by student request, not that of the instructor. Students select this option before the add/drop registration period closes by completing the appropriate paperwork in the Registrar's Office. Letter grades assigned by instructors that are "C" or higher are converted to “P” grades at the end of the semester and grades below “C” are converted to “F” grades. The “P” grade does not calculate into the grade point average and the credits earned count toward the minimum number of credits required to graduate. The “F” (fail) grade affects the cumulative GPA as a standard “F” grade. Courses taken under the Pass/Fail grading option do not satisfy any university core, major, minor, or concentration requirement and can only be used as elective credit toward the overall credit total required for graduation. A complete description of this option is given later in this section of the catalog under the heading of “Pass/Fail Option.”

RD - Report of Grade Delayed: If an instructor fails to assign a grade for a course and the grade entry is left blank, the Registrar's Office will assign an “RD” and the “RD” will remain a part of the student record until the earned grade has been received by the Registrar's Office. To submit the grade, a Change of Grade form is required along with the Dean's signature.

S/NS - Satisfactory/Non-Satisfactory: Some courses are designated by academic departments for Satisfactory (S)/Non-Satisfactory (NS) grading only. This is not a grading option that students can choose. This grading option can only be determined by a department/school. The NS grade has the same effect as an “F” (Fail) on the grade point average. An “S” grade does not affect the GPA, and the credits earned are counted toward total credits needed to graduate. Courses graded using this grade mode will not be converted to a standard letter grade.

V - Unofficial Withdrawal: This grade has the same effect as “F” (Fail) on the grade point average (GPA) and is awarded by the instructor for excessive absences or failure to withdraw officially from a course.

W - Official Withdrawal: No penalties incurred. Not included in the attempted or earned GPA.
B. Grade Reports

Students receive their mid-semester grade reports electronically via their personal ZAGWEB accounts. Final grades are obtained by the student over ZAGWEB or through the Registrar’s Office.

C. Grade Point Averages

The GPA is calculated by dividing the total quality points earned by the total graded credits. The letter grades AU, I, IP, P, RD, S, and W do not count as credits graded and quality points are not awarded. There are several GPA’s including the semester GPA, cumulative GPA, major GPA, and graduation GPA. A minimum cumulative and major grade point average of 2.00 is required for an undergraduate degree. Transfer credits are not used in calculating the grade point average at Gonzaga University.

D. Removal of Incompletes

When an incomplete grade (I) has been officially awarded and a provisional grade has been recorded by the instructor, the provisional grade will become final after thirty days have elapsed in the subsequent semester, unless the student fulfills the missing requirements and the instructor informs the Registrar on an official Change of Grade form that the course requirements have been fulfilled. Students must observe this thirty-day grace period. If no provisional grade was submitted, the “I” grade becomes an “F” grade and is recorded on the transcript at this time. The “I” (Incomplete) grade remains on the transcript along with the earned grade.

E. Extension of Incomplete Grades

Students who are unable to meet the deadline for the removal of an incomplete grade for a serious and legitimate reason may petition the Dean of their School for an extension of the deadline. If the Dean approves the petition, he or she will forward it to the Provost & Senior Vice President for approval.
F. Change of Grade

A change of grade requires a Change of Grade form signed by both the instructor and the Dean of the school in which the course was offered. Grades are normally changed only because of calculation error or failure to take into account a significant amount of student work.

G. Repeating Courses for Improved Grade

In an effort to improve the GPA, an undergraduate student can repeat any course with another course of the same designation. The original course and grade will remain recorded on the student’s transcript but will not be counted into the student’s GPA. The cumulative credits and GPA will be adjusted to reflect the last credits and grade earned. Courses for which a student received a grade carrying no quality point value, such as W, (X prior to Fall 1996), and AU, may be re-taken in subsequent semesters; these grades are not included in the repeat course policy jurisdiction. Courses retaken as an independent study or directed reading do not qualify under this policy. Only courses re-taken at Gonzaga University qualify to improve the GPA under the University’s Repeat Policy.

Academic departments are permitted to have more restrictive policies regarding repeating and/or withdrawing from courses. Students are advised to work carefully with their academic advisors and departments regarding these departmental policies.

H. Pass/Fail Grading Option (selected by undergraduate students)

Designated elective courses may be taken on a pass or fail basis at the option of the student, not of the instructor. The Pass/Fail option by a student should not be confused with the Satisfactory/Non Satisfactory option offered and graded for courses predetermined by academic departments. Refer to “Grading Procedures” section under “Grading Policies” earlier in this section.

1. A course with a “P” grade earned at the option of the student does not fulfill any course requirement for a core, major, minor, or concentration requirement.
2. The credits earned for a "P" grade count toward the 128 minimum credits necessary for a degree but do not count in a GPA.
3. A “P” grade (pass) will not affect the grade-point average; a fail will have the same effect as any “F” grade.
4. A student’s level of performance for a “P” grade must correspond to the letter grade of "C" or better.
5. Undergraduate students wishing to exercise the Pass/Fail option must fill out the Pass/Fail Grade Option form in the Registrar’s Office prior to the last published date for “adding or dropping courses” and may not revoke their decision after this date.
6. No more than five Pass/Fail courses may count toward a degree, and no more than two may be taken in any one department.
7. Students are allowed to take two courses on Pass/Fail during the four semesters as first year and second year undergraduates, provided that no more than one such course is taken in any given semester. A total of three Pass/Fail courses may be taken during the undergraduate third year and fourth year with no more than one in any given semester.
8. Any course failed “F” grade may not be repeated on a Pass/ Fail basis.
9. Last day to change to or from the Pass/Fail grading option is the last day of the add/drop period.
Academic Citizenship

Academic Freedom of Students

Freedom of Expression: Students are free to take reasoned exception to the views offered in particular courses of study. They may, however, be required to know thoroughly the particulars set out by the instructor, but are free to reserve personal judgment as to the truth or falsity of what is presented. Knowledge and academic performance should be the norms by which students are graded.

Academic Integrity

Gonzaga University is committed to supporting and protecting academic integrity in all aspects of what we do. Our Academic Integrity Policy was developed with that commitment in mind. We encourage all students, faculty and staff to familiarize themselves with the policy.

Integrity Formation

The institution's mission statement expresses Gonzaga University's self-understanding through its Catholic, Jesuit and humanistic heritage and identity. These spiritual and intellectual traditions are expressed in the ideals of reflective and critical thought, ethical discernment, innovation, and commitment to social justice. The ideals imply a deeply held, rigorously maintained, and clearly articulated standard of academic integrity. We believe that a commitment to academic integrity contributes, not only to a campus climate of trust and community, but also to individual integrity, honesty and well-being. Conversely, violations of academic integrity are detrimental to both the community and to the individual. This belief entails just sanctions for violations of these ideals, the details of which are contained herein. Just sanctions require that all students and faculty be aware both of the sanctions and of the policies that they enforce.

Resources for faculty and students can be found at www.gonzaga.edu/academicintegrity.
Grade Appeal

Students must maintain standards of academic performance set forth by the University if they are to receive the certificate of competence implied by course credits and degrees. The instructor is the usual and competent judge of these matters. But students must be protected against the rare case of unjust grading and evaluation. Allegations of unfair or prejudiced grading may be brought to the attention of and reviewed by the department Chair, by the Dean of the appropriate school and, if necessary, by the Provost & Senior Vice President, whose decision is final.

Minimum/Maximum Course Loads

Full-Time Status: The normal course load of a regular full-time undergraduate student is sixteen (16) semester credits. For academic purposes, the minimum full-time course load is twelve (12) credits. The maximum load for students in good standing is eighteen (18) semester credits in one semester; for students on probation, the maximum is fifteen (15) credits or five courses.

Part-Time Status: Undergraduate students are considered to be enrolled at three-quarters time if enrolled in nine (9) to eleven (11) credits, half-time if enrolled in six (6) to eight (8) credits, and less than half time if enrolled in five (5) credits or less per semester.

Good Academic Standing, Unsatisfactory Academic Progress, Probation, and Academic Dismissal

Students are on Academic Probation whenever the term and/or cumulative GPA earned falls below a 2.00. To be in Good Academic Standing with the University, students must maintain a cumulative GPA of 2.00 as determined at the end of every semester, beginning with the completion of the student’s second regular (non-summer) semester at Gonzaga University. Good Academic Standing is required for all graduating students, and it may affect a student’s ability to receive financial aid, scholarships, or to represent Gonzaga in extracurricular activities.
Any student on academic probation will have his/her student status reviewed by the Committee on Academic Standing. The conditions of academic probation are specified in a letter sent through Zagmail to the student from the Committee. Students are expected to comply with all stipulations made in the letter and any additional requirements placed upon them as a result of academic probation.

Students on academic probation, regardless of their academic standing, may be subject to academic dismissal from the University. A notation of “Academic Dismissal” will appear on transcripts. Dismissed students have an opportunity for appeal. Directions for this process are indicated in the dismissal letter sent to the student.

Those receiving financial aid also may be subject to Financial Aid Satisfactory Academic Progress Probation and/or Suspension, which may result in additional financial consequences. Further information can be found in the Financial Aid section of this catalog.

Class Attendance Policy

Gonzaga University presumes that students have sufficient maturity to recognize their responsibility for regular class attendance. Gonzaga University has this policy on absences because illness or other good reasons may prevent attendance, and because the intensive nature of some courses dictates that attendance may be a factor in the student evaluation process. Individual instructors are not required to enforce the University Class Attendance Policy but may do so at their own discretion. Therefore, students should check with the syllabus for each course to confirm the instructor’s specific attendance policy, which should be clearly delineated within each syllabus. No instructor may enforce an attendance policy that is more restrictive than the standard university policy:

Gonzaga’s standard policy on absences stipulates that the maximum allowable absence is two class hours (100 minutes) for each class credit. For three-credit classes, the maximum absence is, therefore, six class hours (300 minutes). Classes scheduled to meet for more than 50 minutes have more than one class hour for each meeting; for example, a class which meets for 75 minutes has one and one-half class hours for each scheduled meeting. Instructors may report absences to the Registrar’s Office, which will in turn notify the students. The grade given for excessive absences is a “V,” which has the same effect as “F” (Fail) and is counted in the GPA. Faculty are encouraged to work with individual students to ensure academic success.

When students are required to be absent from class for activities sanctioned by the University, the University should help students resolve these conflicting commitments. Students who will be absent due to University-sanctioned activities are responsible for providing to faculty written documentation of the travel dates from the University staff directing or advising the activity. This documentation should be provided as far in advance as reasonably possible (ideally at the beginning of the semester). On receipt of proper documentation, instructors should make efforts to both satisfy the course objectives and meet the students’ needs due to absences related to University-sanctioned activities.

The University Class Attendance Policy may be modified for qualified students with documented short- or long-term disabilities and/or for religious accommodations. For more information or case consultation, contact the Disability Access Office or, for matters related to religious accommodations, the Office of Diversity Equity & Inclusion. Additionally, students who feel that they have experienced a misuse of the University Class Attendance Policy, or who feel they have unfairly received a “V” grade, may appeal to the Dean of the College/School in which the course is offered.

Faculty Initiated Drop Policy

Students should contact professors or academic departments prior to the first class session if they plan to be absent. If a student misses the first class meeting without notifying the instructor or academic department, the student may be dropped from the course at the discretion of the instructor and provided that the course is closed. Professors will report absences to the Dean, who, upon approval, will notify the Registrar’s Office to drop students from course sections. For further information about unexcused absences, please refer to Gonzaga’s “Class Attendance Policy.”
Final Examinations

Final examinations are held at the end of each semester, and, at the option of the instructor, examinations are held at mid-semester. Final examination times are listed for each semester on the Registrar's Office web pages. Students making their travel arrangements for the end of each semester must take into account these final examination times.

Final examinations or their equivalent can be administered by instructors only on the day and at the time indicated in the Final Exam Schedule; any exceptions to this procedure must have the explicit approval of the appropriate Dean.

Enrollment Verifications

Once a month the Registrar's Office transmits enrollment data to the National Student Clearinghouse. This data is used to provide enrollment verification of students that can be accessed by a third party including lenders of federal and state loans. The Registrar's Office, upon timely notice, will also provide to any student a letter verifying his/her enrollment status to any agency. Students may print out their verification for insurance providers by accessing the National Student Loan Clearinghouse link through ZagWeb.

University Honors

Academic Recognition

An undergraduate student whose grade-point average for a semester is 3.50 through 3.84 will be placed on the Dean's List. An undergraduate student whose grade point average for a semester is 3.85 through 4.00 will be placed on the President's List. Students must be enrolled in 12 or more academic credits to be eligible for the above lists and courses in which the department has predetermined with the Satisfactory/Non Satisfactory (S/NS) grading option will count in the 12 credits.
Graduation Honors

The academic achievements of graduating students at the baccalaureate level are formally recognized at the public Commencement exercises, appear in published lists of graduates, and are recorded on transcripts. Only Gonzaga University credits are used in computing graduation honors. To calculate a student's achieved honors designation, grade point averages are truncated two decimal spaces and are not rounded up.

Students who have earned 64 Gonzaga University credits are graduated Cum Laude with a cumulative grade-point average between 3.50 and 3.69, Magna Cum Laude between 3.70 and 3.89, Summa Cum Laude of 3.90 or higher. For recognition purposes at Commencement, eligibility for these honors is determined based on the cumulative GPA as of the end of the fall semester.

Students who have earned at least 48, but less than 64, Gonzaga University credits are graduated 'With Distinction' if the cumulative grade-point average is 3.50 or higher.

University Leadership Programs

Hogan Entrepreneurial Leadership Program: The Hogan Entrepreneurial Leadership Program is a three-year undergraduate minor founded on the Jesuit educational philosophy of educating the whole person. Its purpose is to prepare students to create new ventures that make a positive difference in society. This student-centered program is designed for promising individuals from any major who demonstrate academic excellence, leadership, creativity, and a commitment to serve others.

Comprehensive Leadership Program: The Comprehensive Leadership Program at Gonzaga University is a formal, for-credit academic leadership program intended to complement students' academic goals through theoretical study and experiential learning culminating in the Minor in Leadership Studies. The program was inaugurated in 2002 in an effort to support the University mission of creating leaders, in a variety of fields, dedicated to the common good. The CLP offers a unique scholarly environment for students from every major, and provides transformational and reflective experiences focused on three dimensions: self-awareness, relationship with others, and community action for the common good. Undergraduates take the Minor in Leadership Studies in conjunction with their chosen major in any academic field, including business, engineering, nursing, computer science, biology, chemistry, education and the liberal arts. Admission to the Comprehensive Leadership Program is competitive and the application takes place during the fall of a student’s first year, and is based on demonstrated leadership and desire to study leadership through written essays, individual interviews, group interviews, and student’s grade point average. The CLP prepares students for real-life leadership as it strives to produce graduates with a deep and holistic understanding of leadership, the meaning of moral character, and an ethic of care and service.

University Honor Societies

Alpha Sigma Lambda: Devoted to advancement of scholarship and to the recognition of non-traditional students continuing their higher education. For the non-traditional student, the society stands as an inspiration for continued scholastic growth, a builder of pride through recognition, and an incentive to associate similarly motivated students. Qualifying candidates for Alpha Sigma Lambda are academically in the top ten percent of the non-traditional student population (undergraduate 24 plus years of age), attending Gonzaga University, and who have completed a minimum of 24 credits at Gonzaga University, with a G.P.A of 3.40 or higher.

Alpha Sigma Nu: The national Jesuit honor society for third year and fourth year men and women students of outstanding academic achievement, service, and loyalty to the ideals of Jesuit education.

Beta Alpha Psi: An honorary organization for financial information students and professionals. The primary objective of Beta Alpha Psi is to encourage and give recognition to scholastic and professional excellence in the business information field. Members of Beta Alpha Psi have significant opportunities for service, networking, and personal/professional development. Membership is open to students in accounting, finance and information systems who meet the academic and service requirements. For more information, see https://www.gonzaga.edu/school-of-business-administration/undergraduate-programs/undergraduate/accounting/beta-alpha-psi

Beta Gamma Sigma: The national business honor society. Membership is for the top 10% of the junior and senior-year business majors, respectively, and the top 20% of the Master of Business Administration class.
Chi Alpha Sigma: A nonprofit organization established to recognize college student-athletes who excel both on and off the field of competition.

Chi Sigma Iota: CSI is an international honor society that values academic and professional excellence in counseling. We promote a strong professional identify through members (professional counselors, counselor educators, and students) who contribute to the realization of a healthy society by fostering wellness and human dignity.

Kappa Delta Pi: The national education honor society where membership is limited to third year and fourth year students enrolled in one of the phases of the education program of the School of Education, and is based on academic and professional abilities.

Lambda Pi Eta: The national communication honor society for outstanding students in any of the communication arts. Membership in Iota Rho, our local chapter, is limited to third and fourth year students who have achieved high academic achievement, leadership, and service, with a demonstrated commitment to the discipline of communication.

The National Honor Society for Dance Arts honors students of outstanding artistic merit, leadership, and academic accomplishments for those minoring in the art of dance. Membership is limited to senior dance minors who have maintained a 3.5 GPA or higher in academic dance studies and who demonstrate a commitment to the discipline of dance.

The National Honor Society for Collegiate Scholars: The National Society of Collegiate Scholars (NSCS) is an honors organization that recognizes and elevates high achievers. NSCS provides career and graduate school connections, leadership and service opportunities and gives out a million dollars in scholarships annually. NSCS members are deeply committed to scholarship, leadership, and service and as a result, are impacting their campus and local communities every day.

Omicron Delta Epsilon: This organization is the international honor society in economics. Eligibility requirements for Gonzaga’s Epsilon chapter are the completion of 12 credits of economics courses with a minimum 3.2 average in those courses and a minimum 3.0 gpa in all college courses.
Phi Alpha Theta: Founded in 1921, Phi Alpha Theta is the national honor society in history, whose mission is to promote the study of history through the encouragement of research, good teaching, publication and the exchange of learning and ideas among historians. Since the foundation of the Xi-Gamma Chapter of Phi Alpha Theta at Gonzaga University, hundreds of Gonzaga’s top students in history have joined the 350,000 members in 900 chapters across the U.S.

Phi Sigma Iota: Phi Sigma Iota recognizes outstanding accomplishment in the study or teaching of any of the academic fields related to foreign language, literature, or culture. These fields include not only modern foreign languages, but also other fields with a significant foreign language component.

Phi Sigma Tau: The national honor society in philosophy founded in 1930 which recognizes philosophy students for their academic achievement. Now an international honor society, it is open to all Gonzaga students who have completed a minimum of twelve philosophy credits and have met particular grade requirements.

Pi Mu Epsilon: Incorporated at Syracuse University in 1914, Pi Mu Epsilon is a national mathematics honor society dedicated to the promotion and recognition of scholarly activity in the mathematical sciences. WA Epsilon, the local chapter at Gonzaga University is one of over 380 chapters throughout the country. Established in 1968, WA Epsilon has been an active chapter since 2014. Events are held throughout the academic year, often in conjunction with other activities in the mathematics department. Students are invited to join WA Epsilon each spring if they satisfy the eligibility requirements. An induction ceremony is held in April of each year.

Pi Sigma Alpha: The national honor society for students majoring in political science at the undergraduate and graduate levels. Gonzaga’s Chapter, Alpha Beta Xi is open to students in the junior and senior year. Membership is attained through academic achievement at the highest level in both the discipline and in overall academic work.

Psi Chi: The national honor society in psychology, founded in 1929 for the purposes of encouraging and maintaining excellence in scholarship, and advancing the science of psychology.
Sigma Tau Delta: The international English honor society. A member of the Association of College Honor Societies, it was founded in 1924 at Dakota Wesleyan University. With over 750 active chapters located in Europe, the Caribbean, and the United States, there are more than 1,000 faculty sponsors, and approximately 8,500 members inducted annually. Sigma Tau Delta’s central purpose is to confer distinction upon students of the English language and literature in undergraduate, graduate, and professional studies.

Sigma Theta Tau International (STTI): This organization is one of the largest and most prestigious nursing organizations in the world. The name of the organization was chosen from the Greek words meaning love, courage, and honor. STTI's mission is to "support the learning, knowledge and professional development of nurses committed to making a difference in health worldwide." As the international honor society of nursing, it recognizes superior achievement, fosters high professional standards and the development of leadership, encourages creative work, and seeks to strengthen commitment to the ideals and purposes of the profession.

Tau Beta Pi: The national honor society for undergraduate engineering (all disciplines) majors of outstanding academic achievement, leadership, and community service.

Theta Alpha Kappa: Established in 1976 in New York for the purpose of recognizing the academic achievements of religion and theology students, Theta Alpha Kappa has grown to more than two hundred chapters nationally in four-year educational institutions ranging from small religiously affiliated colleges to large public research institutions. It is the only national honor society dedicated to recognizing academic excellence in baccalaureate and post-baccalaureate students and in scholars in the fields of religious studies and theology. It publishes the Journal of Theta Alpha Kappa featuring student scholarship, in which former Gonzaga students have been published.

Upsilon Pi Epsilon: Upsilon Pi Epsilon is the International Honor Society for the computing and information sciences. The mission of Upsilon Pi Epsilon is to recognize academic excellence in computer science and engineering at both the undergraduate and graduate levels, and is endorsed by the Association for Computing Machinery and the IEEE Computer Society.
University Academic Awards

Each spring the faculties of the University meet in convocation to recognize the academic achievements of individual members of the University community. Among others, these awards include:

The Alumni Association Award: The gift of the Gonzaga Alumni Association to a member of the graduating class who has shown excellence in his or her field of study and involvement in University and student affairs, and who has created an impact on the community of Spokane.

The William A. Garrigan, S.J., Award: The gift of the University in memory of Father Garrigan to the member of the graduating class who has achieved the highest cumulative grade point average for four years of undergraduate work at Gonzaga.

Fourth Year, Third Year, Second Year, and First Year Awards: Each one of the first year, second year, third year, and fourth year awards will be granted to the undergraduate student who had the highest GPA calculated for the fall and spring semesters, and who was enrolled for 30 more academic credits in the academic year. If there is a tie, the award will be granted to the student who earned the highest (total) cumulative GPA. Only Gonzaga grades are considered in the GPA. Courses predetermined or mandated by academic departments as Satisfactory/Non-Satisfactory (S/NS) grading only will be counted in the 30 credits.
University Confidentiality of Records Policy

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA), also known as the Buckley Amendment, is a federal law regarding the privacy of student education records and the obligations of the institution, primarily in the areas of release of records and access provided to these records.

The intent of the legislation is to protect the rights of students, and to ensure the privacy and accuracy of education records. The Act applies to all institutions that are recipients of federal aid administered by the Secretary of Education.

Education Records

Any record maintained by Gonzaga that contains information that is personally identifiable to a student (in whatever format or medium) is considered to be an education record with some narrowly defined exceptions to include the following:

- Sole possession records or private notes held by a school official that are not accessible or released to other personnel.
- Law enforcement or campus security records created and maintained by a law enforcement agency for a law enforcement purpose.
- Employment records of an individual who is employed by the institution unless the employment is contingent on student status.
- Medical/psychological treatment records.
- Alumni records created after the student has graduated or left the institution.
Student Rights

At Gonzaga, FERPA rights belong to the student who is in attendance beginning with his/her first day of class regardless of age. The definition of a student applies to all students including continuing education students, students auditing a class, distance education students, and former students.

FERPA affords students the following basic rights in respect to their education record:

- Right to inspect and review their education record maintained by the school.
- Right to request an amendment to the record that the student believes are inaccurate or misleading.
- Right to consent to disclosure of personally identifiable information.
- Right to file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Education concerning alleged failures to comply with the requirements of FERPA.

Challenging the Content of Education Records

A student who wishes to challenge information in their records must submit, in writing, a request for a hearing to the appropriate office maintaining the record, listing the specific information in question and the reasons for the challenge.

Hearings will be conducted by a university official who has no direct interest in the outcome of the hearing.

Students shall be afforded a full and fair opportunity to present evidence relevant to the reasons for the challenge.

The hearing officer will render a decision, in writing, noting the reason and summarizing all evidence presented within a reasonable time frame after the challenge is filed.

Should the hearing be in favor of the student, the record shall be amended accordingly. Should the request be denied, an appeal may be made in writing, and submitted to the University Registrar within 10 days of the student’s notification of the decision of the hearing officer. The appeal shall be heard by an appeals board of three senior University officials and a decision rendered, in writing, within a reasonable period of time.
Parent Rights

Once a student reaches the age of 18 or begins their attendance at a postsecondary institution regardless of age, FERPA rights transfer from the parent to the student. Parents can obtain information from their child’s education record if the student has submitted a signed consent form to the Registrar’s Office or if proof of dependency status has been provided through the receipt of a copy of the most recent income tax statement by the Registrar’s Office.

School Official

A school official is a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the University has contracted as its agent to provide a service instead of using University employees or officials (such as an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official in performing his or her tasks. Upon request, the University also discloses education records without consent to officials of another school in which a student seeks or intends to enroll.

Legitimate Educational Interest

When a school official requires access to a student’s record in order to perform their instructional, supervisory, advisory, or administrative duties. FERPA allows universities to give school officials who have legitimate educational interest access to education records without the written and signed consent of the student.
Directory Information

Those data items that are generally not considered harmful or an invasion of privacy if disclosed. Each institution establishes what it considers to be directory information. Gonzaga University does not authorize distribution of listings of student names with addresses and/or telephone numbers to any entity outside of the University unless it is required by law or otherwise allowed by FERPA. Gonzaga has deemed the following information as directory information:

- Student name
- Addresses & phone numbers
- E-mail addresses
- Place of birth
- Major field of study
- Dates of attendance
- Full or part time enrollment status
- Year in school (class)
- Degree(s) received and date(s) conferred
- Scholastic honors and awards received
- Other educational institutions attended
- Visual images (through photographs or videos)
- Height and weight of athletic team members

Directory information may be published in a student directory or event program and released to the media and to the public for enrolled students.

Every student is given the opportunity to have directory information suppressed from public release through their signed consent on a form available from the Registrar’s Office. With this agreement, the information will not be disclosed unless authorized under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974 (FERPA).
Annual Notification

Gonzaga notifies eligible students annually of their rights under FERPA. Gonzaga provides this notification to each student via e-mail and through publications such as the University catalogs.

College of Arts and Sciences

Dean: Annmarie Caño
Associate Deans: Matt Bahr, Patricia Terry

The College of Arts and Sciences develops women and men for others, ready to face the intellectual, vocational, and spiritual challenges of today and tomorrow.

The College is primarily responsible for delivering courses in the University Core curriculum, the center of Gonzaga's humanistic, Jesuit, Catholic education. The departments and programs that make up the College also offer students majors, minors and concentrations in liberal arts, humanities, and specialized fields, preparing them for immediate careers or for further studies. For students pursuing Arts and Sciences majors, the College also has a secondary language requirement.

Degree Programs in the College of Arts and Sciences

Bachelor of Arts, General: This is the regular B.A. degree offered by the College; it also is available with a teaching option in some majors.

Bachelor of Science, General: This is the regular B.S. degree offered by the College.

Bachelor of Arts, Honors: This degree is awarded to students who pursue their basic undergraduate education under the direction of the Honors Program. A specific core Honors curriculum, accomplished primarily through colloquia and seminars, satisfies university core requirements for those students who obtain this degree. The degree is available in all majors within the College that offer the B.A.

Bachelor of Science, Honors: This degree is awarded to students who complete the requirements for a major in a field which offers the B.S. and who pursue their basic undergraduate education under the direction of the Honors Program; a specific Honors curriculum satisfies the university core requirements for those students who obtain this degree.
College of Arts and Sciences Degree Requirements

In addition to the general degree requirements of the University, including the University Core curriculum, students earning all Bachelor’s degrees offered by the College of Arts and Sciences must complete the following requirements:

1. Completion of the requirements for a major within the College.
2. Completion of a senior thesis, comprehensive exam, capstone, or other culminating experience designed by the major department.
3. Language Requirement: Competency in a second language (classical or modern) at the intermediate level (courses numbered 201) is required for students continuing in the study of a language. Students beginning study in a language they have not previously studied can fulfill the requirement by completing one year at the beginning level (courses numbered 101-102). Non-native speakers of English who have completed the required English core credits at Gonzaga may petition the Associate Dean of Arts and Sciences for a waiver of this requirement.

Please note: Every degree requires a minimum of 128 completed semester credits. No core, major, minor, or concentration courses may be taken under the Pass/Fail option.

Teacher Certification
In order to obtain a teaching certificate, students need to complete a degree with an appropriate major and also to complete professional educational requirements. Since most future teachers obtain their degree in the College of Arts and Sciences, they have an academic advisor in that college. In addition, they need an advisor from the Teacher Education Department, who is usually assigned to them when they register for EDTE 101L.

Assistant Professors: R. Gil Zambrano, M. McCormick, L. Truitt

Gonzaga’s Art Department offers students the opportunity to investigate a variety of visual experiences through a study of both the studio arts and art history.

The department offers one major and two minors:

Bachelor of Arts, Art major Bachelor of Fine Arts, Art major
Minor in Art
Minor in Art History

The Bachelor of Fine Arts (B.F.A.) in Art is a professional degree in the fine arts intended to provide art majors with greater technical expertise and conceptual proficiency in studio art. It gives students a much more competitive edge when entering the job market for positions in design or media production, applying to graduate programs in the visual arts, or pursuing a career as a practicing fine artist.

The Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Art provides students a comprehensive education in the visual arts and art history. It requires fewer credits in art than the B.F.A. and thus allows greater flexibility for students to pursue additional academic interests or a second major in another area of study.

The department is located in the Jundt Art Center. The Jundt Art Center maintains studios in ceramics, design, drawing, painting, and printmaking. Courses in photography and filmmaking are offered in the Journalism/Broadcast Studies Building. A theatre-style lecture hall in the Jundt Art Center provides space for art history, visiting artist lectures, and video/film presentations. Some of the department's courses are offered at Gonzaga-in-Florence.

The Jundt Art Museum provides storage and exhibition areas for Gonzaga University's permanent art collection, plus changing exhibits of local, regional, national, and international artwork. Students and faculty regularly take advantage of the many opportunities to study and learn directly from artworks in the Jundt Art Museum.

The Gonzaga University Urban Arts Center (GUUAC) in downtown Spokane provides exhibit space for Gonzaga art students and faculty, local artists, and visiting artists from outside the region. The GUUAC brings the experience of contemporary art directly to the broader Spokane community.

VART 121 Painting Methods and Materials credit(s): 3
An introduction to a variety of methods and mediums that are used in basic painting. Students will learn how to prepare different surfaces for painting, including paper, panel and canvas. Intended for the non-art major/minor. Fall and Spring. Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design
VART 140  Ceramics: Hand Building  credit(s): 3
This course will focus on hand-building techniques such as coiling and slab construction as well as an introduction to the potter's wheel. Fall and Spring.

VART 141  Ceramics: Wheel Throwing  credit(s): 3
Provides an introduction to working on the potter's wheel and its various capabilities as a tool for clay work. Although at times we will incorporate hand building techniques into our lessons, our work will be primarily with the wheel. Fall and Spring.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design

VART 170  Photographic Art  credit(s): 3
A survey of the role of photography in media and art as well as contemporary human experience. The course emphasizes creative control of digital cameras and an understanding of the principles of photography in creating images with technical and high aesthetic value.

VART 180  Special Topics  credit(s): 1-3
Topics to be determined by instructor.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

VART 190  Art Survey: Prehistoric-Medieval  credit(s): 3
A study of art and architecture from the Prehistoric era to the late Middle Ages. Fall.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design

VART 191  Art Survey: Renaissance-Modern  credit(s): 3
A study of art and architecture from the late Middle Ages to modern times. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design

VART 192  Independent Study  credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be determined by faculty.
Course repeatable for 15 credit(s).

VART 193  First Year Seminar  credit(s): 3
The First-Year Seminar (FYS) introduces new Gonzaga students to the University, the Core Curriculum, and Gonzaga’s Jesuit mission and heritage. While the seminars will be taught by faculty with expertise in particular disciplines, topics will be addressed in a way that illustrates approaches and methods of different academic disciplines. The seminar format of the course highlights the participatory character of university life, emphasizing that learning is an active, collegial process.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: First Year Seminar

Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Freshman

VART 201  Drawing II  credit(s): 3
A continuation of VART 101. Spring.
PreRequisite(s): VART 101

VART 202  Figure Drawing in Florence  credit(s): 3
Focuses on traditional drawing techniques and methods for depicting the physicality of the body and of space. VART 101 recommended as a pre-requisite but not required. Florence campus only.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design
VART 212 Sculpture Materials and Design I credit(s): 3
Explores the principal elements of design through sculpture and drawing projects. Students will develop their structural and perceptual senses, with a special emphasis on 3-D perception. Florence campus only.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design

VART 221 Oil Painting credit(s): 3
Basic problems in oil techniques, explorations in still life, landscape, and expression. Fall and Spring.
PreRequisite(s): VART 101 (or concurrent) or VART 112 (or concurrent)

VART 230 3-D Design credit(s): 3
A foundational course focused on the principles and elements of design for three-dimensional/sculptural art. Students learn how to turn a concept/idea into a three-dimensional work of art. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design

VART 241 Ceramics II credit(s): 3
Qualities of form, function, and style are explored by means of wheel forming. Glaze development and approaches to firing techniques are introduced. Spring only.
PreRequisite(s): VART 141

VART 292 Directed Studio credit(s): 1-3
Variable credit, directed study for the student with a limited schedule. Studio work by arrangement. Fall and Spring.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): ITAL - upper division elec, Core: Fine Arts and Design
Restriction(s):
  Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior, Sophomore

V ART 401  Renaissance Architecture  credit(s): 3
Renaissance Architecture, civil engineering, and design from Brunelleschi to Leonardo and Michelangelo and the interdependence of such fields to Florentine humanism and the development of European modernity. Florence campus only.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design

VART 402  The Image of God  credit(s): 3
A comparative study in religious art and architecture between the Western world and traditional Far Eastern aesthetics (Chinese and Japanese), focusing on the basic element of spirituality. Florence campus only.

VART 403  The Ancient City  credit(s): 3
This course is a survey of the development of the city in the ancient world. Students will explore urban forms and processes as they are shaped by - and as they shape - their social, cultural, economic and physical contexts. The course will focus on representative urban centers of the ancient Near East, Egypt, and the Mediterranean world, tracing the evolution of ancient urbanism from the Near East to the classical worlds of Greece and Rome.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): VART - History, CLAS - Elective course, CLAS - Greek course, HIST - Pre
Equivalent(s): HIST 302
PreRequisite(s): HIST 101 or WGST 271C
VART 404  Archaeology of Ancient Greece  credit(s): 3
This course examines the techniques and methods of Classical Archaeology as revealed through an examination of the major monuments and artifacts of Ancient Greece and its neighbors. Architecture, sculpture, vase and fresco painting, and the minor arts are all examined, from the Bronze Age through the Hellenistic period. We consider the nature of this archaeological evidence, and the relationship of classical archaeology to other disciplines such as history, art history, and the classical languages.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): VART - History, CLAS - Elective course, CLAS - Greek course, HIST - Pre
Equivalent(s): HIST 307
PreRequisite(s): HIST 101 or WGST 271C

VART 405  Archaeology of Ancient Rome  credit(s): 3
This course examines the techniques and methods of classical archaeology as revealed through an examination of the major monuments and artifacts of ancient Rome and its neighbors. Architecture, sculpture, vase and fresco painting, and the minor arts are all examined, from the Early Iron Age through the Late Roman period. We consider the nature of this archaeological evidence, and the relationship of classical archaeology to other disciplines such as history, art history, and the classical languages.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): VART - History, CLAS - Elective course, CLAS - Rome course
Equivalent(s): HIST 308
PreRequisite(s): HIST 101 or WGST 271C

VART 406  American Cultures and Ideas  credit(s): 3
This course will examine American history through an exploration of its culture. Throughout this course we will work towards defining what culture is, how it shapes expectations and assumption, how it motivates human actions and interactions, and how it is bound by time and place. Each student’s ability to critically read cultural sources from an appropriately historical frame of reference will be tested in a variety of assignments, including weekly readings, writing assignments, and active class participation.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): VART - History
Equivalent(s): HIST 366

VART 407  Women Artists  credit(s): 3
An introduction to women as creators of fine and decorative art within North America and Europe from the late 18th C. to today. The course also addresses how women have been represented in art by men and other women.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): VART - History, Core: Fine Arts and Design
Equivalent(s): WGST 350
Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior, Sophomore

VART 408  History of Photography  credit(s): 3
An introduction to the origins and history of photography from the 1830’s to today. Spring, even-numbered years.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): VART - History
Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior, Sophomore

VART 421  Advanced Painting Projects  credit(s): 4
Advanced oil painting problems in still-life, figure and landscape. Spring.
Course repeatable for 16 credit(s).
PreRequisite(s): VART 324 or VART 323
VART 432  Core Integration Seminar  credit(s): 3
The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) engages the Year Four Question: "Imagining the possible: What is our role in the world?" by offering students a culminating seminar experience in which students integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the Core, and their disciplinary expertise. Each section of the course will focus on a problem or issue raised by the contemporary world that encourages integration, collaboration, and problem solving. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students' future role in the world.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Core Integration Seminar
PreRequisite(s): PHIL 301 or RELI 330 or RELI 331 or WGST 237C

VART 441  Advanced Ceramics Projects  credit(s): 4
Exploration of advanced glazing and firing techniques. Emphasis is on developing individual expression in ceramic form.
Course repeatable for 16 credit(s).
PreRequisite(s): VART 341

VART 442  Ceramic Materials  credit(s): 4
A study of glaze theory and empirical formulation methods. Coursework is designed for the advanced student contemplating graduate school or a professional career in the studio. Upon sufficient demand.
PreRequisite(s): VART 241

VART 443  Kiln Design and Construction  credit(s): 4
An exploration of kiln types, firing methods, and chamber designs. A kiln will be constructed and fired. Upon sufficient demand.
Restriction(s):
  Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior
PreRequisite(s): VART 241

VART 450  Advanced Printmaking Projects  credit(s): 4
This course continues to refine the abilities already learned and expands the student's knowledge about printmaking. The emphasis is on idea development in combination with technical skills to create a body of work through printed means. Individual exploration is encouraged and challenged through critical dialogue in combination with the teacher and fellow students. Course can be repeated.
Course repeatable for 16 credit(s).
PreRequisite(s): VART 352

VART 466  Philosophy of Art  credit(s): 3
An analysis of beauty, creativity, and taste according to the theories of Aristotle, Plato, Aquinas, and some contemporary philosophers. Several representative works from all areas of the fine arts are examined in the light of the aesthetic principles of classical philosophy.
Equivalent(s): PHIL 472
PreRequisite(s): PHIL 201

VART 472  Creative Filmmaking  credit(s): 4
An exploration of moving images and digital video as they relate to documentary films and art. Students learn how artists employ digital video and moving images in their artistic work. They also learn how to apply fundamental visual strategies of digital media and technological tools, including media editing software such as Adobe Premiere Pro and After Effects, to the creation and editing of video. Lab fee. Fall.
PreRequisite(s): INMD 101( and VART 170 or JOUR 170 or JOUR 270 or SOSJ 261)
VART 480  Special Topics Studio  credit(s): 1-4
Topic to be determined by Instructor.
Course repeatable for 16 credit(s).

VART 485  Advanced Drawing Projects  credit(s): 4
Exploration of advanced drawing techniques.
Course repeatable for 16 credit(s).

Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior, Sophomore

PreRequisite(s): VART 386

VART 492  Independent Study  credit(s): 1-4
Specialized study by arrangement with individual studio faculty.
Course repeatable for 16 credit(s).

VART 493  Studio Practice  credit(s): 1
Students begin a body of work that launches them towards their larger group of works to be shown in April of their senior year as part of the senior exhibition. Students discuss and learn about various forms of studio practice and how artists create spaces, projects, and situations for themselves. Group critiques of work-in-progress will take place on a weekly basis. Fall and spring. Prerequisites: Junior or senior status, Art major or minor.

VART 494  BFA Solo/Two-Person Exhibit  credit(s): 0
Students will exhibit a body of work in the local area, on or off campus. Students will be responsible for the planning, marketing, and installation of their solo or two-person show. Fall and spring. 0 credit.
Prerequisite: B.F.A. major with senior standing

VART 497  Art Internship  credit(s): 0-6
Professional work experience in an art-related field. Fall, Spring, and Summer.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

VART 498  Research  credit(s): 1-3
Individual research on an art topic approved by and arranged with a faculty member.
Course repeatable for 15 credit(s).

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): VART – Art History

VART 499  Professional Practice  credit(s): 2
Required of Art Majors. Open to art minors by departmental invitation only. A seminar designed to prepare the graduating student for vocations in art or postgraduate studies, culminating with a public exhibition of the senior’s portfolio demonstrating learned skills. Enrollment by permission of instructor. Spring.

Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Senior

The department offers two degrees, one major and one minor:

Bachelor of Science, Biology major (optional Biology Research concentration) Bachelor of Arts, Biology major (optional Biology Research concentration)
Minor in Biology

Biology is the study of living organisms and the environment in which they live. As such, the Biology Department emphasizes a broad education within the field to help students develop a comprehensive understanding of how life works. To prepare students to pursue biology-oriented careers, in fields such as medicine, dentistry, biotechnology, conservation science, environmental science, sustainability, research and teaching, the Biology Department offers a selection of courses and experiences that help students understand the unity, diversity and complexity of life using evolutionary principles as the unifying theme. Students in the biology program are first introduced to foundational themes and concepts and then pursue their area of interest through elective courses. In general, our elective courses fall into the main categories of comparative physiology, genetics, cell and molecular biology, and ecology. Students are free to explore their interests in any or all of these areas. Through inquiry-based laboratory experiences and opportunities to participate in research projects, Biology majors also acquire problem solving and critical thinking skills and are therefore well prepared for their next step whether it be graduate or professional programs, specific training in health care fields, work in a lab or field station, or combining their scientific training with another interest such as business, law or even the arts.

Biology majors can choose a Bachelor of Science (B.S.) or a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree. The B.S. in Biology provides excellent preparation for students pursuing continued training in graduate programs in a broad range of sub-disciplines, as well as medical, dental, and veterinary school. The B.A. in Biology allows more time for students to get a second major or take additional courses in other departments at the university, thus gaining a broader liberal arts education. For example, Biology majors who want to teach biology at the secondary level can participate in the teacher certification program. Many of our majors and students who minor in Biology are interested in opportunities to integrate biological principles with other fields, such as those that focus on the environment and sustainability, law, engineering, business, or scientific journalism. We encourage interdisciplinary studies and work closely with other departments at the university to develop and promote these kinds of opportunities for our students.

The Research Concentration within the Biology major is designed for students who want to explore graduate level training in science. Biology faculty members are committed to mentoring undergraduate students in their research labs and also support Gonzaga students who are interested in doing summer research at other institutions.

Biology majors from Gonzaga University are well prepared for a variety of careers or post-graduate education. Some go on to medical or dental school - recently our graduates have been accepted to Colorado State University, Creighton University, Georgetown University, Marquette University, Oregon Health & Science University, Tulane University, University of Colorado, University of Hawaii, and University of Washington, to name a few. Many of our graduates go on to graduate school—students have been accepted into programs at schools such as the University of California at Berkeley, Yale University, University of California at San Francisco, University of California at Irvine, Oregon State University, University of New Mexico, and University of Wisconsin–Madison, to name a few. Many of our students choose to participate in the Peace Corps or the Jesuit Volunteer Corps prior to pursuing post-graduate education. Others work in biotech or nature conservation fields after graduation, or earn their teaching credentials and work to make the world a more scientifically literate place.

Science impacts everyone in our society. To help promote an understanding of the nature of science and issues that affect us all, the department offers courses that specifically fulfill the Scientific Inquiry requirement of the University Core curriculum: Scientific Inquiry (BIOL 104 and 104L), Biological Systems (BIOL 181 and BIOL 181L), and Field Studies in Biodiversity (BIOL 159L, taught each summer in either Zambia or Ecuador).

*Students must earn a C- grade or better in BIOL 105/105L and BIOL 106 in order to take BIOL 205, 206, or 207. Students must also earn a C- grade or better in BIOL 205/205L, 206/206L, 207/207L and 399 in order to take BIOL 499. For Upper Division biology electives, a minimum of 10 credits (BS), 6 credits (BA), or 4 credits (Minor) must be biology courses taken from Gonzaga faculty: students participating in School for Field Studies programs or other study abroad programs should make note. Credits from BIOL 497, Biology Internship, do not satisfy any requirements for the Biology Major or Minor.

All courses should be chosen in consultation with a faculty advisor.

B.S. or B.A. in Biology with Research Concentration

The Research Concentration is a challenging path within the Biology major. Its goals are to make research experiences available to more students, to show students the value of science education outreach through experiential learning, and to provide students with a more solid foundation in biological mathematics and science communication. It consists of a number of courses and experiences designed to prepare students to pursue research in some venue (graduate school, industry, government, medical school, or science education) after graduation. Students can enter the program at any time, although we anticipate most students will enter the program as sophomores and juniors.
To complete the Research Concentration, the following requirements are added to the requirements for the B.S. or B.A. degree in biology:

1. Participate in a significant research experience. This means working on an independent research project for the equivalent of 4 credits. Most students can fulfill this requirement in one summer of full-time research or four academic semesters of research while enrolled in other classes. Enrolling in the Research Concentration does not guarantee a research experience. It is the student's responsibility to secure a research position. This requirement can be fulfilled in the lab of a GU faculty member or with prior permission, at a different institution.

2. Present the results from the independent research (in oral or poster format) to the scientific community at a venue outside of the Gonzaga campus.

3. Write up the research results under advisement with your research mentor. Final papers will be turned in to the Research Coordinator the last month of the final semester you are enrolled at Gonzaga. If you did research off campus, see the Research Coordinator to arrange a local writing mentor.

4. Participate in science education outreach for 16 hours one semester (BIOL 295/CHEM 295).

5. Take BIOL 484 Research Seminar (1 credit) and attend a minimum of 12 biology-related seminars (including those in BIOL 484), and write and submit a seminar reflection for each seminar.

6. Take a college calculus course, Survey of Calculus (MATH 148) or Calculus and Analytic Geometry I (MATH 157).

7. Complete a statistics course (MATH 121 or MATH 321) or biological mathematics course, Biological Data Analysis (BIOL 305).

Courses:

BIOL 104 Scientific Inquiry: credit(s): 2
This lecture and laboratory course content will be determined by the instructor to meet the learning objectives of the Scientific Inquiry requirement of the University Core. Fall and Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Science Inquiry
Corequisite(s): BIOL 104L
Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Freshman
BIOL 104L  Scientific Inquiry Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 104.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Science Inquiry
Corequisite(s): BIOL 104

BIOL 105  Information Flow in Biological Systems  credit(s): 3
This course provides a foundation in the principles of biology by examining the fundamental role of information in generating the properties of life. The course explores the molecular basis of biological information (codes, signals, structures) and its role in growth, development, communication, regulation, reproduction and evolution of living things. Fall and Spring.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 105L

Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): App Math - Biology, Biochemistry, Biology, Biology, Biology, Comp Sci & Computation Think, Computer Science, Human Physiology, Nursing

BIOL 105L  Information Flow in Biological Systems Lab  credit(s): 1
Designed to provide students with an authentic scientific discovery experience, this laboratory involves the isolation, identification, and characterization of novel bacteriophages from local soil samples. Students learn how to approach scientific questions, make observations, record, analyze and report data. Taken concurrently with BIOL 105.

Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): App Math - Biology, Biochemistry, Biology, Biology, Biology, Comp Sci & Computation Think, Computer Science, Human Physiology, Nursing

PreRequisite(s): BIOL 105, minimum grade: C- (or concurrent)

BIOL 106  Energy Flow in Biological Systems  credit(s): 3
This course focuses on the biological processes of energy acquisition, how energy is used in biological systems, and how energy is transferred between organisms and through ecosystems. Human impacts to energy transfer will be covered and topics will integrate energy concepts from cells to organisms to ecosystems. There is no laboratory associated with this course. Fall and Spring.
Prerequisite(s): BIOL 105, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 105L, minimum grade: C- (or concurrent) and CHEM 101, minimum grade: C- and CHEM 101L, minimum grade: C-

Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): App Math - Biology, Biochemistry, Biology, Biology, Biology, Comp Sci & Computation Think, Computer Science, Human Physiology

PreRequisite(s): BIOL 105, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 105L, minimum grade: C- (or concurrent) and CHEM 101, minimum grade: C- and CHEM 101L, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 159  Studies in Biodiversity  credit(s): 1
This course is an optional continuation of BIOL 159L Field Studies in Biodiversity. Research projects initiated in the field in BIOL 159L will be concluded with further library research, completion of a technical or popular press article, drafting and editing a poster, and a presentation at a local or regional event. Fall.
Course repeatable for 2 credit(s).
Equivalent(s): BIOL 359

PreRequisite(s): BIOL 159L

BIOL 159L  Field Studies in Biodiversity  credit(s): 3
This course uses a field experience as a backdrop to learn about evolutionary, ecological and biogeographical processes that determine the ranges and biodiversity of organisms. The course begins with class work on the Gonzaga campus and is followed by 3-4 weeks in the field, where Gonzaga faculty and local experts will mentor students. Field locations vary by year and include Ecuador, Belize, Zambia, Costa Rica, or domestic locations. This course is designed for non-science majors. The class meets together with the students enrolled in BIOL 359L for biology majors. Summer. Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Science Inquiry

Equivalent(s): BIOL 359L

BIOL 170 Introduction to Microbiology credit(s): 3

An introduction to microbiology for students in Nursing or other allied health professions who will not be majoring in Biology. The course includes basic cellular chemistry and genetics, as well as a survey of topics of clinical importance. Fall and Spring.

Corequisite(s): BIOL 170L

Restriction(s):

Must not be in the following Major(s): Biology, Biology

PreRequisite(s): BIOL 105, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 105L, minimum grade: C- and CHEM 101, minimum grade: C

BIOL 170L Introduction to Microbiology Lab credit(s): 1

An introduction to methods of microbial analysis including the culture, safe handling, and genetic analysis of microbes. Taken concurrently with BIOL 170.

BIOL 181 Biological Systems credit(s): 2

This course provides an exploration of the basic systems in biology from plants to animals and from cells to ecosystems for non-science majors. Additionally, this course provides elementary teacher candidates with the basic content knowledge needed to teach life science at the elementary school level. Lab is required. Fall.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Science Inquiry

Corequisite(s): BIOL 181L

Restriction(s):

Must not be in the following Major(s): Biology, Biology

BIOL 181L Biological Systems Lab credit(s): 1

Taken concurrently with BIOL 181.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Science Inquiry

Corequisite(s): BIOL 181

Restriction(s):

Must not be in the following Major(s): Biology, Biology

BIOL 190 Special Topics credit(s): 0-3

Topic to be determined by instructor.

Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

BIOL 193 First Year Seminar credit(s): 3

The First-Year Seminar (FYS) introduces new Gonzaga students to the University, the Core Curriculum, and Gonzaga's Jesuit mission and heritage. While the seminars will be taught by faculty with expertise in particular disciplines, topics will be addressed in a way that illustrates approaches and methods of different academic disciplines. The seminar format of the course highlights the participatory character of university life, emphasizing that learning is an active, collegial process.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: First Year Seminar

Restriction(s):

Must be the following Class(es): Freshman
BIOL 199   Investigations in Biology   credit(s): 2
Designed for non-science majors; this fulfills the core Scientific Inquiry requirement. Lectures and laboratory sessions emphasize science as an inquiry based process. Laboratory is required when offered.
Course repeatable 3 time.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Science Inquiry
Corequisite(s): BIOL 199L
Restriction(s):
  Must not be in the following Major(s): Biochemistry, Biology, Biology, Chemistry, Chemistry
BIOL 199L   Investigations in Biology Lab   credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 199.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Science Inquiry
Corequisite(s): BIOL 199
Restriction(s):
  Must not be in the following Major(s): Biochemistry, Biology, Biology, Chemistry, Chemistry
BIOL 205   Physiology and Biodiversity   credit(s): 3
This course focuses on understanding the diversity of life on earth and the physiological mechanisms that allow organisms to live in a wide array of environments. A framework of physiology is used to compare and contrast clades of organisms. A prerequisite for most Upper Division biology elective courses. Fall.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 205L
Restriction(s):
  Must be in the following Major(s): App Math - Biology, Biology, Biology, Biology, Comp Sci & Computation Think
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 105, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 105L, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 106, minimum grade: C-
BIOL 205L   Physiology and Biodiversity Lab   credit(s): 1
Students are introduced to the diversity of organisms and physiological processes that allow organisms to live in a wide array of environments.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Writing Enriched
Corequisite(s): BIOL 205
BIOL 206   Ecology   credit(s): 3
This course examines the ecological and evolutionary mechanisms that determine the distribution and abundance of species. Students will explore interactions between organisms and their environments at levels from individuals through ecosystems. A prerequisite for most Upper Division biology elective courses, and a prerequisite for BIOL 499. Must be taken Sophomore or Junior year, and cannot be taken Senior year. Spring.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 206L
Restriction(s):
  Must be in the following Major(s): App Math - Biology, Biology, Biology, Biology, Comp Sci & Computation Think
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 105, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 105L, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 106, minimum grade: C-
BIOL 206L  Ecology Lab  credit(s): 1
Field and laboratory experiments are used to investigate ecological mechanisms that determine the distribution and abundance of species. Taken concurrently with BIOL 206.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 206
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): App Math - Biology, Biology, Biology, Biology, Comp Sci & Computation Think

BIOL 207  Genetics  credit(s): 3
This course promotes an understanding of genes and genomes – their molecular properties, how they are expressed and regulated, how they contribute to inheritance, and how they are shaped by evolutionary forces. A prerequisite for most Upper Division biology elective courses. Fall and Spring.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 207L
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): App Math - Biology, Biochemistry, Biology, Biology, Biology, Comp Sci & Computation Think
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 105, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 105L, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 106, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 207L  Genetics Lab  credit(s): 1
This course provides students with hands-on experimental investigations of molecular mechanisms in genetics. Taken concurrently with BIOL 207.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 207
Restriction(s):

BIOL 290  Directed Readings  credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be decided by faculty.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

BIOL 295  Science Outreach  credit(s): 0
The Biology and Chemistry/Biochemistry departments run a variety of outreach programs that include class visits, field trip tours, special summer programs and more. All of our programs strive to engage participants with opportunities for hands-on scientific discovery and inspiration. Fall and Spring.
Course repeatable 8 time.
Equivalent(s): CHEM 295

BIOL 301L  Cell Techniques Lab  credit(s): 2
This course is designed to be an intensive introduction to methods of analysis of prokaryotic and eukaryotic cell structure, composition, and behavior. Microscopy (brightfield and fluorescence), protein studies, enzyme kinetics, bacterial growth, cell signaling, and development are just some of the areas of research students will be exposed to. This course will also be scientific writing and reading intensive, developing student expertise in these critical areas in the field of biological research. Offered upon sufficient demand.
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Biology, Biology, Biology
PreRequisite(s): CHEM 230 and CHEM 230L and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C-
BIOL 303  Population Ecology  credit(s): 3
An in-depth look at the interactions that control the distribution and abundance of organisms at the population level. Topics such as life-history strategies, population dynamics, competition, predation, parasitism, and mutualism will be explored through the research literature, and quantitative approaches. Fall, even years.
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): App Math - Biology, Biology, Biology, Biology
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C-
BIOL 303L  Population Ecology Laboratory  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 303 when the laboratory is offered.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 303
Restriction(s):
Must not be in the following Major(s):
BIOL 304  Practice in Laboratory Teaching  credit(s): 1
Students gain teaching experience by assisting laboratory instructors as a teaching assistant (TA) in a laboratory course. Duties may include laboratory set-up, in-class mentoring, grading, and quiz preparation. May be repeated. A maximum of two credits may be applied to Biology electives. Usually limited to students who have earned an A or B in the lecture portion of the course for which the student is a candidate to TA the laboratory. By permission only. Fall and Spring.
Course repeatable for 8 credit(s).
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C-
BIOL 305  Biological Data Analysis  credit(s): 4
An applied study of statistical methods used to investigate biological questions. Emphasis will be on applications using software to investigate biological data sets generated by student and instructor research. The course will survey descriptive statistics, sampling, experimental design, estimation, hypothesis testing, and model building (e.g. analysis of variance, regression, multivariate). This course does not fulfill the University Core Math requirement. Spring, odd years.
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- (and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- or BIOL 206, minimum grade: C- (or concurrent) or BIOL 207, minimum grade: C-)
BIOL 313  Animal Behavior  credit(s): 3
This course explores how behavioral processes affect ecological patterns. The behavioral adaptations of animals to their environment including the evolution of behavior, foraging, competition for resources, reproductive ecology, mating systems, parental care, and cooperative behavior. Fall, odd years.
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C- (or concurrent) or BIOL 207, minimum grade: C-
BIOL 313L  Animal Behavior Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 313 when the laboratory is offered.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 313
BIOL 323  Conservation Biology  credit(s): 3
This course covers the biological concepts important for the conservation of natural populations, communities, and ecosystems. Both theoretical and empirical studies will be applied to such topics as: the genetics and ecology of small populations, consequences of habitat fragmentation, the impact of introduced species, and the ecological value of biological diversity. Spring.
Equivalent(s): ENVS 303
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- (and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C- or BIOL 207, minimum grade: C-)

150
BIOL 323L Conservation Biology Lab credit(s): 1
This labratory includes field trips. Taken concurrently with BIOL 323.
Equivalent(s): ENVS 303L
Corequisite(s): BIOL 323

BIOL 330 Invertebrate Biology credit(s): 4
An examination of the major invertebrate phyla, including an overview of the structural and functional characteristics of each group. The evolutionary relationships between various invertebrate groups will also be examined. Emphasis will be placed on the interaction of marine species with their environment. Taught in a combined lecture/laboratory format. Offered upon sufficient demand.
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 331 Parasitology credit(s): 3
Explores the medical, physiological, ecological, and historical effects of parasites. The course concentrates on human parasites and ranges from viruses and bacteria through helminthes and arthropods. Fall.
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 331L Parasitology Lab credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 331 when laboratory is offered.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 331

BIOL 333 Community Ecology credit(s): 3
This course explores details of the major processes that have created and are operating within biological communities, including species diversity, competition, predation, herbivory, island biogeography, and succession. Students will explore the theories and experimental evidence of these processes and conduct ecology projects. Fall, odd years.

BIOL 334 Advanced Evolution credit(s): 3
An in-depth study of the mechanisms responsible for the diversity of life on earth. Topics covered include speciation, adaptation, systematics, extinction, natural selection, genetic drift, mutation, and gene flow. Examples are chosen from all types of organisms. This course may be repeated once as long as the content is different than the first occurrence of enrollment. Spring, odd years.
Course repeatable 1 time.
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C- (or concurrent)

BIOL 335 Advanced Genetics credit(s): 3
An advanced study of genetics within the context of a selected topic in biology. Past topics have included an examination of human race and racism and the study of genomes. This course may be repeated once as long as the content is different than the first occurrence of enrollment. Spring, even years.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): App Math - Biology, Biology, Biology, Biology
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 335L Advanced Genetics Lab credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 335 when laboratory is offered.
Course repeatable for 3 credit(s).
Corequisite(s): BIOL 335
BIOL 337  Developmental Biology  credit(s): 3
A study of the principles and mechanisms that underlie the development of plants and animals, using approaches that integrate cell biology, genetics, molecular biology, and evolution. Spring, odd years.
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 337L  Developmental Biology Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 337.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 337

BIOL 338  Histology  credit(s): 3
A study of the microscopic structure of animal (mostly mammalian) tissues and organs. Topics include: histology, cytology, and microscopic anatomy as exemplified in animal tissue. Material will emphasize the relationship between structure and function in tissues and organs. Fall.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 338L

Restriction(s):
Must be in the following College/School(s): College of Arts and Sciences
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 338L  Histology Lab  credit(s): 1
Labs will combine the study of tissue structure using a collection of prepared slides, and the processing and sectioning of tissue samples. Lab assignments will include the production of personal digital atlases.
Taken concurrently with BIOL 338.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 338

BIOL 340  Field Botany  credit(s): 3
Course includes systematics of flowering plants, plant communities of the Inland Northwest, sight identification of major plant families and selected topics in plant ecology. A plant collection is required as well as a field project in the area of plant systematics or plant ecology. Two four-hour lectures/laboratory meetings per week and three, ten-hour field trips on Saturdays.
Summer. Offered upon sufficient demand.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 340L

Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): App Math - Biology, Biology, Biology, Comp Sci & Computation Think
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 340L  Field Botany Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 340.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 340

BIOL 341  Human Physiology  credit(s): 3
Examines the function of human physiological systems including: metabolic, nervous, cardiovascular, respiratory, renal, muscular, and immunological. Systems are examined through case studies focused on human disease and human performance. Spring, odd years.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 341L
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 341L  Human Physiology Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 341. May require weekend field trips.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 341
BIOL 343  Plant Community Ecology  credit(s): 3
This class meets with and covers the same topics as BIOL 333 (Community Ecology), but is designed for biology majors who need a plant ecology-focused course. Students will explore the theories and experimental evidence of community ecology and conduct ecology projects with a specific focus on plant processes. Fall, odd years. Offered upon sufficient demand.
Equivalent(s): BIOL 333
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 344  GIS and Ecological Techniques  credit(s): 3
This course will introduce students to geographic information systems (GIS) and focus on how GIS can be used to address research and management questions in ecology. Student will use existing GIS databases from area resource agencies and learn how to create new GIS databases from field exercises. Field techniques will include vegetation sampling, small mammal trapping, amphibian/reptile monitoring, distance sampling, wildlife habitat assessment, and mapping exercises using compass and global position systems (GPS). Spring, even years.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 344L
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 344L GIS and Ecological Techniques Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 344.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 344

BIOL 351  Advanced Cell Biology  credit(s): 3
An advanced study of cell structure and function with an emphasis on selected topics in cell biology. Topics vary with instructor, but may include cell signaling, cell cycle, plant cells, and the cell biology of cancer. Spring.
PreRequisite(s): CHEM 230 and BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 351L  Advanced Cell Biology Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 351 when laboratory is offered.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 351

BIOL 357  Principles of Wildlife Management  credit(s): 3
The ecology, theory, methods, and philosophy of wildlife management emphasizing game, nongame, and endangered species. Students gain an understanding of the roles and responsibilities of various government agencies and non-governmental organizations. Fall, even years.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): ENVS - elective
Equivalent(s): ENVS 387
Corequisite(s): BIOL 357L
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C-( and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C- or BIOL 207, minimum grade: C-)

BIOL 357L  Principle of Wildlife Management Lab  credit(s): 1
This laboratory includes field trips. Taken concurrently with BIOL 357.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): ENVS - elective
Equivalent(s): ENVS 387L
Corequisite(s): BIOL 357

BIOL 359  Studies in Biodiversity  credit(s): 1
This course is a continuation of BIOL 359L Field Studies in Biodiversity. Research projects initiated in the field in BIOL 359L will be concluded with further library research, completion of a scientific article, and presentation of the research at a local or regional meeting. Fall.
Course repeatable for 2 credit(s).
Equivalent(s): BIOL 159
Restriction(s):
BIOL 359L  Field Studies in Biodiversity  credit(s): 3
This course uses a field experience as a backdrop to learn about evolutionary, ecological and biogeographical processes that determine the ranges and biodiversity of organisms. The course begins with class work on the Gonzaga campus and is followed by 3-4 weeks in the field, where Gonzaga faculty and local experts will mentor students. Field locations vary by year and include Ecuador, Belize, Zambia, Costa Rica, or domestic locations. This course is designed for students majoring or minoring in biology. The class meets together with students enrolled in BIOL 159L for non-science majors. Students are required to enroll in BIOL 359, Studies in Biodiversity, the semester after enrolling in BIOL 359L. Summer.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
Equivalent(s): BIOL 159L
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C-( and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- or BIOL 206, minimum grade: C-)
BIOL 360  Plant Biology  credit(s): 3
This course acquaints students with the evolution, structure, development and functions of plant cells, tissues and organs. Fall, even years.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 360L
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206,
minimum grade: C-
BIOL 360L  Plant Biology Lab  credit(s): 1
This laboratory includes field trips. Taken concurrently with BIOL 360.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 360
BIOL 367  Entomology  credit(s): 3
This course introduces students to the scientific study of insects. Topics will include insect identification, diversity, behavior, anatomy, ecology, and applied entomology. Fall, odd years.
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206,
minimum grade: C-
BIOL 367L  Entomology Lab  credit(s): 1
This laboratory includes field trips. Taken concurrently with BIOL 367.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 367
BIOL 370  Microbiology  credit(s): 3
A study of the fundamental factors involved in microbiology including basic microbial morphology, taxonomy, biochemistry, genetics, and culture techniques.  Fall.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 370L
Restriction(s):
  Must not be in the following College/School(s):
  Must be in the following Major(s): App Math - Biology, Biology, Biology
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207, minimum grade: C- and CHEM

BIOL 370L  Microbiology Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 370.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 370
BIOL 371  Vertebrate Biology and Anatomy  credit(s): 3 Vertebrate diversity, structure and function from an evolutionary perspective. Topics covered will include development, physiology, ecology, behavior and conservation. Spring.

Corequisite(s): BIOL 371L

Restriction(s):

Must not be in the following Major(s): Must be in the following Major(s): App Math - Biology, Biology, Biology

PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- or BIOL 206, minimum grade: C- or BIOL 207, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 371L Vertebrate Biol and Anatomy Lab credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 371.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 371

Restriction(s):

Must not be in the following Major(s):

BIOL 374 Immunology credit(s): 3
An introduction to the cellular and molecular basis of the immune response. Topics will include structures and interactions of molecules in the immune system, generation of diversity in immune specificity, cellular immunology, and the basis of immunity and autoimmune diseases. Spring.

PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207, minimum grade: C- and CHEM 230, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 374L Immunology Lab credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 374 when laboratory is offered.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 374

BIOL 375 Virology credit(s): 3
Viral evolution, replication, virus-host interactions, epidemiology, and lateral gene transfer are covered. Spring.

PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207, minimum grade: C- and CHEM 230, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 380 Special Topics: credit(s): 0-6
This course may be repeated as long as the content is different than other occurrences of enrollment. If course is not taught by a Gonzaga faculty member, a limited number of credits can be applied to Biology electives: 5 for BS, 3 for BA, 1 for minor. Study abroad and School for Field Studies courses are examples.
Course repeatable for 8 credit(s).

Restriction(s):

Must be in the following Major(s): Biology, Biology, Biology

PreRequisite(s): BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- or BIOL 206, minimum grade: C- or BIOL 207, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 390 Directed Reading credit(s): 1-4
Topic to be determined by instructor.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

BIOL 395 Research Assistantship credit(s): 0
Undergraduate research assistantships are opportunities for student to earn a stipend while performing independent research in the laboratory of a Biology or Chemistry & Biochemistry faculty member. By Department Chair permission only.
Course repeatable 5 time.

BIOL 399 Advanced Topic: credit(s): 2
An introduction to primary research literature on specific biological topics. Students will write a paper that has as its foundation primary literature. Students will utilize their oral communication skills to explain the background of a given biology topic and lead discussions of the primary literature. Topics will vary. Course should be taken Junior year and must be completed with a C- grade or better prior to taking BIOL 499. Prerequisites vary depending on topic. Course can only be repeated with permission from the Biology Department Chair. Fall and Spring. Course repeatable for 4 credit(s).
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Writing Enriched

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): App Math - Biology, Biology, Biology
- Must be the following Class(es): Junior

PreRequisite(s):
- BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205L, minimum grade: C-
- or BIOL 206, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206L, minimum grade: C-
- or BIOL 207, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207L, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 403  Marine Biology  credit(s): 3
Students will explore the biology of marine systems. Topics will include atmospheric and climate modeling, fluid dynamics, physiology, evolution of diversity, ecology, molecular biology, economics, and environmental science. Spring, even years.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 403L

PreRequisite(s):
- BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 403L  Marine Biology Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 403 when laboratory is offered.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 403

BIOL 405L  Advanced Phage Research Lab  credit(s): 1
This course provides students with the opportunity to pursue research on bacterial viruses, or bacteriophages. Students will work independently or in small teams to address questions chosen collaboratively by the students and the instructor. The course is aimed at students who are interested in molecular biology or bioinformatics research and those seeking additional experience in a research setting. Interested students should contact the instructor prior to registration to plan a research proposal. This course may be taken up to four times with Department Chair permission. Fall and Spring. Offered upon sufficient demand.
Course repeatable for 4 credit(s).

PreRequisite(s):
- BIOL 105L, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207L, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 420  Physiological Ecology  credit(s): 3
This course will examine the interactions between organismal function and the physical environment. Topics include: physiological and evolutionary adaptations to extreme environments (high altitudes, deep oceans, and deserts), physiological determinants of patterns of diversity, limits to performance and environmental tolerance, and physiological responses to climate change. Fall, even years.

PreRequisite(s): and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 432  Core Integration Seminar  credit(s): 3
The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) engages the Year Four Question: “Imagining the possible: What is our role in the world?” by offering students a culminating seminar experience in which students integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the Core, and their disciplinary expertise. Each section of the course will focus on a problem or issue raised by the contemporary world that encourages integration, collaboration, and problem solving. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students’ future role in the world.
BIOL 440  Biochemistry I  credit(s): 3
Lectures on the structure and function of the major classes of biomolecules (carbohydrates, proteins, and nucleic acids) with an emphasis on proteins and enzymology. The central metabolic pathways of glycolysis, gluconeogenesis, and the citric acid cycle are discussed from a mechanistic, energetic, and regulatory viewpoint. Offered upon sufficient demand.
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 207 and CHEM 231 and BIOL 202

BIOL 441  Advanced Physiology  credit(s): 3
Physiological mechanisms, processes and responses of animals. Physical, chemical and biochemical principles common to physiological systems, such as respiration, excretion, and metabolism, will be covered. Goals of the course are to reveal the mechanisms, adaptive significance, and evolution of physiological systems using a comparative approach. This course may be repeated once as long as the content is different than the first occurrence of enrollment. Fall, odd years.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 441L  Advanced Physiology Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 441 when laboratory is offered.
Course repeatable for 2 credit(s).
Corequisite(s): BIOL 441

BIOL 443L  Biochemistry Laboratory I  credit(s): 2
An investigation of the techniques used to examine biomolecules and biochemical systems. Students perform integrated laboratory experiments in biochemistry. Offered upon sufficient demand.
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 440 or CHEM 440

BIOL 445  Biochemistry II  credit(s): 3
Continuation of BIOL 440, including an examination of the primary processes of cellular energy production, oxidative phosphorylation and photosynthesis. The major metabolic pathways of carbohydrates, lipids, amino acids and nucleotides are covered. Offered upon sufficient demand.
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 440

BIOL 451  Comparative Endocrinology  credit(s): 3
A comparative study of the structure and function of hormones across a wide variety of taxa (emphasizing vertebrates), including secretion and regulation of hormones, mechanisms of action, and integration of hormones into biological processes. Spring, even years.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 451L
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 451L  Comparative Endocrinology Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with BIOL 451 when laboratory is offered.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 451

BIOL 456  Molecular Biology  credit(s): 3
This course explores experimental strategies and techniques for discovering how genes function at the molecular level. The course integrates genetics and biochemistry focusing especially on the relationship between DNA, RNA and protein. Fall.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 456L
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207, minimum grade: C- and CHEM 230, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 456L  Molecular Biology Lab  credit(s): 1
Labs focus on the construction, manipulation, and analysis of recombinant DNA molecules.
Taken concurrently with BIOL 456.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 456

BIOL 484  Research Seminar credit(s): 1
This class is designed to expose students to various areas of biology research and to the different communication forms of that research. Graduate school is a fundamental part of the biology research pathway and therefore this course will help students to become familiar with the graduate school process. The format of the class will include seminars and class meetings. Fall and Spring.

Restriction(s):
  Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- or BIOL 206, minimum grade: C- or BIOL 207, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 490  Directed Reading credit(s): 1-4
Reading material will be selected by the student after consultation with a faculty member in the department. Course may be repeated to total not more than six credits. A maximum of six credits of any combination of BIOL 390, BIOL 490, BIOL 496, and BIOL 498 can be applied to Biology electives. By permission only.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 495  Senior Evaluation credit(s): 0
Required of all majors. Students will take the Major Field Test in Biology in their senior year. Students must score at or above the 20th percentile to pass the course. Fall and Spring.
Course repeatable 3 time.
Corequisite(s): BIOL 499

Restriction(s):
  Must be in the following Major(s): Biology, Biology
  Must be the following Class(es): Senior

BIOL 496  Biological Research Techniques credit(s): 1-3
An introduction to some of the experimental techniques used in biological research. Course content will vary by instructor. A maximum of six credits of any combination of BIOL 490, BIOL 496, and BIOL 498 can be applied to Biology electives. Offered upon sufficient demand.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 497  Biology Internship credit(s): 0-6
Professional work experience in a biology-related field. Students are responsible for arranging placement opportunities, and gaining approval from a supervising faculty member in the Biology department. This course does not satisfy any requirements for the Biology major or minor.
Satisfactory / Unsatisfactory grading only.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

Restriction(s):
  Must be in the following Major(s): Biology, Biology, Biology
  Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

BIOL 498  Undergraduate Research credit(s): 0-6
This course provides the motivated student with the opportunity to conduct an independent research project under the direction of a Biology Department faculty member. A maximum of six credits of any combination of BIOL 390, BIOL 490, BIOL 496, and BIOL 498 can be applied to Biology electives. Fall and Spring.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207, minimum grade: C-

BIOL 499 Senior Colloquium credit(s): 1

Required of all majors. This course meets once per week to discuss biological issues relevant to society. Students must complete all 200-level major requirements and BIOL 399 with C- grades or better to take this senior level course. Taken concurrently with BIOL 495. Fall and Spring.

Corequisite(s): BIOL 495

Restriction(s):

Must be the following Class(es): Senior

PreRequisite(s): BIOL 106, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 205L, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 206L, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 207L, minimum grade: C- and BIOL 399, minimum grade: C-

Catholic Studies

Director: J. Mudd

The program offers one minor:

Minor in Catholic Studies

The Catholic Studies minor at Gonzaga University provides students with an opportunity to enrich their undergraduate experience through a focused engagement with the historical and theological traditions, teachings, and cultural legacies of the Catholic Church. In addition to providing a rigorous interdisciplinary grounding in the history, ideals, and practices of Catholicism, the program invites students to take part in the ancient and ongoing conversation between the Church and the various cultures in which it is found. In seeking to understand and more fully appreciate the relationship between the eternal truths of the Catholic faith and their various expressions in time and place, the program faithfully and rigorously responds to Pope John Paul II's call for "a fruitful dialogue between the Gospel and culture" (Ex Corde Ecclesiae, Part I A.3:34). The Society of Jesus, in its most recent General Congregation, echoes this same desire: its identification and commitment for serious and rigorous research between Catholicism and the contemporary world, culture, and other religions. (General Congregation 35 Doc. 1 par.7).
The program takes as its model the Incarnation, a discrete historical event that nevertheless speaks to men and women of all times and places. The theme of incarnation, i.e., the embodiment of God in the world, pervades the program as it searches for and celebrates the eternal truths of the Catholic faith in the variety of its concrete expressions throughout history. Our explorations incorporate, but are not limited to, the disciplines of art history, literature, languages, history, philosophy, and theology.

Intellectual Methodology:

The Catholic Studies program identifies Catholicism as the body of thought and culture that both informs our University's mission and inhabits the world beyond Gonzaga as a phenomenon palpably present, but often difficult to detect, in its various modes of culture and domains of knowledge. We operate with the idea that Catholicism, and the world it interpenetrates, can be better understood by investigating its particular and universal natures. We do this through a series of integrated courses that consider Catholicism as both the overarching theme of the curriculum, and the central theme of each individual course. Accordingly, Catholic Studies will be grounded in Church doctrine since doctrine establishes the foundation for an understanding of knowledge, and offers a guide for interpreting how Catholicism has developed in the course of history and how it reveals itself in literature, science, and the visual arts. A fundamental course on Catholic doctrine (RELI 220) will provide the distinguishing parameters for concepts such as sacramentality, incarnation, sin and redemption.

Advising:

Each student in the program will be assigned an advisor who will help students reach a comprehensive understanding of the program through periodic consultation and guidance on the capstone project.

Required Courses:

The following courses are required for the minor and may also be used to fulfill courses required by the University core or specific major requirements where applicable.
Minor in Catholic Studies: 21

CATH 499 Catholic Studies Symposium 3 credits
HIST 112 World Civilization 1500-Present 3 credits
One of the following Scripture Courses: 3 credits
   RELI 101 The Hebrew Bible
   RELI 103 The New Testament
   RELI 107 Gospels: The Life & Teachings of Jesus
RELI 228 Catholicism 3 credits
One Lower Division Elective 3 credits
   (with Catholic Studies attribute*)
Two Upper Division Electives 6 credits
   (with Catholic Studies attribute*)

*These courses can be searched by attribute code in ZAGWEB each semester as identified by the Director of Catholic Studies.

Courses:

CATH 190 Directed Study 1-3 credit(s)
Topic to be determined by faculty.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

CATH 290 Directed Study 1-3 credit(s)
Topic to be determined by faculty.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

CATH 390 Directed Study 1-3 credit(s)
Topic to be determined by faculty.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

CATH 432 Core Integration Seminar 3 credit(s)
The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) engages the Year Four Question: “Imagining the possible: What is our role in the world?” by offering students a culminating seminar experience in which students integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the Core, and their disciplinary expertise. Each section of the course will focus on a problem or issue raised by the contemporary world that encourages integration, collaboration, and problem solving. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students’ future role in the world.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Core Integration Seminar

CATH 490 Directed Study credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be determined by faculty.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

CATH 499 Catholic Studies Symposium credit(s): 3
A capstone course in which students will integrate their experiences in other Catholic Studies courses. Student will be responsible for writing a thesis under the direction of the instructor.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CATH - Catholic Studies elec
Restriction(s):
  Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior
PreRequisite(s): RELI 220 and CATH 12 credits

Chemistry and Biochemistry

Chairperson: Jennifer Shepherd
Dr. Scholl Distinguished Professor: Eric Ross
Associate Professors: J. Cronk, G. Gidofalvi, S. Warren,
Assistant Professors: W. Bailey, S. Cravens, K. Leamy, M. Matsumoto
Senior Lecturer: G. D’Ambruoso
Lecturers: A. Scruggs, S. Siegel

The Department offers two degrees, two majors and one minor:

Bachelor of Science, Chemistry major (with ACS approved option)
Bachelor of Science, Chemistry major (non-ACS)
Bachelor of Science, Biochemistry major (with ACS approved option)
Bachelor of Science, Biochemistry major (non-ACS)
Bachelor of Arts, Chemistry major
Minor in Chemistry

The Department of Chemistry and Biochemistry offers Bachelor of Science (B.S.) degrees in Chemistry and Biochemistry and a Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) degree in Chemistry. Each B.S. degree has an option of being American Chemical Society (ACS) approved. An ACS approved degree is recommended for students interested in pursuing a graduate degree in chemistry or biochemistry. The non-ACS B.S. Biochemistry option has a larger biology emphasis, and is better suited for students seeking a broad background in both biochemistry and molecular biology. The B.A. degree in Chemistry is offered for students seeking a strong background in chemistry, but with less specialization than the B.S. program. A minor in Chemistry is also offered.

Students are encouraged to visit the Departmental website to learn more about careers in chemistry and biochemistry. For those interested in teaching chemistry at the secondary level, the Department suggests the B.A. degree along with the teacher certification program in the School of Education. For students interested in environmental science, a B.A. degree combined with a minor in Environmental Studies and supporting courses from Biology and Civil Engineering is recommended.

Although Gonzaga University does not currently offer a program in chemical engineering, students interested in chemical engineering are encouraged to combine a B.S. degree in Chemistry with supporting courses from the School of Engineering and Applied Science. This plan of study would position students to further their education with an M.S. or Ph.D. in Chemical Engineering from an additional institution.

B.S. Major in Chemistry (with ACS approved option): 64-65 Credits

CHEM 198   Topics in Chemistry    credit(s): 3
This lecture-only course is designed for non-science majors. Different subfields of chemistry will be explored depending on the instructor. Upon sufficient demand. Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

CHEM 200L Basic Inorganic Chemistry Lab    credit(s): 1
CHEM 200L is designed for students who need two semesters of general or inorganic chemistry lab for specific professional programs. Spring.

PreRequisite(s): CHEM 205 (or concurrent)

CHEM 205   Inorganic Chemistry    credit(s): 3
Introduction to foundational concepts in inorganic chemistry with emphasis on atomic structure, bonding, and reactivity. Topics will include nuclear chemistry, quantum mechanics, periodic trends, covalent bonding, ionic bonding, metallic bonding, coordinate covalent bonding, acid-base chemistry, electrochemistry, and thermodynamics. Three lectures per week. Fall.

PreRequisite(s): CHEM 101, minimum grade: C-

CHEM 230 Organic Chemistry I    credit(s): 4
Essential concepts in bonding and structure, acid-base chemistry, reactivity and synthesis of functional groups, nomenclature, and mechanisms of fundamental organic reactions. Three lectures and one recitation per week. Taken concurrently with CHEM 230L. Spring.

Corequisite(s): CHEM 230L

Restriction(s):
    Must not be in the following Major(s):

PreRequisite(s): CHEM 101, minimum grade: C-

CHEM 230L Organic Chemistry I Lab    credit(s): 1

Corequisite(s): CHEM 230

PreRequisite(s): CHEM 101L, minimum grade: C-

CHEM 231 Organic Chemistry II    credit(s): 3
Continuation of CHEM 230. A significant focus of the course will be on aromatic compounds and carbonyl chemistry. Other topics include organometallic chemistry, radicals, mass spectrometry and synthetic polymers. Three lectures per week. Fall.

Corequisite(s): CHEM 231L

PreRequisite(s): CHEM 230, minimum grade: C-

CHEM 231L Organic Chemistry II Lab    credit(s): 1
Preparation and analysis of representative organic compounds. One laboratory per week. Fall.

Corequisite(s): CHEM 231

PreRequisite(s): CHEM 230L, minimum grade: C-

CHEM 245 Biochemistry    credit(s): 3
Structure and function of the major classes of biomolecules (carbohydrates, lipids, proteins and nucleic acids). Fundamental concepts of protein structure and function, kinetics and enzymology, bioenergetics and thermodynamics, metabolism and regulation, will be discussed. Three lectures per week. Fall and Spring.

Corequisite(s): CHEM 245L

PreRequisite(s): CHEM 231 (or concurrent)
CHEM 245L  Biochemistry Lab  credit(s): 1
Laboratory methods and techniques relevant to biochemistry. One laboratory per week. Fall and Spring.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 245
PreRequisite(s): CHEM 231L (or concurrent)
CHEM 270  Career Development I  credit(s): 1
This course will introduce Chemistry and Biochemistry majors to research and career opportunities related to their major, the use of primary literature, and scientific ethics. One lecture per week. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Writing Enriched
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Biochemistry, Chemistry, Chemistry
CHEM 290  Directed Reading  credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be determined by instructor.
CHEM 295  Science Outreach  credit(s): 0
The Biology and Chemistry departments run a variety of outreach programs that include class visits, field trip tours, special summer programs and more. All of our programs strive to engage participants with opportunities for hands-on scientific discovery and inspiration.
Course repeatable 3 time.
Equivalent(s): BIOL 295
CHEM 304  Practice in Lab Teaching  credit(s): 0 or 1
Introduction to the methods of laboratory teaching. Emphasis on safety, time management, direct student-teacher interaction, and class presentation.
Course repeatable for 4 credit(s).
PreRequisite(s): CHEM 230
CHEM 310  Analytical Chemistry  credit(s): 3
Principles of foundational analytical techniques and methods are presented in three lectures per week. These include gravimetric, volumetric, electrochemical, spectrometric, chromatographic, and mass spectrometry topics as well as basic descriptive statistics. Spring.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 310L
PreRequisite(s): (CHEM 205, minimum grade: C-) and CHEM 230, minimum grade: C-
CHEM 310L  Analytical Chemistry Lab  credit(s): 2
Laboratory experiments including titrations, gravimetric analysis, molecular and atomic spectroscopy, potentiometry, and chromatography. Sample preparation, instrument calibration, data analysis, and reporting are emphasized. Two laboratory periods per week. Spring.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 310
PreRequisite(s): CHEM 230L, minimum grade: C-
CHEM 345L  Advanced Biochemistry Lab  credit(s): 3
In-depth exploration of concepts and techniques used to study biomolecules and biomolecular systems with additional emphasis on scientific writing and communication in biochemistry. Two laboratories per week. Fall and Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Writing Enriched
PreRequisite(s): CHEM 245 and CHEM 245L
CHEM 355  Physical Chemistry  credit(s): 3
Introduction to foundational concepts in physical chemistry with emphasis on quantum mechanics, gases, thermodynamics, and kinetics. Fall.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 355L
PreRequisite(s): CHEM 310, minimum grade: C-, MATH 157 and MATH 258, minimum grade: C-, PHYS 204 (or concurrent) and PHYS 103, minimum grade: C- or PHYS 102 (or concurrent) and PHYS 101, minimum grade: C-

CHEM 355L Physical/Inorganic Chem Lab
Experiments that emphasize synthesis and characterization of inorganic compounds, as well as physical chemistry methods ranging from spectroscopy to thermodynamics and kinetics. One laboratory period per week. Fall.
Corequisite(s): CHEM 355
PreRequisite(s): CHEM 310L, minimum grade: C- and CHEM 205 (or concurrent)

CHEM 370 Career Development II
This course will focus on scientific oral presentations and scientific writing and will prepare the students for their senior project. This course will also include outside speakers from graduate schools and the chemistry and biochemistry industry to further provide educational opportunities about continued study and employment in the field. One lecture per week. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Writing Enriched

Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Biochemistry, Chemistry, Chemistry

CHEM 385L Advanced Chemistry Lab
In-depth laboratory course featuring projects, often interdisciplinary, within the analytical, inorganic, physical, and organic sub-disciplines of chemistry. Literature engagement and scientific writing are emphasized. Two laboratory periods per week. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Writing Enriched
PreRequisite(s): CHEM 355, minimum grade: C- and CHEM 355L, minimum grade: C-

CHEM 390 Directed Research
Topic to be determined by instructor.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

CHEM 395 Research Assistantship
Undergraduate research assistantships are opportunities for student to earn a stipend while performing independent research in the laboratory of a Biology or Chemistry & Biochemistry faculty member.
Course repeatable 5 time.

CHEM 399 Advanced Topics:
CHEM 399 courses will focus on reading the primary literature in a particular content area, and will emphasize in-class discussion, writing, and/or presentations. Topics will vary. Two lectures per week. Fall and Spring. Prerequisites vary depending on topic.
Course repeatable 3 time.

CHEM 405 Special Topics in Chemistry
Special topics in chemistry. Two lectures per week. Fall and Spring. Prerequisites vary depending on topic.
Course may be repeated to count for up to 6 credits of the B.S. Chemistry and Biochemistry major electives requirements

CHEM 407 Special Topics in Biochemistry
Special topics in biochemistry. Two lectures per week. Fall and Spring. Pre-requisites vary depending on topic.
Course may be repeated to count for up to 6 credits of the B.S. Chemistry and Biochemistry major electives requirements

The department offers one major and one minor:

Bachelor of Arts, Classical Civilizations major (with a required concentration in either Latin Language & Authors or Greco-Roman Civilization)
Minor in Classical Civilizations

The Department of Classical Civilizations – one of the oldest at our University – provides undergraduates with access to over 2,500 years of human experience drawn from the multicultural world of the ancient Mediterranean and Near East. Classical Civilizations is an interdisciplinary program devoted to the study of that world, with an emphasis on the cultures of Ancient Greece and Rome. These cultures, through their theatre, philosophy, science, and government, helped shape the modern world for good and ill; studying them brings new insight into our own era and lives.

The department offers both a B.A. major (36 credits) and a B.A. minor (23 credits) degrees in Classical Civilizations. All majors and minors are required to complete two (2) Upper Division CLAS courses as part of the degree, as well as a minimum of at least three (3) language courses in either Latin or Greek up to and including the completion of a 201 level class. Students who elect to pursue a major degree in this program must choose a focus in either Latin or Greco-Roman Civilization and complete four (4) elective courses among those listed in the current catalog as well as a senior thesis (CLAS 499; offered in the Fall semester) appropriate to the chosen concentration. Minors are required to select three (3) upper level electives from among those listed in this catalog. The electives encompass a range of disciplines, including history, archaeology, philosophy, religious studies, as well as intermediate and advanced Latin and Greek. Majors are required to include at least one (1) course in Greek culture and one (1) course in Roman culture from among the elective offerings. Participating students thus complete a balanced curriculum divided between the study of ancient languages (Latin, Greek) and their contemporary societies. Through this combined focus, students gain a more broad comprehension and appreciation of the rich cultural and humanistic heritage stemming from the classical world. The ancients themselves embraced this model of liberal arts education; according to the Roman orator Cicero, such cultural and historical study “illumines reality, vitalizes memory, provides guidance in daily life and brings us tidings of antiquity.”

The program's courses are by nature interdisciplinary, with application to the sciences, art, theater, literature, philosophy, religion, politics, and government. Moreover, through addressing relevant issues of gender, identity, sex, ethnicity, and interaction between cultures, the curriculum reaches well beyond the borders of Greece and Rome to embrace other civilizations, including our own. By immersing students in an examination of the languages and ethnically diverse societies of antiquity, the program prepares them for careers within a world that is increasingly diverse, interdependent, and global in outlook, in such fields as politics, ethics, business, law, sciences and education. The department meets the needs of three classes of students: (1) those who wish to pursue a major or minor in Classical Civilizations; (2) those who wish to begin or continue the study of Latin or Greek in support of other majors or in preparation for advanced work in other areas; and (3) those who wish to fulfill the College of Arts & Sciences language competency requirement by taking one of the classical languages.

Classics

CLAS 110 Introduction to the Ancient World credit(s): 3
An introductory survey to the origins of Western civilization in the Mediterranean world, with particular focus on the Classical cultures of Greece and Rome. The course will focus upon an exploration of these ancient societies, their origins and structure, their social and political constructs, and their neighbors and worldviews. Particular emphasis will be placed upon examining the enduring legacies produced by these ancient peoples and their continuing influence upon the concepts and ideals valued by our contemporary Western culture.

CLAS 193 First Year Seminar credit(s): 3
The First-Year Seminar (FYS) introduces new Gonzaga students to the University, the Core Curriculum, and Gonzaga’s Jesuit mission and heritage. While the seminars will be taught by faculty with expertise in particular disciplines, topics will be addressed in a way that illustrates approaches and methods of different academic disciplines. The seminar format of the course highlights the participatory character of university life, emphasizing that learning is an active, collegial process.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: First Year Seminar
Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Freshman

CLAS 220 Introduction to Classical Literature credit(s): 3
This course is a survey of the literature of the ancient Greeks and Romans. It introduces students to the important authors of Classical Antiquity, the critical issues surrounding their work, and their lasting influence. It stresses the role that ancient authors had in shaping our understanding of literature: its genres, methods, and subject matter. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Literature

CLAS 310 Greek Gods and Heroes credit(s): 3
A study of Greek Mythology that uses texts (in translation), architecture and archaeology to explore the most important characters and stories of Greek mythology that have become part of the art, literature and imagination of western civilization. This course gives students insight into approaches toward the understanding of myth, especially classical myth that are helpful for their own studies and interests. Fall.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CLAS - Elective course, CLAS - Greek course, RELI - Scripture, RELI - W
Equivalent(s): RELI 403
CLAS 320 The Iliad and the Odyssey credit(s): 3
This course explores (in translation) Homer's Iliad and Odyssey, two poems that are among the foundations of the literature of western civilization. Students will demonstrate an ability to read and analyze these two great epics of ancient Greece in a way that appreciates and unlocks their timeless beauty, depth and significance especially in a way that is helpful for their own studies and interests. Spring, alternate years.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CLAS - Elective course, CLAS - Greek course
CLAS 330 Women in Antiquity credit(s): 3
An examination of the representation of women Greece and Rome through image and text, using a variety of literary, art historical, and archaeological sources. This course is intended both to illuminate the lives of women in Classical Antiquity and to demonstrate how this illumination is important for a full understanding of the societies of Greece (in particular, Athens) and Rome. Students also gain valuable experience in thinking critically about sources, both ancient and modern. Fall, alternate years.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CLAS - Elective course, CLAS - Greek course, CLAS - Rome course
CLAS 340 Roman Epic credit(s): 3
This course explores (in translation) two of Rome's great contributions to world literature: Vergil's Aeneid and Lucan's Civil War. These works are at the core of the western tradition. They have been read and reinterpreted for millennia and continue to find resonance today. Students learn to read and analyze these poems closely, to appreciate them, and to unlock their timeless beauty, depth and significance. Special attention is paid to applying the themes of these works to students' own lives and studies. Fall, alternate years.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CLAS - Elective course, CLAS - Rome course
CLAS 350 Love Poetry in Antiquity credit(s): 3
Is love a modern invention? This course looks at the phenomenon of love as it appears in the poetry of the ancient Greeks and Romans. Works read (in translation) will include those of Sappho, Callimachus, Catullus Ovid and others. Students will investigate ancient attitudes towards love, sex, and gender roles while developing an appreciation for the differences between time periods, authors, style, and genre. Students will also explore the long-lasting influence of this poetry and find ways to apply it to their own studies and interests.
CLAS 360 Ancient Northern Eastern Archaeology credit(s): 3

The department offers one major and one minor:

Bachelor of Arts, Communication Studies major
Minor in Communication Studies

The mission of the Communication Studies Department at Gonzaga University is to cultivate a sophisticated understanding of the process of communication as symbolic action. The department provides a theoretically-grounded and experiential education that prepares students to analyze, produce, deliver, and critique human communication in its many forms. The department prepares students with rhetorical skills (eloquentia perfecta in the Jesuit rhetorical tradition), a refined sense of judgment and discernment, and the ability to carefully adapt communication practices to any given context and audience.

The power of communication is inescapable; it affects us everywhere and is central to all aspects of our daily, social interactions. The Communication Studies department teaches students to embrace communication as the central means of creating, maintaining, and transforming social realities. Communication Studies equips students to carefully analyze the way people co-create social realities and cultures through communication and to discern how these social realities affect our communities, for better or worse.

Majors and minors gain experience analyzing and proposing solutions to complex problems confronting the human condition because a deep understanding of communication creates limitless possibilities to improve the world. We interrogate the consequences of our communication processes and discover and produce knowledge about communication practices. We teach students to leverage the power of communication to create more just and equitable social worlds.

The department is committed to nurturing a diverse, inclusive community of scholars who think critically and engage responsibly with the problems and issues of our communities through exemplary, ethical communication via multiple modes of address. We build on an ethos of social justice to prepare graduates to address contemporary issues and challenges as leaders in the community, the public arena, and the world. Research shows that the most successful people in any profession are exceptional communicators. Communication Studies classes help students develop the skills employers demand such as the ability to work effectively in team settings, analyze information necessary to make decisions and solve complex problems, communicate with people inside and outside an organization, and influence others. We prepare students for a broad range of careers spanning advertising, marketing, public relations, government, non-profit organizations, and other leadership positions. Our graduates also pursue advanced graduate studies in media research, law, business, education, medicine, cultural studies, and other humanities and social sciences. Communication Studies is also home to the University's nationally renowned intercollegiate debate program, which has its own facility, Conway House.

In short, Communication Studies provides students with a critical understanding of the reasons why people think, feel, and act in particular ways; the leadership know-how necessary to make a difference in the world; and the skills that employers seek.

Master of Arts in Communication and Leadership Studies (COML) and Master of Arts in Organizational Leadership (ORGL) 4+1 Program:

Majors interested in pursuing a Master of Arts in Communication and Leadership Studies (COML) or a Master of Arts in Organizational Leadership (ORGL) may apply to the graduate program at the end of the academic year immediately preceding their final year of undergraduate study. Those who meet the COML or ORGL admissions standards will be granted provisional acceptance. During their final year of undergraduate study, these students will be able to enroll in up to six graduate-level COML or ORGL credits in addition to their undergraduate course load, with no additional or separate charge for graduate credits. "4+ 1" students will be limited to a maximum of 18 credits per semester, including graduate credits, in each of the two semesters of their final year of undergraduate study.

COMM 485 Communication Abroad (transfer credit for select study abroad experiences)

Notes for minors:
- Elective list for minors will not include: Independent Study, Internship, Capstone.
- Minors may take COMM 490: Crafting Professional Identity, but it is not required for the minor degree requirements.
Courses:

COMM 100  Communication and Speech  credit(s): 3
Communicating thoughtfully and ethically for, with, and among others is vital to becoming the leaders Gonzaga hopes students will become. This course introduces students to the theory and practice of rhetoric—how we use symbols to create meaning and understanding between people—with the goal of helping students continue to grow into responsible and thoughtful communicators. Students will learn how communication (including oral, visual, and aural symbol use across personal interactions, media, our bodies, physical spaces, and other material phenomena) shapes our identities, ideas, policies, society, and all aspects of our lived experiences. The course develops skills and ways of thinking about communication needed to analyze, construct, and deliver messages that enrich civic and cultural life. Three central concepts—rhetoric & symbolic action, civic engagement, and audience—provide a common thread throughout the class as we explore the Core Curriculum Year 1 question: “How do we pursue knowledge and cultivate understanding?” The course supports the University mission through alignment with eloquentia perfecta, a Jesuit tradition that references excellence in speaking and writing for the common good to create a more just world.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Communication and Speech

COMM 193  First Year Seminar  credit(s): 3
The First-Year Seminar (FYS) introduces new Gonzaga students to the University, the Core Curriculum, and Gonzaga’s Jesuit mission and heritage. While the seminars will be taught by faculty with expertise in particular disciplines, topics will be addressed in a way that illustrates approaches and methods of different academic disciplines. The seminar format of the course highlights the participatory character of university life, emphasizing that learning is an active, collegial process.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: First Year Seminar
Restriction(s):
  Must be the following Class(es): Freshman

COMM 210  Understanding Meaning-making  credit(s): 3
We make sense of our world and the people in it through the symbols we use to communicate about our experiences. The symbols we use (e.g. language, pictures, film, music, architecture, bodies) matter because they have real effects on us, on others, and on our perceptions and understanding of the world. This course explores the theories and ways of thinking that help us understand how symbols create, maintain, and transform our social worlds. Fall and Spring.

COMM 220  Understanding Power in Culture  credit(s): 3
Power is everywhere and influences our relationships with others and our ability to get things done in our societies. Communication and symbolic action is a primary way that people struggle over and effect their power relationships. Power clearly reveals itself in cultural ideologies or values and beliefs that influence our social actions, and these ideologies are embedded in our daily communication practices. This course introduces a cultural studies perspective that helps students build a lexicon and critical capacity for engaging with power, ideology, and cultural influence. Fall and Spring.

COMM 230  Understanding Identity  credit(s): 3
Our intersecting identities emerge from an array of communicative, performative, and cultural practices and they are tied up in everyday communication contexts such as interpersonal interactions, media platforms, and social movements. Through communication we align ourselves with common interests and communities, and this course will provide a theoretical foundation for understanding audiences, our performances of self, and our negotiation of the two. The course also invites students to explore how our identities are shaped and interpreted in ways outside our control. Fall and Spring.

COMM 270H Honors Rhetoric
credit(s): 3
The principles and psychology of persuasive argument and interpersonal skills. Through theory and practice students will develop and refine their communication skills while developing an individual style. Spring.
PreRequisite(s): HONS 190

COMM 275 Analyzing Public Texts
credit(s): 3
This course introduces students to the practice of studying, analyzing, and interpreting public texts, and the work they do in constituting public culture. Students engage with methods to make critical judgements about how rhetorical/communicative texts influence public life. Students will address public texts including written, visual/aural, and embodied forms of communication such as movies and song lyrics, sports broadcasts, maps, museum spaces, political speeches, religious texts, historical writings, comedic performances, YouTube channels, and much more. Students will also engage in ethical communicative practices that produce knowledge about human communication and relationships. Fall and Spring.
PreRequisite(s): COMM 100 or COMM 270H

COMM 285 Analyzing Practices and Habits
credit(s): 3
This course provides a foundation in attending to, analyzing, and reporting meaningful information about the social world through humanistic communication research methods. The course introduces ethnographic and qualitative research methods, ethics, selection of research topics and questions, ethnographic data collection methods (e.g. participant observation; un-, semi- and structured interviewing; structured observation), managing and coding field notes, and qualitative analysis. In this course, students will create field notes, analyses, and more. Fall and Spring.
Equivalent(s): SOSJ 263
PreRequisite(s): COMM 100

COMM 310 Politics of Popular Culture
credit(s): 3
Pulling from the fields of media and cultural studies, this course explores the ways we use and are used by popular culture. This class seriously considers how popular culture influences the ways we think, feel, act, and participate in civic life. Building upon students’ expertise as cultural consumers, we explore popular culture through aesthetic, ideological, social, and industrial lenses. Through our consideration of a wide range of popular culture—including film, television, games, print and social media, advertising, and others—we explore questions of aesthetic quality and cultural value in relation to media texts, audiences, and our experiences of culture. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): BU - Marketing conc Req
PreRequisite(s): (COMM 210, minimum grade: C or COMM 220, minimum grade: C) and COMM 275, minimum grade: C

COMM 320 Resistance, Struggle, and Power
credit(s): 3
Communication is the central means for contesting and reconfiguring structural forms of power relations among social groups, and this class focuses on power dynamics and imbalances across social institutions such as law, education, medicine, economics, media, and religion. Students engage the concepts of hegemony (the production of consent for dominant power relationships) and counter-hegemony (the struggle against dominant social arrangements). As such, the course invites students to consider the interplay of communication, culture, and social institutions in maintaining, resisting, and transforming the persistent inequalities of power and disproportionate distribution of cultural and political capital. Fall.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): INST - Interactions
Equivalent(s): INST 320
Restriction(s):

Must not be the following Class(es): Freshman

PreRequisite(s):
COMM 210, minimum grade: C and COMM 220( and COMM 275, minimum grade: C or COMM 285, minimum grade: C)

COMM 330 Politics of Space and Place credit(s): 3

Everyday encounters with physical surroundings guide our orientations to the world. As we wander city streets, shopping malls, stadiums, nature preserves, sacred sites, restaurants, monuments, museums, and classrooms, we examine how we move in, and are moved by the material arenas we share. Spatial organization and built environments inform our habits of perception, determine the meaning of a particular place, accent what is worth attention and what might be overlooked, and reaffirm dominant norms and power relationships in public culture. Charts, maps, apps, and other navigational tools dictate where and how we move, and how we understand our roles within a given space. Featuring the experiential dimensions of rhetoric and communication, this course presses us to consider how material spaces and places construct everyday geographies. Spring.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): INST - Interactions

Equivalent(s):

INST 332

PreRequisite(s):
COMM 210 and COMM 220( and COMM 275 or COMM 285)

COMM 331 Argumentation and Debate credit(s): 3

Examination of the fundamentals of advocacy including argumentation theory, techniques of persuasion, refutation, and cross-examination. This course is open to both debate team members and anyone interested in improving their argumentation skills. Spring.

Equivalent(s):

SOSJ 363

PreRequisite(s):
COMM 210

COMM 340 Encounters in Public Spheres credit(s): 3

Everyday communication practices, conventional public deliberations, and emergent media technologies shape our public life and affect human and non-human entanglements. This class explores contemporary theoretical conversations about publics and public spheres: what they look like, how they are shaped, how they arrange political bodies, and how we navigate their boundaries and borders of inclusion and exclusion. Students analyze how different modes of communication promote solidarities around common concerns and arrange difference, as well as how we form counter-publics and spaces of resistance and transformation. Topics may include propaganda and censorship, surveillance and privacy, journalism and mass media, spheres of expertise (i.e., science and medicine), roles of rumor, and notions of cultural "buzz." Fall.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): BU - Marketing conc Req

COMM 342 Debate Participation credit(s): 1

Participation on University debate teams. Course repeatable 8 time.

COMM 350 Politics of Social Memory credit(s): 3

The ways we remember our collective past influence our present and shape our futures. This course examines how we rhetorically construct and struggle over social memory through public remembrances of historical events via war memorials, film and documentary, commemorative celebrations, reenactments, monuments, and museum exhibits. Students extend rhetorical and visual theoretical concepts and methods to evaluate sites of public memory and the social and cultural politics shaping the construction of memory. Fall.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): INST - Interactions

Equivalent(s):

INST 351

PreRequisite(s):
COMM 210, minimum grade: C and COMM 220, minimum grade: C( and COMM 275, minimum grade: C or COMM 285, minimum grade: C)
COMM 360  Media Aesthetics  credit(s): 3
Images and sounds saturate our daily lives and while we often pay attention to content, we may neglect the visual and aural dimensions of these media. As citizens and consumers, we need to develop critical visual and aural interpretive frameworks to make sense of media. This course invites students to sharpen their analytical tools to attend to the sights and sounds that animate everyday life. This course examines media aesthetics through mise-en-scene, camera and point of view, editing techniques, visual style, and sound. From still to moving images, from print to online, students will conduct detailed aesthetic analyses of movies, television, radio, advertisements, podcasts, art, photography, websites, gifs, memes, and other forms of digital media. Additional topics may include industry, genre, power, visual culture theory, and identity. Fall.
PreRequisite(s): COMM 210, minimum grade: C and COMM 230, minimum grade: C and COMM 275, minimum grade: C

COMM 370  Digital Culture and the Networked Self  credit(s): 3
Online communication has both collapsed our communication contexts and expanded our potential identities and relationships. This course applies a cultural lens to understand our digital lives and the various media technologies we interact with on a daily basis. We will examine a range of contemporary theories and issues surrounding digital media including how cultural values are embedded in digital technologies and how we manage identities across multiple digital contexts. We will explore ways to successfully and critically navigate an array of personal, professional, and civic responsibilities in a globally networked world. Spring.
PreRequisite(s): COMM 230, minimum grade: C and COMM 285, minimum grade: C

COMM 401  Communication and Leadership  credit(s): 3
A critical examination of the reciprocity between effective communication and successful leadership. Includes an historical examination of leadership styles, theories, and research. Includes an analysis of motivation, power, and organizational culture. Writing and speaking assignments are designed to cultivate leadership skills. Fall.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): BU - Marketing conc Req, SOSJ - Block D
Equivalent(s): SOSJ 464
Restriction(s):
- Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior
PreRequisite(s): COMM 210 and COMM 230

COMM 420  Critical and Cultural Communication  credit(s): 3
This course invites students to integrate their communication studies knowledge with a broad, interdisciplinary conversation on critical theory, and to understand how communication scholars engage with other disciplines and thinkers in struggles for social justice, social change, and solidarity. The course will address a range of critical theories that have influenced and been influenced by the study of communication such as Marxism, the Frankfurt School, postcolonial theory, feminist theory, critical race theory, and queer theory. Students explore how critical theory is linked to and emerges from socio-political struggle in different historical moments. In addition, the course invites students to apply critical theory to contemporary social debates and challenges to better understand questions of power, civic participation, identity, and social organization. Spring.
Restriction(s):
- Must not be the following Class(es): Freshman, Sophomore
PreRequisite(s): COMM 310, minimum grade: C or COMM 320, minimum grade: C
COMM 430  Intersectional Communication  credit(s): 3
The study of communication and culture in a global world cannot and must not be apolitical, ahistorical, or blind to the messy entanglements of power and privilege. Therefore, this course will focus on the intersections between critical race theory, feminist theory, and critical intercultural communication in order to interrogate and examine the ways in which our social identities and locations affect the contexts of our lives including our opportunities, relationships, and overall understanding of the world. Specifically, this course will engage the work of Black Feminist scholars and ongoing scholarly conversations on intersectionality to analyze intercultural encounters and engagement. Fall.
Equivalent(s): INST 430, Equivalent(s): SOSJ 466

COMM 432  Core Integration Seminar  credit(s): 3
The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) engages the Year Four Question: “Imagining the possible: What is our role in the world?” by offering students a culminating seminar experience in which students integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the Core, and their disciplinary expertise. Each section of the course will focus on a problem or issue raised by the contemporary world that encourages integration, collaboration, and problem solving. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students’ future role in the world.
4 time.

COMM 440  Rhetoric of Social Change  credit(s): 3
Public expression and discourse can affirm, complicate, challenge, and even radically revolutionize our shared values and ideals over time. Arguments and symbolic actions in communal spaces prompt individuals and groups to rethink, redevelop, and reestablish potential modes of identity, participation, and interaction within a society. Students in this course will closely examine specific social movements (including, potentially, civil rights, gender rights, indigenous rights, and environmental movements) to better understand the plurality of voices and modes of public expression in dialogue and competition that contribute to, resist, and ultimately shape societal change. Students will then build upon historical knowledge and perspective to engage in an immersive study of an ongoing contemporary social controversy, ultimately creating an informed rhetorical intervention of their own, participating in the social issues and changes of the current day. Fall.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): INST - Interactions
Equivalent(s): INST 440
Restriction(s):
Must not be the following Class(es): Freshman, Sophomore
PreRequisite(s): COMM 320, minimum grade: C or COMM 340, minimum grade: C or COMM 350, minimum grade: C

COMM 450  Justice and Arts of Civic Life  credit(s): 3
Ethical communication and intentional civic engagement fosters vibrant democratic life. As civic actors, we deliberate and contest policies, advocate for justice, and attempt to foster cooperation among a multiplicity of voices. This course synthesizes theories of ethics that students grapple with to examine relationships between rhetoric, democracy, and justice. Specifically, we will address questions of how we should practice rhetoric in ways that refine our capacities for ethical discernment, build inclusive communities, promote social justice, and ultimately enrich democratic life. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): BU - Marketing conc Req, SOSJ - Block D
Equivalent(s): SOSJ 465
Restriction(s):

PreRequisite(s): COMM 340, minimum grade: C
COMM 480 Themes in Communication credit(s): 3
Special topics courses are one time course offerings that include courses that address a current or timely topic or a special interest which will not be made a regular on-going part of the curriculum. Occasionally, a special topics course may be used to offer an experimental or "pilot" phase course before it is subsequently proposed as a regular course. Special topics course offerings vary from term to term. See current semester course listings for topics.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior
PreRequisite(s): (COMM 210 or COMM 220)( and COMM 275 or COMM 285)
COMM 484 Senior Seminar credit(s): 3
In this capstone course for the Communication Studies major, students demonstrate their proficiency in oral, written, and visual communication by adapting their senior thesis to multiple communication platforms. The seminar is also designed to help students reflect on their education and develop a personal philosophy of communication. Fall and Spring.
Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Senior
COMM 485 Communication Abroad credit(s): 3
This course provides transfer credit for students who have arranged an intensive experience studying abroad and will be taking a humanities-based communication course that explores themes of rhetoric, media, and cultural studies that deepens their understanding of the foundation they've received at Gonzaga. Prior permission from the Department Chair is required.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
COMM 490 Crafting Professional Identity credit(s): 1
In this course, students connect their communication studies knowledge and skills with their civic and professional goals during and after college. Students compose narratives highlighting their proficient use of communication skills within their personal organizational experiences, at school, at work, and within their communities. Building this portfolio of materials helps students translate and articulate their skills and ambitions into new organizational contexts post-graduation. A series of professional speakers, including alumni, will model communication in developing a career path. Students apply a social justice perspective to professional life and consider how to integrate a Catholic, Jesuit, humanistic educational experience in a professional context. Fall and Spring.
Restriction(s):
Must not be the following Class(es): Freshman, Sophomore
PreRequisite(s): COMM 27 credits
COMM 491 Directed Study credit(s): 0-10
Directed Study requires completion of a form, department permission and cannot be registered for via Zagweb.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).4 time.
PreRequisite(s): SPCO 101 or SPCO 102 and COMM 101
COMM 497   Internship          credit(s): 0-6 Professional experience in a communication related field. Students must take the initiative to contact an agency or business and find a Communication Studies department faculty member willing to supervise the internship. Fall, Spring, and Summer.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

Computer Science and Computational Thinking

Chairperson: Shawn Bowers
Program Director: Robert Bryant
Professors: S. Bowers, R. Bryant, P. De Palma, K. Yerion (Emerita)
Associate Professors: D. Hughes (Emeritus), Y. Zhang
Assistant Professors: A. Crandall, D. Olivares, G. Sprint
Lecturer: B. Worobec

The department offers two degrees, two majors, and a minor.

Bachelor of Arts, Computer Science and Computational Thinking major (concentration required, see options below)

The Department of Computer Science offers a B.S. in Computer Science, a B.A. in Computer Science and Computational Thinking, and a Minor in Computer Science. See the Undergraduate Catalog entry (School of Engineering and Applied Science) under "Computer Science" for a full description of the B.S program.

Bachelor of Science, Computer Science major

Computer Science Minor

Computational thinking and processes permeate our daily lives, transforming our understanding of both the natural world and of ourselves. Career opportunities in computing are substantial and include some of the fastest growing occupations nationally including software engineering, system support specialist, web development, technical support staff, software product management, and database administration. In addition, knowledge of computer science has become highly valued in such diverse fields as psychology, biology, sociology, and even philosophy. A degree in Computer Science provides both marketable skills and the intellectual breadth that can be applied to any career choice. Upon graduation, students with a B.A. can present themselves as entry-level software developers, and their degree will provide sufficient background for further training later in their careers.

The Bachelor of Arts in Computer Science and Computational Thinking serves those students with an interest in computing who would like to obtain the breadth of study in the humanities and social and natural sciences provided by the College of Arts and Sciences. An English major, for instance, will be able to explore her/his interest of literature while at the same time acquiring a directly marketable skill, or a sociology major can combine her depth of knowledge in the social sciences with practical skills in computational thinking. The potential to combine a practical skill with significant study in the humanities, social sciences, or natural sciences makes the B.A. in Computer Science and Computational Thinking an attractive option for students in Arts and Sciences.

The curriculum provides all majors with a foundation in computing through 25 credits in mathematics and computer science courses. Students select a Discipline for Computational Thinking (DCT), or concentration, consisting of at least 12 credits in a field in the College of Arts and Sciences. In consultation with their advisor, students also choose an additional 18 credits in computer science courses, which can include computer science courses relevant to the student’s selected concentration. Students are encouraged to complete the courses in their choice of DCT as well as the computer science courses specific to that DCT before their senior year.

Criminology

Chairperson: William Hayes
Professors: A. Bertotti Metoyer
Associate Professors: M. Bahr, V. Gumbhir, W. Hayes
Assistant Professors: A. Bruns, M. Deland, J. Gow, J. Johnston, S. Lee, N. Morlock, F. Rogers
Professors Emeriti: J. Rinehart, E. Vacha, G. Weatherby

The department offers one major and one minor:

Bachelor of Arts, Criminology major
Minor in Criminology

The Criminology program introduces students to sociological perspectives on the causes, consequences, and control of criminal behavior. Course work focuses on the development and organization of criminal justice institutions, especially the police, courts, and corrections. Students examine pressing social issues, such as racial profiling, mass incarceration, and prisoner re-entry.

The program fosters a commitment to social justice and the common good as students develop a sociological imagination and learn to critically consume information, theorize social contexts, create new knowledge, and communicate with and for others. In addition to providing opportunities for academic research and analysis, students gain the knowledge base and skills for pursuing careers in criminal justice institutions and related policy and non-profit fields.

Students have the opportunity to graduate with honors in the major if they have fulfilled all requirements, achieved a grade point average of at least 3.70 in their criminology courses, and written and defended a senior honors thesis (CRIM 494).

Critical Race and Ethnic Studies

Chairperson: Bernadette Calafell
Professors: B. Calafell
Assistant Professors: E. Dame-Griff

The program offers one minor:

Minor in Critical Race and Ethnic Studies

The Critical Race and Ethnic Studies program (CRES) is an interdisciplinary academic home for the study of race and ethnicity. In this program students learn about the complex interplay of race and ethnicity vis-a-vis gender, class, sexuality, and other social dimensions that shape the diverse experiences of humans over time. Students achieve this understanding by studying (1) the development of unique cultures among marginalized racial and ethnic groups and (2) the power relations which produce marginalization and injustice on the basis of race and ethnicity, among other intersecting categories of difference. As a reflection of the fifty-year intellectual tradition of ethnic studies, Gonzaga's CRES program is both student-driven and student centered. Thus, it remains in dialogue with student movements for social and racial justice in the U.S. and transnationally. This reciprocal relationship provides students with the historical and academic grounding necessary to work toward justice, but also serves to re-invigorate the program with new knowledge that emerges from social justice movements.

The minor is open to all Gonzaga undergraduate students, and students considering a minor in Critical Race and Ethnic Studies are encouraged to enroll in the required introductory course, CRES 101.

Courses fulfilling elective requirements will be approved by the Department Chair.

Critical Race and Ethnic Studies Minor: 21 credits

Lower Division

CRES 101 Introduction to Race and Ethnic Studies 3 credits
CRES 100 or 200 Level Electives 0-6 credits
Upper Division
CRES 300 or 400 Level Electives  9-15 credits
CRES 499 Symposium  3 credits

Courses:
CRES 101  Introduction to Race and Ethnic Studies  credit(s): 3
This course will introduce students to key theories and debates within the field of race and ethnic studies. Students will analyze definitions of race and ethnicity, both inside and outside of the United States; cultural practices of resistance; various theories central to race and ethnic studies; the intersection of race with other forms of difference such as gender, class, and sexuality; and the connections between social justice and community engagement in ethnic studies. Students will read a variety of academic and cultural texts which illustrate the interdisciplinary scope in Critical Race and Ethnic Studies. Students will explore the course topics and issues through readings, discussions, lectures, films, short stories, and music.

CRES 193  First Year Seminar  credit(s): 3
The First-Year Seminar (FYS) introduces new Gonzaga students to the University, the Core Curriculum, and Gonzaga’s Jesuit mission and heritage. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students’ future role in the world. The capstone course in the critical race and ethnic studies program provides an opportunity for a special kind of faculty and student conversation. Responsibility for organizing and structuring this course will rotate among CRES faculty. Topics will vary. Regardless of the text or topics, the goal will be to create a conversation in which students assume significant responsibilities. All students are expected to complete a major research project using the concepts and perspectives of CRES scholarship, and to present their work to the class and faculty evaluators. Spring.

Economics

Director: Kevin Henrickson
Erwin Graue Chair in Economics: K. Henrickson
Professors: C. Barnes, J. Beck, R. Bennett, K. Henrickson, E. Johnson
Associate Professors: R. Herzog, A. Voy
Assistant Professor: M. Tackett

The department offers two degrees and one minor:

Bachelor of Science, Economics major Bachelor of Arts, Economics major
Minor in Economics

The mission of the Economics program is to give students a broad background and knowledge of domestic and international economic systems that are essential for people in today’s competitive global economy. To this end, two Economics majors are offered. The B.S. Major in Economics includes extensive coursework in mathematics as well as economics in preparation for graduate study in economics and careers requiring strong quantitative skills. The B.A. Major in Economics is offered for students who want an extensive background in economics in preparation for careers in business or government as well as for those pursuing advanced study in law or business. A minor in Economics is also offered for students with other majors who need less extensive knowledge of economics. Regardless of the chosen degree, graduates can apply economic theory to problems relating to market structures, resource markets, employment, and fiscal and monetary policies. Students expecting to go into a business field are encouraged to take courses in accounting and may want to consider the general business minor or the minor in analytical finance offered by the School of Business Administration.

While Economics courses are taught by faculty of the School of Business Administration, students pursuing the B.A. and B.S. majors are enrolled in the College of Arts and Sciences and must the College of Arts and Sciences common curriculum. ECON 200 may be taken by students who are not Business or Economics majors to satisfy the Social & Behavioral Science requirement of the University Core. Most 300-level courses require only ECON 201 as a prerequisite. Students considering an Economics major or minor should note that ECON 302 has a prerequisite of ECON 202 with a grade of B- or better, and ECON 301 has a prerequisite of ECON 201 with a grade of B- or better. All majors should try to take the comprehensive examination (ECON 499) in the semester before they plan on graduating. Economics majors should complete both ECON 301 and ECON 302 before or concurrent with taking ECON 499.

English Language Center

Chairperson: Christina Isabelli
Senior Lecturers: J. Akins, H. Doolittle, J. Sevedge

Since 1978, the University’s English Language Center (ELC) has addressed the needs of multilingual students whose primary native language is not English. Gonzaga’s ELC has served nearly 10,000 international students, introducing them to academic language and culture, higher education in the United States, while providing opportunities for intercultural exchanges with students from the U.S. and more than 70 other nations. The English Language Center encompasses the English as a Second Language Program, the Global Bridge Program, Specialized Programs, Academic Support and testing, and an affiliation with the MA-TESL Program.

Intensive English as a Second Language (ESL) Program: The ELC offers year-round intensive classes in 10 levels of instruction in English as a Second Language (ESL). These courses are designed to meet the needs of international students seeking undergraduate and graduate admission to Gonzaga, as well as to assist international professionals in improving their English language ability. Instructional policies and program guidelines of the Gonzaga University ESL Program are in accordance with the Commission on English Language Program Accreditation (CEA), the national professional organization in this field.

Global Bridge Program: The Global Bridge program helps international and/or multilingual students with the linguistic and cultural adjustment to higher education in the U.S. through academic English and culture courses. Global Bridge courses are English for Academic Purposes (EAP) courses linked to specific Core classes. Global Bridge courses are open to all international and/or multilingual students and scholars.

Global Bridge undergraduate courses are for highly-qualified students who meet full admission requirements but need or desire additional support to ensure their success at GU. These students generally have a CEFR B2+ to C1 proficiency level. All Global Bridge courses carry elective credits that apply toward the total 128 semester credits required to graduate.

For students who are ready to pursue undergraduate studies, but do not currently meet Gonzaga’s English proficiency requirements, admission to the Global Bridge Program offers integrated academic language and culture courses that support and enrich a student’s undergraduate studies. Students apply for admission to Gonzaga through the Global Bridge Program. The program enables students to improve English proficiency while earning 12 credits toward their degree at a discounted tuition rate.

The Global Bridge Program consists of two levels. Global Bridge 1 is a bridge semester for students who have high academic credentials but their TOEFL score falls between 72-79. Students apply for admission to Gonzaga through the Global Bridge Program. Once admitted, students in Global Bridge 1 need a 2.7 overall GPA with no grade lower than a B- to advance to Global Bridge 2 and full undergraduate admission. For students in Global Bridge 2, an overall 2.7 GPA in ELCT courses with no grade below a B- is required. Gonzaga’s general Good Academic Standing policies apply at all levels.

Global Bridge Program Required Courses

Global Bridge Level 1
- ELCT 108 Language Awareness 2 credits
- ELCT 109 Academic Seminar 5 credits
- ELCT 110 Communication Seminar* 2 credits
- COMM 100 Communication & Speech* 3 credits

Global Bridge Level 2
- ELCT 120 Global Bridge 2* 3 credits
- PHIL 101 Reasoning* 3 credits
- ELCT 121 Foundations of Scholarly Writing for Multilingual Students 3 credits

*Indicates linked courses in which a cohort of Global Bridge students are co-enrolled in an ELCT Global Bridge course and its corresponding Core class.

Through connections to MLC sections of Core classes, Global Bridge encourages the global engagement and intercultural competence of both domestic and international students. International students will be placed into the appropriate courses and simultaneously enroll in the appropriate Multilingual (MLC) section of the freshman Core course(s) and linked ELCT (English Language Center) course(s). MLC sections of COMM 100 or PHIL 101 are open to all Gonzaga students. International students who are not required to take Global Bridge courses would indicate their interest through Gonzaga’s Freshmen Survey or by working with their Academic Advisor.
Specialized Programs: In addition to the academic ESL Program, the ELC offers short-term Specialized Programs for contracted groups of students, faculty and international visitors, including English as a Medium of Instruction, ESL Teacher Training, and Intensive English Language Programs.

Academic Support and Testing: The ELC conducts English Placement testing to determine which ELCT courses incoming international students may be required or qualify to take. We also provide testing and services for all multilingual students or departments at Gonzaga who require or desire focused academic English language and culture instruction or support.

ELC and MA-TESL Program Affiliation: The ELC is affiliated with the following programs in the School of Education: Master of Arts degree in Teaching English as a Second Language (MA-TESL); Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages (TESOL) Certificate; and ELL endorsement. This important affiliation between programs includes shared faculty, curricular and programmatic integration, and opportunities for diverse student groups to collaborate in creative ways.

For more information about the English Language Center, visit www.gonzaga.edu/elc, or call 313-6562.

ELC Intensive English Courses Levels 1-5

Incoming ESL students are required to take the ELC Placement test in order to enroll in ELCT Intensive English courses. All courses earn ELCT credit and require permission from the ELC Program Coordinator.

The department offers one major and two minors:

Bachelor of Arts, English major (with a required concentration in either Literature or Writing)
Minor in English
Minor in Writing

The Department of English is a community of active scholars and writers dedicated to helping students form a deeper sense of themselves and the world. We celebrate the beauty of words and emphasize the power of language as a path towards that goal. Our program seeks to enhance students’ creative, analytical, and practical writing skills, and we do so by offering courses that emphasize cultural, historical and theoretical approaches to literature, film, multimodal texts, and the creative process. Through a broad range of courses, we affirm the importance of creating and carefully understanding all forms of discourse. As a department, we value well-crafted arguments, sophisticated analyses, elegant writing, and thoughtful engagement with research. We help students hone their critical thinking and writing skills in ways both creative and practical. Students apply these skills in courses and in writing for The Bulletin and other campus publications, tutoring in the Writing Center, and presenting their work at conferences. Graduates from the English Department have gone on to pursue careers in writing, teaching, law, editing, publishing, and the tech sector.

English Department courses fulfill the requirements of the core curricula of the University and constitute a Bachelor of Arts degree in English; they provide majors in other disciplines with further experience in and appreciation for literature and writing; they offer majors and minors in English engagement with the literary heritage of Western and non-Western traditions; and they develop students' mastery of the conventions and nuances of written prose.

The University Core curriculum requires three semester hours of Writing (ENGL 101 or ENGL 200) and three semester hours of Literature. Many English 100- and 200-level literature courses will fulfill the University Core Literature requirement.

English majors earning a secondary teaching credential must take one 3-credit multicultural literature course and a writing pedagogy course, either ENGL 390 or ENGL 395.

Because we believe that effective writing is essential for professional, personal, and intellectual development, the English Department directs the operation of a Writing Center open to the Gonzaga community.

Founded on solid introductory writing and literature courses and covering a variety of genres, time periods, and theoretical approaches to texts, the English major offers two areas of emphasis: a Literature Concentration and a Writing Concentration. Students in both concentrations take the same foundational courses, worth a total of 12 credits: a University Core Writing course, lower-division courses on English form and English history, and an upper-division course on literature before 1660. All English majors must also take a course with a multicultural distribution. Once students decide which concentration they will pursue, they study the curriculum specific to each concentration.

PreRequisite(s): ENGL 101 or ENGL 200 and (CLAS 220 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 105 or ENGL 106 or ENGL 201-249 3 credits or ENGL 251-299 3 credits or WGST 219 or WGST 222)

ENGL 417 Transnational Latinx Literature credit(s): 3

Study of literature produced by Chicana/o/x, Latina/o/x, and Latin American authors from a transnational approach: an approach that considers the continuous cross-border connections across the Americas.

PreRequisite(s): ENGL 101 or ENGL 200 and (CLAS 220 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 105 or ENGL 106 or ENGL 201-249 3 credits or ENGL 251-299 3 credits or WGST 219 or WGST 222)

ENGL 418 American Indian Literatures credit(s): 3

This course is designed to introduce students to several important texts in the multifaceted genre of American Indian literature as well as to invite students into a critical discussion of contemporary issues centering on the relationship between American Indian literatures and contemporary sociopolitical and cultural realities and issues. We will examine the role of American Indian literature in the continual process of cultural maintenance as well as identity (re)construction. Through close reading of texts by writers from various tribes and regions, students will explore the heterogeneity of Native America and the complexities of all attempts to define or shape indigenous nationhood in the United States. We will contextualize these texts in discussions of social justice issues particular to Native America, including but not limited to the five definitions of genocide; geographical and cultural displacements; and "third world" living conditions. We will also be engaged in dialogues about local and national American Indian cultures in cooperation with the American Indian Studies house on campus. Spring, odd numbered years.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): ENGL - American Lit post-1900, ENGL - Literature post-1914, ENGL - Multicultural Distribtn
Equivalent(s): NTAS 321
PreRequisite(s): ENGL 101 or ENGL 200 and (CLAS 220 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 105 or ENGL 106 or ENGL 201-249 3 credits or ENGL 251-299 3 credits or WGST 219 or WGST 222)
ENGL 420 Beowulf: In-Laws and Out Laws credit(s): 3
Language and literary study of the Old English period with special emphasis on the anonymous epic poem Beowulf.

ENGL 467 Special Topics credit(s): 1-3
The course will tie in to the Florence experience and will require reading literature in English or in translation. Topic to be determined by faculty.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

PreRequisite(s): ENGL 101 or ENGL 200 and (CLAS 220 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 105 or ENGL 106 or ENGL 201-249 3 credits or ENGL 251-299 3 credits or WGST 219 or WGST 222)

ENGL 471 Topics in Pre 1914 AmLiterature credit(s): 1-4
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
ENGL 472   Topics in Literature 1660 or before
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): ENGL - Literature pre- 1660

ENGL 473   Topics: British Literature 1660-1914
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): ENGL - British Lit 1660-1914

ENGL 474   Topics in Literature Post 1914
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): ENGL - Literature post- 1914

PreRequisite(s):
ENGL 101 or ENGL 200 and (CLAS 220 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 105 or ENGL 106 or ENGL 201-249 3 credits or ENGL 251-299 3 credits or WGST 219 or WGST 222)

ENGL 480   Critical Theory: Literature and Cultural Studies
Theories about the nature of literature and criticism.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Non-Literature Broadening
Equivalent(s):
WGST 403

PreRequisite(s):
ENGL 101 or ENGL 200 and (CLAS 220 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 105 or ENGL 106 or ENGL 201-249 3 credits or ENGL 251-299 3 credits or WGST 219 or WGST 222)

ENGL 485   Poetics
This course will study English Language poetry from Chaucer to present. Focus on the "formal" qualities of poetry.
PreRequisite(s):
ENGL 101 or ENGL 200 and (CLAS 220 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 105 or ENGL 106 or ENGL 201-249 3 credits or ENGL 251-299 3 credits or WGST 219 or WGST 222)

ENGL 490   Directed Reading
A directed program of readings and written responses.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

ENGL 492   Independent Study
Courses which allow the individual student to engage in interdepartmental and interdisciplinary study. Credit by arrangement.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

ENGL 495   Senior Seminar
A focused, in-depth study of a literary/cultural topic chosen by the instructor. The course will familiarize students with the critical conversation surrounding the topic, prepare them to engage in this and similar conversations, and have them enter into this conversation through well-informed, well-argued, research-based, critical study that will constitute the written aspect of the Senior Project. Required for English Majors. Senior standing or permission of Department Chair. To be taken concurrently with ENGL 499.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
Corequisite(s): ENGL 499
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): English
Must be the following Class(es): Senior

ENGL 496   Writing Senior Project
This course is required of students pursuing the Writing Concentration in the English major and consists of these chief components: 1) a critical/historical review contextualizing the student's creative work in literary tradition and 2) an original creative manuscript of the student's poetry/prose/drama/non-fiction.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Writing Enriched
PreRequisite(s): 2 courses in English writing

ENGL 497   Internship
credit(s): 0-6
Professional experience in literature- or writing-related field. Students must take the initiative to contact an agency and an English Department faculty member willing to supervise the internship. Does not count towards program electives for the major or minor. Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

PreRequisite(s): ENGL 101 or ENGL 200 and (CLAS 220 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 105 or ENGL 106 or ENGL 201-249 3 credits or ENGL 251-299 3 credits or WGST 219 or WGST 222)

ENGL 498 Directed Research credit(s): 1-3
A directed program in which the individual student will engage in approved research activity and submit a scholarly paper or papers. Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

ENGL 499 Senior Project credit(s): 0
Academic paper produced in Senior Seminar (ENGL 495). Required for English majors. To be taken concurrently with ENGL 495. Corequisite(s): ENGL 495

Restriction(s):
- Must be the following Class(es): Senior

Environmental Studies

Department Chair: Brian G. Henning

Professor: B. Henning, K. Henrickson, J. Isacoff, E. Johnson, J. Smieja

Associate Professors: B. Bancroft, G. Gordon

Assistant Professor: S. Hayes

The department offers one major and one minor:

Bachelor of Arts, Environmental Studies major
Minor in Environmental Studies

The Environmental Studies major offers students an interdisciplinary approach toward understanding the human interaction with the environment. Drawing upon courses in the natural sciences, the social sciences, and the humanities, the Environmental Studies major offers a diverse, integrated curriculum that explores the scientific, ethical, social, economic, and political aspects of our current environmental crisis. With our proximity to state and national parks, national forests, and open space, Gonzaga is a special place to pursue environmental studies, where students can engage both their intellectual and experiential pursuits. Students in the Environmental Studies major have abundant opportunities for field studies and research, outdoor service learning projects, environmental internships, and develop leadership positions with on-campus environmental organizations, such as the Gonzaga Environmental Organization (GEO). Environmental Studies majors are also encouraged to pursue field courses and study abroad opportunities in places like Zambia, Costa Rica, Ecuador, and Australia, among others.

The 40-credit Environmental Studies Major has two main components: nine non-substitutable foundational courses and a minimum of four additional courses drawn from various disciplines around the University.

B.A. Major in Environmental Studies: 39-41 credits

Lower Division

- ENVS 101 Introduction to Environmental Studies 3 credits
- ENVS 102 Environmental Politics and Policy 3 credits
- One of the following two courses with lab: 4 credits
  - BIOL 206/BIOL 206L Ecology and Lab
  - (Biology Double-Majors and Biology Minors ONLY take this course)
  - ENVS 103/ENVS 103L Environmental Biology and Lab
- One of the following three course options: 3-5 credits
  - ENVS 104/ ENVS 104L Environmental Chemistry and Lab
  - CHEM 205 Inorganic Chemistry
  - CHEM 230/CHEM 230L Organic Chemistry and Lab
- ENVS 200 Case Studies in Environmental Science 4 credits

Upper Division

- ENVS 320 Economics of Environmental Protection 3 credits
- ENVS 358 Environmental Ethics 3 credits
- ENVS 497 Internship 1 credit
- ENVS 499A Symposium in Environmental Studies I 1 credit
- ENVS 499B Symposium in Environmental Studies II 2 credits
- ENVS 300-399 12 credits
Minor in Environmental Studies: 20 credits

Lower Division

ENVS 101 Introduction to Environmental Studies 3 credits

One of the following five course options: 3-5 credits

- BIOL 206/BIOL 206L Ecology and Lab (Biology Majors Only)
- CHEM 205 Inorganic Chemistry
- CHEM 230/CHEM 230L Organic Chemistry and Lab
- ENVS 103/ENVS 103L Environmental Biology and Lab
- ENVS 104/ENVS 104L Environmental Chemistry and Lab

ENVS 200 Case Studies in Environmental Science 4 credits

Upper Division

ENVS 358 Environmental Ethics 3 credits

ENVS 320-339 or ENVS 398 Social Sciences 3 credits

ENVS 340-379 or ENVS 397 Humanities 3 credits

Courses:

ENVS 101 Introduction to Environmental Studies 3 credits
An introduction to the field of Environmental Studies. The course provides an overview of the connections between science, politics, philosophy, history, and ethics regarding nature and the environment. The course urges students to think critically about the relationships between knowledge and judgment, humans and nature, justice and ethics, and natural and human history. Fall and Spring.

ENVS 102 Environmental Politics and Policy 3 credits
This course examines the politics and policymaking process of environmental issues. The course focuses primarily on American national policy, but also on state and local and international/global policy. The course is designed to evoke and encourage thinking about environmental issues on these various levels. Fall and Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Social/Behavioral Sci
ENVS 103 Environmental Biology credit(s): 3
A study of the principles of ecology (including population dynamics, diversity, and energy flow) and the impact humans have on the environment. Lab is required. Fall.
Corequisite(s): ENVS 103L
Restriction(s):
    Must be in the following Major(s): CSCT - Environmental Studies, Environmental Studies Major, Sustainable Business

ENVS 103L Environmental Biology Lab credit(s): 1
See course description for ENVS 103. Fall.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Science Inquiry
Corequisite(s): ENVS 103
Restriction(s):
    Must be in the following Major(s): CSCT - Environmental Studies, Environmental Studies Minor, Environmental Studies Major, Sustainable Business

ENVS 104 Environmental Chemistry credit(s): 3
This course will cover the fundamental principles of chemistry necessary to understand the source and fate of chemical substances in the environment. Additional topics will be dependent on the instructor but may include the environmental implications of energy utilization; the chemistry of the atmosphere, hydrosphere, and lithosphere; climate change; and pollution and treatment of water sources. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Science Inquiry
Equivalent(s): CHEM 123
Corequisite(s): ENVS 104L
Restriction(s):
    Must be in the following Major(s): CSCT - Environmental Studies, Environmental Studies Minor, Environmental Studies Major, Sustainable Business Minor

ENVS 104L Environmental Chemistry Lab credit(s): 1
See course description for ENVS 104. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Science Inquiry
Equivalent(s): CHEM 123L
Corequisite(s): ENVS 104
Restriction(s):
    Must be in the following Major(s): CSCT - Environmental Studies, Environmental Studies Major, Sustainable Business Minor

ENVS 190 Independent Study credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be determined by faculty.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

ENVS 193 First Year Seminar credit(s): 3
The First-Year Seminar (FYS) introduces new Gonzaga students to the University, the Core Curriculum, and Gonzaga's Jesuit mission and heritage. While the seminars will be taught by faculty with expertise in particular disciplines, topics will be addressed in a way that illustrates approaches and methods of different academic disciplines. The seminar format of the course highlights the participatory character of university life, emphasizing that learning is an active, collegial process.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: First Year Seminar
Restriction(s):
    Must be the following Class(es): Freshman
ENVS 200  Case Studies in Environmental Science  credit(s): 4
This course is designed to introduce students to scientific issues and concepts related to environmental problems. The course will consist of investigations of a number of specific cases of environmental impacts by humans, such as: chemical contamination of soils, air, or water; overexploitation of fisheries or other living resources; freshwater availability and quality; habitat conversion, fragmentation, and loss of biodiversity; invasive species; renewable and non-renewable energy sources; and the production and management of waste. Specific cases will vary from semester to semester, and will include examples of current local, regional and global relevance. Laboratory exercises will allow students to investigate the scientific principles important for understanding the cases, and will help students develop an appreciation for the strength and limitations of scientific knowledge in addressing environmental issues. Fall and Spring.
Course repeatable for 8 credit(s).
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): CSCT - Environmental Studies, Environmental Studies, Environmental Studies Major, Sustainable Business
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 206, minimum grade: C- or ENVS 103, minimum grade: C- or BIOL 123, minimum grade: C- or ENVS 104, minimum grade: C-
ENVS 290  Independent Study  credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be determined by faculty.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).
ENVS 303  Conservation Biology  credit(s): 3
This course covers the biological concepts important for the conservation of natural populations, communities, and ecosystems. Both theoretical and empirical studies will be applied to such topics as: the genetics and ecology of small populations, consequences of habitat degradation and fragmentation, the impact of introduced species, and the ecological value of biological diversity. Students who do not have a major in the sciences are encouraged to talk to the instructor about their preparations for this course at the time of registration. Spring.
Equivalent(s): BIOL 323
PreRequisite(s): BIOL 206, minimum grade: C- or BIOL 123, minimum grade: B- or ENVS 103, minimum grade: B-
ENVS 303L  Conservation Biology Lab  credit(s): 1
This lab includes field trips. Taken concurrently with ENVS 303.
Equivalent(s): BIOL 323L
Corequisite(s): ENVS 303
ENVS 320  Economics of Environmental Protections  credit(s): 3
Explores the economic dimensions of environmental topics such as air and water pollution, deforestation, non-renewable resource depletion, recycling, global warming. The course studies the extent of environmental problems and alternative solutions. Spring.
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Environmental Studies
Must be the following Class(es): Sophomore, Junior, Senior
PreRequisite(s): ENVS 101
ENVS 321  Ecological Thought and Politics  credit(s): 3
This Service Learning course focuses on the writings of seminal figures in American ecological thought, such as John Muir, Gifford Pinchot, and Aldo Leopold. Examines the history and politics of land use and wilderness planning. Class will go on field trips in partnership with the United States Forest Service (USFS) and local environmental groups to learn first-hand about the politics of local land use. Fall.

Equivalent(s): POLS 317

ENVS 324 Climate Change Science and Politics credit(s): 3
This course is an in-depth examination of climate change science and politics. It examines the science behind climate models, current and predicted environmental effects of a changing climate, policies, as well as the basic definitions and concepts citizens need to understand climate change and its related political issues. In the course we will examine how scientific and political thinking on climate change has evolved.

ENVS 325 Native American Government and Politics credit(s): 3
This course will see Native American government and politics in a milieu of intergovernmental relations, of community to community connections, or the lack of such relationships. Taking social justice as importantly about relationships, and doing so in respect of governing, this course will to study how (or how not) federal, state, and municipal governments interact with Native American governments. Spring, even years.

ENVS 326 Environmental Sociology credit(s): 3
This course examines human relationships with the natural environment. It explores how power structures, social norms, ideologies and politics affect our relationship and treatment of the environment. Upon sufficient demand.

Equivalent(s): SOCI 383

ENVS 329 North American Environmental Policies credit(s): 3
State and society in the Pacific Northwest: government, parties, reform movements, regionalism, and social forces in the U.S. Pacific Northwest, and British Columbia and Alberta. Regional issues such as taxation, health care, urbanization, land use, education, the environment, and resource-based economics are addressed in a comparative Canadian-U.S. context. Upon sufficient demand.

Equivalent(s): POLS 329

Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Sophomore, Junior, Senior

ENVS 330 Parks, Forests, and Wildlife credit(s): 3
In this course we explore the past, present, and future of public lands. Focusing primarily on national and state parks, national forests, and wildlife, this course traces the development and application of the U.S. conservation model, both domestically and abroad. Fall.

PreRequisite(s): ENVS 101

ENVS 350 Ethics: Global Climate Change credit(s): 3
Many have described global climate change as the defining challenge of the 21st century, noting that unless dramatic changes are made today, future generations will suffer terrible consequences, such as rising seas, wars over fresh water, tens of millions of environmental refugees, and the extinction of species such as the polar bear. This course will investigate the complex technological, historical, economic, scientific, political, and philosophical issues surrounding this issue. Global warming skeptics are especially encouraged to enroll. Fall. Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): PHIL - Ethics or Political

PreRequisite(s): PHIL 201

ENVS 352 Environmental Law and Policy credit(s): 3
This course provides students with an overview of the substance and procedures relating to environmental regulation and protection in the United States. The course provides some technical understanding of the laws governing the use of resources and the control of pollution discharges. The course addresses, among other topics: the consumption of natural resources that resulted in environmental pollution; the political and policy context in which environmental policies have been formulated and the administrative or regulatory procedures required by statutory law or judicial decisions to deal with various environmental issues.

ENVS 353  Environmental History  credit(s): 3
In examining the dynamic relationship between humans and their environment over time, this course explores how nature affects cultural responses and how humans, in turn, have shaped the world around them. Employing a multidisciplinary approach this course draws upon ecological, historical, economic, or political analysis to illuminate the varied relationships between people and place. Spring.
Equivalent(s): HIST 365

ENVS 358  Environmental Ethics  credit(s): 3
The detailed philosophical study of humanity's understanding of its relationship to the natural environment, concentrating on historically prominent conceptions of that relationship, and the philosophical foundation of the contemporary environment movement. Fall and Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Core Integration Seminar
Equivalent(s): PHIL 458
Restriction(s):
  Must be in the following Major(s): CSCT - Environmental Studies, Environmental Studies Major, Sustainable Business
PreRequisite(s): PHIL 301 or PHIL 301H

ENVS 360  Indians of Columbia Plateau  credit(s): 3
This course will explore Native American groups on the Columbia Plateau, including their traditional lifestyles, traditional and colonial religions, the Salish language, and responses to settlement and government policies. We will also examine the traditions of cooperation and collaboration among these groups. We must understand the geography of the Plateau, in order to fully contextualize the importance of homeland and traditional practices, so this course represents place-based study of Native American history. Spring, odd years.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): HIST - U.S. History, NTAS - elective, Core: Social Justice.; Core: Global Studies
Equivalent(s): HIST 210; NTAS 210

ENVS 380  Politics of the Pacific Northwest  credit(s): 3
State and society in the Pacific Northwest: government, parties, reform movements, regionalism, and social forces in the U.S. Pacific Northwest, and British Columbia and Alberta. Regional issues such as taxation, health care, urbanization, land use, education, the environment, and resource-based economics are addressed in a comparative Canadian-U.S. context. Upon sufficient demand.
Equivalent(s): POLS 328

ENVS 381  Ethics of Eating  credit(s): 3
An examination of ethical issues surrounding the consumption, production and transportation of food. Issues such as organic food, GMOs, vegetarianism, local and slow food movements, and hunger may be covered. Ethical issues surrounding both local and international food issues are treated. Upon sufficient demand.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): PHIL - Ethics or Political Equivalent(s): PHIL 459
PreRequisite(s): PHIL 201
ENVS 384  GIS and Ecological Techniques  credit(s): 3
This course will introduce students to geographic information systems (GIS) and focus on how GIS can be used to address research and management questions in ecology. Students will use existing GIS databases from resource agencies and learn how to create and analyze new GIS databases. Field techniques will vary but include mapping exercises using compass and global position systems (GPS). Spring, even years.
Equivalent(s): BIOL 344
Corequisite(s): ENVS 384L
PreRequisite(s): ENVS 103, minimum grade: B- or BIOL 206, minimum grade: C-

ENVS 384L  GIS and Ecological Techniques Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with ENVS 384.
Equivalent(s): BIOL 344L
Corequisite(s): ENVS 384
PreRequisite(s): ENVS 103, minimum grade: B- or BIOL 206, minimum grade: C-

ENVS 387  Principles of Wildlife Management  credit(s): 3
The ecology, theory, methods, and philosophy of wildlife management emphasizing game, nongame, and endangered species. Students gain an understanding of the roles and responsibilities of various government agencies and non-governmental organizations. Fall, even years.
Equivalent(s): BIOL 357
Corequisite(s): ENVS 387L

Film Studies

Director: Matthew Bolton

The program offers one minor:

Minor in Film Studies

The Film Studies program is an interdisciplinary academic home for the study of film and media analysis. In this program students learn about the formal elements of cinema and other visual media, its history as a medium, its connection to national cultures and values, and its expressions of human experience. Students study film and media analysis through a variety of theoretical frameworks, considering the ways in which different disciplines approach the study of film and media.

Film Studies Minor: 21 credits

Lower Division

FILM 201 Film and Form 3 credits
FILM 202 Film and History 3 credits

Upper Division

FILM 300 level and above electives 12 credits
(Since most FILM courses are cross-listed, a maximum of six credits may be taken from a single department.)

  FILM 301 Film and National Identity
  FILM 302 Film and Genre
  FILM 303 Film and Production Cultures
  FILM 304 Film and Human Experience

FILM 499 Senior Capstone 3 credits

Courses:

FILM 201 Film and Form credit(s): 3

This course serves as an introduction to elements of film form and grammar, including narrative, mise-en-scene, cinematography, editing, sound, and acting. Students taking this course will learn... how to describe a film's formal qualities and will use these descriptions to make analytical claims about film.

Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

FILM 202 Film and History
credit(s): 3

This course serves as an introduction to the history of film as a medium, ranging from its origins to the current moment. Students taking this course will learn how to situate a film in its historical and cultural contexts and will use these contexts to make analytical claims about film and history.

Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

FILM 301 Film and National Identity
credit(s): 3

This course examines the connection between film and national identity, studying at least one non-US cinema in order to explore the relationship between film art and national culture.

Students taking this course will learn how to understand a film in its national, political, and aesthetic context, using these contexts to make analytical claims about the relationship between film and nation.

Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

FILM 302 Film and Genre
credit(s): 3

This course examines the relationship between film and genre, either in the traditional sense of a story-type (horror, musical, etc.) or in the sense of a particular filmmaker (Hitchcock, Kurosawa, etc.) or filmmaking movement (the French New Wave, New Hollywood, etc.). Students taking this course will learn how to situate specific films within broader generic contexts and will learn how these broader contexts can operate as an expression and/or critique of cultural values and ideologies.

Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

FILM 303 Film and Production Cultures
credit(s): 3

This course examines some aspect off film production (ranging from screen writing to costuming, directing to acting, etc.) with the goal of understanding how the process of film production shapes film meaning. Students taking this course will learn how to use the circumstances of production to explicate and analyze film and other media objects.

Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

FILM 304 Film and Human Experience
credit(s): 3

This course examines film as a means of expressing some aspect of human experiences, ranging from the political to the ethical, the philosophical to the spiritual, the cultural to the personal.

Students taking this course will learn how filmic language expresses express ideas, emotions, experiences, and beliefs, using this knowledge to understand both particular films and broader questions of spirituality, philosophy, politics, culture, and/or social justice.

Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

FILM 499 Film Capstone
credit(s): 3

This capstone course synthesizes student learning through the film studies program by examining some aspect of film and media studies (determined by the instructor) through multiple disciplinary lenses. Students taking this course will learn about the topic in depth, apply a variety of disciplinary and theoretical frameworks to the topic, and conduct student-driven research about a topic within film and media studies.

Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

The department offers one major and four minors:

Bachelor of Arts, History major
Minor in History
Minor in Asian History
Minor in Latin American History
Minor in History of Race & Ethnic Communities

The Department of History offers a variety of courses that enable students to fulfill University Core requirements as well as to obtain a Bachelor of Arts with either a major or a minor in History. The goals of the department curriculum are to engender an informed, critical, and articulate sense of the past, an appreciation for the diversity of human experience, and an awareness of the role of tradition in shaping the present. The major develops a variety of practical research and communication skills and provides a foundation for graduate work, the study of law, public service, teaching, archival and library sciences, public history, and many careers in business and the professions. The department sponsors a chapter of Phi Alpha Theta, the international History honor society, and coordinates internships with community partners, Gonzaga University Archives, and Special Collections.

Majors are required to complete HIST 301 (Historical Methods), which is normally taken as the student begins the Upper Division courses. Majors are also required to take HIST 401 (Senior Seminar). In exceptional cases, students with an honors-level grade point average and with approval of the Department Chair, may elect to take HIST 499 (Senior Thesis) in lieu of HIST 401. Upper-division electives must include one course from four topic areas. Majors who wish to obtain teacher certification are urged to confer with the School of Education as well as their departmental adviser.

HIST 211  Introduction to Native American History  credit(s): 3
Hundreds of Indigenous groups made their home in North America for centuries before European colonial expansion reached these shores. Native communities might describe this occupancy as ‘since time immemorial.’ This class will begin with an exploration of those earlier eras and will acknowledge that each Native community was/is distinct from other communities.
Thus, while we can observe commonalities in Native experiences and histories, we will also conclude that there is no ‘single’ Native perspective. To develop this conclusion, we will assess processes of change over time across what we now know as the United States. This course will consider social and cultural approaches to preserving and passing down Native American histories as well as U.S. history interpretations of Native Americans’ societies, cultures, economies, and spiritualities. “Texts” in this course will include history books, literature, images, and film, and we will create and respond to research questions using primary and secondary sources.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): HIST - Non-West/Dev Area, HIST - U.S. History, NTAS - elective, Core: H
Equivalent(s): NTAS 211

HIST 274 China Past and Present credit(s): 3
This course is a focused survey of Chinese history from the Shang Dynasty (c. 1600 B.C.) up to the present. Using the standard interpretive categories of politics, economics, society, and culture, the course will explore such topics as pre-imperial China; the Qin-Han consolidations and breakdowns; pre-modern Imperial China (Jin, Sui, Tang, Song, including inter-dynasty kingdoms); the Mongol (Yuan) dynasty; early modern and modern imperial China (Ming and Qing); and the Revolutionary periods of the twentieth century, including the Guomindang era, Maoism, and Post-Mao modernizations. Students who take this course for International Studies credit will be required to do an extra writing assignment that integrates the material of this course with their International Studies focus. It is desired but not required that students will have taken History 112 (World Civilizations Since 1500) prior to taking this course. Students who take this class as a History course may not use or substitute the credits for International Studies.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): HIST - Non-West/Dev Area

HIST 323 Disunited Kingdom

This course explores how Britain and Britishness are modern inventions. It adopts a “four nations” approach to understanding the history of what Norman Davies refers to as “The Isles.” Although its focus will be primarily on the development of Britain since 1707, the course begins its analysis by studying the ancient and medieval connections between the nations we know today as England, Ireland, Scotland and Wales. A number of key topics will be explored through the readings, including the steps to political union, the role of economic change, religion and education, poverty and social welfare, the rise of political radicalism, and the changing face of national identity. The course concludes by discussing the United Kingdom in the twenty-first century, and examine whether the demand for Scottish independence and Brexit mean that we will see a "Disunited Kingdom" in our lifetime.

Information Technology & Society

Director: R. Bryant

Information and the technology that processes and stores it are of central importance in today's society. The Information Technology and Society courses at Gonzaga University provide students with the necessary skills, concepts and competencies to utilize information effectively in their careers. The courses in Information Technology and Society are designed to enhance the studies of students in all liberal arts disciplines. Technology is constantly changing at a rapid pace, and in order to stay abreast of the changes, individuals need to understand the underlying foundation of how information is organized and how the devices that access the information work. Due to the constant development of new devices and applications, society's rules and laws often lag behind dealing with ramifications of these changes. The Information Technology and Society courses examine these ramifications along with the ethical and social implications of digital technology innovations across many disciplines. Coupled with the discipline specific knowledge, information technology capabilities are integral to a fully educated citizen today.

Courses:

ITEC 101 Fluency in Information Technology credit(s): 3
Introduces skills, concepts and capabilities necessary to effectively use information technology. Students will become fluent with information technology through coverage of basic underlying concepts and use of common applications. Concepts will include the building blocks of computer systems and software, as well as historical perspectives and social implications of information technology.

ITEC 102 Digital Technology and Society credit(s): 3
This course covers the impacts of digital technologies on society. How the digital universe works from bits to the web, along with how it may affect the individual are examined. Issues related to all disciplines such as privacy, security, and how information is produced and consumed are studied. Emphasis is placed upon how to think critically about the digital information world.

ITEC 193 First Year Seminar credit(s): 3
The First-Year Seminar (FYS) introduces new Gonzaga students to the University, the Core Curriculum, and Gonzaga's Jesuit mission and heritage. While the seminars will be taught by faculty with expertise in particular disciplines, topics will be addressed in a way that illustrates approaches and methods of different academic disciplines. The seminar format of the course highlights the participatory character of university life, emphasizing that learning is an active, collegial process.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: First Year Seminar
ITEC 201  History and Technology in the Digital Age  credit(s): 3
Historical foundations of modern computing technology are covered. Topics include the technological and functional underpinnings of digital computer systems. Also examined are the societal impacts of computing and computing technology, information technology, and communication technology

ITEC 211  Algorithmic Art  credit(s): 3
Algorithmic Art sits at the intersection of mathematics, programming, algorithms, and art. The primary goal of the course is to teach computational thinking to liberal arts students. Student motivation is achieved by presenting programming and math concepts in the context of the visual arts. The assignments use the programming environment called Processing which was developed specifically for visual artists.
Equivalent(s): CPSC 211

ITEC 212  Computational Modeling  credit(s): 3
This course introduces students to the modeling process and computer simulations. It considers two major approaches: system dynamics models and cellular automation simulations. A variety of software tools will be explored. Applications will be chosen from ecology, medicine, chemistry, biology, and others.
Equivalent(s): CPSC 212

ITEC 280  Special Topics  credit(s): 0-6
Course repeatable 2 time.

ITEC 497  Internship  credit(s): 0-6
Work experience directly related to the student's Information Technology. Internship requires completion of an application form, a 3.00 GPA and permission from department. Zagweb registration is not available. Fall, Spring and Summer. Course repeatable 2 time.
Integrated Media

Chairperson: Susan English
Associate Professors: S. English, R. Lyons, S.J., C. McMahon
Assistant Professors: D. Gracon, M. McCormick
Senior Lecturer: J. Kafentzis
Lecturer: J. Collett

The department offers three majors and four minors:

Bachelor of Arts, Broadcast and Electronic Media Studies major Bachelor of Arts, Journalism major Bachelor of Arts, Public Relations major
Minor in Broadcast and Electronic Media Studies
Minor in Journalism
Minor in Public Relations, Minor in Visual Literacy

Gonzaga’s Integrated Media Department weaves the related disciplines of Journalism, Broadcast and Electronic Media Studies and Public Relations into an environment where students can learn and hone their writing, interviewing, strategic communications and technological skills while specializing in a path that becomes a bridge to a career or to further scholarship in graduate school.

The Integrated Media Department offers majors and minors in Broadcast and Electronic Media Studies, Journalism and Public Relations within the College of Arts and Sciences. The department also offers an interdisciplinary Visual Literacy minor.

The Integrated Media programs strive to guide students toward academic excellence and tangible career goals. The curriculum reflects the Catholic, Jesuit character and liberal arts tradition of Gonzaga.

Students have many opportunities to develop and experiment with storytelling and strategic communication techniques using multiple platforms and methods, learning through the lens of social justice and Ignatian pedagogy.

The coursework in Integrated Media programs balances development of the skills and use of technology required of professionals with philosophical grounding in ethical and proficient communications.

In addition to coursework in traditional classroom settings, students engage in hands-on work in computer labs equipped with software applications that allow students to experience a contemporary news and video-editing environment.

Students further polish the tools of skillful and responsible communication through internships in professional environments, for which academic credit is available.

Campus media outlets that include GUTV and KAGU, Gonzaga’s television and radio stations, and The Gonzaga Bulletin (gonzagabulletin.com), the student newspaper, offer opportunities for students to hone media skills learned in the classroom. In addition, stories created for these media entities become substantial portfolio pieces for applications to graduate schools and for internships and employment.

Experiential learning in the broadcast, journalism and public relations arenas are hallmarks of the department.

Bachelor of Arts degrees are offered in these areas:

1. Broadcast and Electronic Media Studies
2. Journalism
3. Public Relations

Integrated Media Department foundation course work:

Majors within the Integrated Media Department are required to complete the Integrated Media foundation course work:

- INMD 101 Media Literacy 3 credits
- INMD 360 Media Law 3 credits

Minors within the Integrated Media Department are required to complete the Integrated Media foundation course work:
INMD 101 Media Literacy 3 credits
*Note: No upper-division courses except INMD 360 may be applied to two separate majors and/or minors within the Integrated Media Department without approval of the Department Chair.

Broadcast and Electronic Media Studies

Director: S. English

The Broadcast and Electronic Media Studies Program provides students with the worldview and skills necessary for creative and responsible work in the television and radio industries. Broadcasting majors and minors learn to emphasize work that makes a positive difference in their communities and the broader world.

To master their technical skills, students put on a series of live shows that air on GUTV and are posted on its YouTube channel (https://www.youtube.com/user/GUTVondemand). Students engage in all aspects of the creation and production of these shows, including on-air roles, camera work, directing, mixing audio, using field cameras and non-linear editing.

Internships in broadcasting-centric workplaces allow students to transfer knowledge and experience acquired in classes to the professional world. Each semester, Spokane-area television and radio news organizations invite our students to work alongside professionals in a range of appropriate roles. University credits are available for internships.

Journalism

Director: S. English

The Journalism Program cultivates students’ interests and techniques in gathering information through research and interviews, and writing for the array of media platforms. Emphasis is placed on the role and responsibilities of journalism within the context of civic and political participation, and the social justice awareness rooted in the University mission. Courses in journalism history, media law and ethics, and press theory form the philosophical foundation for the major and minor. Journalism students, in their work, focus on issues of civic and cultural importance with a traditional news stance, but there are ample opportunities for experimentation with the styles of journalism appropriate for magazines, publications with a literary bent, and emerging Internet and social media platforms. Students also hone their visual storytelling skills in courses such as photojournalism and emerging media.

Students pursuing a major or minor in journalism choose from an array of elective courses, including literary journalism, news leadership, media ethics, documentary filmmaking, and sports media.

Most Gonzaga journalism students work for the weekly student newspaper, The Gonzaga Bulletin (gonzagabulletin.com), as writers, editors or photojournalists. Credit toward the Journalism major and minor is available, as well as a stipend for editors, staff writers and photojournalists.

Many journalism students garner journalistic experience in the professional environment through internships, for which academic credit is also available.

Public Relations

Director: S. English

The Public Relations Program combines study of communication theory, speech writing and delivery, and corporate strategies with journalistic expertise. Students learn to skillfully manage communication between organizations and the people they serve. Internships with local, national and international organizations provide hands-on experience in campaign planning, corporate communication, and nonprofit organization advocacy.

As part of the Public Relations coursework, students work directly with a local organization in creating a comprehensive public relations plan and media kit. As part of the senior capstone course, public relations students develop a portfolio, articulate a philosophical statement of communication, and write a thesis.

Public relations skills also enhance other degrees. Political Science students interested in honing their political campaigning skills, students in the humanities with interests in promoting and publicizing the arts, and business students seeking to complement marketing and management concentrations often complete a Public Relations minor.

Interdisciplinary Arts

Program Director: Suzanne Ostersmith

The program offers one minor:

Minor in Interdisciplinary Arts

The study of interdisciplinary arts expands a student's problem solving, critical reflection and innovative thinking through combining the strengths of theatre, dance, visual arts, and music. The Interdisciplinary Arts minor gives students a solid foundation and knowledge in these art forms and integrates the arts in a new and exciting way. This minor also allows students, such as those in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Math) majors, to integrate valuable arts experience into their skill set, increasing their creative capacity and expressiveness.

This unique minor offers arts-based research skills, focusing less on product and more on the creative process. A student will complete the minor being able to think creatively, innovatively and be confident in their ability to tackle any problem from a number of angles.

Students who wish to focus their studies in either Theatre or Dance should visit the Theatre and Dance Department page for more information on the Theatre Arts major/minor and the Dance major/minor.

International Studies

Chairperson: Torunn Haaland

The department offers four majors and four minors:

Bachelor of Arts, International Relations major Bachelor of Arts, International Studies: Asian Studies major Bachelor of Arts, International Studies: European Studies major Bachelor of Arts, International Studies: Latin American Studies major Minor in International Relations
Minor in International Studies: Asian Studies
Minor in International Studies: European Studies
Minor in International Studies: Latin American Studies

International Studies is a multi-disciplinary department preparing students for a variety of careers with an international dimension. It offers two areas of study: International Relations and Region Studies. International Relations offers students a broad curriculum in foreign relations and cultures to prepare students for careers and post-graduate education in foreign service, diplomacy, security studies, peace and conflict resolution, and international development. Region Studies provide students with a more focused program of study in one of three regions: Asia, Europe or Latin America.

International Studies degrees are designed to support Gonzaga University’s mission to foster “a mature commitment to dignity of the human person, social justice, diversity, intercultural competence, global engagement, solidarity with the poor and vulnerable, and care for the planet.” They are also committed to the College of Arts and Sciences' vision of “engaging with meaningful problems in our local and global communities and pursuing the cause of social justice.”

Majors Offered:

Degrees offered are a Bachelor of Arts degree with majors and minors in: International Studies: International Relations, International Studies: Asian Studies; International Studies: European Studies, International Studies: Latin American Studies. Total credits required for all B.A. degrees is 28-44 credits (depending on the starting point for foreign language study). Total credits required for all minors is 15-31 credits (depending on the starting point for foreign language study).

Multiple Usage and Transfer Credit Policies:

Students may double-count a maximum of three courses between International Studies and degree requirements for a second major or minor. Electives may not be used to fulfill any other degree requirement. Transfer courses, including courses taken through study abroad programs may be used to fulfill degree requirements with prior approval of the Department Chair.

Language Requirements:

Because foreign language skills are such a vital part of an International Studies education, all International Studies majors must take at least 6 credits of foreign language study during their time at Gonzaga at the 300 level or higher. In the case of languages not offered at Gonzaga or only offered through the 202 level, students can acquire intermediate proficiency by studying abroad in 6-week intensive language programs or semester-long programs. They may also enroll in intensive language study in the United States at, e.g., at the Middlebury Institute or at other accredited universities that specialize in the study of language and culture of their region of interest. Completion of the language requirement may require participation in alternative programs and/or enrolling in summer courses.

All International Studies majors and minors should discuss their plans for foreign language study with the International Studies Department Chair and begin taking language classes as early as possible, ideally from the fall semester of their first year, in order to make sure that they will be able to complete the language requirement. Students are encouraged to continue studying a language they studied before coming to Gonzaga in order to maximize their proficiency. Region studies majors and minors (i.e., Asian Studies, European Studies, Latin American Studies) must study a foreign language used in their region of study.
Degree Requirements:

All International Studies majors and minors must take:

INST 201 Introduction to International Studies 3 credits
INST 401 Perspectives on Global Issues 3 credits

All International Studies majors must take:

INST 499 Senior Capstone 1 credit

International Studies: International Relations Majors and Minors:

INST 332  Politics of Space and Place  credit(s): 3
Everyday encounters with physical surroundings guide our orientations to the world. As we wander city streets, shopping malls, stadiums, nature preserves, sacred sites, restaurants, monuments, museums, and classrooms, we examine how we move in, and are moved by the material arenas we share. Spatial organization and built environments inform our habits of perception, determine the meaning of a particular place, accent what is worth attention and what might be overlooked, and reaffirm dominant norms and power relationships in public culture. Charts, maps, apps, and other navigational tools dictate where and how we move, and how we understand our roles within a given space. Featuring the experiential dimensions of rhetoric and communication, this course presses us to consider how material spaces and places construct everyday geographies. Spring.

INST 348 20th Century Northern Ireland credit(s): 3
Following its inception in May 1921, politics within the Northern Ireland state was dominated by sectarianism and religious conflict. In order to maintain Protestant hegemony, the civil rights of the minority Catholic population were eroded, both overtly and covertly. Tensions came to a head in the 1960s, but his course will demonstrate how the seeds of violence were sown much earlier. Key events of the conflict such as Bloody Sunday, internment, the murder of Lord Mountbatten, the hunger strikes, the Enniskillen and Omagh bombings, and the steps to the Peace Process will be examined. We will attempt to understand the troubled history of Northern Ireland from the perspective of the two communities that live within it, as well as that of the British and Irish governments. There will be a special emphasis on how peace has been achieved in the wake of the "Troubles" and we will examine whether the Good Friday Agreement can offer lessons to other conflict zones around the world.

This course seeks to give students an understanding of the history and culture of pre-modern China, Japan, Korea, and Vietnam. After exploring the historical roots of Confucianism, Daoism and Buddhism in China, students will examine the ways in which these foundational philosophies helped form social, cultural, and political institutions in China and its neighbors. Students will also focus attention on the historical emergence of the Chinese imperial system, and its greatest pre-modern exemplars, the Qin, Han and T'ang dynasties. Not limiting the focus to China alone, students will also explore how the concept of China as the "middle kingdom" influenced the language, religion and political developments in Japan and Korea, leading to an authentic "macro-culture" in East Asia. The course will finish with a discussion of samurai culture and an analysis of how the Mongol conquests of Central and East Asia transformed the region, taking students to the threshold of the early modern period in Asia. INST 392  Tyranny to Democracy 21st Century  credit(s): 3
Between 1974 and 2000 more than fifty countries in Southern Europe, Latin America, East Asia, and Eastern Europe shifted from authoritarian to democratic systems of government. This course examines the causes and nature of these democratic transitions and investigates several case studies of democratic transitions in different areas of the world; in order to understand the factors responsible for the democratic trend and to ascertain which key variables best explain completed democratic transitions and democratic consolidation. Spring, alternate years.

INST 430  Intersectional Communication  credit(s): 3

The study of communication and culture in a global world cannot and must not be apolitical, ahistorical, or blind to the messy entanglements of power and privilege. Therefore, this course will focus on the intersections between critical race theory, feminist theory, and critical intercultural communication in order to interrogate and examine the ways in which our social identities and locations affect the contexts of our lives including our opportunities, relationships, and overall understanding of the world. Specifically, this course will engage the work of Black Feminist scholars and ongoing scholarly conversations on intersectionality to analyze intercultural encounters and engagement. Fall.

INST 432  Core Integration Seminar  credit(s): 3

The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) engages the Year Four Question: "Imagining the possible: What is our role in the world?" by offering students a culminating seminar experience in which students integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the Core, and their disciplinary expertise. Each section of the course will focus on a problem or issue raised by the contemporary world that encourages integration, collaboration, and problem solving. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students' future role in the world.

INST 440  Rhetoric of Social Change  credit(s): 3

Public expression and discourse can affirm, complicate, challenge, and even radically revolutionize our shared values and ideals over time. Arguments and symbolic actions in communal spaces prompt individuals and groups to rethink, redevelop, and reestablish potential modes of identity, participation, and interaction within a society. Students in this course will closely examine specific social movements (including, potentially, civil rights, gender rights, indigenous rights, and environmental movements) to better understand the plurality of voices and modes of public expression in dialogue and competition that contribute to, resist, and ultimately shape societal change. Students will then build upon historical knowledge and perspective to engage in an immersive study of an ongoing contemporary social controversy, ultimately creating an informed rhetorical intervention of their own, participating in the social issues and changes of the current day. - Must be the following Class(es): Senior Italian Studies Program

Director: T. Haaland
Professor: G. Brooke
Associate Professors: T. Haaland, S. Nedderman

The department offers one major and one minor:

Bachelor of Arts, Italian Studies major
Minor in Italian Studies

Italian Studies is an interdisciplinary program aimed at imparting an understanding of Italian culture and competence in the Italian language.

The Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in Italian Studies includes one semester of participation in the Gonzaga-in-Florence program or comparable experience in Italy and a senior project (ITAL 498). Italian Studies majors are required to take an upper division course in Italian during their fourth year regardless of credits earned.

The Director of the Italian Studies Program is advised by a committee formed by the chairs or representatives of the departments that offer Upper Division electives for Italian Studies. Meetings of the advisory committee are called by the Director of Italian Studies as needed. Since the effective availability of upper level courses offered on the Spokane campus will at times be contingent on enrollment, completion of the Italian Studies major and minor may require participation in study abroad programs and/or enrolling in summer courses.

The department offers two degrees, three majors and two minors:

Bachelor of Science in Mathematics
Bachelor of Arts in Mathematics
Bachelor of Science in Applied Mathematics with optional concentrations in: Biology, Biochemistry, Chemistry, Computer Science, Economics or Physics
Minor in Applied Mathematics
Minor in Mathematics

The Department of Mathematics provides training in mathematics and its applications to solve problems in business, engineering, the social sciences, and other disciplines. The curriculum offers a blend of pure mathematics and its applications. The department offers opportunities for students to grow their passion for mathematics and enrich their understanding of its role in the world through participation in conferences, community teaching, undergraduate research, and clubs. Majors are well prepared for positions in industry, government, and education, as well as for graduate studies.

All majors must take a senior comprehensive (MATH 496 or MATH 499) in the fall semester of their final year.

Prospective teachers of mathematics should consult the School of Education for the current state certification requirements.

It is recommended that all Mathematics majors take PHYS 103, CHEM 101, or BIOL 105 to satisfy their University Core Scientific Inquiry requirement. The department involves students with activities sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America and the Society of Industrial and Applied Mathematics. Majors may also participate in the annual William Lowell Putnam Mathematical Competition held every December.

Review of basic algebraic operations and concepts for students who need additional preparation before taking other courses involving mathematics. Topics include operations on algebraic expressions, factoring, algebraic functions, linear and quadratic equations, graphing, exponents, radicals, and linear equations in two unknowns. This course does not fulfill the math requirement in the University Core.

MATH 100  College Algebra  credit(s): 3
College algebra for those students who need additional preparation before taking MATH 114, MATH 147, or MATH 148. Topics include equations, polynomials, conics, graphing, algebraic, exponential and logarithmic functions. This course does not fulfill the math requirement in the University Core. Fall and Spring.

MATH 103  Excursions in Mathematics  credit(s): 3
An elementary survey of various mathematical areas such as algebra, geometry, counting (permutations, combinations), probability, and other topics selected by the instructor. This course is intended for the liberal arts student not pursuing business or the sciences. Fall and Spring. Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Mathematics

MATH 104  Elements of Algebra and Statistics  credit(s): 3
Development and application of concepts from algebra and statistics. Topics include polynomials, solving equations, graphing, functions, modeling, counting (permutations and combinations), data representation, probability, and statistics. Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Mathematics

MATH 114  Mathematical Analysis-Business  credit(s): 3
Designed for the student majoring in business. Topics selected from: functions and models, systems of equations, optimization, and introductory calculus. The emphasis will be on examples from business, which may include: cost, revenue, profit, supply, demand, market equilibrium, interest, present-value, future-value, and consumer and producer surplus. Fall and Spring. Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Mathematics  PreRequisite(s): MATH 100 or ALEKS Placement

MATH 121  Introductory Statistics  credit(s): 3
An introduction to the basic concepts of descriptive and inferential statistics and their application to the interpretation and analysis of data. Fall and Spring. Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Mathematics

MATH 147  Precalculus  credit(s): 3
Topics include advanced equations and inequalities, functions and graphs including composite and inverse functions, logarithmic and exponential functions, trigonometric functions and their graphs, right angle trigonometry, trigonometric identities, systems of equations, and conics. Fall and Spring. Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Mathematics

MATH 148  Survey of Calculus  credit(s): 3
A one semester introduction to differential and integral calculus designed to convey the significance, use and application of calculus for liberal arts students, particularly those in the behavioral, biological, and social sciences. Fall and Spring. Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Mathematics  PreRequisite(s): MATH 100 or ALEKS Placement

MATH 157  Calculus-Analytic Geometry I  credit(s): 4
An introduction to calculus for engineering, science and mathematics students, with an emphasis on conceptual understanding, problem solving, and modeling. Topics covered include: limits, continuity, derivatives of algebraic, trigonometric, and transcendental functions, applications of the derivative including optimization problems and linear approximations, antiderivatives, introduction to the definite integral, and the Fundamental Theorem of Calculus.
Fall and Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Mathematics
PreRequisite(s): MATH 147 or ALEKS Placement
MATH 193 First Year Seminar credit(s): 3
The First-Year Seminar (FYS) introduces new Gonzaga students to the University, the Core Curriculum, and Gonzaga’s Jesuit mission and heritage. While the seminars will be taught by faculty with expertise in particular disciplines, topics will be addressed in a way that illustrates approaches and methods of different academic disciplines. The seminar format of the course highlights the participatory character of university life, emphasizing that learning is an active,
collegial process.
This course does not meet major or minor requirements.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: First Year Seminar
Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Freshman
MATH 231 Discrete Structures credit(s): 3
Topics taken from sets, functions, matrices, ordered sets, partially ordered sets, directed graphs, algebraic systems, recursive definitions, and algorithms. Fall and Spring.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 148 or MATH 157
MATH 258 Calculus-Analytic Geometry II credit(s): 4
A continuation of MATH 157. Topics covered are: techniques of integration, applications of the integral, improper integrals, sequences and infinite series with an introduction to convergence tests, parametric equations, and polar coordinates.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 157, minimum grade: C-
MATH 259 Calculus-Analytic Geometry III credit(s): 4
A treatment of multivariable calculus and the calculus of vector fields. Topics include: vectors and vector-valued functions, partial derivatives, multiple integration, curl and divergence, line integrals, Green’s theorem, Stokes’ theorem, and the Divergence theorem.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 258, minimum grade: C-
MATH 260 Ordinary Differential Equation credit(s): 3
Solution methods for first order equations and for second and higher order linear equations.
Includes series methods and solution of linear systems of differential equations. Fall and Spring.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 259
MATH 290 Directed Reading credit(s): 1-3
Readings and reports in selected mathematical topics. Upon sufficient demand.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Sophomore
PreRequisite(s): MATH 157
MATH 301 Fundamentals of Mathematics credit(s): 3
A development of standard proof techniques through examination of logic, set theory, one-to-one, onto, and inverse functions. Additional topics may be chosen from the topology of the real line, the cardinality of sets, basic number theory, and basic group theory. Fall and Spring.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 259
MATH 321  Statistics for Experimentalist  credit(s): 3
An applied statistics course for those with calculus preparation. Descriptive statistics, probability theory, discrete and continuous random variables, and methods of inferential statistics including interval estimation, hypothesis testing, and regression. Fall and Spring.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 258

MATH 328  Operations Research  credit(s): 3
Quantitative methods for application to problems from business, engineering, and the social sciences. Topics include linear and dynamic programming, transportation problems, network analysis, PERT, and game theory. Spring, odd years.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 258

MATH 339  Linear Algebra  credit(s): 3
A systematic study of matrices, vector spaces, and linear transformations. Topics include systems of linear equations, determinants, dependence, bases, dimension, rank, eigenvalues and eigenvectors. Applications include geometry, calculus, and differential equations. Fall and Spring.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 259

MATH 341  Modern Geometry  credit(s): 3
Axiomatic systems for, and selected topics from, Euclidean geometry, projective geometry, and other non-Euclidean geometries. Special attention will be given to the needs of the individuals preparing to teach at the secondary level. Fall, even years.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 259

MATH 350  Elementary Numerical Analysis  credit(s): 3
An introduction to numerical analysis: root finding, interpolation, numerical integration and differentiation, finite differences, numerical solution to initial value problems, and applications on a digital computer. Fall.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 258

MATH 351  Combinatorics and Graph Theory  credit(s): 3
An introduction to combinatorics and graph theory with topics taken from counting techniques, generating functions, combinatorial designs and codes, matchings, directed graphs, paths, circuits, connectivity, trees, planarity, and colorings. Fall, odd years.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 231 or MATH 301

MATH 360  Selected Topics  credit(s): 1-3
Various areas of pure and applied mathematics presented at a level accessible to those just completing calculus. Upon sufficient demand.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

MATH 361  Selected Topics  credit(s): 1-3
Various areas of pure and applied mathematics presented at a level accessible to those just completing calculus. Upon sufficient demand.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

MATH 362  Selected Topics  credit(s): 1-3
Various areas of pure and applied mathematics presented at a level accessible to those just completing calculus. Upon sufficient demand.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

MATH 363  Selected Topics  credit(s): 1-3
Various areas of pure and applied mathematics presented at a level accessible to those just completing calculus. Upon sufficient demand.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

MATH 390  Directed Study  credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be determined by faculty.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
MATH 413  Real Analysis I  credit(s): 3
Topics chosen from: the axioms and topology of the real line, sequences and series of numbers and functions, continuity and properties of continuous functions, differentiation, Riemann integrals and generalizations, differential forms, metric spaces, and mappings between Euclidean spaces. Spring and Fall, even years.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 301

MATH 414  Real Analysis II  credit(s): 3
Continuation of MATH 413 with topics based on instructor and student interest. Spring, odd years.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 413

MATH 417  Complex Variables  credit(s): 3
Complex numbers and functions, analyticity and the Cauchy-Riemann equations, integration, and Cauchy's theorem and formula. Other topics chosen from Taylor and Laurent series, the calculus of residues, conformal mapping, and applications. Spring, even years.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 301

MATH 421  Probability Theory  credit(s): 3
A mathematical treatment of the laws of probability with emphasis on those properties fundamental to mathematical statistics. General probability spaces, combinatorial analysis, random variables, conditional probability, moment generating functions, Bayes' law, distribution theory, and law of large numbers. Fall.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 301

MATH 422  Mathematical Statistics  credit(s): 3
An examination of the mathematical principles underlying the basic statistical inference techniques of estimation, hypothesis testing, regression and correlation, nonparametric statistics, analysis of variance. Spring, even years.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 421

MATH 423  Stochastic Processes  credit(s): 3
An undergraduate course in stochastic processes. This course covers a variety of random processes and their applications. Topics include convergence of random variables, conditional expectation, Markov chains, Poisson processes, and simulation techniques. Additional topics may be chosen from random walks, queuing theory, branching processes, reliability theory, and Brownian motion. Spring, odd years.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 421

MATH 432  Core Integration Seminar  credit(s): 3
The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) engages the Year Four Question: “Imagining the possible: What is our role in the world?” by offering students a culminating seminar experience in which students integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the Core, and their disciplinary expertise. Each section of the course will focus on a problem or issue raised by the contemporary world that encourages integration, collaboration, and problem solving. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students’ future role in the world.
This course does not meet major or minor requirements.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Core Integration Seminar

MATH 437  Abstract Algebra I  credit(s): 3
A detailed examination of topics chosen from groups, rings, integral domains, Euclidean domains, unique factorization, fields, Galois theory, and solvability by radicals. Spring and Fall, odd years.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 301
MATH 438  Abstract Algebra II
Continuation of MATH 437. Spring, even years.

PreRequisite(s): MATH 437

MATH 450  Selected Topics
Possible topics include combinatorics, topology, number theory, advanced numerical analysis, advanced linear algebra, theory of computation and complexity, and history of mathematics. Credit by arrangement. Upon sufficient demand.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

PreRequisite(s): MATH 301

MATH 451  Special Topics
Possible topics include combinatorics, topology, number theory, advanced numerical analysis, advanced linear algebra, theory of computation and complexity, and history of mathematics. Credit by arrangement. On sufficient demand.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

PreRequisite(s): MATH 301

MATH 452  Selected Topics
Possible topics include combinatorics, topology, number theory, advanced numerical analysis, advanced linear algebra, theory of computation and complexity, and history of mathematics. Credit by arrangement. Upon sufficient demand.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

PreRequisite(s): MATH 301

MATH 453  Selected Topic
Possible topics include combinatorics, topology, number theory, advanced numerical analysis, advanced linear algebra, theory of computation and complexity, and history of mathematics. Credit by arrangement. Upon sufficient demand.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

PreRequisite(s): MATH 301

MATH 454  Partial Differential Equations

PreRequisite(s): MATH 260, minimum grade: C-

MATH 457  Number Theory and Cryptography
Elementary number theory topics including modular arithmetic, Diophantine equations, multiplicative functions, factorization techniques, primality testing, and development of the public key code. Fall, even years.

PreRequisite(s): MATH 301

MATH 459  Topology
Topics selected from the following: Metric spaces, manifolds, general topological spaces. Sequences, continuous functions, homeomorphisms. The separation axioms, connectedness, compactness. The theory of surfaces. Knot theory. Topics from combinatorial topology, algebraic topology, differential topology. Other topics to be determined by the instructor. Spring, odd years.

PreRequisite(s): MATH 301
MATH 462  Nonlinear Systems and Chaos
This course provides an introduction to nonlinear dynamics and chaos theory. We examine concepts related to geometric and global ways of analyzing nonlinear evolution equations. These concepts include: phase space analysis, dissipative versus conservative systems, attractors, basins of attraction, elementary bifurcation theory, linear stability theory, Poincare sections and maps, strange attractors, Lyapunov exponents, fractals and fractal dimension. Fall, even years.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 260, minimum grade: C-

MATH 490  Directed Reading
Selected topics in mathematics. Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

MATH 496  Comprehensive - Applied Math
A comprehensive survey of applied mathematics and its connections with various technical disciplines. Students will gain experience with both written and oral communication while reviewing a breadth of mathematical topics and exploring interdisciplinary applications. Students will be required to take the Educational Testing Service's Major Field Test in Mathematics. Required of all Applied Mathematics majors in their final year. Fall.

MATH 497  Mathematics Internship
Special program for Mathematics majors.

MATH 498A  Thesis I
This course provides the motivated student with the opportunity to conduct an independent research project under the direction of a Mathematics Department faculty member. Rigorous research and study of advanced material with a significant technical writing component. Contingent on the student finding a faculty member in the Department of Mathematics who is willing to serve as a mentor. Fall and Spring.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 301, minimum grade: C

MATH 498B  Thesis II
Continuation of MATH 498A, culminating in a written thesis. Students are expected to present their work at a conference. Fall and Spring.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 498A, minimum grade: B

MATH 499  Comprehensive - Math
A comprehensive survey of mathematics. Students will gain experience with both written and oral communication of a breadth of mathematical topics. Students will be required to take the Educational Testing Service's Major Field Test in mathematics. Required of all Mathematics majors in their final year. Fall.

Modern Languages and Literature

Chairperson: Christina Isabelli
Professors: G. Brooke (Emerita), L. García-Torvisco, C. Isabelli, B. Semple
Associate Professors: B. Boyer, T. Haaland, F. Kuester (Emerita), R. Marquis, S. Nedderman, R. Stephanis
Assistant Professors: A. Schumacher
Senior Lecturers: D. Birginal, S. Katsushima, U. Perz
Lecturers: K. Bishop, A. García Osorio

The department offers two majors and four minors:

- Bachelor of Arts, French major
- Bachelor of Arts, Spanish major
- Minor in French
- Minor in German
- Minor in Spanish
- Minor in Italian

The Department of Modern Languages and Literature offers the Bachelor of Arts degree with majors in French and Spanish, and cooperates in offering majors and minors in Italian studies, Latin American studies, European studies and Asian studies. All language majors are encouraged to become proficient in a foreign language through study abroad. All language majors take a comprehensive exam, write a thesis, or engage in a capstone experience; content varies by language. Majors need a minimum of 19 credits (French) or 25 credits (Spanish) at the 300 level or above.

Minors are available in French, German, Italian, and Spanish. The Asian Studies, Latin American Studies, and European Studies programs, which are part of the International Studies major, are fully described under International Studies. The Italian Studies major and minor are described under Italian Studies. Since the effective availability of upper level courses offered on the main Spokane campus will at times be contingent on enrollment, completion of the Italian minor may require participation in study abroad programs and/or enrolling in summer courses.
Gonzaga also offers programs of study (year or semester) in Paris, France or in Aix-en-Provence and courses may be transferred to Gonzaga and applied to the major requirement. Gonzaga-in-Florence, Italy, admits students for a summer, year or a semester of study. The department has a fall and spring semester program in Granada, Spain, a summer intensive program (up to six credits) in Cuernavaca, Mexico, and also accepts courses from sponsored programs in Argentina or Chile. Gonzaga students can study abroad in Tokyo and Akita, Japan through the Japanese Program for one semester, one academic year, or for a 6-week summer session. Occasionally, students in the German program can spend a semester or a whole academic year at the University in Graz, Austria, or participate in a language program during the summer.

Special Topics in Language Courses

With prior approval of the Departmental Chair, students may study a language abroad (in a university approved program) not offered at Gonzaga and transfer these credits to Gonzaga.

Courses:

Arabic

ARAB 101      Elementary Arabic I  credit(s): 4
Grammar, composition, verbal practice and oral comprehension form the basis of this course.
Designed to provide the student with the fundamentals of Arabic.

ARAB 102      Elementary Arabic II  credit(s): 4
A continuation of ARAB 101 through verbal practice, oral comprehension, reading composition and grammar.
PreRequisite(s): ARAB 101

ARAB 201      Intermediate Arabic I  credit(s): 4
Intermediate reading, grammar, vocabulary and translation. Explores the root and pattern system of Arabic grammar and complex sentence structure.
PreRequisite(s): ARAB 102

ARAB 202      Intermediate Arabic II  credit(s): 4
Intensive written and oral work to develop written and oral comprehension. Composition, advanced vocabulary work and grammar.
PreRequisite(s): ARAB 201

ARAB 290      Directed Study  credit(s): 1-4
Topic to be determined by professor and approved by the Department Chair.
Course repeatable 3 time.

ARAB 497      Internship  credit(s): 0-6
Professional experience in a setting related to the Arabic-speaking community in which Arabic is used. Student is responsible to find an appropriate internship and to present a plan (description, objectives, proposed assessment) to the Department Chair for approval.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
PreRequisite(s): ARAB 202

Chinese

CHIN 101      Elementary Chinese I  credit(s): 4
Credit for Chinese language is given to students through the Consortium Agreement (Department Chair approval required) or Study Abroad programs only.

CHIN 102      Elementary Chinese II  credit(s): 4
Credit for Chinese language is given to students through the Consortium Agreement (Department Chair approval required) or Study Abroad programs only.
PreRequisite(s): CHIN 101
CHIN 201  Intermediate Chinese I  credit(s): 4
Credit for Chinese language is given to students through the consortium agreement (Department Chair approval) or study abroad programs only.
PreRequisite(s): CHIN 102

CHIN 202  Intermediate Chinese II  credit(s): 4
Credit for Chinese language is given to students through the Consortium Agreement (Department Chair approval required) or Study Abroad programs only.
PreRequisite(s): CHIN 201

CHIN 290  Directed Study  credit(s): 1-4
Available only through sponsored Study Abroad programs.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

CHIN 301  Advanced Chinese I  credit(s): 3-4
Available only through sponsored Study Abroad programs.
PreRequisite(s): CHIN 202

CHIN 303  Conversation and Composition  credit(s): 3
Available only through sponsored Study Abroad programs.
PreRequisite(s): CHIN 302

CHIN 390  Directed Study  credit(s): 1-3
Available only through sponsored Study Abroad programs.

French

FREN 101  Elementary French I  credit(s): 4
Grammar and pronunciation, extensive oral practice, short compositions, and reading of simple texts. Fall.

FREN 102  Elementary French II  credit(s): 4
A continuation of FREN 101. Spring.
PreRequisite(s): FREN 101

FREN 190  Directed Study  credit(s): 1-4
Topic to be determined by faculty.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

FREN 200  French Conversation  credit(s): 3
PreRequisite(s): FREN 102

FREN 201  Intermediate French I  credit(s): 4
Review of the fundamentals of grammar and syntax. In addition to work in oral French, there are progressive exercises in reading and composition. Fall.
PreRequisite(s): FREN 102

FREN 202  Intermediate French II  credit(s): 4
A continuation of FREN 201. Spring.
PreRequisite(s): FREN 201
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Global Studies

FREN 280  Special Topics  credit(s): 1-3
By arrangement.

FREN 290  Directed Study  credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be determined by faculty.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
FREN 300  Advanced Grammar Review  credit(s): 3
An intensive one-semester grammar course with extensive oral practice. Fall.
PreRequisite(s): FREN 202

FREN 301  Advanced French I  credit(s): 3
Short stories, plays, novels, or essays by modern authors, with grammar and conversation based on the texts studied. Practice in phonetics where needed. Available only through sponsored Study Abroad programs.
PreRequisite(s): FREN 202

FREN 302  Advanced French II  credit(s): 3
Continuation of FREN 301. A greater emphasis on composition and advanced style. Available only through sponsored Study Abroad programs.
PreRequisite(s): FREN 301

FREN 303  Advanced Language Practice I  credit(s): 3
Oral and written comprehension, oral and written expression, grammar, vocabulary. Basic of phonetics. Culture and civilization. Available only through sponsored Study Abroad programs.

FREN 304  Advanced Language Practice II  credit(s): 3
A continuation of FREN 303. Available only through sponsored Study Abroad programs.

FREN 315  Advanced French Conversation  credit(s): 3
Intensive practice in oral French. Study of vocabulary, grammar, and pronunciation through discussion of cultural topics.
PreRequisite(s): FREN 300 or above

FREN 323  Le Paris des contrastes  credit(s): 3
Paris, ville d'amour et d'exclusion sociale. Students will analyze manifestations of social integration and exclusion, through representations of the city of Paris in French literary texts (short stories, novel and poetry), films, songs, photographs, and architecture.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): FREN - Literature
PreRequisite(s): FREN 300 or above

FREN 327  Introduction to Existentialism  credit(s): 3
Students will analyze existentialist thought and become more acquainted with famous names associated with the area of Saint-Germain-des-Pres, such as Jean-Paul Sartre, Simone de Beauvoir, Albert Camus, Juliette Greco, etc. Existentialism will be approached as a cultural and humanistic movement, a way of life and rebirth in post-war Paris. Recommended for INST: European Studies major or minor. Taught in French.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): FREN - Literature
PreRequisite(s): FREN 300

FREN 331  Contemporary French Cinema  credit(s): 3
A study of French cinema as it has evolved in the last two decades. The films viewed will be used as a means to encourage reflection on the history, ideas and values that have gone into the making of modern France. The course is offered in English and French in separate sections. For students who take the English section of the course through the INST cross-listing, there is no French prerequisite. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): INST - European Studies
Equivalent(s): INST 339
PreRequisite(s): FREN 202-399

FREN 340  La France d'aujourd'hui  credit(s): 3
A culture course that explores the political, social, economic, administrative, and cultural reality of contemporary France. Recommended for INST: European Studies major or minor. Taught in French.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): FREN - Culture

PreRequisite(s): FREN 200 or FREN 300 or above

FREN 350 French Civilization and Culture credit(s): 3
The political, social, intellectual, and artistic development of French culture from the beginning to the present. Available only through sponsored Study Abroad programs.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): FREN - Culture

Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior, Sophomore

FREN 365 French Politics credit(s): 3
A study of the French political system, its parties, elections, and how the system works in the new European order. Available only through sponsored Study Abroad programs.

FREN 380 Special Topics credit(s): 1-3
Selected topics in French language, literature or civilization.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

PreRequisite(s): FREN 202 or FREN 300 or above

FREN 390 Directed Study credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be determined by faculty.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

FREN 415 Business French credit(s): 3
Offered Abroad.

FREN 491 Directed Reading credit(s): 1-3
Selected readings by arrangement.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

PreRequisite(s): FREN 323 or FREN 327

FREN 495 Senior Seminar credit(s): 3
The major French writers by genre. Fall.

FREN 497 Internship credit(s): 0-6
Professional experience in a supervised organizational setting allowing for the applied use of skills in French language and/or knowledge of Francophone cultures. An internship plan (description, objectives, learning outcomes) is devised with a French program faculty member before the internship begins.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

FREN 499 French Comprehensive credit(s): 1
Required of all majors in their fourth year.

Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Senior

German

GERM 101 Elementary German I credit(s): 4
This course aims to develop in the student the four language skills: oral comprehension, speaking, reading, and writing.

GERM 102 Elementary German II credit(s): 4
A continuation of GERM 101.

PreRequisite(s): GERM 101
GERM 103  Intensive Introductory German credit(s): 4
This accelerated language course is designed to introduce students with previous German or other foreign language experience to basic German language skills and give them an insight into the many aspects of German speaking countries and their culture.

GERM 201  Intermediate German I credit(s): 4
Review and further training in the fundamentals of grammar and syntax; work in oral German and progressive exercises in reading and composition.
PreRequisite(s): GERM 102

GERM 202  Intermediate German II credit(s): 4
A continuation of GERM 201.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Global Studies
PreRequisite(s): GERM 201

SPAN 406 Narrative Fiction in Spanish America credit(s): 3
The novel and short story in Spanish America during the twentieth century.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): INST - Latin American Studies
Equivalent(s): INST 406
PreRequisite(s): SPAN 321-399, 1 course minimum grade: C

SPAN 407 Peninsular Contemp Short Story credit(s): 3
This course focuses on Spanish short stories written in Spain or by Spaniards living in exile from the 1940s to the present. The course gives a panoramic vision of Spain’s recent history through a selection of short stories and also through the history of this genre in Spain, with a strong emphasis on women writers. We will take into consideration the main authors and movements of recent decades and analyze both the mechanisms that shape the genre, and its representations, especially in terms of gender discontinuities. The students will be exposed not only to short stories, but also to articles, films, interviews, and reflections and meditations by the writers themselves.
PreRequisite(s): SPAN 321-399, 1 course minimum grade: C

SPAN 411 Mexican Culture credit(s): 3
Summer session course in Mexico on Mexican society, art, history and literature.
PreRequisite(s): SPAN 321-399, 1 course minimum grade: C

SPAN 417 The Movies of Pedro Almodovar credit(s): 3
In this class, the film career of Pedro Almodovar (1949-), the most important Spanish filmmaker in recent decades, will be analyzed taking into account both the recent history of Spain and the history of the Spanish movie industry in the last 30 years. We will discuss several of his feature films and short films, as well as some of his writing. The topics of discussion will mainly focus on questions of identity in his movies, the relationship between his films and the cultural-political market of the democracy in Spain (the "Movida"), and the evolution of his movies in terms of cinematography, genre (from comedy to melodrama and lately, film noir), and gender representation. Film titles vary from semester to semester; however, could include films such as: Labyrinth of Passions (1982), Dark Habits (1983), What Have I Done to Deserve This?! (1984), Matador (1986), The Law of Desire (1987), Women on the Verge of a Nervous Breakdown (1988), High Heels (1991), All About my Mother (1999), Talk to Her (2002), Volver (2006), Broken Embraces (2009). This class will be conducted in Spanish.

SPAN 418 Spanish American Short Story
This course will study the evolution of Spanish American short story from its appearance in the nineteenth century until today. Students will examine the manner in which this literary genre responded to the particular set of social, political, and economic considerations which shaped its production and reception. Students will read not only the texts themselves, but will also study critical theory surrounding the development of short story in Spanish America, and the regional responses which emerged.

PreRequisite(s): SPAN 321-399, 1 course minimum grade: C

Chairperson: Timothy Westerhaus
Associate Professors: P. Hamlin, T. Westerhaus
Senior Lecturer: D. Fague
Lecturer: J. Shank

The department offers two majors and three minors:

Bachelor of Arts, Music major (required concentration in General Studies, Performance, Composition, or Sacred Music)
Bachelor of Arts, Music Education major (required concentration in Choral and General Music or Instrumental and General Music)
Minor in Conducting (for Music or Music Education majors only)
Minor in Music
Minor in Jazz Performance

The Music major requires the completion of a concentration in Performance, Composition, Sacred Music, or General Studies. The Music Education major certifies the graduate to teach music in the elementary and secondary schools in the State of Washington and 47 reciprocating states.
Students majoring in music education may select one, two, or both concentrations: choral and general music or instrumental and general music. Students should consult the School of Education for additional course requirements to obtain teacher certification.

All music majors are required to be involved in a major ensemble (orchestra, wind ensemble, or choir) and applied lessons in their major instrument each semester after declaration as a music major. Majors in the performance concentrations are required to enroll in applied lessons for two credits every semester beginning the sophomore year. Students must audition to enter upper-division applied lessons (MUSC 331). All music majors are also required to pass a functional keyboard proficiency examination. Those students who are awarded music scholarships are required to be involved actively in the department, maintain high academic standards, and participate in a performing ensemble and applied lessons each semester.

All instrumental and choral ensembles are open to all students regardless of major or minor through placement processes with faculty. Individual lessons are also available in voice, piano, organ, guitar, woodwinds, strings, brass, percussion, and jazz.

Native American Studies

Director: Laurie Arnold

The program offers one minor:

Minor in Native American Studies

Understanding that there is no single “Native American” perspective, this program will explore Native American histories and cultures through varied Native community experiences and points-of-view. The multi-disciplinary curriculum will create:

- Informed comprehension of Native American histories and distinct Native American colonial experiences;
- Insightful consideration of varied Native American social, cultural, and political perspectives, including contemporary community priorities;
- Scholarly appreciation for Native American arts and literature as tools for cultural interpretation; and
- A deeper understanding of ancestral and contemporary Native American communities on the Columbia Plateau and Gonzaga's intellectual and spiritual connection to this homeland.

The minor is open to all Gonzaga undergraduate students, and students considering a minor in Native American Studies are encouraged to enroll in the required introductory course, NTAS 101. NTAS 101 will be offered annually in the fall semester.

Courses:

NTAS 101 Introduction Native American Studies credit(s): 3
This course will explore the histories and cultures of Indigenous groups in North America. While the course will primarily focus on the 19th and 20th centuries, we will also explore Native experiences in early America, and will contextualize later events with those interactions. We will examine Native responses to white settlement, diverse Native reservation experiences, and Native engagement with assimilationist policies like boarding schools and relocation to urban areas. We will also consider the modern era, including outcomes of the self-determination movement for more Native control over tribal governance and economic development. We will engage with literature, film, autobiography, and museum studies to explore these topics, while assessing them from a Native American Studies foundation. Fall.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Social Justice, Core: Global Studies

NTAS 193 First Year Seminar credit(s): 3
The First-Year Seminar (FYS) introduces new Gonzaga students to the University, the Core Curriculum, and Gonzaga's Jesuit mission and heritage. While the seminars will be taught by faculty with expertise in particular disciplines, topics will be addressed in a way that illustrates approaches and methods of different academic disciplines. The seminar format of the course highlights the participatory character of university life, emphasizing that learning is an active, collegial process.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: First Year Seminar

Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Freshman

NTAS 199 Indigenous Science credit(s): 2-3
Biology is the modern scientific study of life and the natural living world. This area of science has provided us with impressive advancements in our understanding of the natural world and human health. However, there exists an enormous amount of traditional indigenous knowledge about the natural world as well. This traditional knowledge is often complementary and convergent with modern science. However, there are significant differences in the ways that these different disciplines look at the world, and differences in what these perspectives can tell us. Spring, odd years.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Science Inquiry
Corequisite(s): BIOL 104L

NTAS 210 Indians of Columbia Plateau credit(s): 3
This course will explore Native American groups on the Columbia Plateau, including their traditional lifestyles, traditional and colonial religions, the Salish language, and responses to settlement and government policies. We will also examine the traditions of cooperation and collaboration among these groups. We must understand the geography of the Plateau, in order to fully contextualize the importance of homeland and traditional practices, so this course represents place-based study of Native American history. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): HIST - U.S. History, Core: Social Justice, Core: Global Studies
Equivalent(s): ENVS 360, Equivalent(s): HIST 210

NTAS 211 Introduction Native American History credit(s): 3
Hundreds of Indigenous groups made their home in North America for centuries before European colonial expansion reached these shores. Native communities might describe this occupancy as 'since time immemorial.' This class will begin with an exploration of those earlier eras and will acknowledge that each Native community was/is distinct from other communities. Thus, while we can observe commonalities in Native experiences and histories, we will also conclude that there is no 'single' Native perspective. To develop this conclusion, we will assess processes of change over time across what we now know as the United States. This course will consider social and cultural approaches to preserving and passing down Native American histories as well as U.S. history interpretations of Native Americans' societies, cultures, economies, and spiritualties. “Texts” in this course will include history books, literature, images, and film, and we will create and respond to research questions using primary and secondary sources.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): HIST - Non-West/Dev Area, HIST - U.S. History, Core: History
Equivalent(s): HIST 211

NTAS 290 Special Topics credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be determined by instructor.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

NTAS 310 Native American Activism credit(s): 3
Federal Indian policies and assertions of tribal sovereignty will provide context for discussions of Native American activism. We will discuss regional and national pan-Indian organizations, and we will also recognize the value of community-based activism. Local movements can include language preservation, restoration of traditional foods, community-designed and operated tribal museums and political engagement at all levels of government. Spring, every four years beginning 2014.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Social Justice, Core: Global Studies

NTAS 311 Native American Government and Political credit(s): 3
This course will see Native American government and politics in a milieu of intergovernmental relations, of community to community connections, or the lack of such relationships. Taking social justice as importantly about relationships, and doing so in respect of governing, this course will to study how (or how not) federal, state, and municipal governments interact with Native American governments. Spring, even years.

NTAS 320 Native American Art and Perform credit(s): 3
This course will explore Native American modern art and the historical cultural and artistic practices which informs it. We will also explore Museum Studies as a profession of power and cultural continuity for Native American tribes, and we will review scholarship on Native American museums, including the National Museum of the American Indian. Finally, we will consider performance, in numerous contexts. How does ritual reflect both spirituality and performance? Spring, every four years beginning 2015.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design

NTAS 321 American Indian Literatures credit(s): 3
This course is designed to introduce students to several important texts in the multifaceted genre of American Indian literature as well as to invite students into a critical discussion of contemporary issues centering on the relationship between American Indian literatures and contemporary sociopolitical and cultural realities and issues. We will examine the role of American Indian literature in the continual process of cultural maintenance as well as identity (re-)construction. Through close reading of texts by writers from various tribes and regions, students will explore the heterogeneity of Native America and the complexities of all attempts to define or shape indigenous nationhood in the United States. We will contextualize these texts in discussions of social justice issues particular to Native America, including but not limited to the five definitions of genocide; geographical and cultural displacements; and "third world" living conditions. We will also be engaged in dialogues about local and national American Indian cultures in cooperation with the American Indian Studies house on campus. Spring, odd years.

NTAS 322 Native American Religions
Traditional Native cultures and contributions along with the cultural stereotypes that distort their reality. Includes the role of Christian missions in forming contemporary Native realities and studies the revitalization movements among North American tribes.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): RELI - World's Religion conc, Core: Global Studies, Core: World or Comparative Rel
Equivalent(s): RELI 356
NTAS 330 Native Americans and Sports
This course will explore the tradition of sport in Native American cultures, and will examine how Native American athletes have participated in American sports, including football, baseball, basketball, and track. Through literature and documentary films, we will understand the historical context of this participation and also begin to explore social impacts within and outside Native communities. We will also explore the Native American mascot discourses. We will conclude with a very contemporary look at how the Nike N7 program is bringing sport to Native American communities in an effort to improve health through sport, which is leading to a new kind of activism. Spring, every four years beginning 2016.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Social Justice, Core: Global Studies

NTAS 340 Global Indigeneity
This course is designed to explore the pre-colonial indigenous populations of North and South America, Australia, and New Zealand, and to compare the experiences of these groups as they encountered settlers and persisted throughout colonization processes. Every four years beginning 2019.

NTAS 341 Colonial Latin America
A survey of colonial Latin America that examines the contact, conflict, and accommodation among Europeans, Native Americans, and Africans that shaped colonial Latin America.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): HIST - Non-West/Dev Area, INST - Interactions, INST - Latin American Studies
Equivalent(s): HIST 380, Equivalent(s): INST 372

NTAS 359 America: Invasion to Rebellion
This course will examine the process of colonization on the North American continent. Issues which will be considered include: the world views of the people who eventually lived together in North America, the retentions, borrowings and changes in cultures during colonization, the varied Native American responses to the diverse incoming Europeans and Africans, the increasing commitment to racial slavery and the enslaveds’ responses to this, the wide array of assumptions European empires held toward this continent and colonization, and the relationship between the colonies and the empire.

The department offers one major and one minor:

Bachelor of Arts, Philosophy major (optional Kossel concentration)
Minor in Philosophy

Philosophy has played a central role in Jesuit education since its inception, a tradition that is reflected by the place of philosophy in the Gonzaga University Core curriculum. Philosophy courses included as part of the University Core curriculum for all undergraduate programs aid students in developing skills of thought and logical analysis (PHIL 101), introduce students to sustained reflection on basic questions of human nature and personhood (PHIL 201), and examine the practical and theoretical considerations relevant to human morality and value (PHIL 301). The department offers 400-level philosophy courses on a wide variety of topics, which serve to integrate work in the University Core curriculum, and to encourage students to reflect on their future roles in the world.

The Philosophy Department also offers courses leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree with a major or minor in philosophy. Beyond the philosophy courses that fulfill the University Core (101, 201, 301, 432), students must complete an additional 9 credits of upper-division course work for a Philosophy Minor, and an additional 24 credits for a Philosophy Major. The major includes a 3-course sequence in the history of philosophy; topical seminars that focus on philosophical research, discussion, and writing; and a broad range of 400-level electives, which allows students to develop a program of studies tailored to their own interests. Each student is required to take at least one course in contemporary philosophy, and one course in ethics or political philosophy. Majors must take at least two philosophy seminars and minors must take at least one. These seminars are identified by their numbers (PHIL 400-430) and they will all carry a Writing Enriched designation, which fulfills a requirement of the University Core curriculum.

Students may also earn a Philosophy Major by completing the department's Kossel Concentration in Philosophical Studies. The Kossel Concentration follows the course of studies established for the training of college seminarians by the Program of Priestly Formation of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops. The goal of the Kossel Concentration, as stated in the Program, is for students (1) to organize and synthesize their study of the liberal arts through the study of philosophy and (2) to prepare for the study of theology in the post-baccalaureate seminary. Although specifically designed for the students of Bishop White Seminary, the Kossel Concentration is open to all Gonzaga students. The curricular requirements for the Kossel Concentration include all of the requirements of the regular Philosophy Major, but students in the Kossel Concentration must devote their elective courses to traditional areas of Catholic philosophy. They must also complete extra courses in Latin. The Kossel Concentration is named after the late Clifford Kossel, S.J., who taught philosophy at Gonzaga for most of his adult life.

An undergraduate Major in Philosophy is useful preparation for a variety of careers. The focus on logic, argumentation, and moral theory is valuable to students with career plans in law. Students with interests in business, public policy, or government service can benefit from the many courses which provide reflective analysis on the ways in which political, moral, and social values are embedded in social institutions. A degree in philosophy can be valuable when applying to a variety of professional schools which actively look for liberal arts majors and to employers who do the same.

PHIL 422 Postmodern Thought credit(s): 3
Postmodernism has been the single most influential philosophical movement in the late 20th Century. As a response to philosophical modernism and as a broad cultural movement, affecting virtually every field of knowledge and cultural practice, postmodernism challenges us to rethink some of the most basic assumptions of the Western philosophical tradition. This course begins with a review of the meaning of philosophical and cultural modernism. We then consider several of the major founding thinkers of the postmodern movement: Jacques Derrida, Michel Foucault, and Francois Lyotard. From its beginnings in the revolutionary atmosphere of the French student rebellion, we move to post-modern thinkers in the analytic and post-analytic tradition, including the later Ludwig Wittgenstein and Richard Rorty. The course concludes with a survey of postmodern culture sampling specific developments in fields such as architecture, music, and contemporary art. Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): PHIL - Contemporary

PreRequisite(s): PHIL 201

PHIL 423 Process Philosophy credit(s): 3
Philosophers such as Bergson and Whitehead, who regard creative process as the essence of the real. Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): PHIL - Contemporary

PreRequisite(s): PHIL 201

PHIL 432 Core Integration Seminar credit(s): 3
The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) engages the Year Four Question: “Imagining the possible: What is our role in the world?” by offering students a culminating seminar experience in which students integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the Core, and their disciplinary expertise. Each section of the course will focus on a problem or issue raised by the contemporary world that encourages integration, collaboration, and problem solving. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students’ future role in the world.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Core Integration Seminar
Restriction(s):
Must not be the following Class(es): Freshman
PreRequisite(s): PHIL 201 and (PHIL 301 or RELI 330 or RELI 331 or WGST 237C)

PHIL 434 Chinese Philosophy credit(s): 3
A survey of the history of Chinese philosophy focusing on the Confucian tradition and taking other traditions such as Taoism and Buddhism into account.

PHIL 436 Walker Percy
3 credit(s)
This course examines both fiction and non-fiction works by Walker Percy (1916-1990), with particular emphasis on his development of existential themes and C.S. Peirce's semiotics. We investigate Peter Augustine Lawler's description of Percy as a proponent of "postmodernism rightly understood."

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Philosophy, Philosophy

PreRequisite(s): PHIL 201

PHIL 437 Philosophy of Time
3 credit(s)
This course looks at answering the question "What is time?" This is done by looking at ancient and modern arguments surrounding the structure, experience and models of time.

PreRequisite(s): PHIL 201

PHIL 438 Philosophy of Love and Friendship
3 credit(s)
Survey and analysis of influential accounts of love and friendship, including treatments of erotic/romantic love, friendship, and charity, within a framework provided by C.S. Lewis classic study 'The Four Loves'. Special attention will be given to the relation between views of love and the nature of happiness, proper treatment of others, human desire and psychology, character, self-love, and religious devotion.

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Philosophy, Philosophy

PreRequisite(s): PHIL 201

PHIL 441 Symbolic Logic
3 credit(s)
The study of modern symbolic logic (propositional and predicate). Metalogical issues (the syntax and semantics of formal systems) are discussed.

- Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior
PreRequisite(s): PHIL 201
PHIL 450 Happiness credit(s): 3
In one form or another, the nature of happiness has always been a central concern of philosophical reflection. In recent years, a new body of psychological research has made interesting contributions to our understanding of happiness. Specifically, Mihaly Csikszentmihalyi's work on 'flow' and Martin Seligman's research on happiness will be considered. This course will sample some of this research and bring it into dialogue with traditional philosophical texts from Western and Eastern philosophy, such as Epicureanism, Stoicism, Taoism, and modern movements such as Existentialism, Liberalism, and Marxism. We will also consider very recent philosophical work on the nature of happiness. Along with this study, we will ask historiographic questions about how the philosophical problem of happiness is temporally and culturally conditioned.
Restriction(s):

PreRequisite(s): PHIL 201

PHIL 462 Theories Solidarity and Social Justice credit(s): 3
This course is designed to fulfill one of the requirements of the Solidarity and Social Justice minor. It builds on the background provided by other courses in the SOSJ minor and the University Core by focusing more explicitly on the role public reason plays in the pursuit of solidarity and social justice. The course will ask “What is justice and how is it related to human solidarity? How do we ground claims about solidarity and social justice through an appeal to reason? What role should reason play in shaping our models of justice and what role can it play in the promotion of solidarity and social justice?”
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): PHIL - Ethics or Political, SOSJ - Block A
Equivalent(s): PHIL 408, Equivalent(s): SOSJ 410
Restriction(s):
  Must be in the following Major(s): Philosophy, Philosophy

- PreRequisite(s): PHIL 201

PHIL 478 Philosophy of Technology credit(s): 3
This course in applied philosophy involves reflection and self-understanding of our technology-saturated world. Examinations of well-known philosophers' writings on technology will be covered. Course goals include a deeper, more reflective understanding of the nature of technology, its role in our lives, its ethical implications, its political ramifications and its relation to society.

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Philosophy, Philosophy
- PreRequisite(s): PHIL 201

PHIL 484 Major Figures and Movements credit(s): 3
An in-depth exploration of the work of a single figure or movement in the history of philosophy.

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Philosophy, Philosophy
- PreRequisite(s): PHIL 201

PHIL 485 Philosophy in Film credit(s): 3
Many current films raise first-order philosophical questions or issues, though few films are particularly good at solving those same problems or resolving the conflict underlying the issues. This course seeks to explore many contemporary films (none older than "Blade Runner") and the philosophical issues they raise, both by their explicit content and by their implicit content. Metaphysical issues about the mind and body relationship, the nature and extent of free will, and the nature of personal identity will be included. Some epistemological issues having to do with how well we can expect to have access to reality, and what might be among the impediments to the access will also be included. The course generally avoids treating ethical or moral issues, but also takes an interest in the use of the emotions in films, the treatment of violence and human sexuality in films and the nature of comedy in films. Some attention will also be given to film techniques, especially from the point of view of the audience.

Restriction(s):

Chairperson: E. Aver
Professors: J. Bierman, J. Byrne (Emeritus), A. Greer, E. Kincanon
Associate Professors: E. Aver, C. Fink, A. Fritsch, N. Moore
Assistant Professors: M. Geske
Senior Lecturers: H. Hoeck-Mills, J. Wilson
Lab Specialists: D. Buckley, J. Kemper, B. Parris

The department offers two degrees, one major, and one minor:

Bachelor of Science, Physics major Bachelor of Arts, Physics major
Minor in Physics

Students are expected to declare their major in this area in their first year. Students who declare late or plan to study abroad can be accommodated by arrangement with the department.

The Bachelor of Science is designed as a terminal degree providing the basic foundation for direct employment opportunities. Students who are considering graduate school studies should plan on taking additional coursework aligned with their specific interests and goals. Students will be able to identify a four-year course of study with their advisor that will satisfy graduate school requirements.

Summer research opportunities within the department, as well as with other programs, such as Research Experience for Undergraduates (REU) programs, are encouraged. Majors in Physics are expected to achieve a familiarity with scientific computation and the use of computers to model and solve physical problems. Both lower and Upper Division course offerings span hands-on, experimental physics and the development of theoretical physics.

Students interested in majoring in Physics and attending medical school should meet with a Physics faculty member as early as possible to discuss four-year course planning and potential course substitutions for particular degree requirements.
Students may elect to earn a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in Physics, rather than a Bachelor of Science degree. The basic degree requirements for a B.A. degree are the same as the B.S. degree, except that rather than choosing two additional Upper Division PHYS courses, as the B.S. degree requires, the B.A. degree requires two courses from any area that are agreed to by the Department Chair. The B.A. degree is intended to better allow College of Arts and Sciences students to complete double majors; therefore, students who earn a B.A. degree with a Physics major must also be earning a B.A. degree in another College of Arts and Sciences department.

More information is available on the department's external website and its internal MyGU website.

B.S. or B.A. Major in Physics: 54 Credits

Lower Division

- PHYS 103 and PHYS 103L Scientific Physics I 5 credits
- PHYS 204 and PHYS 204L Scientific Physics II 5 credits
- PHYS 205 Modern Physics 3 credits
- PHYS 208 Computational Physics 2 credits
- PHYS 210 Introduction to Linear Electronics 2 credits
- PHYS 217 Modern Physics Lab 2 credits
- CHEM 101 and CHEM 101L General Chemistry 4 credits
- CPSC 121 Computer Science I 3 credits
- MATH 157 Calculus and Analytical Geometry I 4 credits
- MATH 258 Calculus and Analytical Geometry II 4 credits

Upper Division

- PHYS 300 Mathematical Methods 3 credits
- PHYS 301 Intermediate Mechanics 3 credits
- PHYS 306 Electricity and Magnetism 3 credits
PHYS 310 Intermediate Lab                      2 credits
PHYS 464 Introduction to Quantum Physics      3 credits
Two of the following six Courses:             6 credits
    PHYS 307 Optics
    PHYS 402 Advanced Mechanics
    PHYS 407 Electricity and Magnetism II
    PHYS 409 Nuclear and Particle Physics
    PHYS 412 Biophysics Systems & Modeling
    PHYS 415 Cosmology and Astrophysics
    PHYS 450 Statistical Physics

Physics majors are also encouraged to take:

MATH 259 Calculus and Analytical Geometry III
MATH 260 Ordinary Differential Equations
MATH 339 Linear Algebra and additional CPSC courses.

Minor in Physics: 27 Credits

Lower Division

PHYS 103 Scientific Physics I                  4 credits
PHYS 103L Scientific Physics I Lab             1 credit
PHYS 204 Scientific Physics II                 4 credits
PHYS 204L Scientific Physics II Lab            1 credit
PHYS 205 Modern Physics                        3 credits
MATH 157 Calculus and Analytical Geometry I    4 credits
MATH 258 Calculus and Analytical Geometry II 4 credits

Upper Division

PHYS 208 or above 6 credits

To satisfy the minor, at least one of the chosen electives must be a 3-credit course beyond PHYS 300. With department chair approval, PHYS 390, PHYS 490, PHYS 497, and PHYS 499 may count toward the minor. Also with department chair approval, PHYS 300 may satisfy two credits toward the minor.

Courses:

PHYS 100  Conceptual Physics  credit(s): 3
The basic principles of physics are covered in a descriptive (non-mathematical) manner. Designed for students not majoring in the natural sciences or those needing a very basic background in physics. Not regularly offered; offered upon demand.

PHYS 100L Conceptual Physics Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with PHYS 100. Two hours of laboratory. Not regularly offered; offered upon demand.
Corequisite(s): PHYS 100

PHYS 101  General Physics I  credit(s): 4
Algebra-based introductory physics. Mechanics, including Newton's laws, conservation laws, fluids, oscillations and waves. Five hours of lecture with experimental demonstrations and problems. Not accepted as a prerequisite for any advanced work. Fall.

PHYS 101L General Physics I Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with or after the lecture course PHYS 101. Three hours of laboratory. Fall.
PreRequisite(s): PHYS 101 (or concurrent)

PHYS 102  General Physics II  credit(s): 4
PreRequisite(s): PHYS 101 or PHYS 103

PHYS 102L General Physics II Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with or after the lecture course PHYS 102. Three hours of laboratory. Spring.
PreRequisite(s): (PHYS 101L or PHYS 103L) and PHYS 102 (or concurrent)

PHYS 103  Scientific Physics I  credit(s): 4
Calculus-based introductory physics. Mechanics, including Newton's laws, conservation laws, fluids, oscillations, and waves. Five hours of lecture with experimental demonstrations and problems. Fall and Spring.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 157 (or concurrent)
PHYS 103L Scientific Physics I Lab credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with or after the lecture course PHYS 103. Three hours of laboratory. Fall and Spring.
PreRequisite(s): PHYS 103 (or concurrent)

PHYS 104 Scientific Inquiry credit(s): 3
This course is an integrated course and lab experience satisfying the Core Scientific Inquiry requirement. The course is designed and intended for non-science majors. The topics will be developed conceptually, with the required mathematics not exceeding high school algebra and trigonometry. The specific content will vary with instructor. The course title in Zagweb will identify the focus of the lecture course material. The integrated, open lab experience focuses on developing an understanding of the scientific method and the processes of science, including measurement, modeling, and analysis. The lab experience includes hands-on activities and experiments highlighting the covered processes and delivered in an open lab time format. The lab will be open and staffed on Tuesdays and Thursdays for students to come in and complete that week's lab on their own schedule. Fall and Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Science Inquiry
Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Freshman

PHYS 110 Introduction to Astronomy credit(s): 3
This course is designed for the non-science major. A wide range of topics is covered in order to give an overview of what is currently known about the structure and evolution of the universe. Most areas of observational and theoretical astronomy do not go beyond basic high-school algebra and trigonometry. Not regularly offered; offered upon demand.

PHYS 110L Introduction to Astronomy Lab credit(s): 1
PHYS 110L is optional with concurrent enrollment in PHYS 110. It will consist of experiments and activities further investigating the topics of PHYS 110 involving astronomical measurements and analysis. The required mathematics will not exceed high school algebra and trigonometry. Two hours of laboratory. Not regularly offered; offered upon demand.
Corequisite(s): PHYS 110

PHYS 125 Physics of Music and Sound credit(s): 3
The nature of vibrations and waves will be studied and investigated at the introductory level. Vibrations, properties of waves, addition of waves and the resulting wave phenomena will be covered with an emphasis on their relationship to sound production and interpretation via the ear. This class is designed for non-science majors. The required mathematics will not exceed high school algebra. Not regularly offered; offered upon demand.

PHYS 125L Physics of Music and Sound Lab credit(s): 1
PHYS 125L is optional with concurrent enrollment in PHYS 125. The course will further investigate topics from PHYS 125 involving the behavior of waves. The required mathematics will not exceed high school algebra and trigonometry. Two hours of laboratory. Not regularly offered; offered upon demand.
Corequisite(s): PHYS 125

PHYS 140 Introduction to Geophysics credit(s): 3
This course will look at the basic principles of geophysics. Topics examined include earthquakes, tsunamis, land formations and erosion, geological exploration, and global warming. Mathematics is kept at a minimal level. Not regularly offered; offered upon demand.

PHYS 140L Introduction to Geophysics Lab credit(s): 1
This is a lab course to accompany PHYS 140. Experiments involve examination of crater formation, angle of repose, wave motion, rock classification, and buoyancy. Two hours of laboratory. Not regularly offered; offered upon demand.
Corequisite(s): PHYS 140

PHYS 185  Special Topics  credit(s): 1-4
Topic to be determined by instructor.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

PHYS 193  First Year Seminar  credit(s): 3
The First-Year Seminar (FYS) introduces new Gonzaga students to the University, the Core Curriculum, and Gonzaga's Jesuit mission and heritage. While the seminars will be taught by faculty with expertise in particular disciplines, topics will be addressed in a way that illustrates approaches and methods of different academic disciplines. The seminar format of the course highlights the participatory character of university life, emphasizing that learning is an active, collegial process.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: First Year Seminar

Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Freshman

PHYS 198  Lab Methodology  credit(s): 0-1
Course repeatable for 8 credit(s).

PHYS 199  Special Topics  credit(s): 3-4
Topic to be determined by instructor.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

PHYS 199L  Special Topics Lab  credit(s): 0-1
Course repeatable for 3 credit(s).
Corequisite(s): PHYS 199

PHYS 204  Scientific Physics II  credit(s): 4
Calculus-based introductory physics. Thermodynamics, electricity and magnetism, and optics.
Five hours of lecture with experimental demonstrations and problems. Fall and Spring.
PreRequisite(s): PHYS 103 and MATH 258 (or concurrent)

PHYS 204L  Scientific Physics II Lab  credit(s): 1
Taken concurrently with or after the lecture course PHYS 204. Three hours of laboratory. Fall and Spring.
PreRequisite(s): PHYS 103L and PHYS 204 (or concurrent)

PHYS 205  Modern Physics  credit(s): 3
Special relativity, development and an introduction to quantum mechanics and other selected topics. Spring.
PreRequisite(s): PHYS 204

PHYS 208  Computational Physics  credit(s): 2
An introduction to computational physics. Students will be introduced to many of the basic ideas, algorithms, and tools used by physicists to solve problems. Techniques learned here will be used in most upper level courses. Fall, even years.
PreRequisite(s): PHYS 103 and MATH 258

PHYS 210  Introduction to Linear Electronics  credit(s): 2
This course is primarily a laboratory in which students learn basic concepts of linear electronics and laboratory techniques through passive components, DC and AC applications, use of test equipment, operational amplifiers, basic transistor circuits, and more. Two hours of lecture and one three-hour laboratory exercise per week. Spring, even years.
PreRequisite(s): PHYS 204L

PHYS 217  Modern Physics Lab  credit(s): 2
Usually taken concurrently with PHYS 205, this course looks at laboratory examples of topics. covered in PHYS 205. Spring, odd years.

PreRequisite(s): PHYS 205 (or concurrent)

PHYS 290 Sophomore Directed Reading credit(s): 1-4

Directed reading in approved topics. Requires completion of a form, departmental approval and cannot be registered for via ZAGWEB.

Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

PHYS 300 Mathematical Methods credit(s): 3

Survey of mathematical techniques used in Upper Division physics courses. Fall.

PreRequisite(s): PHYS 204

PHYS 301 Intermediate Mechanics credit(s): 3

Particle and rigid body statics and dynamics in a rigorous vectorial calculus treatment. A fundamental introduction to theoretical physics. Spring, even years.

PreRequisite(s): PHYS 300( or MATH 259 and MATH 260 and PHYS 204)

PHYS 306 Electricity and Magnetism credit(s): 3

Electrical and magnetic phenomena leading to a development of Maxwell’s equations and electromagnetic field theory. Fall, even years.

PreRequisite(s): PHYS 300( or MATH 259 and MATH 260 and PHYS 204)

PHYS 307 Optics credit(s): 3

Treatment of optical phenomena using the three major models for light: rays, waves, and photons. Spring, odd years.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): PHYS 300( or PHYS 204 and MATH 259 and MATH 260)

PHYS 310 Intermediate Lab credit(s): 2

This course will discuss the major analytic techniques used in experimental physics through experiments in mechanics, heat, electromagnetism, and modern physics, and will apply these techniques to classic experiments. Fall, odd years.

PreRequisite(s): PHYS 204L

PHYS 390 Directed Study credit(s): 1-4

Topic to be determined by faculty.

Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

PHYS 402 Advanced Mechanics credit(s): 3

A continuation of PHYS 301 and extension to dynamics of particles, rigid bodies, and fluids by the use of Lagrangian and Hamiltonian formalisms. Fall, even years.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): PHYS 301

PHYS 407 Electricity and Magnetism II credit(s): 3

A continuation of PHYS 306; a study of advanced topics in E&M. Spring, odd years.

PreRequisite(s): PHYS 306

PHYS 409 Nuclear and Particle Physics credit(s): 3

Study of experimental and theoretical aspects of nuclear interactions as they apply to nuclear structure and elementary particle characteristics. Spring, even years.

PreRequisite(s): PHYS 205

PHYS 412 Biophysical Systems & Modeling credit(s): 3

Study of biological systems using first principles, tools, and models from physics. Topics may include diffusion, membrane potentials, models of neural dynamics, information processing in biological systems, and other selected biophysics topics. Spring, even years. Upon sufficient demand.

PreRequisite(s): (CPSC 121 or ENSC 192) and PHYS 300( or PHYS 204 and MATH 260)
PHYS 415  Cosmology and Astrophysics  credit(s): 3
Study of the global evolution of the universe, including the expansion rate of the universe, big bang nucleosynthesis, the cosmic microwave background radiation, inflation, relativity, and other selected astrophysics topics. Spring, even years. Upon sufficient demand.
PreRequisite(s): PHYS 300( or MATH 259 and MATH 260 and PHYS 204)

PHYS 432  Core Integration Seminar  credit(s): 3
The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) engages the Year Four Question: "Imagining the possible: What is our role in the world?" by offering students a culminating seminar experience in which students integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the Core, and their disciplinary expertise. Each section of the course will focus on a problem or issue raised by the contemporary world that encourages integration, collaboration, and problem solving. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students’ future role in the world.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Core Integration Seminar

PHYS 450  Statistical Physics  credit(s): 3
Study of thermal properties from microscopic and statistical viewpoints. Topics include: probability distributions, entropy, density of states, black body radiation. Fall, odd years.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): PHYS 204

PHYS 464  Introduction to Quantum Physics  credit(s): 3
The development of the Schrödinger equation and its application to various potential energy functions. Fall, odd years.
PreRequisite(s): (PHYS 205 and PHYS 300)( or PHYS 205 and MATH 259 and MATH 260)

PHYS 468  Solid State Physics  credit(s): 3
An introduction to the quantum-mechanical description of solid materials and their behaviors.
PreRequisite(s): PHYS 464

PHYS 490  Directed Reading  credit(s): 1-4
Directed reading in advanced topics. Requires completion of form, and department permission. Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

PHYS 497  Internship  credit(s): 0-6
Credit recognition of an internship or research experience, arranged by the student, directly related to the student’s Physics Major and/or career plans, where said experience helps the student increase and develop practical physics knowledge and skills. Prior to registration, a student must secure participation in an internship or research experience, identify a faculty supervisor, complete and submit the Physics Department Internship Application form, and receive permission from the Physics Department. Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

PHYS 499  Senior Project  credit(s): 0-3
May be undertaken by B.S. Physics Majors in their senior year. Permission from department required.
Political Science

Chairperson: Stacy Taninchev
Professors: L. Brunell, B. Garvin, J. Isacoff, M. Leiserson (Emeritus)
Associate Professors: M. Connolly, S.J., J. Gardner, C. Stavrianos, S. Taninchev, M. Treleaven, R. Waterman

The department offers one major and one minor:

Bachelor of Arts, Political Science major
Minor in Political Science

Political science courses invite students to examine political thought and systems past and present. A major or minor in political science provides an enduring political education for citizens, a solid basis for graduate work, a fine background for the study of law, the teaching or practice of politics and social and economic organization, and change.

Our faculty believes that public-spirited participation in civic affairs serves the department’s mission and the mission of Gonzaga University. So, we encourage majors to do politics in our public affairs internships and other forms of experiential learning as well as in pursuing their own political interests and passions. In the fall or spring semester of their senior year, all political science majors must take POLS 499, Preparation for the Comprehensive, a one credit seminar that helps students review their departmental and related studies in preparation for comprehensive examination in November or April. Students base the examination on the special interests and thematic questions they have discovered in their courses as well as in their own political engagement, service learning, internships, study abroad, etc.

The faculty also provide guidance and advice about applying to graduate school or law school and pursuing careers in politics, public administration, or international affairs.
B.A. Major in Political Science: 31 credits

Lower Division

- POLS 101 American Politics: 3 credits
- POLS 102, POLS 103 or POLS 104 if taken in the freshman or sophomore years: 0-6 credits

Upper Division

- POLS 300-329; POLS 484 U.S. Government and Politics: 6 credits
- POLS 330-349; POLS 486 Political Thought: 6 credits
- POLS 350-389; POLS 487-488 Comparative Government/International Relations: 6 credits
- POLS Electives: 3-9 credits
- POLS 499 Comprehensive Exam Preparation: 1 credit

Minor in Political Science: 18 Credits

Courses:

POLS 101  American Politics
credit(s): 3
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Social/Behavioral Sci

POLS 102  Political Thinkers and Actors
credit(s): 3
Treatment of six distinctive figures in political life: philosopher, saint, prince, revolutionary, statesman, and citizen, in order to determine their characteristic contributions to an understanding of politics. Examples: Socrates, Thomas More, Machiavelli’s Prince, American Founding Fathers, Marx and Engels, and the students of the 1960’s. Uses a variety of materials, including pamphlets, philosophical dialogues, essays, and dramas. Fall and Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Social/Behavioral Sci

POLS 103  People and Politics World Wide
credit(s): 3
Comparison of key political institutions, political attitudes, patterns of interaction, and long-term quarrels in selected countries from Europe, Middle East, Asia, Africa and Latin America. How legislatures, executives, and political parties work and the influence of culture, social structure, ideology, and nationalism. Fall.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Social/Behavioral Sci

POLS 104  International Politics
credit(s): 3
This course is designed to be an introduction to the political science subfield of international relations. The course will cover the major theoretical perspectives in international relations, security and economic relations between states, and global challenges that states face from non-state actors and the environment. Fall and Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Social/Behavioral Sci

POLS 190  Directed Study
credit(s): 1-4
Topic to be determined by instructor.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

POLS 193  First Year Seminar
credit(s): 3
The First-Year Seminar (FYS) introduces new Gonzaga students to the University, the Core Curriculum, and Gonzaga’s Jesuit mission and heritage. While the seminars will be taught by faculty with expertise in particular disciplines, topics will be addressed in a way that illustrates approaches and methods of different academic disciplines. POLS 301  Politics of Food
credit(s): 3
Examines the nature and origins of local, state, and federal policies impacting the U.S. food system. Major topics include food safety, nutrition guidelines, the problems of hunger and obesity. Significant attention is paid to the interplay of ordinary citizens, corporations, and local, state and federal governments and the role of each in the policy making process. Spring, alternate years. Occasional.

POLS 303  Constitutional Law: Civil Liberty and Rights
credit(s): 3
A case-based examination of Supreme Court decisions treating aspects of the Bill of Rights and the Fourteenth Amendment. These decisions cover topics such as freedom of speech, freedom of the press, religious freedoms, the right to privacy, and questions of discrimination in its many forms, including racial, sexual, and voting rights. Spring.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): BU - LPP conc Req, CRIM - Elective, CRIM - Law, CRIM - Political Science

Equivalent(s): WGST 343

Restriction(s):
- Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior, Sophomore

POLS 306 Congress and the Presidency credit(s): 3

The Congress, its rules and procedures, committee and party leadership, and the influence of Congress on national policy. The Presidential office, its constitutional powers and its evolution over the years. The "modern presidency" since Franklin Roosevelt. Conflict and co-operation between the Congress and the President. Spring.

Restriction(s):
- Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior, Sophomore

POLS 309 Political Parties and Election credit(s): 3

How our nation's political parties are organized inside and outside government. Whether they are weak or strong. Occasional efforts to reform parties. Their role in elections. Other influences on presidential and congressional elections. The conduct of election campaigns. How voters make up their minds. Explaining election outcomes. Fall, even years.

Restriction(s):
- Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior, Sophomore

POLS 310 Native American Government and Political credit(s): 3

This course will see Native American government and politics in a milieu of intergovernmental relations, of community to community connections, or the lack of such relationships. Taking social justice as importantly about relationships, and doing so in respect of governing, this course will to study how (or how not) federal, state, and municipal governments interact with Native American governments. Spring, even years. Spring, even years.

POLS 311 State and Local Government credit(s): 3

Surveys state and local government: intergovernmental relations, finance, state sovereignty, shifts in federalism and social policy, politics of urban and rural regions. State election systems may be studied for their significant influence over national elections. Occasional.

POLS 324  Grass Roots Politics  credit(s): 3
Examination of past town-meeting and recent theory and practice aimed at increasing direct use of political power by ordinary American citizens. Emphasis on the possibility of a new model of democratic government. Occasional.

Restriction(s):
  Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior, Sophomore

POLS 325  Selected Topics: American Politics  credit(s): 3
The study of selected topics in American politics. Occasional.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

Restriction(s):
  Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior, Sophomore

POLS 326  Race and Ethnicity Politics  credit(s): 3
Examines the conditions facing selected racial and ethnic groups in the U.S., with African Americans being the primary case for analysis. Topics include the social construction of race and ethnicity, the wide range of political strategies and tactics employed by racial and ethnic groups in pursuit of equality, and U.S. immigration policy. Fall, even years.
Equivalent(s): SOSJ 343, Equivalent(s): WGST 345C
Restriction(s):
  Must not be the following Class(es): Freshman
POLS 327 American Social Policy credit(s): 3
Examines the origins, patterns, reforms, and criticisms of American social policy, the ties between knowledge and social policy; the impact of education, health care, and welfare policies on women, children, different racial and ethnic groups, and the middle class. Reviews normative claims for the proper role of the state and capitalism. Compares other western, capitalist societies and their policy regimes. Occasional.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): BU - LPP conc Req
Equivalent(s): WGST 344
Restriction(s):

POLS 328 Politics of the Pacific Northwest credit(s): 3
State and society in the Pacific Northwest: government, parties, reform movements, regionalism, and social forces in the U.S. Pacific Northwest, and British Columbia and Alberta. Regional issues such as taxation, health care, urbanization, land use, education, the environment, and resource-based economics are addressed in a comparative Canadian-U.S. context. Occasional.
Equivalent(s): ENVS 380
Restriction(s):
  Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior, Sophomore
POLS 329 North American Environmental Policies credit(s): 3
Study of local, regional, and international environmental policy, its challenges for not only administration and understanding, but also citizenship and accountability. Topics include water, ecosystem management and sustainability in the U.S., Canada and Mexico. Occasional.
Equivalent(s): ENVS 329
Restriction(s):
  Must not be the following Class(es): Freshman
POLS 330 Ruling Well: Plato-Machiavelli credit(s): 3
Great political theorists have criticized rulers and proposed alternative ways of ruling. In short, they have tried to change the world. This course examines the efforts of Plato, Aristotle, Augustine, Aquinas and Machiavelli to teach rulers how to do their job well. Fall, odd years.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CATH - Catholic Studies elec
Restriction(s):

POLS 336 Selected Texts In Political Thought credit(s): 3
Intensive look at a single writer or group of writers; designed to achieve greater understanding than is possible in a broad survey course. Occasional. Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
Restriction(s):
   Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior, Sophomore

POLS 338 20th-Century Political Thought credit(s): 3
Treatment of 20th-century authors who examine the difficulties for democratic political life in contemporary mass society. Fall.
Restriction(s):
   Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior, Sophomore

POLS 341 Feminist Thought credit(s): 3
Analyzes several varieties of feminist theory to explore how conceptions of women, gender and feminism have changed and have structured women's opportunities to participate fully in politics and the economy. Central questions include: the nature of sex/gender and sex/gender difference; what is feminism; who identifies as a feminist; and how gender identities are mediated by our class, race, and ethnic identities. Fall.
Equivalent(s): WGST 401
Restriction(s):
   Must not be the following Class(es): Freshman

POLS 343 War and Peace credit(s): 3
Analyzes several political philosophers' writings about war and peace, such as Kant's Perpetual Peace; also looks into recent case studies about establishing peace in various parts of the world. Occasional.

POLS 346 Tocqueville and America credit(s): 3
Close consideration of perhaps the greatest book on America politics and society. Tocqueville's trip to America. His two volume work, Democracy in America. Tocqueville as a 19th century theorist of revolution. How far America today resembles Tocqueville's description in the 1830s. What Tocqueville can teach us today about the link between political participation and freedom. Occasional.

POLS 350 Survey of International Studies credit(s): 3
Contemporary global issues and background information for all courses in International Studies. Studies the wisdom of the world's main civilizations, comparative economic systems and ideas, international politics, and the potential for international integration.
Restriction(s):
   Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior, Sophomore

POLS 351 International Relations credit(s): 3
Theory and practice of the international political system and the behavior of the participating nations. Taught only at Gonzaga-in-Florence.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): INST - Interactions
Equivalent(s): INST 342
Restriction(s):
   Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior, Sophomore
POLS 352    Latin American Politics
Impressive contributions and drawbacks of the caudillo or leader in Latin American history, culture, and society, in the range of contemporary forms of government-democratic, dictatorial, revolutionary. Some treatment of U.S. foreign policy. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): INST - Interactions, INST - Latin American Studies
Equivalent(s): INST 385
Restriction(s):
    Must not be the following Class(es): Freshman

POLS 354    Comparative European Politics
Survey of the parties, institutions, political processes, issues and policies of the major western European industrialized nations. Special focus on England, France, and Germany, but coverage extends to the other European democracies as well. Fall, even years.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): INST - Difference, INST - European Studies
Equivalent(s): INST 395

The department offers one major and one minor:

Bachelor of Arts, Psychology major (optional research concentration)
Minor in Psychology

The Department of Psychology offers courses that focus on the scientific study of human and animal behavior and decision-making. The department offers a Bachelor of Arts in Psychology.

General Psychology (PSYC 101), Statistics for Psychology (PSYC 202) and Scientific Principles of Psychology (PSYC 206) are prerequisites for most upper division courses. These courses provide students with an initial understanding and appreciation of the scientific method in psychology. General Psychology, Statistics, and Scientific Principles of Psychology constitute the Lower Division requirements for both the major and the minor. Students must earn a B- or better in Scientific Principles of Psychology to complete the major in Psychology.
After taking the three Lower Division requirements, Psychology minors are required to complete 12 credits of upper-division psychology coursework. Majors are required to complete 24 credits of upper-division coursework, 18 of which must be selected from particular cluster areas as described below. Finally, majors must either pass a comprehensive examination (PSYC 499) or complete independent research under faculty supervision, the results of which must be presented at a regional or national conference (PSYC 498). Students usually complete the comprehensive exam or independent research during their final year—once they have completed the majority of their coursework.

Research Concentration:

The Research Concentration is a special pathway within the Psychology major. This concentration is for students planning to advance onto doctoral level graduate degrees (Ph.D.) upon completing their undergraduate degree at Gonzaga. Students who declare this concentration are required to receive an A- in Scientific Principles of Psychology (PSYC 206) or petition the Department Chair of Psychology for admittance to the concentration. For Upper Division classes, students in the concentration will take Advanced Statistics in Psychology (PSYC 450) and one of the following: 1) Advanced Research Methods in Psychology–Graduate Emphasis, and the required laboratory (PSYC 455 and PSYC 455L); 2) Behavior Analysis and the required laboratory (PSYC 470 and PSYC 470L); or 3) at least 3 credits of Group Research Topics (PSYC 493) or Individual Research Topics (PSYC 496). Students in the concentration must present their research at a local, regional, or national conference. Finally, students in the concentration will register for the Comprehensive Alternate (PSYC 498) during the semester in which they are presenting their research at a conference.

PreRequisite(s): PSYC 101

PSYC 402 Forensic Psychology credit(s): 3
This course is an introductory level course to the field of forensic psychology, the branch of psychology which focuses on the application of psychological research data and principles within the legal arena. Students will be introduced to the process of applying psychological knowledge, concepts, and principles within the civil and criminal court systems. This course will include an introduction to an overview of topics such as the history of forensic psychology, an overview of the legal system, consultation to legal parties, ethical issues, eye witness testimony, assessment, evaluation of malingering, competency in criminal proceedings, civil commitment, child custody, psychologist testimony in courtroom settings, assessment of sexual offenders, assessment of violent and homicidal behavior, treatment of crime victims, police and investigative psychology, and careers within this field. A variety of formats will be used including lecture, readings, presentation by class members on selected topics, and guest speakers from within the legal arena.

Disclaimer: This course by virtue of its topic will address issues related to criminal activity and the subsequent legal proceedings. Although it may seem obvious, each person should consider carefully whether the content is suitable before enrolling in the course as the lectures, readings, and other materials may at times involve topics related to violence and sometimes sexual material, which may be offensive to some people. Upon sufficient demand.

PSYC 410 Marriage and Family credit(s): 3
Individuals develop within a complex network of relationships. Among these, family relationships are especially significant due to their centrality and longevity. This course examines what we know from the empirical study of family relationships. Students are introduced to methods of studying family relationships as well as prominent theories and findings regarding marital and family functioning. Two themes span the variety of topics covered in this course. The first involves the importance of understanding the family as a system embedded in a particular socio-economic context. The second has to do with the interface between individual and family development.

Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Psychology, Psychology
PreRequisite(s): PSYC 101 and (PSYC 206 or HPHY 210 or SOCI 204) and (PSYC 202 or BUSN 230 or MATH 121 or MATH 321 or NURS 320 or SOCI 202)
PSYC 412 Family Systems: Theory and Practice credit(s): 3
This course introduces students to the theory and practice of family systems. We will compare and contrast various models of family systems including transgenerational, structural, strategic, and experiential approaches. This course is especially recommended for students considering a career in a clinical context as a therapist. We will apply family systems theories to clinical case studies and examine how family therapists try to bring about change. Students will have an opportunity to integrate these concepts as they begin to clarify and develop their own therapeutic framework.

Restriction(s):

PSYC 422   Develop in Diverse Environment credit(s): 3
Students in this course will explore child development across various contexts with particular emphasis on broadening students' perspectives beyond normative development in white, middle class environments. Contexts explored will include poverty and homelessness, racial discrimination, diverse family contexts (e.g., divorce, parents who are homosexual), foster care and adoption, violent/war stricken environments, and cross-cultural child-rearing practices. May include a service-learning component.
PreRequisite(s): PSYC 101 and (PSYC 206 or HPHY 210 or SOCI 204) and (PSYC 202 or BUSN 230 or MATH 121 or MATH 321 or NURS 320 or SOCI 202)
PSYC 428   Seminar: Psychology of Trauma credit(s): 3
Since the Viet Nam war, our culture has become increasingly familiar with the terms 'trauma' and 'posttraumatic stress disorder' (PTSD). But what is trauma, exactly, and what are its effects? Is the nature of the trauma (type, duration) related to its impact? As a discipline, what do we know about the onset, duration and prognosis of PTSD? What do we know about the experience of PTSD? This course addresses these questions and considers both intrapersonal (biological and cognitive) and interpersonal dimensions of trauma.
Restriction(s):

PSYC 432   Core Integration Seminar credit(s): 3
The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) engages the Year Four Question: “Imagining the possible: What is our role in the world?” by offering students a culminating seminar experience in which students integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the Core, and their disciplinary expertise. Each section of the course will focus on a problem or issue raised by the contemporary world that encourages integration, collaboration, and problem solving. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students' future role in the world.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Core Integration Seminar
PSYC 440  Child Psychology in Zambia

The department offers one major and one minor:

Bachelor of Arts, Religious Studies major
Minor in Religious Studies

Religious Studies at Gonzaga University is guided by a recognition of the increasingly globalized and diverse character of the contemporary world. Complementing such diversity, the course offerings in the Department of Religious Studies employ a rich array of academic methods to investigate the cultural, social, and religious realities that animate the subjects of Religion and Theology. In order to better understand the complex, globalized world in which they find themselves living, Religious Studies majors are given the tools to explore a diversity of religious traditions. In addition, through the appreciation of the variety of methods and approaches that define the academic study of religion, Religious Studies majors cultivate the kinds of robust, critical thinking skills that will better enable them to navigate the many complex issues and problems that define the contemporary world.

Students majoring in Religious Studies are required to fulfill 36 credit hours in accordance with the following four methodological areas: one course in Sacred Texts and Traditions; one course in Theology and Spirituality; one course in Religion, Culture, and Society; one course in Ethics; and one course in Methodology (399). In addition, majors are required to take at least four seminar level (400) courses, including Senior Thesis (499) and/or Internship (497). The remaining nine credits for the major are electives and may be fulfilled by taking courses in any of the four methodological areas listed above.

Students minoring in Religious Studies are required to fulfill 18 credit hours in accordance with the following: one course in Ethics; one course in Methodology (399); and two courses at or above the 400 seminar level. Any remaining credits needed for the required total of 18 credit hours are electives and may be fulfilled by taking courses in any of the four methodological areas listed above.

Religious Studies/Law 3+3 Program

The Religious Studies Department also offers a 3+3 dual-degree program with the Gonzaga School of Law. This program consists of three years in the undergraduate major and entrance to the Law School in the fourth year, resulting in a B.A. with a major in Religious Studies and a J.D. from the Gonzaga University School of Law in six years rather than seven.

The 3+3 program requires successful completion of 96 credits from Gonzaga University by the end of their junior year (six semesters). Upon completion of these 96 credits, the student should have met all relevant undergraduate degree requirements, except for the final 32 elective credits required under the 128 credit undergraduate degree policy. The additional 32 elective credits will be fulfilled using completed law school courses. Students complete the application to the Gonzaga School of Law in their fifth semester.

The department offers one major and one minor:

Bachelor of Arts, Sociology major
Minor in Sociology

The Sociology program helps students develop an awareness of the connections between our individual experiences and the groups to which we belong. Learning the theories and methodologies of sociology provides students with an excellent foundation for a variety of careers, including law, government service, teaching, and business. The department has designed the major to facilitate the acquisition of skills in social scientific theorizing and research design. The student may use elective credits to pursue an interest in a specific area of the discipline, such as social inequality, social psychology, social institutions, or deviance.

Students have the opportunity to graduate with honors in the major if they have fulfilled all requirements, achieved a grade point average of at least 3.70 in their sociology courses, and written and defended a senior thesis (SOCI 498).

Students who are planning to obtain certification in elementary or secondary education, while majoring in Sociology, must consult with advisors in the department and in the School of Education to insure all requirements may be met. The department advises students to choose a minor which will broaden and strengthen their social science knowledge.

Solidarity and Social Justice

Director: Fall 2020: William Hayes; Spring 2021: Andrea Bertotti Metoyer

The program offers one minor:

Minor in Solidarity and Social Justice

The Solidarity and Social Justice (SOSJ) minor strives to provide students with a thorough understanding of the range of ways that scholars, researchers, and students address injustices and engage in efforts to promote social justice in the contemporary world. The minor provides students with a strong foundation for understanding and researching justice issues from a variety of disciplinary perspectives and endeavors to inspire them to become "men and women for others," while also fostering the practical skills necessary for employment.

The curriculum enables students to blend the best of the liberal arts with courses designed for professional training to integrate themes of justice and peace into their academic, civic, and social pursuits. Special emphasis is placed upon the development of the habits of critical thinking and reflection, the skills of effective communication and leadership, as well as the acquisition of basic knowledge of the social sciences as they pertain to the areas of social justice, community building, social change, and human dignity.

Minor in Theatre Arts
Minor in Dance

Since the earliest human civilizations, theatre and dance have been integral to the fabric of human communication. The process of performance is woven into personal, community, business, artistic, and religious life - and into the dialogue among the cultures and nations of the world.

Critical examination of this process describes, interprets, and evaluates these relationships. As faculty in the Department of Theatre & Dance, we seek to assist students in becoming effective, creative, and ethically responsible communicators who can understand theoretical choices and design, express, interpret, and critically evaluate oral, written, nonverbal, and electronically mediated messages.

Theatre & Dance, as an academic discipline, draws upon the humanities, the social and natural sciences, and the professions. The curriculum is both conceptual and applied. Courses prepare for an in-depth exploration of one or more areas of inquiry. Teaching and learning methods combine lectures, seminars, workshops, production, and performance. Theatre & Dance at Gonzaga reflects the Catholic, Jesuit character and liberal arts tradition of the institution.
Mission Statement

The Theatre & Dance Department at Gonzaga University is committed to training and developing artists who confront the important issues of our lives through their engagement with the art forms of live theatre and dance.

Students study and critically reflect on a broad range of literature, theatrical forms, and techniques in order to promote an active engagement with the foundations of our culture and to promote the formation of a character that reflects the faith and justice mission of Gonzaga University. The intended outcome of this study and reflection is to provide service to our audience and the broader community and to promote the pursuit for social justice.

Our purpose is to serve young artists hoping to apply disciplined training and thoughtful work to search for justice and the greater good of those around them.

Students interested in a minor that combines the strengths of theatre, dance, visual arts, and music should visit the Interdisciplinary Arts page for more information about the Interdisciplinary Arts Minor.

Courses:

THEA 100 Introduction to Theatre Arts 3 credits
An introductory survey of the history, aesthetics, and literature of the theatre, and the various areas of theatrical production. Fall and Spring. Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design
THEA 102 Dance: Culture and Art 3 credits
This course introduces dance as a social form present in all cultures and as an art form composed for the stage. This course provides the necessary skills and understanding for an appreciation of the social, physical, and artistic qualities of dance through various cultures. Somatic learning of social/ballroom dance forms is paired with cognitive and emotional understanding of the countries and cultures from which they were derived. Students will also study the concepts of leading and following, the transition from social to concert dance as a global phenomenon, and gain an understanding of dance from a global perspective.
THEA 111 Acting I 4 credits
An introduction to the techniques of dramatic expression utilizing the body, voice, and imagination. Structured play exercise helps the beginner to overcome physical/vocal inhibitions, and develop a sense of trust and teamwork within the group. Scene work is approached using beats, intentions, scores of physical actions, obstacles, and subtext. The class concludes with a recital to provide practical experience in rehearsal and performance. Fall and Spring. Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design
THEA 120 Voice and Movement 3 credits
An introduction to expressively engaging the entire physical instrument in life and performance. Coursework focuses on a variety of techniques designed to develop an increased range of physical and vocal expression. The course features experimentation in a studio setting and practical/creative application through rehearsal and performance. Fall, odd years.
THEA 122 Interdisciplinary Arts 3 credits
This course uses concepts of theatre-, dance-, and visual arts-based research to solve problems. Students will be exposed, through lecture and assignments, to theories and methods from each art form and will learn to integrate the art forms to explore complex concepts through performance. Fall. Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design
THEA 124 Ballet I 2 credits
Beginning instruction in ballet. This course includes the technique, vocabulary and history of classical ballet. May be repeated. Fall. Course repeatable for 8 credit(s).
THEA 125  Jazz Dance I  credit(s): 2
Beginning and continuing instruction in jazz dance. This course includes the technique, vocabulary and history of the genre. May be repeated. Fall.
Course repeatable for 8 credit(s).
THEA 130  Topics in Dance  credit(s): 1-2
Advanced courses, visiting artists, cultural dance. Periodic offering.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
THEA 132  Stagecraft  credit(s): 4
The theory and practice of the construction and painting of scenery and props, the fundamentals of stage lighting, and the organization of technical work in the theatre. Includes a lab component.
Fall.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design
THEA 134  Costume Construction  credit(s): 3
In this class we will seek to understand the overall breadth of the field, with an introduction to its areas of specialization; beginning stitching, patterning, and crafting techniques, and individual contributions to the work of the Gonzaga Costume Shop, as well as a personal construction project. Fall.
THEA 190  Directed Study  credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be determined by faculty.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
THEA 193  First Year Seminar  credit(s): 3
The First-Year Seminar (FYS) introduces new Gonzaga students to the University, the Core Curriculum, and Gonzaga's Jesuit mission and heritage. While the seminars will be taught by faculty with expertise in particular disciplines, topics will be addressed in a way that illustrates approaches and methods of different academic disciplines. The seminar format of the course highlights the participatory character of university life, emphasizing that learning is an active,
collegial process.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: First Year Seminar
Restriction(s):
   Must be the following Class(es): Freshman
THEA 200  Theatre History  credit(s): 3
A study of the theatre as an expression of life and culture from a primitive ritual to the 21st century. Theatre literature, performance practice, and theatre architecture will be studied within the larger context of the culture form which the various types of theatrical expression are derived. Fall, odd years.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design
PreRequisite(s): THEA 100
THEA 216  Acting II  credit(s): 4
An intensive study of the acting process building on skills developed in Acting I (THEA 111). The course focuses on character development in psychological realism and other modern forms and is intended to expand the actor's range with both scene and monologue work, as well as to expand skills in voice/body integration and script analysis. Spring.
PreRequisite(s): THEA 111
THEA 202  Performance Text Analysis  credit(s): 3
This course will provide students with the necessary tools to create—and support other students in the creation of—critical analyses of plays and productions. Through textbook readings designed to provide students with access to the creative process, published play readings engineered to highlight successful analytical lenses and practices, and exercises devised to tap into different modes of creative generation, students will discover multiple methodologies for performance text analysis. Students will learn to give and receive effective feedback. By the end of the semester, students will complete several full performance text analyses and contribute directly to the making of a live performance.

Fall, even years. Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Writing Enriched

THEA 222   E-Portfolio  credit(s): 0
In this zero credit course taken each fall of sophomore and junior years, Interdisciplinary Arts Minor students will submit work from the year before into an e-portfolio format. This will be reviewed by the Director and the student in a scheduled meeting, reviewing ideas for the senior synthesis project and ensuring they are on track with coursework.
Course repeatable 12 time.

THEA 224   Contemporary Modern Dance I  credit(s): 2
Analysis and theory of modern dance with an emphasis on basic technique and movement exploration. Includes a study of the evolution of modern dance and its past and present pioneers. May be repeated. Fall.
Course repeatable for 8 credit(s).

THEA 226   Accelerated Dance Technique  credit(s): 2
A continued study of ballet with an emphasis on artistry, choreography and intermediate level technique. Includes a critical analysis of past and present classical dance works. Completion of THEA 124 Ballet I recommended. May be repeated. Fall and Spring.
Course repeatable for 8 credit(s).

THEA 227   Principles of Dance Conditioning  credit(s): 3
This course will provide student dancers scientific information for understanding the human body, injury prevention and enhanced longevity and performance. Students will be given the tools to connect the anatomy and physiology of the body to dance while performing practical exercises to allow application of the knowledge learned. Spring, even years.

THEA 228   Dance History  credit(s): 3
This course will look at dance as a reflection of culture and as an art form from earliest societies to the present, focusing primarily on western dance history. Fall.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design

THEA 230   Topics in Dance  credit(s): 1-2
Topic to be determined by instructor. Periodic offering.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

THEA 235   Design Process  credit(s): 3
This course covers the fundamentals of the process of designing for the theatre - developing the design from the initial script study through the collaborative process in design meetings. Learning how to "see" and developing points of view and approaches are studied. The course will also cover the business of design, working in regional theatres and other professional venues. Fall, even years.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design

THEA 237   Costume and Fashion Design  credit(s): 3
This course examines the role of costume design in the performance storytelling process for stage and fashion. Utilizing classic design principles and tools, including color theory and artistic media, we will explore turning texts into visual images through script analysis, character interpretation, use of historical dress, and artistic inspirations. Spring.

THEA 239   Lighting Design  credit(s): 3
An introduction to the technical procedures, equipment, organization, drafting, and design principles of theatrical lighting. Students will design and execute lighting for main stage productions. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design

511
THEA 240  Theatre for Young Audiences  credit(s): 3
An introduction to the artistic, pedagogical, and entrepreneurial methods for producing theatre for (and with) young audiences. Coursework features practical rehearsal and performance, a survey of major Theatre for Young Audience plays, applied theatre techniques, and curriculum development. This class is intended for students seeking to become teachers (inside and outside of theatre arts classrooms) and those interested in performing for K-12 audiences. Spring, even years.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design
THEA 253  Directing I  credit(s): 3
The fundamental techniques of play analysis, actor communication, and composition are introduced and applied to model plays. Organizational, leadership, and conceptual skills are developed as students audition, cast, and rehearse chosen scenes from the modern realistic repertoire for performance. Fall.
Restriction(s):
Must not be the following Class(es): Freshman
PreRequisite(s): THEA 111
THEA 260  Production Lab  credit(s): 1
Introductory level participation in one or more phases of the design, technology, and management (DTM) production process (set construction, costume construction, lighting, sound, etc.) Spring and Fall.
Course repeatable for 20 credit(s).
THEA 261  Performance Lab  credit(s): 1
Performance of a role in a theatre production. Spring and Fall.
Course repeatable for 8 credit(s).
THEA 280  Shakespeare in Performance  credit(s): 3
An introductory study of contemporary acting methods used to perform Shakespeare’s plays. Emphasis is placed on balancing Elizabethan language and staging conventions with today’s psychological realism. The course focuses on character development, physical and vocal techniques for the actor, use of verse and prose, delivery of soliloquies, and script analysis. Students will engage with both scene and monologue work. The course is intended to expand the actor’s range as well as the reader’s understanding of Shakespeare’s work for the live stage. Spring, odd years.
THEA 287  Allied Arts  credit(s): 3
The goal of the artist in a theatrical production is simple: to make the audience believe. To that end, it is the responsibility of the scenic artist to create the illusion that rough plywood surfaces are in fact brick walls, or that a masonite floor is instead a cobblestone walkway. This class will explore scenic painting techniques, foam carving, and specialty prop design. Topics include the role of the scenic artist in the production process. Additional emphasis will be placed on faux painting techniques and trompe l’oeil painting. Spring, odd years.
THEA 290  Directed Study  credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be determined by faculty.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
THEA 293  Special Topics  credit(s): 1-4
Topic to be determined by Instructor.
Course repeatable 2 time.
THEA 294  Special Topics  credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be determined by Instructor.
2 time.
THEA 316 Acting For The Camera
With experience of basic acting techniques in hand, the student actor works in front of the camera to meet the challenges of electronic media. Simplicity of presentation, performance of the authentic person, and active listening are key skills. Work is in a variety of forms, from feature films to public service announcements. The class concludes with a public showing of student work. Periodic offering.
PreRequisite(s): THEA 111

THEA 320 Ballet II
This intermediate course in ballet focuses on technique, vocabulary, and choreography. Student participants in public performance. May be repeated. Spring.
Course repeatable for 8 credit(s).
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design
PreRequisite(s): THEA 124 or THEA 226

THEA 426 Advanced Composition and Production
This course builds on the coursework from THEA 425. With a foundation in dance conceptualization, analysis, communication, and choreography, students will create advanced compositions and learn from the production of the Fall Dance Concert. Emphasis is placed on building conceptually rich, unified productions and the development of an individual creative voice while learning what it takes to produce a professional dance concert with guest artists. Fall.
Course repeatable for 4 credit(s).
PreRequisite(s): THEA 425, minimum grade: B
THEA 432 Core Integration Seminar
The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) engages the Year Four Question: "Imagining the possible: What is our role in the world?" by offering students a culminating seminar experience in which students integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the Core, and their disciplinary expertise. Each section of the course will focus on a problem or issue raised by the contemporary world that encourages integration, collaboration, and problem solving. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students' future role in the world.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Core Integration Seminar
THEA 440 Playwriting
This course is designed to provide students with the necessary tools to create dramatic texts for reading and performance. Through play reading assignments and exercises devised to tap into different modes of creative generation, students will discover methodologies for developing new work. Students will hear their work read by actors in a 10-minute play festival. By the end of the semester, students will complete a short one-act play. Fall, even years.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): ENGL - Writing

Visual Literacy

Program Directors: Susan English, Shalon Parker

The program offers one minor:

Minor in Visual Literacy

The Visual Literacy minor focuses on an interdisciplinary approach to studying photographic and video arts, photojournalism and documentary film. The minor gives students models for thinking critically about the interpretation and impact of images in society and artistic creation, and the evolving role of video in online news and social media. The curriculum integrates experiential learning with the theories and ethics of artistic and journalistic visual creation.

Assistant Professor: N. Rodriguez-Coss

The program offers one minor:

Minor in Women's and Gender Studies

The Gonzaga Women's and Gender Studies program is an interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary program that develops the capacity of students to understand the world through diverse theories and methodologies, using gender as a central analytic component. We seek to examine, question, and reflect on the constructions of gender and the impact these have on lived experiences of persons locally, nationally, and transnationally; to foster understanding of the intersectionality of gender, race, ethnicity, sexuality, and socioeconomic class; to cultivate the ethical obligation to combat sexism, heterosexism, and other forms of discrimination; and to encourage students to respect and value difference as we work for social justice.

The program offers a twenty-one credit minor in Women’s and Gender Studies. There are three required Courses: WGST 201 or WGST 202, WGST 401, and WGST 499. Students also select four elective courses in several disciplines, including English literature, history, philosophy, political science, religious studies, and sociology. A maximum of six elective credits may be lower-division courses with a WGST number. Further, a maximum of six elective credits may be component courses ("C" suffix), with the remainder of electives being Upper Division electives with a WGST number or full women’s studies courses.

Full women’s studies courses systematically use the methods, themes, and approaches of feminist scholarship throughout the semester. In component courses, one-third to one-half of the course material addresses gender issues and/or uses feminist perspectives. A maximum of nine credits may be taken in any one discipline. WGST 401 will not be included in this count.

Courses:

WGST 193  First Year Seminar  credit(s): 3

The First-Year Seminar (FYS) introduces new Gonzaga students to the University, the Core Curriculum, and Gonzaga’s Jesuit mission and heritage. While the seminars will be taught by faculty with expertise in particular disciplines, topics will be addressed in a way that illustrates approaches and methods of different academic disciplines. The seminar format of the course highlights the participatory character of university life, emphasizing that learning is an active, collegial process.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: First Year Seminar

Restriction(s):
- Must be the following Class(es): Freshman

WGST 201  Sex, Gender and Society
credit(s): 3
Explores theories and research on the constructions of masculinity and femininity and how these influence our individual lives and social institutions.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): SOSJ - Block B

Equivalent(s):
- SOSJ 220

WGST 202  Gender, Difference, and Power
credit(s): 3
This course will examine the construction and practice of gender in various contexts, with an emphasis on the intersection of gender, race, sexuality, nationality, and (dis)ability. Using an interdisciplinary methodology to understand, analyze and critique gendered power dynamics in society from a sociological, political, anthropological, and historical perspective, this course specifically explores topics such as cultural performances of feminine and masculine behavior, sexuality, women’s rights, militarism, family life, globalization, environmental issues, representation, and social change.

WGST 205  Gender and Pop Culture
credit(s): 3
In the digital media age popular culture saturates many aspects of everyday life. This course is a critical examination of the ways popular culture generates and shapes images of gender, race/ethnicity, class, and sexuality. In order to understand how popular cultural shapes understandings of and attitudes towards gender, the course will pay special attention to the ways femininity and masculinity are represented and contested in multiple forms of commercial media and independent popular culture including music, film, television, print media, video games, news, sports, social media, and various “objects” of material culture, such as food, toys, and clothing.

The course will use cultural studies methods to examine the production, meanings, and social uses of popular culture by multiple communities in local and global contexts.

WGST 219  Introduction to Literature
credit(s): 3
This course introduces student to literacy study through the exploration of gender in the major genres of literature (poetry, fiction, and drama).

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Literature

WGST 220  Studies in Literature and Gender
credit(s): 3
This course examines gender issues in various literary texts. Course may focus on only one genre or may include several genres.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Literature

WGST 221  Literature and Film
credit(s): 3
An introductory exploration of the relationship between literature & film, with the goal of learning to "read" films critically and appreciatively.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Literature

Equivalent(s): ENGL 204

WGST 222  Multicultural Literature
credit(s): 3
This course introduces students to the diverse nature of multicultural literature while helping them develop increasingly complex understandings of the continually evolving issues connected to national and international discourses on race and ethnicity, as well as gender and sexuality. We will explore the ways in which literature contributes to the definition and redefinition of individual and collective identities from multiple perspectives.
WGST 223 Writing credit(s): 3
An expository writing course designed to help students express themselves more effectively. A majority of readings and writing assignments will have a thematic focus on women's and gender issues.

WGST 237C Ethics credit(s): 3
Explores several approaches to ethics, including a feminist perspective, considering how each theoretical approach is grounded. Examines the process of ethical decision-making and how gender affects how we approach ethical issues. Contemporary ethical issues are examined, some of which are gender-related.

PreRequisite(s): PHIL 101 and PHIL 201

WGST 251 Feminist Interpretation of the Hebrew Bible credit(s): 3

WGST 321C  American Literature I
This course examines a variety of genres in American literature through the 1840s: essays, novels, short stories, sermons, poems, women's captivity narratives, and autobiographies. The course will move from Spanish and Native American narratives of contact to the self-questioning of Puritan writers and the mythologizing tendencies of Crevecoeur, Franklin, Cooper, and later writers. In exploring Native American and African American texts as well as works by Emerson and Hawthorne, students will consider the ways in which gender and race help to shape an American literary canon.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): ENGL - American Lit pre-1900
PreRequisite(s): ENGL 101 or ENGL 200 and (CLAS 220 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 105 or ENGL 106 or ENGL 201-249 3 credits or ENGL 251-299 3 credits or WGST 219 or WGST 222)

WGST 323C  American Literature II
This course analyzes the development of American literature from the romanticism of the 1830s to the blooming of the American Renaissance of the 1850s and 1860s. Writers such as Hawthorne, Poe, Emerson, Whitman, Thoreau, and Dickinson will be read alongside less canonical writers such as Fuller, Davis, Douglass, Jacobs, and Stowe. This course seeks to broaden an understanding of American literature by reading works from a variety of genres (short stories, poems, essays, autobiographies, novels) and from writers of different races, classes, and geographical backgrounds.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): ENGL - American Lit pre-1900
Equivalent(s):ENGL 311

WGST 325C  African-American Literature
Examining both nineteenth- and twentieth-century literary works, African-American literature seeks to expose students to the historical, aesthetic, and cultural backgrounds of black writers and writing in America. Beginning with the classic slave narratives, late nineteenth- and early twentieth-century black intellectuals (e.g., Booker T. Washington, W.E.B. DuBois) will introduce the students to the social and political dissension among advocates of black liberation. The course will sample the aesthetic flowering of writers of the Harlem Renaissance (e.g. Langston Hughes, Zora Neale Hurston) and twentieth-century plays and novels (e.g. Lorraine Hansberry, Ralph Ellison, Toni Morrison, August Wilson).

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): ENGL - American Lit post-1900, ENGL - British/American Lit
PreRequisite(s): ENGL 101 or ENGL 200 and (CLAS 220 or ENGL 102 or ENGL 105 or ENGL 106 or ENGL 201-249 3 credits or ENGL 251-299 3 credits or WGST 219 or WGST 222)

WGST 326C  American Literature III
This course surveys American literature from the 1870s to 1950. We will discuss some of the following developments and authors of the 19th century: the rise of realism (James, Wharton) and naturalism (Crane, Dreiser), regional literature (Jewett, Freeman), and African American literature (Washington, DuBois, Chesnutt). The survey of 20th-century literature includes works by several modern poets (Eliot, Frost, Hughes), novelists (Hurson, Faulkner, Welty), and dramatists (Odetts, O'Neill).

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): ENGL - American Lit post-1900, ENGL - British/American Lit

Opportunities to work as an intern with various agencies that assist women in Spokane. Students must take the initiative to contact an agency and a faculty supervisor. Students meet with a member of the Women's and Gender Studies faculty to discuss their experiences and write a paper integrating their internship experience with their WGST coursework. Fall and Spring.

Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

WGST 499 Symposium
credit(s): 3
The capstone course in the women's studies concentration provides an opportunity for a special kind of faculty and student conversation. Responsibility for organizing and structuring this course will rotate among women's studies faculty. Topics will vary. Regardless of the texts or topics, the goal will be to create a conversation in which students assume significant responsibilities. All students are expected to complete a major research project using the concepts and perspectives of feminist scholarship, and to present their work to the class and faculty evaluators. Spring only.

PreRequisite(s): (WGST 201 or WGST 202 or SOCI 244) (and WGST 401 or SOCI 390 or POLS 341) WGST 401

The School of Business was established in 1921 and is accredited by AACSB International - The Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business. As stated in its Mission, the School “strives to develop professionally competent graduates who exemplify the humanistic, ethical, and moral values of a Jesuit institution. A personal learning environment, quality students, and a faculty dedicated to teaching and advising, scholarship, and service will mark our excellence. As part of a dynamic business environment, we will strengthen relationships with the regional, national, international and scholarly communities.” To support the mission of the School of Business, the learning objectives of the programs prepare students to:

- apply fundamental business theories and practices to any organization;
- analyze challenges and opportunities critically and arrive at a best solution;
- understand diverse perspectives and the global reach of business decisions;
- communicate ideas and information effectively;
- approach decision-making ethically and with a commitment to the common good; and
- adapt readily to the changing demands of a high-technology market.

Required courses in literature, fine arts, religious studies, philosophy, mathematics, history, and natural and social sciences are an integral part of the business curriculum. These courses foster the development of critical thinking, and creative problem-solving skills that are vital to the education of future leaders.

Admission Requirements

In order to take School of Business courses numbered 300 and above, students with majors in the School of Business Administration must have: a) attained junior standing, and b) achieved a cumulative grade point average of 2.70 in the following lower division business core courses: ACCT 260-ACCT 261 (Principles of Accounting I and II), BUSN 230 or MATH 321 (Statistics), BMIS 235 (Management Information Systems), and ECON 201-ECON 202 (Microeconomics and Macroeconomics) with a grade no lower than C- in any of these classes. Third-year transfer students who have not completed all the lower division business core courses listed above should consult the business school's transfer advisor.

Degree Requirements of the School of Business Administration

In addition to the general degree requirements of the University, including the University Core curriculum, students earning the Bachelor of Business Administration degree must complete the following requirements:

I. Completion of the SBA common curriculum consisting of:
   a. Mathematics (3-4 credits): MATH 114, MATH 148, or MATH 157
   b. Business Computing (2 credits): BUSN 111
   c. Accounting (6 credits): ACCT 260 and ACCT 261

Major Programs of Study in Business

The degree of Bachelor of Business Administration (B.B.A.) is offered with a major in accounting or a major in business administration.

The accounting major requires completion of 27 credits, as described in the accounting section of this catalog.

The business administration major requires completion of 18-21 upper division credits including:

1. Twelve to fifteen credits from a designated concentration. Requirements of concentrations in economics, entrepreneurship and innovation, finance, human resource management, management information systems, marketing, and operations and supply chain management are described in the respective sections of this catalog. Also offered are interdisciplinary concentrations in international business, and law and public policy. Students may also design an interdisciplinary individualized concentration with the approval of a faculty advisor. A second concentration in the School of Business may be earned by completing 12 to 15 credits required in the area. Only one course may be double-counted between two concentrations in all but the international business concentration, where no double counting is allowed. International business is only available as a second concentration.

2. Three to six credits chosen from among the three categories listed below (only one course in a category may be used).

- Students with a Single Concentration: Students will take a Broadening course and either an International or Experiential course chosen from the menus listed below. Note: The requirement applies to all concentrations, regardless of whether those concentrations require a course outside the discipline, e.g., ACCT 367 for the Finance concentration, or even outside the SBA, e.g., certain nonbusiness courses for Marketing. Exception: Students with a concentration in Entrepreneurship and Innovation will take a Broadening and an International course (an Experiential course is already part of the 12-credit requirement for this concentration).

Students with Two or More Concentrations (or a concentration in business plus an accounting major): Students will take either an International or Experiential course chosen from the menus listed below. Exceptions: a) students with an International Business concentration will take either a Broadening, Experiential or 200-level of higher language course; b) students with a concentration in Entrepreneurship and Innovation will take a Broadening or an International course.

B - Broadening course. A 3-credit upper division course in business outside a student’s concentration(s), and not included in the International or Experiential course menus. A Broadening course provides students an opportunity to pursue interests in a discipline outside their concentration(s) and, if desired, to complete coursework that complements their respective concentrations (e.g., BMIS 443 “Technology for Web and Mobile-based Business” for students in Marketing; ACCT 363 “Cost Accounting” for students in Operations and Supply Chain Management).

I - International course. Students not earning a concentration in International Business may select a course from the following menu.
BFIN 327 International Finance
ECON 311 Global Economic Issues
ECON 321 International Economics
ECON 404 Economic Integration of European Community
MGMT 355 International Management
MKTG 417 International Marketing
OPER 440 Global Operations and Supply Chain Management

E – Experiential course. Students may select a course from the following menu.
ACCT 471 Forensic Accounting Lab
BENT 495 New Venture Lab
BFIN 429A, BFIN 429B, BFIN 429C Portfolio Management
BUSN 494 Management Consulting/Small Business Consulting
BUSN 470 Multidisciplinary Act Projects
BUSN 497 or ECON 497 Internship
MKTG 490 Promotion Project

3. A course taken to fulfill a concentration requirement may not be double-counted to satisfy a requirement in the Broadening, Integrative, or Experiential area for the Business Administration major.

Students in the School of Business may also earn minors from other areas of the University. No more than six (6) credits of courses taken to satisfy requirements of minors may be double-counted to satisfy the requirements of majors and concentrations in the School of Business.

The B.B.A. is also offered with an Honors designation. Interested students should contact the director of the Honors Program.
Student Internships

An internship program is available to eligible juniors and seniors in the School of Business. In an academic internship, a student collaborates with an organization to learn business knowledge and skills in a professional environment. There are several steps students must take before participating in an academic internship. Internships are not awarded retroactively. Students must receive approval for internship credits before internship hours are started. Internship guidelines are available on the School of Business website.

Economics Programs Offered by the College of Arts and Sciences

All economics courses offered in the university are taught by faculty of the School of Business, but are open to students from throughout the university. Students in the College of Arts and Sciences may obtain a B.A. or a B.S. degree with a major in economics. A minor in economics is also available. These degrees offer the opportunity for more extensive study of economics than the economics concentration in business but without the broad background of the business core. The College of Arts and Sciences also offers a minor in economics for students receiving a degree from any college or school of the University. Interested students should refer to the College of Arts and Sciences section of this catalog for specific requirements.

Pre-Law Students

Students who intend to pursue the study of law are encouraged to enroll in business courses that will provide a solid understanding of the integral relationship between law and business.

Core courses such as Principles of Accounting I and II (ACCT 260 and ACCT 261), Microeconomics and Macroeconomics (ECON 201 and ECON 202), are recommended for pre-law students with majors outside the School of Business. Accounting provides basic skills to prepare and analyze financial statements and to complete case analysis; economics gives an understanding of how economics affects government fiscal policies, international trade, labor and other resource markets, political decisions, etc.
In addition, a pre-law student in the School of Business will benefit from courses in the law and public policy concentration. This concentration includes various courses which address legal issues such as corporate taxation, regulation of securities trading, business ethics, mergers and acquisitions, and antitrust policy and regulation. All of these courses provide pre-law students a unique insight into how business functions within the framework of the legal system.

Validation of Transfer Courses

Transfer students who take lower division courses at another AACSB-accredited institution equivalent to required upper division business courses at Gonzaga must have those courses validated by the transfer advisor.
Accounting

The accounting major is designed to enable students to develop an understanding of, and proficiency in, accounting concepts and techniques. Building on the principles of accounting, students study financial reporting, auditing, taxation, income determination, account valuation, accounting systems, and the role of accounting in the allocation and use of resources. The program offers several career options leading to employment in business, government, and public accounting.

In order to pursue the Accounting major, a student must have earned a minimum grade of B- in ACCT 260 and ACCT 261, or their equivalent.

CPA Certificate Track

To sit for the CPA examination, Washington State requires candidates to obtain 150 semester credit hours of acceptable educational preparation. Gonzaga offers both a Master of Accountancy (MAcc) and a Master of Science in Taxation (MSTax) degree tailored for students who desire to fulfill the 150-hour requirement and earn a graduate degree at the same time. A student pursuing this track will, during the junior, senior, and graduate years, acquire the technical competence in the 300-level and 400-level accounting courses, while more fully developing research, communication, and presentation skills offered in graduate classes. A student planning to obtain both undergraduate and graduate degrees should work closely with a faculty advisor for proper course sequencing.

Gonzaga’s accounting majors may apply for the MAcc or MSTax program during the second semester of the junior year. If accepted into the program, nine credit hours of graduate-level courses may be taken during the senior year with the permission of the accounting program coordinator. Before applying for admission, a student should have completed 75 credit hours (including ACCT 360) with a cumulative GPA of 3.2 and a grade no lower than C+ in any upper division accounting courses. The student must be admitted to the MAcc or MSTax program before enrolling in any graduate courses.
Non-CPA Track

A student who does not wish to obtain CPA certification can earn the B.B.A. degree in accounting. With this degree, a student might find employment opportunities in governmental agencies, financial institutions, and industrial firms such as Boeing or Avista. The student pursuing this track is encouraged to obtain an accounting major accompanied by elective course work in information systems. Both the Certified Internal Auditor (CIA) and Certified Managerial Accountant (CMA) designations are available to students with this degree.

The objective of the economics program is to give students a broad background and knowledge of domestic and international economic systems that are essential for business managers in today's competitive global economy. Graduates can apply economic theory to problems relating to market structures, resource markets, employment, and fiscal and monetary policies. Economists occupy a wide range of positions in profit and non-profit enterprises as well as in government. The economics concentration is highly recommended for pre-law students, as well as for students aiming for careers in banking, finance, government, or industry.

Students in the College of Arts and Sciences may also pursue a major or minor in this field. The requirements for the B.A. and B.S. degrees in economics can be found under the College of Arts and Sciences section in this catalog. Students expecting to pursue graduate studies in economics are encouraged to pursue the B.S. degree. Students doing an Economics Concentration in Business are encouraged to take ECON 351 Managerial Economics and ECON 352 Money & Banking. Note that ECON 302 has a prerequisite of ECON 202 with a B- or better and ECON 301 has a prerequisite of ECON 201 with a B- or better.

Individualized Program

Students may design an interdisciplinary concentration of courses related to their individual goals and interests. This concentration must include twelve credits of upper division courses approved by a faculty advisor.
International Business

The International Business Concentration is designed for students who want to prepare themselves to meet the challenges associated with globalization. This concentration must be taken in tandem with another major (accounting) or another concentration. Students must complete the international course for the functional area of their primary concentration, if offered. This international course can be used to fulfill either a requirement in the primary concentration or the international business concentration. It cannot be double-counted.

International Business Concentration: 12 credits

Four courses selected from the following:

ECON 311 Global Economic Issues (or ECON 321 for economics concentration) 3 credits
BFIN 327 International Finance 3 credits
MGMT 355 International Management 3 credits
MKTG 417 International Marketing 3 credits
OPER 440 Global Operations and Supply Chain Management 3 credits

Course descriptions are found under the respective disciplines.

Students with a concentration in International Business may not double-count any of the above courses to satisfy the broadening, international, experiential elective in the business administration major. Students in this concentration may count one three credit foreign language course taken at the 200-level or above at a university to satisfy the international three-credit requirement in the BIE group. A course in a student’s native language does not fulfill this requirement.
Law and Public Policy

Government regulation and legislation have a major impact on business, creating a need for public policy makers to understand the workings of business and for people in the private sector to understand the public sector. This is especially relevant for people pursuing careers in corporate public affairs and professional study in law, public administration, and public policy analysis.

Law and Public Policy Concentration: 12 credits

Four courses selected with advisor approval from the following, with not more than six credits from one department:

ACCT 365 Federal Taxation
ECON 320 Economics of Sports
ECON 324 Economics of Environmental Protection
ECON 325 Public Finance
ECON 330 Anti-Trust Policy and Regulation

BMIS 245 Technology Foundations of Digital Marketing credit(s): 3
Marketing now has a stronger use of information technology than ever before. For example, as of 2015, 99% of Google's revenue comes from advertising. The objective of the course is to equip students with foundational knowledge, skills, and techniques of a variety of technologies that have been widely used to build customer-facing applications and devices. Beginning with a short review of the history of the Internet and the Web, the course introduces students to fundamental concepts and the process of developing consumer-centered applications. A variety of tools and techniques for developing such applications are presented, such as the structure of web pages, web page language (XHTML and HTML), Cascading Style Sheets (CSS) and script languages. The de facto language of consumer-centered programming language, JavaScript, is adopted as a vehicle to develop aforementioned skills and techniques. Relevant technologies such as Jquery, JSON and popular JavaScript frameworks will be introduced. These skills will provide the technical background necessary for digital marketing efforts. Spring.

BMIS 331 Problem Solving and Programming Techniques credit(s): 3
This course provides a basic introduction and practical experience in developing algorithms and writing computer programs to solve business problems. Students will be required to design solutions as well as to code, test, and debug programs that are soundly structured and easy to maintain. Topics include variables, data types, control structures, input/output control, arrays, method invocation and parameter passing. Fall.

Marketing

Marketing emphasizes satisfying needs and wants through the facilitation of the exchange process between and among organizations and customers. Marketing concepts and techniques apply to all types of organizations, whether they are for profit or non-profit and whether providing goods, services, experiences or ideas to their customers. An organization's long-term success is determined by understanding customer preferences and perceptions as well as how they change. Marketing is also a critical link between organizations and their environment.

The topics studied include: gathering and interpreting market information, understanding customer decision processes and the influencers of these processes, target market decisions involving segmenting markets and positioning market offerings, marketing promotion and advertising, product design and modification, pricing, distribution of products, and effective managerial decision-making and planning.
Marketing is an essential, universal activity common to all individuals and organizations around the world, whether pursuing personal employment, seeking clients for an accounting firm, or in marketing supertankers or soap. Marketing knowledge and skills may lead to challenging and satisfying careers in nearly any field including such activities as sales and sales management, advertising and promotion management, retail management and buying, product development and management, public relations, industrial marketing, marketing research, and international marketing.

Operations and Supply Chain Management

The growth of e-commerce, increased global competition, and advances in information technology are some of the forces behind the ongoing need to eliminate waste and add value throughout a product's supply chain. The Operations and Supply Chain Management (OSCM) concentration examines how a firm can establish and enhance the operational core competencies required by demanding consumers in a dynamic marketplace.

This concentration prepares students for the challenges of tomorrow's business environment by providing them with the technical, informational, and managerial skills needed to manage and improve an integrated system of productive processes. Career opportunities exist with organizations that provide or are dependent on fast, low-cost, accurate, and uniform flows of products, information, and services. Examples of career opportunities include consulting, logistics, manufacturing, health services, government, retail and insurance, and banking.

Business Minors

Business Minors for all majors, including Business and Accounting:

Digital Marketing: 24 credits
Sustainable Business: 26 credits

Business Minors for Non-Business majors:

The School of Business offers minors in Entrepreneurship and Innovation, Digital Marketing, Sustainable Business, General Business, Analytical Finance, Management Information Systems, and Promotion to non-business students. Students desiring to pursue a minor should meet with a School of Business advisor early in their program to ensure development of a course sequencing plan. Students will not be allowed in classes with designated prerequisites unless that prerequisite has been satisfied. Also, students will not be allowed to take equivalent CLEP or other exams to replace or waive courses in the minor.

Analytical Finance: 27-28 credits
Entrepreneurship and Innovation: 18 credits
General Business: 24 credits
Management Information Systems: 17 credits
Promotion: 18 credits

Minor in Digital Marketing: 24 credits

Digital marketing is the present and future of marketing. Students with digital marketing knowledge and skills are well-positioned to succeed in modern marketing and e-commerce careers. The minor is designed to develop skills in content marketing, social media marketing, search engine optimization, web analytics, mobile marketing, app development, and more.

This minor pairs particularly well with business concentrations in marketing, MIS, and entrepreneurship. Students majoring in fields such as integrated media, public relations, communications, computer science, journalism, English, art, and psychology might also find the minor helpful in their professional pursuits.

School of Education Mission Statement

The mission of the School of Education is to prepare socially responsive and discerning practitioners to serve their community and profession.

- We model and promote leadership, scholarship and professional competence in multiple specializations.
- We support an environment that is challenging, inclusive, reflective, and collegial.
- We foster inquiry, intellectual creativity, and evidence-based decision making to accept the challenges facing a global society.
- We provide academic excellence in teaching, advising, service, and scholarship.
- We promote, support and respect diversity.

The School of Education upholds the tradition of humanistic, Catholic, and Jesuit education and this tradition and mission are embodied in our theme statement: Preparing socially responsible professionals who serve with Care, Competence and Commitment.

Programs of Study

The School of Education offers four undergraduate degrees:

- Bachelor of Education (B.Ed.) in Community, Culture, and Language
- Bachelor of Education (B.Ed.) in Kinesiology
- Bachelor of Education (B.Ed.) in Special Education
- Bachelor of Education (B.Ed.) in Sport Management

Degree Requirements for the School of Education

Students must complete the general degree requirements of the University, including the University Core curriculum, and the requirements of their major.

Please note: Every degree requires a minimum of 128 completed semester credits. No core, major, minor, or concentration courses may be taken under the Pass/Fail option.

Certification

Additionally there is a Teacher Certification program that enables students to obtain initial (Residency) certification within the state of Washington. The School also offers initial and advanced certification for teachers, and school administrators at the graduate level. Further information on these programs can be found in the graduate catalog.

Accreditation

All teacher preparation degree programs, and elementary, secondary, and advanced certification programs in the School of Education are fully approved by the Washington state Professional Educator Standard Board (PESB).
Notice

While this catalog provides students with the most current information regarding School of Education undergraduate programs, students are advised that programmatic changes are a common occurrence in the field of education and are usually the result of directives from the Washington State Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction (OSPI) and outside accreditation agencies. The School of Education takes seriously its responsibility to communicate all changes to education students. Students must be sure to meet with their education advisors regularly to complete a plan of study in compliance with current regulations.
Special Education

Chairperson: Kimberly Weber

The department offers one degree and one minor:

Bachelor of Education in Special Education
Minor in Special Education

The Department of Special Education offers a major and minor in Special Education that emphasizes learning experiences in applied settings. Public and private schools, as well as a variety of non-school settings, provide students the opportunity to combine academic training with practical experience. Candidates who earn the Bachelor of Education degree with a major in Special Education are prepared to work with individuals having mild to severe disabilities, such as learning disabilities, pervasive developmental disabilities, and behavior disorders. The major focuses on developing skills needed to function in a variety of classroom settings including but not limited to resource, self-contained, and inclusionary. The Special Education Department also prepares candidates who plan to work in non-school settings like clinics, workshops, homes, etc. Courses for those seeking Board Certified Assistant Behavior Analyst (BCaBA) certification are also an option. The Special Education degree is also a great starting point for those seeking advanced degrees in behavior analysis, occupational therapy, speech and language, counseling, or school psychology.

State of Washington teacher certification requirements indicate that those seeking certification in Special Education also obtain an endorsement in a second content area. Many candidates choose elementary or reading to fulfill this requirement although there are other options. The Special Education Department has two different teaching endorsements that may be earned through completion of the B.Ed. The first endorsement is in Special Education and permits teaching special needs students preschool through twelfth grade. The second endorsement is in Early Childhood Special Education and permits teaching special needs student’s birth through third grade. All students majoring in special education who wish to become endorsed to teach special education in the State of Washington must:
1. Complete required coursework in line with the Special Education Major with a grade of C or better, including but not limited to EDSE 306 and EDSE 406 in-school practicum courses and EDSE 480 EdTPA and Teacher Development Seminar.

2. Take the WEST-B exam or have equivalent test scores prior to being admitted to the certification program. Those who have not completed this requirement are prohibited from student teaching.

3. Complete an application for and obtain acceptance into the teacher certification program.

4. Obtain and maintain WSP/FBI clearance throughout student teaching.

5. Create and maintain an eCertification PreResidency Clearance Account throughout the program.

6. Take the West-E/NES exam in Special Education or another endorsement area prior to student teaching.

7. Receive a C or better for all courses required for certification.

The Early Childhood Special Education endorsement prepares candidates to serve young children with disabilities from birth through early school years (3rd grade). Candidates who wish to become endorsed in Early Childhood Special Education must complete all of the requirements above as well as the following:

1. Complete the series of four courses specifically addressing critical issues, background, and pedagogy for early development, methodology, physical development, and communication (EDSE 350, EDSE 351, EDSE 352, and EDSE 353) with a grade of C or better.

2. Complete student teaching in an Early Childhood Special Education classroom.

All Gonzaga University students may enroll in EDSE 150, 155, 225, 306, 335, 307, 320, 340, 344, 346, 406, 407, or 417. All other upper division courses require official acceptance into the major or minor in special education. Acceptance and continuance in the major or minor are dependent on an overall Gonzaga GPA of at least a 3.00; a 3.00 average or higher in EDSE 150,

The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) engages the Year Four Question: “Imagining the possible: What is our role in the world?” by offering students a culminating seminar experience in which students integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the Core, and their disciplinary expertise. Each section of the course will focus on a problem or issue raised by the contemporary world that encourages integration, collaboration, and problem solving. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students' future role in the world.

EDSE 450  Special Education Seminar  credit(s): 1
The purpose of this course is to review and reinforce information regarding student with disabilities and the laws and procedures that govern their education. Candidates will enhance skills through a seminar format in accordance to the mandates of the 2004 IDEiA and its linkages to regular education teachers.
Corequisite(s): EDTE 495
PreRequisite(s): EDTE 496E (or concurrent) or EDTE 496S (or concurrent)

EDSE 451  Direct Instruction-Reading  credit(s): 3
This course covers how to teach special education and regular education pupils beginning through intermediate reading skills directly. Particular emphasis is placed on instructing teachers to use reading techniques which have had research supporting their effectiveness. Prospective teachers are taught how to teach, monitor, assess, and remediate various reading skills.
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Special Education
Must not be the following Class(es): Freshman
PreRequisite(s): EDSE 320, minimum grade: B

EDSE 452  Direct Instruction-Mathematics  credit(s): 3
This course covers how to teach basic mathematical skills directly to special education and regular education elementary pupils. Emphasis is placed on instructing teachers to use mathematical techniques which have research supporting their effectiveness. Prospective teachers are taught how to teach, monitor, assess, and remediate various mathematical skills.
Corequisite(s): EDSE 452L
PreRequisite(s): EDSE 320, minimum grade: B
EDSE 452L  Direct Instruction Math Lab  credit(s): 0
This lab course is a co-requisite of EDSE 452. This lab provides supplemental instruction and also remediation for students having difficulty with math concepts presented in EDSE 452.
Corequisite(s): EDSE 452

EDSE 465  Classroom Management  credit(s): 3
Principles and procedures are presented to promote effective classroom discipline and teaching in either a self-contained or resource center setting. Emphasis is placed on practical techniques that can be employed by one teacher.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Writing Enriched
Corequisite(s): EDSE 465L
PreRequisite(s): EDSE 150 and EDSE 320 and (EDSE 306 or EDSE 307 or EDSE 406 or EDSE 407)

EDSE 465L  Classroom Management Lab  credit(s): 0
This course provides supplemental information to benefit students taking EDSE 465. Content of the course includes APA format for project completion, computer instruction on creating graphs and tables, review of difficult content from class, directed information regarding action research, and ethical standards information.
Corequisite(s): EDSE 465

EDSE 469  BCaBA Ethics in Behavioral Analysis  credit(s): 1
This course was designed to provide undergraduate students an understanding of the expectations of ethical behavior required by the Behavior Analyst Certification Board (BACB) and the Association of Behavior Analysis International (ABAi). This course covers content in all of the areas found in the "Professional and Ethical Compliance Codes for Behavior Analysis". Learning these codes is imperative when practicing as a Board Certified Assistant Behavior Analyst (BCaBA) and provides guidance for ways to conduct themselves that highlight the highest ethical standards while focusing on client-centered ethical responsibilities.
PreRequisite(s): EDSE 320

EDSE 470  Functional Analysis Seminar  credit(s): 3
This course reviews functional analysis methodologies for systematically identifying environmental variables that serve to maintain aberrant behavior. The course includes a detailed overview of functional analysis procedures and treatment packages that can be implemented based on the results of functional analyses. Particular emphasis is placed on reinforcement-based interventions and dimensions of reinforcement.
PreRequisite(s): EDSE 465

EDSE 480  EdTPA and Teacher Development Seminar  credit(s): 2
The edTPA seminar has been designed to provide candidates, during their student teaching term, an understanding of the expectations required by the state of WA/Pearson in completing this high stakes assessment. Emphasis is placed on practical aspects of completing the edTPA based on content previously taught in the SpEd program. Additional WA state required content is also provided in this course.
PreRequisite(s): EDSE 465

EDSE 490  Directed Readings  credit(s): 1-3
This course is an individualized study based on readings approved by the professor. The student develops a selected bibliography.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

EDSE 491  Directed Study  credit(s): 1-3
This course is an individualized study that is designed by the professor. Students follow a prescribed course outline.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
EDSE 492  Independent Study  credit(s): 1-6
This course is an individualized study that is designed by the student in consultation with the professor. Self-directed learning in a selected area of interest is the process employed. Professor serves as resource.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
EDSE 494  Special Projects  credit(s): 1-3
This course is an individualized study that is project-based. The study requires the practical application of educational theory. The project or a written report of the project is submitted to the professor for evaluation.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
EDSE 495  Extended Special Education Experience  credit(s): 3-9
This practicum is designed to provide students with an intensive applied experience in community settings. The student works under the supervision of a University supervisor and a community professional.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

EDSE 496  Special Education Teaching Practicum  credit(s): 9
This is the intensive field experience in which the student assumes the full responsibility of a Special Education Teacher under the direction of a University supervisor and a cooperating teacher.
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following College/School(s): School of Education
Must be the following Class(es): Senior
PreRequisite(s): EDSE 465
EDSE 497  Extended Special Education Teaching Practicum  credit(s): 12
This is an intensive field experience in which is at least 12 weeks in duration (12 credits). The student will systematically take over the responsibilities of the special education teacher under the direction of the University supervisor and the cooperating Special Education teacher.
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following College/School(s): School of Education
Must be the following Class(es): Senior
PreRequisite(s): EDSE 465
Sport and Physical Education

Chair: Karen Rickel

The department offers two degrees and a minor:

Bachelor of Education in Kinesiology
  concentrations:
      Fitness Specialist
      Health & Physical Education Pedagogy

Bachelor of Education in Sport Management

Minor in Sport Management

Bachelor of Education in Kinesiology

The Kinesiology degree prepares students to pursue careers related to educating, training, and coaching individuals in health, fitness, and physical education settings. To accompany the Kinesiology degree, students can choose from two concentrations. Fitness Specialist Concentration is for students interested in working in a fitness environment in roles such as an exercise physiologist, strength and conditioning coach, athletic trainer, fitness club programmer, or group activity instructor. This concentration prepares students to take national certifications such as the American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM) Certified Exercise Physiologist Exam and the National Strength and Conditioning (NSCA) Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist exam, which are recognized as the gold standard of certifications in the field of Kinesiology. In addition to the roles listed above, students will be prepared to pursue clinical or applied graduate degrees in the Kinesiology and Exercise Science fields.

PreRequisite(s): EDPE 190 (or concurrent)
EDPE 207  Sport and Fitness in Digital Age  credit(s): 3
This course will analyze the changes that have given rise to the situation, combining theoretical insights with original evidence collected through extensive research and interview with people working in the media and sport and fitness industry. This course will be conducted in a discussion/lecture and lab format. Students will develop a set of sport media projects in the computer lab that will allow them to apply up-to-date technology into the real business of sport and fitness.

- Must be in the following Major(s or Minor:); Sport Management,

PreRequisite(s): EDPE 190 (or concurrent)

EDPE 209 Community CPR and First Aid
Credit(s): 1

Red Cross Certification in First Aid, CPR and AED is offered through a class that prepares students to recognize and respond to illness/injury situations. Learn basic care for victims, including cardiopulmonary resuscitation for infants, children and adults, as well as immediate care for injuries. Using Automatic External Defibrillators is covered. Class includes hands-on lab skill application. Fall and Spring. Permission Only

Restriction(s):

EDPE 210 CPR, First Aid, and Safety Education
Credit(s): 3

This course provides preparation in the basic knowledge and skills involved in recognizing and responding to a variety of emergencies and life-threatening situations, including training in evaluation and providing basic care for victims of injury and/or sudden illness until professional medical help arrives (CPR, AED and First Aid). Additionally, students receive instruction and practice in the prevention of common injuries. Safety and health education issues are studied with their application to prevention in the community, home and workplace settings. Students receive certification in First Aid/CPR/AED.

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following College/School(s): School of Education
- Must be in the following Major(s): Kinesiology & Physical Ed or Sport Management

EDPE 211 Aerobic Exercise Instruction
Credit(s): 1-2

Development and perfection of skills necessary to participate in aerobic exercise activities, along with techniques of instructing the specifics of these skills. Offered on sufficient demand.

Restriction(s):
- Must be one of the following Class(es): Sophomore, Junior, Senior,

PreRequisite(s): EDPE 115

EDPE 222 Health and Wellness
Credit(s): 3

Investigation of the factors affecting healthful living and wellness, including mental, emotional, physical, social, spiritual, and environmental health.

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Dance, Kinesiology or Sport Management.

EDPE 223 Lifeguard Training
Credit(s): 3

Prepares individuals to assume the duties and responsibilities of lifeguards at swimming pools and at protected (non-surf) open water beaches. Prerequisite: Successful completion of pre-course skill test. Offered on sufficient demand.

EDPE 224 Exercise and Sport Nutrition
Credit(s): 3

This course introduces students to the processes of digestion, transport and utilization of the macronutrients humans consume on a daily basis. Attention will be given to proper ranges for consumption of macronutrients as well as vitamins and minerals to improve overall health. A large portion of the course will be dedicated to the application of nutrition to various exercise settings (endurance athletes, strength athletes, team sport athletes, etc.) in order to optimize training and performance.

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Dance, Kinesiology, or Sport Management.

PreRequisite(s): EDPE 190
EDPE 276 Anatomy and Physiology for Kinesiology I credit(s): 3
Anatomy and Physiology for Kinesiology I is the first part of a two-course sequence. In this course, students are introduced to the structure and function of the human body in regards to cells, tissues and organs of the following systems: integumentary, skeletal, muscular and nervous systems, as well as the special senses. Emphasis will be placed on relationships between systems and the regulation of physiological mechanisms in order to maintain homeostasis. Must be concurrently enrolled in EDPE 276L.
Corequisite(s): EDPE 276L
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major: Kinesiology

EDPE 276L Anatomy and Physiology for Kinesiology I Lab credit(s): 1
Laboratory experience introducing the structure and function of the human body in regards to cells, tissues and organs of the following systems: integumentary, skeletal, muscular and nervous systems, as well as the special senses. Emphasis will be placed on relationships between systems and the regulation of physiological mechanisms in order to maintain homeostasis. Must be concurrently enrolled in EDPE 276L.
Corequisite(s): EDPE 276
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major: Kinesiology

EDPE 277 Anatomy and Physiology for Kinesiology II credit(s): 3
Anatomy and Physiology II is the second part of a two-course sequence. In this course, students are introduced to the structure and function of the human body in regards to cells, tissues and organs of the following systems: endocrine, cardiovascular, respiratory, lymphatic, urinary, digestive and reproductive (which includes development, pregnancy and genetics). Emphasis will be placed on relationships between systems and the regulation of physiological mechanisms in order to maintain homeostasis. Must be concurrently enrolled in EDPE 277L.
Corequisite(s): EDPE 277L
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major: Kinesiology

PreRequisite(s): EDPE 276 and EDPE 276L

EDPE 277L Anatomy and Physiology for Kinesiology II Lab credit(s): 1
Laboratory experience introducing the structure and function of the human body in regards to cells, tissues and organs of the following systems: endocrine, cardiovascular, respiratory, lymphatic, urinary, digestive and reproductive (which includes development, pregnancy and genetics). Emphasis will be placed on relationships between systems and the regulation of the physiological mechanisms in order to maintain homeostasis. Must be concurrently enrolled in EDPE 277.
Corequisite(s): EDPE 277
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major: Kinesiology

PreRequisite(s): EDPE 276 and EDPE 276L

EDPE 290 Directed Study credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be decided by faculty.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

EDPE 307 Foundations in Sports Outreach credit(s): 3
This course will investigate the historical foundations and the current development, planning, implementation, evaluation and biblical justifications for sport ministry programs (also known as sports outreach) within faith communities. The student who successfully completes this course will be able to relate biblical concepts to sport and recreational ministries from a written and practical format to provide a social contribution to the communities in which they reside. This course will equip the student to handle decision-making, organizational strategies, staffing, training, and various roles of leadership as they pertain to the broad faith community program.

PreRequisite(s): EDPE 190

EDPE 310 Motor Development and Learning
credit(s): 3
Students will learn the major theories and principles underlying the acquisition of motor skill and how control of skilled movements is gained, maintained, and adapted. Specifically, this course covers how changes in motor development impact the learning and performance of motor skills. Emphasis will be given to analyzing motor skills and designing developmentally appropriate instruction in various settings.
This course takes place every Fall.

Restriction(s):
Must be in the following College/School(s): School of Education
Must be in the following Major(s): Kinesiology & Physical Ed, Physical Education

PreRequisite(s): EDPE 190 (or concurrent)

EDPE 311 Exercise and Sport Instructional Methods
credit(s): 3
The study of how to design and deliver effective instruction in exercise and sport contexts. An introduction to curriculum development, instructional methods, and management strategies used within the field. This course utilizes an experiential approach to apply evidence-based practices in creating and leading exercise and sport sessions for diverse groups.

Restriction(s):
Must not be the following Class(es): Freshman

PreRequisite(s): EDPE 189 and EDPE 310

EDPE 312 Health Methods in Diverse Populations
credit(s): 3
This course prepares future health, fitness and physical educators to develop and implement health programs that will meet the needs of all their students. Introduction and application of a variety of teaching styles and strategies, classroom/group management skills, assessment protocol, and program activities appropriate for health will be covered. It will also allow students to observe, review, plan, and deliver instruction, evaluate instruction and provide meaningful learning experiences to a diverse population in school and community educational programs. Particular attention will be given to K-12 national and state health standards.

Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Kinesiology & Physical Ed

PreRequisite(s): EDPE 190

EDPE 313 Elementary Physical Education Methods
credit(s): 3
This course introduces the knowledge and skills necessary to instruct a variety of physical activities for elementary aged children. Topics covered include: developing a quality program, characteristics of elementary students, classroom management, instructional methods, curriculum development, and assessment. Emphasis is placed on designing and delivering developmentally appropriate curriculum, instruction, and assessment for fundamental movement patterns and health-enhancing fitness concepts commonly taught in public schools and recreational settings. Must be concurrently enrolled in EDPE 497A.

Corequisite(s): EDPE 497A

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Kinesiology & Physical Ed

PreRequisite(s):
- EDPE 190 and EDPE 311

EDPE 314 Secondary Physical Education Methods

This course introduces the knowledge and skills necessary to instruct a variety of physical activities for secondary aged youth. Topics covered include: developing a quality program, characteristics of secondary students, classroom management, instructional methods, curriculum development, and assessment. Emphasis is placed on designing and delivering developmentally appropriate curriculum, instruction, and assessment for applying movement principles and strategies and health-enhancing fitness concepts commonly taught in public schools and recreational settings. Must be concurrently enrolled in EDPE 4978.

Corequisite(s): EDPE 497B

PreRequisite(s):
- EDPE 311

EDPE 315 Adapted Physical Education and Sport

A course dealing with mental and physical disabilities that affect the cognitive, affective and physical development of youth. Physical activities, instructional strategies, and assessment protocol will be presented.

Restriction(s):
- Must be the following Class(es): Sophomore, Junior, Senior

PreRequisite(s):
- EDPE 190 and EDPE 311

EDPE 316 Water Safety Instruction

This course is designed to prepare individuals to teaching “swimming” from beginning to advanced levels. The course will be conducted to meet the requirements of the American Red Cross Instructor’s Course. Certificate will be awarded to those who qualify. Offered on sufficient demand.

EDPE 321 Sport Facility Management

This course covers policies and practical applications of facility management and operations with special emphasis on effective designing, planning, operating, maintaining of the sport/athletic facility. Such topics as sports event bidding process, event planning, private and public funding sources for venue construction, mast plan, concessions and merchandising, booking, scheduling and security issues surrounding sport/athletic facilities will also be covered.

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s)/Minor: Sport Management,
- Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

PreRequisite(s):
- EDPE 190

EDPE 340 Exercise and Sport Psychology

New Course Description: This course covers the discussion and application of psychological principles within the contexts of exercise and sport. Topics include examining how motivation, anxiety, attention, group dynamics, and confidence influence performance and well-being. Addresses how effective communication, self-regulation strategies, stress management, imagery, concentration strategies, and cognitive techniques can be incorporated into psychological skills training programs designed to enhance performance and well-being.

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Kinesiology & Physical Ed, Sport Management
- Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

PreRequisite(s):
- EDPE 190 and EDPE 222
EDPE 343  Coaching Basketball  credit(s): 2
Principles of defense and offense; fundamentals, special drills, rules, officiating, and equipment. Prerequisite: third year standing. Offered on sufficient demand.
Restriction(s):
   Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

EDPE 346  Coaching Baseball  credit(s): 2
Principles of coaching competitive baseball with an emphasis on strategy, drills for skill attainment, skill evaluation and Coaching philosophy. Offered on sufficient demand.
Restriction(s):
   Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

EDPE 347  Coaching Football  credit(s): 2
Principles of coaching competitive football with an emphasis on offensive and defensive strategy, position drills, and coaching philosophy. Offered on sufficient demand.

EDPE 349  Coaching Soccer  credit(s): 2
Principles of coaching competitive soccer with an emphasis on offensive and defensive strategy, position drills and philosophy. Offered on sufficient demand.
Restriction(s):
   Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

EDPE 355  Wilderness Survival  credit(s): 2
The purpose of this course is to provide students with knowledge and skills that will aid them in preparing for, preventing, and/or surviving a natural or man-made emergency or disaster. Course content includes clothing, shelter, and food appropriate for various outdoor environments; survival strategies; survival skills such as fire-building, signaling, route-finding with map and compass, and first aid, all set within a context promoting environmental ethics and safety awareness. Topics and skills will be covered through a variety of classroom and field experiences, including off campus outings. Lab fee required. Offered on sufficient demand.

EDPE 377  Physiology of Exercise  credit(s): 3
The purpose of this course is to introduce students to the function of the human body during exercise. Specifically, how the human organism responds, adjusts, and adapts to both acute and chronic exercise. Emphasis is placed on bioenergetics, as well as cardiorespiratory, neuromuscular, and endocrine responses to the stresses of exercise. Also discussed are the effects of environmental factors and ergogenic aids and the impact both have on the physiological capacity of humans to perform exercise. Must be concurrently enrolled in EDPE 377L. Spring.
Corequisite(s): EDPE 377L
Restriction(s):
   Must be in the following Major: Kinesiology
PreRequisite(s): EDPE 276 and EDPE 277

EDPE 377L  Physiology of Exercise Lab  credit(s): 1
This course will complement EDPE 377 and provide a hands-on learning environment for students to apply concepts they are discussing in lecture. Students will be introduced to laboratory tests that are commonly used to assess the physiological responses of the human body to various forms of exercise. Students must be concurrently enrolled in EDPE 377. Spring.
Corequisite(s): EDPE 377
Restriction(s):
   Must be in the following Major: Kinesiology
PreRequisite(s): EDPE 276 and EDPE 277
EDPE 378  Structural Kinesiology  credit(s): 3
Concepts surrounding body movement from anatomical and mechanical perspectives. Students will have the opportunity to analyze movement in sport and activity and apply related knowledge to improve performance.

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major: Kinesiology

PreRequisite(s):
- EDPE 276 and EDPE 276L

EDPE 390  Directed Study  credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be decided by faculty.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

EDPE 400  Sport Sponsorship and Promotions  credit(s): 3
This class builds on the general principles of sport marketing by discussing the unique aspects of sport marketing, applying marketing concepts to sport as a product, and the promotion of sport activities. Also, this course examines the topic from the perspective of the sponsored property, rather than a marketing perspective. It provides an overview of the theoretical underpinnings of the topic, followed by examples from actual sport sponsorships. Topics focus on the spectator as the product consumer and will include consumer analysis, market segmentation, product licensing and positioning, pricing, promotion, distribution, and sponsorship as they apply to sport.

PreRequisite(s):
- EDPE 190
EDPE 415  Physical Education Methods for Elementary Teacher  credit(s): 1
This course will provide students both theoretical and practical experience in learning how to design and implement a physical education program at an elementary level. It will introduce the students to objectives of physical education, activities that can be implemented at specific grade levels, general fitness concepts, and techniques of teaching in a physical activity environment, assessment protocol, and the importance of physical education as an integral part of general education. An experimental and cross disciplinary approach will be taken to developing and implementing effective learning experiences in physical education for students K-8.
PreRequisite(s): EDTE 221E

EDPE 416  Health Education Methods Elementary Teachers  credit(s): 1
This course will provide students both theoretical and practical experience in learning how to design and implement a health education program at an elementary level. It will introduce the students to objectives of health education, activities that can be implemented at specific grade levels, teaching strategies, assessment protocol, and the importance of health education as an integral part of general education. An experimental and cross disciplinary approach will be taken to developing and implementing effective learning experiences for students K-8.
PreRequisite(s): EDTE 221E

EDPE 417  Abuse Prevention  credit(s): 1
This course will provide students an awareness of the incidence of abuse and the knowledge and skills needed to execute their professional roles and responsibilities, as K-12 educators, in dealing with children who have suffered abuse and neglect. Reporting mandates and legal protection afforded in executing these mandates will also be covered.
PreRequisite(s): EDTE 221E or EDTE 221S or EDPE 311

EDPE 432  Core Integration Seminar  credit(s): 3
The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) engages the Year Four Question: “Imagining the possible: What is our role in the world?” by offering students a culminating seminar experience in which students integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the Core, and their disciplinary expertise. Each section of the course will focus on a problem or issue raised by the contemporary world that encourages integration, collaboration, and problem solving. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students’ future role in the world.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Core Integration Seminar

EDPE 450  Principles of Strength and Conditioning  credit(s): 3
This course covers the scientific knowledge and exercise prescription principles of strength training and conditioning and their direct application to program design. Topics include periodization, testing and evaluation, program organization and administration, training modes and methods, and coaching exercise technique. Emphasis is given to the areas of agility, plyometric, speed and strength training for sport-specific performance.
PreRequisite(s): EDPE 311 and EDPE 377

EDPE 465  Special Populations and Exercise  credit(s): 3
This course focuses on special populations and the implications for the exercise setting. Populations that are covered include the following: cardiovascular diseases, pulmonary diseases, metabolic diseases, neuromuscular diseases, skeletal disorders, older adults and pregnancy. For each population, an overview of the physiology, impact of the condition on the acute exercise response, impact of training on the condition, and recommendations for exercise testing and prescription will be discussed.
PreRequisite(s): EDPE 377 and EDPE 377L
EDPE 477  Exercise Testing  credit(s): 3
This course focuses on pre-exercise procedures consisting of health screening and risk factor assessment, along with exercise testing procedures for body composition, muscular strength, muscular endurance, cardiorespiratory fitness and flexibility. Emphasis will be placed on proper implementation/administration of exercise testing procedures and analysis of the findings.
Corequisite(s): EDPE 477L
PreRequisite(s): EDPE 377 and EDPE 377L

EDPE 477L  Exercise Testing Lab  credit(s): 1
Laboratory experience focusing on pre-exercise procedures consisting of health screening and risk factor assessment, along with exercise testing procedures for body composition, muscular strength, muscular endurance, cardiorespiratory fitness and flexibility. Emphasis will be placed on proper implementation/administration of exercise testing procedures and analysis of the findings.
Corequisite(s): EDPE 477
PreRequisite(s): EDPE 377 and EDPE 377L

EDPE 480  Exercise Prescription  credit(s): 3
This course focuses on the necessary skills in order to effectively prescribe exercise programs for individuals in regards to the health-related components of fitness. Building upon previous coursework, students will interpret fitness assessment data, design individualized exercise programs based on the data, and carry out the individualized program with a client. Students will also implement fitness assessments throughout the program to monitor progress and pinpoint where modifications need to take place to increase the effectiveness of the exercise prescription.
PreRequisite(s): EDPE 477 and EDPE 477L

EDPE 481  Fitness Specialist Capstone Seminar  credit(s): 1
Provides review and preparation for national certification tests and/or comprehensive exams.
Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Senior
PreRequisite(s):
EDPE 485  Special Topics  credit(s): 1-4
To be determined by instructor.
Course repeatable 3 time.
EDPE 490  Directed Readings  credit(s): 0-3
Individualized study based on readings approved by the professor. Students will develop a selected bibliography.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
EDPE 491  Directed Study  credit(s): 0-3
Individualized study that is designed by the professor. Students will follow a prescribed course outline.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
EDPE 492  Independent Study  credit(s): 1-3
Individualized study that is designed by the student in consultation with the professor for self-directed learning in a selected area of interest.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
EDPE 494  Special Projects  credit(s): 1-3
Individualized study that is project based. The study will result in a practical application of educational theory. The project or a written report of the project will be submitted to the professor for evaluation.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
EDPE 495  Student Teaching Health and Physical Education  credit(s): 12
An intensive field experience in which the teacher candidate assumes full responsibility as a health and fitness educator under the direction of a University supervisor and cooperating teacher.
Prerequisites: Completion of all endorsement coursework, passage of the West B and completion of the West E endorsement test prior to student teaching.
PreRequisite(s): EDPE 311
EDPE 496A Practicum: Physical Education  credit(s): 2
Practical experience in the area of physical education either at a site approved by the instructor of record.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
Restriction(s):
  Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior
EDPE 496B Practicum: Coaching  credit(s): 1 or 2 Practical experience in the area of athletic coaching at a site approved by the instructor of record.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
Restriction(s):
  Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior
EDPE 496C Practicum: Health and Fitness  credit(s): 3 Practical experience within a health/fitness related environment (clubs, clinics, health department, etc.) at a site approved by the instructor of record.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
Restriction(s):
  Must be in the following Major(s): Kinesiology & Physical Ed or Sport Management
  Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior
PreRequisite(s): EDPE 190
EDPE 496D Sport Management Internship I  credit(s): 3 Practical experience in the area of sport management organization at a site approved by the instructor of record.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).
Restriction(s):
  Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior
PreRequisite(s): EDPE 190
EDPE 496E Sport Management Internship II  credit(s): 3 Practical experience in the area of sport management at a site approved by the instructor of record.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).
Restriction(s):
  Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior
PreRequisite(s): EDPE 190 and EDPE 496D
EDPE 497 Internship  credit(s): 0
This course is offered in summer sessions only and does not count towards the major.
for 0 credit(s).
EDPE 497A Field Experience Elementary Physical Education  credit(s): 1
This field experience provides the teacher candidate opportunities in a school setting to integrate learning by observing, teaching, and analyzing instructional methods. Candidates will demonstrate their developing teaching competencies and reflect on their ability to implement classroom management strategies and deliver instruction to a diverse group of learners in the elementary physical education setting.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

PreRequisite(s): EDPE 190

EDPE 497B Field Experience Secondary Physical Education credit(s): 1
This field experience provides the teacher candidate opportunities in a school setting to integrate learning by observing, teaching, and analyzing instructional methods. Candidates will demonstrate their developing teaching competencies and reflection their ability to implement classroom management strategies and deliver instruction to a diverse group of learners in the secondary physical education setting.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

PreRequisite(s): EDPE 190

EDPE 497C Field Experience in Health Education credit(s): 1
This field experience provides the teacher candidate opportunities in a school setting to integrate learning by observing, teaching, and analyzing instructional methods. Candidates will demonstrate their developing teaching competencies and reflect on their ability to implement classroom management strategies and deliver instruction to a diverse group of learners in the health education setting.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

PreRequisite(s): EDPE 190

EDPE 497D Field Experience in Adaptive Physical Education credit(s): 1
This field experience provides the teacher candidate opportunities to integrate learning by observing, teaching, and analyzing instructional methods in a practical setting. Candidates will demonstrate their developing teaching competencies and reflect on their ability to implement classroom management strategies and deliver instruction to a diverse group of learners in the adapted physical education setting.
Corequisite(s): EDPE 315

EDPE 499 Comprehensive Examination credit(s): 0
A final exam required of all Kinesiology majors in their final semester of coursework. The type of exam will be dictated by the student’s program of study and a fee for the exam may be required. Contact the Department Chair for specific information.
Teacher Education

Chairperson: Stephen Hess, S.J.
Elementary Program Director: Deborah Nieding
Secondary Program Director: Anny Case

The department offers one degree and two certifications:

Bachelor of Education in Community, Culture and Language
  (required concentration in either Elementary Education or Community Education)
Elementary Teacher Certification
Secondary Teacher Certification
  (optional endorsements in English Language Learners (ELL) and Reading)

Directed by our Jesuit mission, the School of Education develops socially responsible professionals who serve with care, competence, and commitment. The department of Teacher Education offers a thorough preparation in professional teaching at the undergraduate level. We prepare educational leaders to serve others in need and demonstrate a commitment to social justice. We provide teacher candidates with the opportunity to become reflective learners and practitioners of elementary or secondary education. Teacher candidates have multiple clinical experiences in classrooms prior to a semester of student teaching to prepare them as successful practitioners. Many courses in the program offer a community-based service learning activity providing candidates an opportunity to experience servant leadership.

There are different options to obtain teacher certification, but it is important to note that certification is separate from a major. Candidates can pursue a Bachelor degree from the School of Education in Community, Culture, and Language, Special Education, or Kinesiology and Physical Education. They also have the option to pursue a Bachelor degree with a major in another school/college. Additional teacher certification coursework in the School of Education would be required for teacher certification along with an approved degree from one of the other schools/colleges in the University (see below).
Bachelor of Education in Community, Culture, and Language

The Community, Culture, and Language degree is intended to provide students with a sophisticated, practical understanding of the ways in which cultures, languages, and literacies support or challenge communities. This degree is specifically designed to be paired with elementary certification. The guiding philosophy of the program is that in order for us to be women and men for and with others, we must understand how our cultural and linguistic behaviors shape and are shaped by our worldviews and those of the communities we belong to. By developing a stance of cultural humility, we are better able to grow with and learn from individuals coming from diverse linguistic and cultural backgrounds.

The program may also attract those who seek a deeper understanding of and ability to navigate cultural and linguistic differences, as well as the tools to build and support community for the benefit of all. With its interdisciplinary focus and complementary integration with the university core, the major will also target potential employment by NGOs, NPOs, and any businesses or organizations with a global focus. By the end of their sophomore year, students will be placed into one of two concentrations: the Elementary Education concentration, or the Community Education concentration. Please note that completion of this major does not, in and of itself, result in teacher certification – as that is an additional program. Additionally, a concentration is an area of focus and does not equate to certification.

Teacher Certification/Teacher Candidates seeking Elementary Education Certification can receive an Elementary endorsement and teach grades K-8 as generalists in a self-contained classroom. Secondary Education Certification candidates can teach grades 5-12 and choose a specific content area (endorsement) to teach. The content area must be selected from one of the following approved endorsements offered at Gonzaga: Biology, Chemistry, Physics, English Language Arts, Health and Fitness, Mathematics, Music, Special Education, Social Studies, Theater Arts, and designated World Languages. Additional endorsements are encouraged.

The teacher candidate is assigned a Teacher Education advisor during the EDTE 101 Social and Cultural Foundations of Education course. The role of this advisor is to guide the teacher candidate through the certification program. The teacher candidate’s academic advisor (assigned when admitted to the University) will advise the teacher candidate regarding degree requirements.

Washington State certification requirements may change, so it is the applicant’s responsibility to stay current by checking with their School of Education advisor and the Certification Office.

All teacher candidates in the field are required to have a current FBI/Washington State Patrol fingerprint clearance on file, and have completed the Pre-Residency Clearance to take part in any Teacher Education Field Experience.
Admission to Teacher Certification Program

Requirements:

Admission into the teacher certification program is dependent on completion of the following:

1. 12 credits of education coursework successfully completed including one field experience.
2. All courses required for teacher certification must be a 2.00 or higher.
3. Cumulative GPA of 2.50 or higher across GU courses.
4. Cumulative GPA of 3.00 across EDTE courses.
5. Passing score for the Basic Skill Requirement in each category: Reading, Writing, and Math with minimum scores in either the WEST B, SAT, ACT or CBEST test.
8. No uncorrected documented disposition concerns.

As a community of reflective learners, faculty, staff, and teacher candidates are involved in a supportive relationship which encourages service for others and responsibility to one another.

The Teacher Education program is advised by a Professional Education Advisory Board (PEAB) composed of area teachers, school administrators, educational staff associates, representatives of professional organizations, teacher candidates, and faculty.

The Teacher Certification program meets standards specified by the Washington Professional Education Standards Board (PESB).

Courses:
Teacher Education
EDTE 101 Social and Cultural Foundations of Education credit(s): 3
This course provides an overview of the teaching profession. It is designed as an exploration of teaching as a career choice, serving as an introduction to various philosophical positions regarding education, the laws that affect students and teachers, the global and historical background of our current educational systems, and the issues concerned with recognizing, accepting, and affirming diversity.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Social Justice
EDTE 200 Language, Society, and Power credit(s): 3
This course introduces students to foundational concepts in linguistics, with particular emphasis on how language, culture, and society intersect and how linguistic choices reinforce or undermine power relations in society. Students will develop and understanding of what constitutes language and how languages create and maintain identities within communities.
Equivalent(s): MTSL 200
EDTE 201 Learning Theory and Epistemologies credit(s): 3
This course is designed to introduce the undergraduate teacher candidate to theories of learning. The contributions of behaviorism, humanistic psychology, and cognitive psychology will be examined in order to give a basis for critically analyzing how and why human development and growth occur in the teaching/learning act. Based on the dynamics of respect for individual differences within the learning community, prior learning, and authentic scholarly exploration of historical and current literature, student teacher candidates will be able to articulate, develop, and seek alternatives to their theories-in-use.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: First Year Seminar
PreRequisite(s): EDTE 101 (or concurrent)
EDTE 202  Community and Ethnography  credit(s): 3
Using a variety of frameworks and tools, students will investigate the language and culture of carefully selected communities. Students will learn how to describe events without interpretation and work collaboratively to formulate possible hypotheses about cultures.
Equivalent(s): MTSL 202
PreRequisite(s): EDTE 200 or MTSL 200

EDTE 204  Community, Languages and Language Acquisition  credit(s): 3
This course is an introduction to first and additional language acquisition through the lens of an introductory course in two of the languages and writing systems used in the Spokane region. The purpose of the course is to introduce students to the languages and cultures of minority groups and to explore the ways in which the worldviews of these groups differ from those of the dominant culture. The course will also introduce students to the principal theories of first and second language acquisition.
Equivalent(s): MTSL 204
PreRequisite(s): EDTE 200 or MTSL 200

EDTE 206  Community and Place-Based Education  credit(s): 3
This course introduces students to foundational concepts in community and place-based education practices, with particular emphasis on theories and strategies that support the co-creation of K-12 and community-based educative experiences anchored in the unique contextual elements of place. Students will investigate and engage in local collective impact efforts that reflect a unique community context.
PreRequisite(s): EDTE 202 or MTSL 202

EDTE 213  Northwest History for Elementary Teachers  credit(s): 1
This one credit course is designed to provide undergraduate teacher candidates with the basic content of Washington State history. An emphasis will be placed on the use of technology, diversity and assessment. The history and geography EALR's/GLE's/PE's will be emphasized. Fall and Spring.

EDTE 221E  Elementary Difference of Instruction and Assessment  credit(s): 3
This course is designed to integrate the planning, implementation, and assessment of instruction across content areas at the elementary level with a special emphasis on diversity. The major focus of this course will be meeting the learning needs of a diverse population which includes students from different racial, ethnic, ability, socio-economic status, language and sexual orientation backgrounds.
Corequisite(s): EDTE 221L
PreRequisite(s): EDTE 101

EDTE 221L  Field Experience  credit(s): 1
Teacher candidates will have the opportunity to explore firsthand the instruction, assessment, and technology practices that are at work in schools. Candidates also gain pedagogical practice by working with students and teaching a lesson. Teacher candidates are required to submit a Field Experience Request form to the Field Experience Office a minimum of a month prior to the semester they are taking the course. This form can be found on Blackboard under Teacher Certification & Field Experience Materials Course. The field experience requires a minimum of 30 hours in the classroom and travel by car may be required. In addition, current fingerprint clearance from the WSP and FBI throughout the semester and Pre-Residency Clearance is on file.
Course repeatable for 2 credit(s).
Equivalent(s): EDTE 305A, Equivalent(s): EDTE 305B
PreRequisite(s): EDTE 101( and EDTE 221E (or concurrent) or EDTE 221S (or concurrent))
EDTE 221S Secondary Difference of Instruction and Assessment credit(s): 3
This course is designed to integrate the planning, implementation, and assessment of instruction across content areas at the secondary level with a special emphasis on diversity. The major focus of this course will be meeting the learning needs of a diverse population which includes students from different racial, ethnic, ability, socio-economic status, language and sexual orientation backgrounds.
Corequisite(s): EDTE 221L, Corequisite(s): EDTE 241
PreRequisite(s): EDTE 101

EDTE 231 Instruct Methods: Reading, Writing, and Communication credit(s): 3
The primary purpose of this course is to provide opportunities for teacher candidates to understand theoretical constructs related to reading, writing, and communication in classroom curriculum. Teacher candidates will develop pedagogy from an analysis of the processes of natural learning, language acquisition, multiple intelligence, and learning styles. This knowledge will become the framework for instructional methodology for reading, writing, and communication skills.

EDTE 241 Teaching in the Middle School credit(s): 3
The purpose of this course is to help the prospective middle level/secondary teacher candidate develop in-depth knowledge and understanding of early adolescents. The middle school reform movement and the developmental characteristics and needs of adolescents provide a framework for this course.
Corequisite(s): EDTE 221L, Corequisite(s): EDTE 221S
PreRequisite(s): EDTE 101

EDTE 302 Advocacy and Policy credit(s): 3
This class harnesses the power of language and engagement with communities through the lenses of inquiry and advocacy with a focus on action to bend the arc of the universe to become more moral and just. In it, we learn the basis for types of advocacy, advocacy planning, and how to take action based on your plan.

EDTE 304 Concepts in Science credit(s): 3
This course presents earth, physical, and space science concepts for elementary teacher candidates.

EDTE 305 Intercultural Competence Development credit(s): 3
This course addresses social justice by introducing students to a developmental process of acquiring cultural self-awareness, developing knowledge and skills that build intercultural competence, and engaging in meaningful reflective self-evaluation. Intercultural Competence involves a set of cognitive, affective, and behavioral skills and characteristics that support appropriate and effective interaction in a variety of cultural contexts (Bennett, J., 2008). This process begins with recognizing new perspectives about personal cultural beliefs, values, and assumptions; and exploring others' cultures and worldviews. The opportunity to understand the worldviews of others will occur through reading and discussion, learning from speakers representing a variety of cultural backgrounds, refugee simulation at World Relief Refugee Resettlement, and reflection.

EDTE 306 Critical Pedagogical Issues in American Education credit(s): 3
This course is designed to examine issues in education from the perspective of Native American students, and to provide educators with knowledge and skills that will increase their comfort level, competency and ability to work in schools where American Indian children and other diverse students are educated. Course content will include an overview of important historical and cultural factors, the study of current methods based on research and experiences of practitioners in the field, and a practicum in the development of effective educational strategies and materials, specifically the Washington State Since Time Immemorial curriculum.
EDTE 315E  Classroom Assessmnt Elementary Teachers  credit(s): 3
This course will introduce and practice the processes of assessing whether students are meeting desired classroom outcomes, addressing the question, "How do we know our students learned the material?" Multiple methods and types of classroom assessments will be analyzed and evaluated for the purposes of creating a systematic framework that implements, collects, and reviews assessment data. The following assessment components will be discussed, applied and evaluated: timely and appropriate feedback; formative, summative and diagnostic methodologies; classroom assessment instruments; self-assessment applications; clear criteria; scoring guides and rubrics; student voice; and content-specific assessment practices. Fall.
PreRequisite(s): EDTE 221E and EDTE 221L

EDTE 496S Secondary Student Teaching

Credit(s): 12

This is a culminating 16 week capstone experience in which the teacher candidate assumes the full responsibility of a secondary teacher under the direction of a University supervisor and a co-operating teacher. Seminars are provided for student interaction, problem solving, certification requirements, and informational support. Current fingerprint clearance from the WSP and FBI throughout the semester and Pre-Residency Clearance is on file.

Corequisite(s): EDSE 450, Corequisite(s): EDTE 495

PreRequisite(s): EDPE 417 and EDTE 418 and EDTE 460S and (EDTE 315E or EDTE 315S) and (EDPE 497C or EDTE 454L) and (EDTE 454D or EDTE 454E or EDTE 454F or EDTE 454M or EDTE 454S or EDTE 454T)
Teaching English to Second Language Learners

MTSL 200 Language, Society, and Power credit(s): 3
This course introduces students to foundational concepts in linguistics, with particular emphasis on how language, culture, and society intersect and how linguistic choices reinforce or undermine power relations in society. Students will develop an understanding of what constitutes language and how languages create and maintain identities within communities.
Equivalent(s): EDTE 200

MTSL 202 Community and Ethnography credit(s): 3
Using a variety of frameworks and tools, students will investigate the language and culture of carefully selected communities. Students will learn how to describe events without interpretation and work collaboratively to formulate possible hypotheses about cultures.
Equivalent(s): EDTE 202
PreRequisite(s): EDTE 200 or MTSL 200

MTSL 204 Community, Languages and Language Acquisition credit(s): 3
This course is an introduction to first and additional language acquisition through the lens of an introductory course in two of the languages and writing systems used in the Spokane region. The purpose of the course is to introduce students to the languages and cultures of minority groups and to explore the ways in which the worldviews of these groups differ from those of the dominant culture. The course will also introduce students to the principal theories of first and second language acquisition.
Equivalent(s): EDTE 204
PreRequisite(s): EDTE 200 or MTSL 200

MTSL 304 Immigrant and Refugee Perspect credit(s): 3
Designed for students interested in sociocultural perspectives on identity and language and their intersection in diverse cultural communities, this course looks at the experience of immigrant populations in the USA and in the Spokane area, through the lens of their cultural and linguistic adjustment. An average of one hour of service per week is expected of all participants in this course.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Global Studies

MTSL 401 Theory and Practice of Language Teaching credit(s): 3
This course investigates current theories in second language acquisition and ESL/EFL methodology. Students learn how to apply these methods to the specific needs of language learners while observing, assisting, and teaching. The summer offering is an intensive 4 week course where students apply specific methods during a TESOL Field Experience co-requisite course (MTSL 480).

MTSL 404 Introduction to Sociolinguistics credit(s): 3
This course will examine how communication in ESL education shape relationships with non-members and members of a community. In particular, it will examine how the control of communication in bilingual and ESL education affects cognitive, social-cultural, affective, and linguistic development in bilingual and ESL classrooms. Theories studied in this course will help build an understanding of how to observe and analyze the effects of communication patterns on learning opportunities for ESL students.

MTSL 408 Principles of Second Language Acquisition credit(s): 3-4
This course will investigate some of the major theoretical concepts that have developed in the field of second language learning and teaching with emphases on the concepts of interaction, learner strategies, routines, negotiating meaning, motivation and developmental processes within sociocultural contexts.
MTSL 414 Literacy and the English Language Learner credit(s): 3
This course will involve discussion and review of relevant research in second-language reading and writing. It also includes a critical investigation of research to implementation in the language classroom.

MTSL 450 Language Awareness credit(s): 1
This course will cover the basics of syntax along with the common metalanguage that enables teachers to talk about grammar, as well as broader issues of language structure in general.

MTSL 480 Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages Field Experience credit(s): 1
An integral feature of the Theory and Practice of Language Teaching course (MTSL 401) is the TESOL Field Experience which provides a unique opportunity for its participants to work with ESL students of various ages, nationalities, and proficiency levels. Included in this enhanced hands-on experience are opportunities for observation, teaching, and participation in social activities with ESL students.
Course repeatable for 15 credit(s).
Corequisite(s): MTSL 401

MTSL 490 Independent Study credit(s): 1-6
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
Engineering is the profession in which a knowledge of natural sciences and mathematics is applied with judgment to develop ways to utilize, economically, sustainably, and with concern for the environment and society, the materials and forces of nature for the benefit of humankind. Engineers and scientists pursue a common goal of introducing new knowledge through research. The new knowledge is applied by the engineers to create new devices and systems. Engineers enjoy a unique professional satisfaction: they can usually point to tangible evidence of their efforts. For example, every bridge, skyscraper, television set, computer, robot, airplane, steam or hydro-electric plant, or automobile is a lasting testimonial to the engineers responsible for it.

It is difficult, maybe impossible, to imagine contemporary civilization without computing machines and the software that brings them to life. The Department of Computer Science trains students to meet the expanding quantitative needs of society and provides them with the theoretical structures from which practical applications derive. Majors in this department are well-prepared for positions in industry and government demanding quantitative techniques or computer science, and for graduate work.

The over-arching goal of the undergraduate programs in the School of Engineering and Applied Science (SEAS) at Gonzaga University is to provide an education that prepares the student with a baccalaureate degree to be a professional engineer or computer scientist. In addition, the programs provide a base both for graduate study and for lifelong learning in support of evolving career objectives, which include being informed, effective, and responsible participants in the profession and society. It is also an education that is designed to challenge the intellect of the student and help him/her learn the value and reward of analytical and logical thinking.
All departments within the School therefore share a common mission of equipping graduates to enter professional practice. This is summarized by our School's Mission Statement:

The School of Engineering and Applied Science at Gonzaga University produces broadly educated and capable engineers and computer scientists ready to contribute innovative solutions for a better world.

This statement is consistent with the University's mission and specifically implements the following section of that mission statement:

- Gonzaga models and expects excellence in academic and professional pursuits and intentionally develops the whole person: intellectually, spiritually, physically, and emotionally
- Through engagement with knowledge, wisdom, and questions informed by classical and contemporary perspectives, Gonzaga cultivates in its students the capacities and dispositions for reflective and critical thought, lifelong learning, spiritual growth, ethical discernment, creativity, and innovation.

In both Engineering and Computer Science

- Develop engineered solutions that are well conceived and carefully implemented to meet public and private sector needs.
- Contribute effectively to organizations as leaders and / or as team members.
- Foster personal and organizational success in a dynamic globalized professional environment.
- Improve society by applying Jesuit, humanistic values to their professional and civic responsibilities.

Additional objectives identified with the Computer Science program

- Earn advanced degrees in computer science of professional credentials.
- Contribute to the development of the next generation of information technology either through research or through practice in a corporate setting.
Bring a critical intelligence, formed through the University's commitment to liberal humanistic learning, to the development of information technology.

A concerned and well-trained faculty, easy access to faculty outside the classroom, and modern facilities provide Gonzaga University students with the knowledge and skills to become productive engineers or computer scientists and to assume leadership roles in business, industry, and government. A unique feature of the program is the strong emphasis on liberal arts education. A strong and rigorous technical curriculum combined with a broad liberal arts education emphasizing communication skills, critical thinking, and ethics enables Gonzaga graduates to adapt to an ever-changing computing, engineering, social, political, and business environment.

Degree Programs and Accreditation

SEAS offers four-year Bachelor of Science degrees in Civil Engineering (BSCE), Computer Engineering (BSCpE), Electrical Engineering (BSEE), Engineering Management (BSEM), Mechanical Engineering (BSME), and Computer Science (BSCS). The Civil, Computer, Electrical, Engineering Management, and Mechanical Engineering degree programs are accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET, http://www.abet.org. The Computer Science degree program is accredited through the Computing Accreditation Commission of ABET.

Center for Engineering Design and Entrepreneurship

Engineering and computer science are rapidly changing professions. The fast pace of technological advances and new approaches to organizing the work place are requiring engineers and software developers to continually update their training. In addition to having a broad range of technical knowledge, today's engineers and software developers are expected to possess excellent interpersonal skills. They must be able to deal with open-ended design problems, to work cooperatively in a team environment, to communicate effectively, and to understand the technical, economical, environmental, and managerial aspects of projects.
The diverse skills required of modern engineers and software developers cannot be learned solely in a classroom or from a textbook. These skills are best learned through a combination of observation, emulation, analysis, and experimentation. This demands a high degree of interaction between the student and experienced engineers and computer scientists. Interpersonal skills are best developed through teamwork. Industry has discovered that the give-and-take process that characterizes a well-motivated team is a key element to a project’s success.

The Center for Engineering Design and Entrepreneurship enhances the experience of students in the engineering and computer science programs at Gonzaga University by promoting interaction between the industrial and academic communities. Student teams, under the guidance of industry engineers and GU faculty, undertake design projects defined by sponsors in both the private and public sectors, or through proposals submitted by student teams. A project team typically consists of three to five students, often from different fields of study in the School of Engineering and Applied Science. Students are assigned to projects based on their knowledge and experience, exactly as they will be assigned to technical projects once they graduate. Team members must make effective use of available resources to perform and manage the project activities. By working on a real-world problem, each student has the opportunity to make decisions under risk, to work as part of a team, and to interact with professionals in the private and public sectors. Further, working on technical projects that have real value to business, non-profits, and the government, encourages students to acquire new skills.

Gonzaga faculty members, who advise the student teams, are ideally suited as advisors. A faculty advisor lends knowledge and experience to the project team by guiding and counseling the students in the technical and managerial decisions required by the project.

A liaison from the sponsoring organization provides technical direction and advice to the student team, monitors the project’s progress, and ensures that the project meets the needs of the sponsor. The liaison also assists the team in making the best use of the sponsor’s resources and facilities.

Design projects related to all the SEAS disciplines are sought throughout the year. Sponsors who are supportive of SEAS education provide ideas, resources, and funds for projects. By identifying project topics and the technical areas that are of interest to them, they help direct students to realistic problems that are important to their operations.

At the end of the spring semester, student design teams present their projects and reports, and demonstrate models and prototypes. Industrial sponsors, faculty members, prospective students, and members of the community are invited to attend the event and to interact with the project teams.

The Herak Engineering Computer Center

The Herak Engineering Computer Center (HECC), located in the Herak Center for Engineering, is the central facility for general purpose computing in SEAS. This fully staffed center is available to students seven days a week, and provides general computing services over and above the extensive and diverse computer systems found in the SEAS departmental laboratories.

The center’s computer facilities include a large number of general purpose, as well as CAD/CAE workstations, that are connected to all computing resources of the Computer Information Services department, the Foley library system, and the external internet. The Center also maintains servers hosting most software required within the Engineering and Computer Science programs. The Center also contains numerous plotters, printers, and 3-D printers.

Beyond these services, the center now supports a student laptop program whereby students can access all software required in the Engineering and Computer Science programs from any location on campus that is connected to the internet. As such, students can work as individuals or in teams, with full access to required software, from anywhere on the Gonzaga campus.

Software is made available to support all aspects of SEAS disciplines taught at Gonzaga University. These include not only general purpose software (document, presentation, and spreadsheet applications), but specialized software for use in the individual programs. These include CAD/CAE programs, programs involving hydrologic and hydraulic modeling, Solidworks, controls analysis, schematic and circuit board layout and simulation, and VLSI design layout and simulation. Additional computing laboratories also support both the freshman and senior capstone experiences in Computer Science,
Gonzaga-in-Florence Engineering Semester Program

Semester Abroad Possibilities
Engineering and computer-science students have multiple opportunities to study abroad. Principal among these is the Gonzaga-in-Florence program through which students complete engineering, mathematics, and core classes in Florence during the spring semester of their sophomore year. The engineering and mathematics courses offered in the program are specifically designed to fit into most engineering students' existing curriculum and requirements.

Beyond Florence, a number of opportunities for individualized study abroad in the sophomore (and possibly junior) years have been explored and are actively being advanced as possibilities for incoming students.

For Gonzaga-in-Florence, interested students must apply no later than the fall semester of their sophomore year. For other programs, students are encouraged to work with the Center for Global Engagement and the Dean's Office in the School of Engineering and Applied Science in order to explore options.

Degree requirements for the School of Engineering & Applied Science

In addition to the general degree requirements of the University, including the University Core Curriculum (see below for engineering-specific adaptations to the core), students earning all Bachelor's degrees offered by the School of Engineering and Applied Science must complete the following requirements:

1. For engineering programs, completion of the following courses: MATH 258, 259, 260, PHYS 103/103L, and CHEM 101/101L. For computer science majors, please see the program description below.

2. Completion of certain program specific requirements.

3. Attainment of an average cumulative grade point of 2.00 in all SEAS course work taken at Gonzaga University
Please note: Every degree requires a minimum of 128 completed semester credits. No core, major, minor, or concentration courses may be taken under the Pass/Fail option.

The University Core for SEAS Engineering Majors

In addition to their major and minor areas of study, all undergraduate students follow a common program designed to complete their education in those areas that the University considers essential for a Catholic, Jesuit, liberal, and humanistic education. The University Core curriculum consists of forty-five credits of course work, with additional designation requirements that can be met through core, major, or elective courses.

SEAS engineering majors will fulfill the requirements of the University Core through a combination of courses within the regular University Core curriculum combined with specific courses within Engineering. The engineering-specific substitutions for University Core courses are:

- First-Year Seminar: Fulfilled through ENSC 191 & 192
- Writing: Fulfilled through ENSC 191 & 192
- Communication & Speech: Fulfilled throughout Engineering program
- Fine Arts & Design: Fulfilled throughout Engineering program

The credit requirements for an engineering major along with those in university core typically preclude engineering majors from taking elective course work. Therefore, all core designation requirements (i.e., global studies, social justice, writing enriched) should be completed within other core or major requirements. Because the core curriculum is in a transitional period (AY 2016-17 to AY 2020-21) with many core and major courses that carry designations yet to be developed, engineering majors who are unable to complete designation requirements within other core or major requirements will be waived of these designation requirements.

SEAS computer science majors will complete the regular University Core.
Transfer students should consult the General Degree Requirements and Procedures section of this catalog for possible modifications to the Core requirements. Substitutions for discontinued courses are required and must be authorized by the proper University authorities.

Prerequisite to co-requisite override

If a student requires a class in which a prerequisite has been completed but failed, a prerequisite waiver may be available. The requirements for the waiver include:

1. The student must have completed all of the course work for the prerequisite class (yet received an F grade);
2. The prerequisite class is offered in the same semester as the required subsequent class;
3. The student must pass an exam that tests the concepts from the prerequisite class that are required in the subsequent class (this exam is administered by the faculty teaching the subsequent class, and will be completed before the semester in which the subsequent class begins).

If items [1] through [3] are completed, and there is approval from both the Department Chair and Dean, both the prerequisite class and subsequent class may be taken as co-requisites in the same semester. Note that if approved, the prerequisite class cannot be dropped unless the subsequent class is also dropped.

Civil engineers are problem solvers who utilize sophisticated technologies to find safe and sustainable solutions to a huge variety of the challenges facing society. A civil engineer plans, designs and supervises construction of numerous infrastructure facilities required by modern society. These facilities exist in both the public and private sectors, and vary in scope and size. Examples of civil engineering projects include bridges, roadways, buildings, transportation systems, irrigation water supply and treatment systems, wastewater collection and treatment systems, flood control and river restoration facilities, solid and hazardous waste management, and environmental restoration. Civil engineers have important roles in analysis, design, management, regulatory enforcement, and policy development. To participate effectively in this broad scope of activities, civil engineers acquire technical and problem solving skills, and the ability to communicate clearly and effectively. Students completing the requirements for a degree in civil engineering have a choice of technical electives from five areas: Environmental Engineering, Geotechnical Engineering, Structural Engineering, Transportation Engineering and Water Resources Engineering.

The department of Civil Engineering, in conjunction with its various constituencies, has clearly defined program objectives. These engineering program objectives are listed in the School of Engineering and Applied Science section of this catalog, and by the Gonzaga University Mission Statement that may be found at the beginning of the catalog.

The BS in Civil Engineering (BSCE) is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET, http://www.abet.org.

 Civil engineering students enrolled in the Hogan Entrepreneurial Program can waive one technical elective.
 The Washington State Fundamentals of Engineering Examination must be taken as part of the ENSC 400 course.
Technical Electives

Courses from the following list satisfy the technical elective requirements. Students work with their faculty advisor to select five technical elective courses to create a specialized plan of study that can be highly specialized or with a broad focus among the civil engineering sub-disciplines: environmental engineering (E), geotechnical engineering (G), structural engineering (S), Transportation (T), and water resources engineering (W).

Typically Offered in Fall

- CENG 411 Steel Design (S)
- CENG 418 Transportation Systems Design (T)
- CENG 420 Structural Dynamics (S)
- CENG 421 Stormwater Management (W)
- CENG 424 Physicochemical Treatment Processes (E)

- CENG 426 Stream Restoration (W, E)
- CENG 473 Foundation Design (G, S)

Typically Offered in Spring

- CENG 422 Structural Analysis II (S)
- CENG 414 Waste Management (E)
- CENG 415 Masonry and Timber Design (S)
- CENG 417 Traffic Engineering (T)
- CENG 450 Watershed Modeling (W, E)
- CENG 464 Ground Behavior for Structures (G, S)

Occasionally Offered

- CENG 413 Groundwater (E, G, W)
- CENG 416 Hydrogeology (E, G, W)
- CENG 427 Infrastructure Design (E, G, T, W)
- CENG 428 Urban Design and Development (E)
- CENG 432 Hazard Mitigation (E, W, T)
- CENG 444 Air Pollution (E)
- CENG 454 Biological Treatment Processes (E)
- CENG 463 Pavement Design (G, S, T)
- MENG 465 Introduction to Finite Elements (G, S)
- ENSC 481 Gonzaga in Delft: Sustainable Cities (E, S, T, W) 3-week study abroad course offered every other summer
Courses:

CENG 225  Engineering Geology  credit(s): 3
This course emphasizes physical geology, the study of Earth's evolution, morphology, its constituent minerals and rocks. Course topics include Earth processes that span a bewildering range of scales, and show why it is unwise to assume that everyday experiences are relevant.
The foundation for the course is a quantitative perspective, beginning with Newton's laws of motion and gravity. Themes include the historical discovery of ideas, the interplay of 'gravity' and material behavior, and a model-deductive approach. The goal is enable student to appreciate the larger geological context of engineering and civil works projects, and the long-term forces which affect them.
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Civil Engineering

CENG 252  Civil Fluid Mechanics  credit(s): 3 Covers fluid properties, hydrostatics, fluid dynamics, conversation of mass, momentum and energy for incompressible fluids, dimensional analysis, civil engineering applications including closed conduit/pipe flow. Stresses the control volume approach and Eulerian description of flow.
Fall.
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Civil Engineering
PreRequisite(s): ENSC 205

CENG 261  Introduction to Geomatics  credit(s): 2 Basic principles of surveying data collection, analysis, and application. Measurement of elevations, distances and angles using total stations and global positioning systems. Examples of analysis of errors in measurements; application of surveying data to engineering design using GIS and 3-D models. Fall.
Corequisite(s): CENG 261L
Restriction(s):
Must not be the following Class(es): Freshman
PreRequisite(s): MATH 157

CENG 261L  Introduction to Geomatics Lab  credit(s): 1
see CENG 261.
Corequisite(s): CENG 261
Restriction(s):
Must not be the following Class(es): Freshman

CENG 301  Structural Analysis I  credit(s): 3
Theory and application of engineering mechanics to the solution of internal forces in statically determinate structures subjected to static and moving loads. Introduction of energy concepts for simple indeterminate structures.
Fall.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): ENSC 301

CENG 302L  Construction Materials Lab  credit(s): 2 Investigation of construction materials and applicable code specifications. Includes site visits to local construction material manufacturers and material testing labs. Materials studied include concrete, timber, brick, block, asphalt, aluminum and steel. Material testing and the technical writing of laboratory reports is stressed. Three hour laboratory per week. Fall.
PreRequisite(s): ENSC 301
CENG 303  Environmental Engineering  credit(s): 3
An overview of the principles of environmental engineering. Topics include material balance, environmental chemistry, risk assessment, air quality, water quality, and water and wastewater treatment.
Restriction(s):
  Must be in the following Major(s): Civil Engineering
PreRequisite(s): CHEM 101 or TRAN GCHM, minimum grade: T or TRAN GCHM

CENG 305  Environmental Engineering Lab  credit(s): 1
This course emphasizes fundamental environmental chemistry principles and analytical techniques used to study air and water quality and treatment process performance. The course also emphasizes statistical analysis, date interpretation, and reporting requirements associated with environmental engineering. CENG 303 is a co-requisite or pre-requisite for this course.
PreRequisite(s): CENG 303 (or concurrent)

CENG 318  Transportation Engineering  credit(s): 3
The course will cover general knowledge in all the transportation fields including: traffic characteristics and flow theory, transportation planning, geometric design of highways, traffic safety, highway materials, and pavement design.
PreRequisite(s): CENG 261

CENG 331  Soil Mechanics  credit(s): 3
In this course the properties and behavior of soils (sand, gravel, silt and clay) are studied under various environmental conditions. The study includes weight-volume relations, soil classifications, soil compaction, seepage through porous media, normal effective stress concept, consolidation, shear strength, lateral pressures and slope stability. Laboratory and Field methods for evaluating pertinent properties, generally used for analysis and foundation design. Three hours of lecture and three hours of laboratory per week. Fall.
Corequisite(s): CENG 331L
PreRequisite(s): ENSC 301

CENG 331L  Soil Mechanics Lab  credit(s): 1
Three hours of laboratory per week.

CENG 351  Engineering Hydrology  credit(s): 3
This course will form a foundation for the study of the occurrence, distribution, and movement of water on, in, and above the earth. Topics covered include: watersheds, precipitation, evaporation, infiltration, discharge calculations, hydrographs, river and reservoir routing, and drainage design including sanitary and storm sewer design and reservoir sizing. Statistical tools dealing with information in water resources, frequency analysis, confidence intervals for prediction, and risk. Applications to common engineering projects in surface and sub-surface situations are presented. Includes computer applications. Fall.
PreRequisite(s): ENSC 352 or CENG 252 or MENG 352

CENG 352  Hydraulic Engineering  credit(s): 3
Corequisite(s): CENG 352L
PreRequisite(s): ENSC 352

CENG 352L  Hydraulic Engineer Lab  credit(s): 1
see CENG 352.
Corequisite(s): CENG 352
CENG 391  Civil Engineering Design and Practice  credit(s): 3
An integration of topics essential to the practice of civil engineering, including: 1) engineering economics concepts; 2) project management approaches; 3) contract issues and project structures, and 4) general code of conduct of engineers and ethics. Engineering economy topics will include annual cost, present worth, future worth, and rate of return concepts. Students will develop an understanding of the elements of proposals, reports, construction drawings, and specifications. Engineering law, in the context of civil engineering project will be included to further illustrate the four main topics. Spring.

Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

CENG 404  Sustainable Systems and Design  credit(s): 3
This course explores the characteristics of sustainable systems and how design practices may encourage sustainability. Topics covered in the course will be selected for applicability to specific regions of the world and may change each year. Basic concepts include: building thermal performance, indoor and outdoor environmental quality, passive and active energy systems, water reclamation strategies, life cycle analysis and current sustainable building rating systems. Sustainable design concepts and methods are also applied to building design site development and infrastructure use.

CENG 411  Steel Design  credit(s): 3
Application of basic principles of mechanics applied to the design of steel members. Design of structural members and connections using the current American Institute of Steel Construction specifications. Load and Resistance Factor Design and Allowable Stress Design procedures. Fall.

PreRequisite(s): CENG 301

CENG 412  Concrete Design  credit(s): 3
Theory and application of analytical procedures applied to the design of reinforced concrete structural members. Proportioning of beams, columns, footings, and walls in concrete structures is approached using current American Concrete Institute code specifications. Ultimate Strength Design Procedures. Spring.

PreRequisite(s): CENG 301

CENG 414  Waste Management  credit(s): 3
An overview of solid, hazardous, and industrial waste management. Topics include regulations, contaminant transport, waste sources, waste minimization, recycling, treatment and remediation technologies, landfill design and risk assessment.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): CENG 303

CENG 415  Masonry - Timber Design  credit(s): 3
Analysis and design of masonry and timber structures. Sizing of members in masonry and timber according to applicable building codes.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): CENG 301

CENG 416  Hydrogeology  credit(s): 3
Fundamentals of hydrogeology: the hydrologic cycle; surface water and ground water interactions; principles of steady-state and transient flow groundwater flow; regional groundwater flow; finite difference solutions to groundwater flow equations. Application of MODFLOW and GIS to groundwater problems. Aquifer tests; ground water law and management; contaminant transport.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): ENSC 352
CENG 417  Traffic Engineering
Fundamentals of traffic engineering including traffic flow, capacity analysis, traffic signs and signals, and traffic engineering studies.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): CENG 318

CENG 418  Transportation System Design
Application of national and local standards to transportation system design situations from a multimodal perspective. Course emphasizes geometric design of roadway facilities but also incorporates design considerations for pedestrians, bicycles, and transit.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): CENG 318

CENG 420  Structural Dynamics
The analysis and response of structures to dynamic loads. Emphasis is given to dynamic loads due to earthquakes. Basic principles of the seismic design of structures. Prerequisites: CENG 301 and ENSC 306.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective

CENG 421  Stormwater Management
Basic principles in the application of hydrology, hydraulics, soil and water chemistry, environmental law, and public policy are presented to solve problems and design projects to manage urban stormwater runoff. Key topics covered include: hydrology of urban watersheds; floodplain management; storm drainage; stormwater detention/retention; water quality improvement; and the design of low impact development best management practices.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Civil Engineering
PreRequisite(s): CENG 352 and CENG 303

CENG 422  Structural Analysis II
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective, Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): CENG 301

CENG 424  Physiochemical Treatment Proc
The theory and design of physical and chemical treatment processes for water and wastewater. Topics include traditional wastewater treatment plant unit operations. Additional topics include sustainability, grey water, water reuse, developing countries, and remediation.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): CENG 303

CENG 426  Stream Restoration
Course presents fundamentals of stream restoration: Hydrologic, sediment transport, geomorphic, and ecological principles applicable to (1) assessment of stream channel condition, (2) developing approaches to stream management and restoration, and (3) evaluating project performance. Approach emphasizes the inter-related nature of hydrology, hydraulics, sediment transport, geomorphology, fisheries, and aquatic and riparian ecology. Provides students opportunities to literally get their feet wet while making various observations and measurements.
in field exercises to evaluate physical and ecological stream characteristics assess stream stability.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): CENG 352

CENG 427 Infrastructure Design

Design and construction supervision of the infrastructure required for land development. Topics include roadway geometry, water supply pipelines, sewer pipelines, and storm water drainage. Students will prepare design drawings, project plans, project reports, project specifications, and construction cost estimates that address regulatory requirements.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): CENG 301 and CENG 352

CENG 428 Urban Design and Development

This course introduces civil engineering students to fundamental concepts of urban design and development, and prepares them with essentials tools, techniques, and strategies to engage in the urban design process.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Civil Engineering

PreRequisite(s): CENG 261

CENG 432 Hazard Mitigation

Quantitative Risk Analysis provides engineers with a basis to improve decisions for design and operation of complex projects by incorporating effects of uncertainty. Applications to a variety of engineering problems.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective

Restriction(s):
- Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

PreRequisite(s): MATH 321

CENG 444 Air Pollution

An introduction to the field of air pollution and its control. Topics include regulations, air pollution sources, health effects, meteorology, and the theory and design of control techniques.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): CENG 303

CENG 450 Watershed Modeling

Basic principles of hydrologic modeling are presented and practices. Key topics covered include watershed delineation, land use change impact on runoff, flooding impact, bridge/culvert hydraulics, and GIS data analysis. Students will gain an understanding and be able to apply the USACE software tools: HEC-HMS and HEC-RAS. Design projects will focus on applying these models to design stormwater management facilities and size bridges and culverts to minimize flooding impacts.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): CENG 352

CENG 454 Biological Treatment Processes

The theory and design of biological processes for water and wastewater treatment. Topics include basic microbiology, activated sludge, membrane bioreactors, bioremediation, as well as biological treatment systems for water reuse, small on-site treatment systems, and air pollution.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): CENG 303
CENG 463  Pavement Design
Loads on pavements, stresses in pavements, vehicle and traffic consideration, climate, environmental effects. Soils and materials characterization.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): CENG 331

CENG 464  Ground Behavior for Structures
This course presents ground considerations related to supporting civil engineering structures and facilities of various types. Treatment of in-place testing of the ground, obtaining the necessary information, and estimating soil behavior in the context of soil-structure interaction is included. Numerous applied examples of structural facilities are used throughout to further relate theory to practice.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Civil Engineering
PreRequisite(s): CENG 331

CENG 473  Foundation Design
PreRequisite(s): CENG 331

The Department of Computer Science offers a B.S. in Computer Science, a B.A. in Computer Science and Computational Thinking, and a Minor in Computer Science. See the Undergraduate Catalog entry (College of Arts and Sciences) under “Computer Science and Computational Thinking” for a full description of the B.A program. The B.S. in Computer Science is built on a broad and rigorous foundation of science, mathematics, software engineering, and advanced computer science topics, while the B.A. in Computer Science and Computational Thinking is built on a foundation of computer science and the liberal arts. Students in both programs participate in a large software engineering project during their senior year, completed under the guidance of a faculty member and a project sponsor.

Faculty expertise and research interests span a wide range of computer science topics including networking, machine learning, speech recognition, data visualization, computer graphics, database systems, cloud computing, and computer security. Select students can participate in research projects directly with a faculty mentor, through independent study courses, or through a senior thesis. Students are encouraged to pursue summer research or industry-sponsored internships. Many of our students secure summer research funding through the National Science Foundation’s Research Experience for Undergraduates program. Others intern in the computer industry, some with companies that regularly work with our department.

The department offers several laboratories including two general purpose computing labs, a lab for student research and group projects, and a high performance computing lab. The department sponsors several student organizations, including the Women in Computing club, the GU Makers and Developers club, and a chapter of Upsilon Pi Epsilon (the international honor society for computer science and related disciplines). The department also sponsors teams interested in competing in the annual Association for Computing Machinery’s Student Programming Competitions. Many of our students are also actively involved in the GU Robotics club, which is open to all majors.

Computer Science majors can graduate with departmental honors if they have fulfilled all computer science degree requirements, achieved a grade point average of at least 3.50 in their CPSC courses needed for a major in Computer Science, written a senior thesis under the supervision of a Computer Science faculty member, and successfully completed CPSC 495 and 496.

Electrical engineering is the profession that applies mathematics, the basic sciences, technology, and problem-solving skills to the design, construction, operation, and maintenance of electrical and electronic products, equipment, services, and information systems. Electrical engineers find innovative ways to use electricity, information, computers, and electronics to make people's lives better. Traditionally, electrical engineering involves the areas of communication systems, computer systems, control systems, electric power systems, electronics, and signal processing.

Communication systems process and transfer information from one point to another. This information includes audio and video data, as well as digital data used in computers. Computer systems includes computer design, as well as the areas of hardware and software used to control processes and equipment. Control systems use electronic circuits to regulate processes to meet specific objectives and requirements. Electric power systems generate, transmit, and distribute electricity to residential, commercial, and industrial establishments. Electronics engineers design and develop devices, components, and circuits that are used in computers, appliances, automobiles, and countless other areas. Signal processing systems transform electrical and electromagnetic signals to more usable form in such applications as computerized tomography (CT) scan and magnetic resonance imaging (MRI).

The department of Electrical and Computer Engineering, in conjunction with its various constituencies, has clearly defined program objectives. These engineering program objectives are listed in the School of Engineering and Applied Science section of this catalog.

Technical Electives in Electrical Engineering

Only 300 and 400 level courses that are not required in the degree plan can be used to satisfy the technical elective requirements. The student’s advisor must approve the selection and must contain courses from at least two of the following specializations: 1. Electromagnetics, Circuits, Electronics and Filters, 2. Control Systems and Automation, 3. Communication Systems and Signal Processing, 4. Electric Power and Power Systems Engineering, and 5. Computer Engineering. Please see your advisor for current course offerings.

Courses:

EENG 201  Circuit Analysis I
Fundamental electrical laws; network theorems. Basic circuit elements: resistance, inductance, capacitance, independent and controlled sources, and op-amps. Techniques of circuit analysis; steady-state and transient responses; first-order and second-order circuits; complex numbers; sinusoidal analysis. Three lectures hours per week. MATH 258 and PHYS 103 are co-requisites or pre-requisites for this course.
Corequisite(s): EENG 201L
PreRequisite(s): MATH 258 (or concurrent) and PHYS 103 (or concurrent)

EENG 201L  Circuit Analysis I Lab
Three laboratory hours per week. Taken concurrently with EENG 201.
Corequisite(s): EENG 201

EENG 202  Circuit Analysis II
Continuation of EENG 201. Sinusoidal steady-state analysis; RMS value; real, reactive, and complex powers; balanced three-phase circuits; second-order circuits; frequency response; Bode plots; resonance; complex frequency; transfer functions; two-port circuits; magnetically coupled circuits; transformers.
PreRequisite(s): EENG 201

EENG 301  Electronic Fields and Materials
Application of vector calculus to static and time-varying electric and magnetic fields; electromagnetic properties of conductors, insulators, dielectrics, and ferromagnetic materials; Maxwell’s equations; electromagnetic waves; transmission lines. Four lecture hours per week. EENG 202 is a co-requisite or pre-requisite for this course.
PreRequisite(s): EENG 201 and PHYS 204 and MATH 259 and EENG 202 (or concurrent)

EENG 303  Electronics Design I
Introduction to electronics design concepts; semiconductor devices and their associated electrical behavior; amplifier modeling, design, and trade-offs; practical designing, building, testing, and analyzing of electronic circuits. Three lecture hours per week. EENG 202 is a co-requisite or pre-requisite for this course.
PreRequisite(s): EENG 201 and EENG 202 (or concurrent)

EENG 303L  Electronics Design I Lab
Three hours laboratory per week. Taken concurrently with EENG 303.
Corequisite(s): EENG 303

EENG 304  Electronics Design II
Continuation of EENG 303. Frequency response and distortion; tuned circuits; operational amplifiers; power amplifiers; feedback concepts and oscillators; digital circuits; astable circuits; data conversion; practical design and application of electronic circuits. Three lecture hours per week.
Corequisite(s): EENG 304L
PreRequisite(s): EENG 303 (or concurrent)EENG 303 (or concurrent)

EENG 304L  Electronics Design II Lab
Three laboratory hours per week. Taken concurrently with EENG 304.
Corequisite(s): EENG 304

EENG 311  Signals and Systems
Signals and systems; types of signals; properties of systems; convolution integral; Fourier series; Fourier transform and applications; Laplace transform and applications; Sampling Theorem. Four lecture hours per week. EENG 202 and MATH 260 are co-requisites or pre-requisites for this course.

PreRequisite(s): EENG 202 (or concurrent) and MATH 260 (or concurrent)

EENG 322 Probabilistic Methods of Electrical Engineering
Credit(s): 3
Introduction to probability; random variables; multiple random variables; elements of statistics; applications in electrical and computer engineering. Three lecture hours per week.

PreRequisite(s): MATH 258 and EENG 311 (or concurrent)

EENG 340 Introduction Electric Power Engineering
Credit(s): 3
Magnetic circuits; principles of electromechanical energy conversion; transformers; synchronous machines; three-phase induction machines; D.C. machines; transmission lines; power system modeling; power flow analysis. Three lecture hours per week.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CPEN - Tech Elective
Corequisite(s): EENG 340L

PreRequisite(s): EENG 202 (or concurrent)

EENG 340L Introduction Electric Power Engineering Lab
Credit(s): 1
Three hours of laboratory per week. Taken concurrently with EENG 340.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CPEN - Tech Elective
Corequisite(s): EENG 340

EENG 391 Engineering Design
Credit(s): 1
Preparatory course for EENG 491 Senior Design Project. Fundamentals of the engineering design process fundamentals: project requirements analysis and specification, system design, detailed design, testing and written and oral presentations. Project management: tasks, schedules, budget, critical items and fall back options. Ethics and professionalism. One lecture hour per week.

Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

PreRequisite(s): EENG 202 (or concurrent)

EENG 401 Electronics III
Credit(s): 3
Physics and technology of semiconductor devices; Carrier transport phenomena; p-n junctions; Metal semiconductor junctions; Device operation based on junction physics; Process technologies; Some simulations using modern software. Three lecture hours per week.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective, Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CPEN - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): EENG 304

EENG 402 Electromag Waves and Materials
Credit(s): 3
Continuation of EENG 301. Time varying fields; electromagnetic waves and transmission lines; metallic waveguides and resonators; principles of photonics; antennas. Three lecture hours per week.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): EENG 304

EENG 403 Passive and Active Filter Design
Credit(s): 3
Properties of network functions; properties and realizations of LC and RC driving point functions; passive realizations of transfer functions; Butterworth, Chebyshev, and Bessel filter approximations; design techniques for low-pass, high-pass, band-pass, and band-elimination filters. Basic building blocks for active filters; direct and cascade realizations approaches. Three lecture hours per week.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): EENG 311
EENG 406  Introduction to Integrated Circuit  credit(s): 3
Structural design of digital integrated circuits in MOS technology; layout, design rules, fabrication techniques; use of computer automated design and simulation tools, and high-level description language. Three lecture hours per week. EENG 304 is a co-requisite or pre-requisite for this course.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective, Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CPEN - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): EENG 304 (or concurrent)

EENG 410  Information Theory and Coding  credit(s): 3
Discussion of the concepts of information transmission theory including entropy, redundancy, the noisy channel model and channel capacity. Basics of source coding including compression limits and Huffman codes. Linear block code discussion involving Hamming distance, error detection/correction capabilities, generator/parity-check matrices, syndromes and error correction. Well-known block codes such as Hamming codes and the Golay code. Basics of finite field algebra and BCH codes including Reed-Solomon codes. Convolutional codes and the Viterbi decoding algorithm. Concatenated codes and the NASA Deep Space Network telemetry system. Fall.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective, Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CPEN - Tech Elective
Restriction(s):
   Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

EENG 411  Introduction to Control Systems  credit(s): 3
Analysis and design of linear closed-loop systems; stability; design based on root locus and root contours. A package of computer programs is used for homework and design problems. Three lectures hours per week.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CPEN - Tech Elective
Corequisite(s): EENG 421, Corequisite(s): EENG 425
PreRequisite(s): EENG 303 (or concurrent)

EENG 412  Digital Control Systems  credit(s): 3
Classical and modern control system analysis and design techniques. Sampling; stability; frequency response; root locus; state variables in discrete time; controllability; observability; state variable feedback; pole placement and observers. A package of computer programs is used for homework and a design project. Three lecture hours per week.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective, Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective, Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CPEN - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): EENG 411 or MENG 411

EENG 413  Automation  credit(s): 2
Use of programmable controllers to automate manufacturing processes and equipment; ladder logic and state based control languages; controller architecture and systems software; structured design using Grafcet; interactive graphic operator interface design; safety considerations; sensors and instrumentation; single loop controllers. Two lecture hours per week.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective, Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CPEN - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): CPSC 121( and EENG 311 or MENG 301)

EENG 413L  Automation Lab  credit(s): 1
Three laboratory hours per week. Taken concurrently with EENG 413 (ENSC413).
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective
EENG 421 Introduction Communication Systems 3
Basic concepts in communication systems: correlation and power spectral density; pulse modulation; amplitude modulation; angle modulation; effects of noise. Three lecture hours per week.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CPEN - Tech Elective
Corequisite(s): EENG 411, Corequisite(s): EENG 425
PreRequisite(s): EENG 311 and EENG 322
EENG 422 Digital Communication Systems 3
Statistical Communications: random processes; formatting and baseband transmissions; bandpass modulation and demodulation; communication link analysis; block and convolutional channel coding; modulation and coding tradeoffs. Three lecture hours per week.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective, Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CPEN - Tech Elective
Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Senior
PreRequisite(s): EENG 421
EENG 424 Digital Signal Processing 3
Discrete Fourier Transform and circular convolution; Fast Fourier Transform; use of windows in spectral estimation; filter approximations; design and realization of IIR and FIR digital filters; effects of finite word size; sampling rate conversion. Three lecture hours per week.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective, Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CPEN - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): EENG 421
EENG 425 Communication-Control Lab 1
Experimental investigation of concepts and subsystems used in communications and controls. Three hour laboratory per week. Taken concurrently with EENG 411 and EENG 421.
Corequisite(s): EENG 411, Corequisite(s): EENG 421
EENG 427 Wireless Systems 3
Fundamentals of RF stages of modern wireless systems including antennas, propagation, fading, noise, receiver design, modulation methods and bit error rates. Components of wireless systems, including filters, amplifiers, mixers, oscillators, and phase-locked loops. Initial coverage includes transmission lines, S-parameters, impedance matching, and random processes. Three lecture hours per week.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective, Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CPEN - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): EENG 202
EENG 428 Wireless Systems II 3
Advanced topics in modern RF/microwave wireless component design including microstrip transmission lines, filters and amplifiers. Mixer, oscillator and phase-locked loop basics. Digital modulation methods and bit error rates. Introduction to information capacity. Receiver design. Three lecture hours per week.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): EENG 427
EENG 441 Analysis of Power Systems 3
Per unit system; transmission line parameters; power system models; generators, transformers, lines, loads; power flow problem and solution methods; symmetrical components; symmetrical and unsymmetrical fault analysis; use of computer software package to solve power-flow and short-circuit problems. Three lecture hours per week.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): EENG 340

EENG 442  Electronic Power Distribution System Engineering  credit(s): 3 Distribution system planning; load characteristics; distribution transformer applications; design of sub-transmission lines, substations, primary and secondary distribution systems; voltage regulation; capacitor applications; protection. Three lecture hours per week.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): EENG 340

EENG 443  Analysis of Electrical Machines  credit(s): 3
D.C. machine dynamics; D.C. motor starters and controllers; synchronous machine steady-state and transient performance; polyphase induction machine dynamics; A.C. motor starters and controllers; transformer applications; fractional horsepower A.C. motors; power electronics.
Three lecture hours per week.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): EENG 340

EENG 444  Computational Methods for Power Systems  credit(s): 3
Power system matrices; bus and Z-bus matrices; computer programming considerations:
sparcely, triangular factorization; computer solutions of power flow fault circulations; protective relays; protection of generators, transformers, and transmission lines; stability concepts; transient stability, computer simulations. Three lecture hours per week.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective

Restriction(s):
Must be the following Class(es): Senior

PreRequisite(s): EENG 441

EENG 481  Special Topics Electrical Engineering  credit(s): 1-3 Courses of special interest may be offered from time to time. Prerequisites will depend on the nature of the material offered and will be announced.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).
Computer Engineering

Computer Engineering (CpE) combines the disciplines of electrical engineering and computer science. It encompasses computer hardware, software, and systems. The study of computer engineering is not limited to general purpose computers, but also covers embedded computer systems that control a vast multitude of devices and functions from automotive ignitions to cellular phones and various industrial controls, medical instruments, robotics, consumer electronics. Computer hardware design involves logic design, digital electronics, computer architecture, and integrated circuit design. Computer software involves the design of programs in various languages using structured and object-oriented techniques to control devices and systems. Computer systems involve the combination of hardware, software and operating system that will provide the most effective realization of a system.

Computer engineers are continually developing newer and faster computers, and they find new applications for computers every day to fill the needs of society. The computer engineer must have a broad understanding not only of computer systems, but also of basic engineering fundamentals to apply computer technology to the solution of real engineering problems.

The courses and laboratories offered in the CpE program are organized into the three disciplines of hardware, software, and system design. Technical electives that are chosen from various fields of specialization (e.g., communications, computers, controls, electronics, and power) enable CpE seniors to apply their computer engineering knowledge in selected areas in their professional career.

The department of Electrical and Computer Engineering, in conjunction with its various constituencies, has clearly defined program objectives. These engineering program objectives are listed in the School of Engineering and Applied Science section of this catalog.

The BS in Computer Engineering (BSCpE) is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET, http://www.abet.org.

Courses:

CPEN 230  Introduction Digital Logic
Number systems and codes, Boolean Algebra, Logic gates and flip-flops. Verilog HDL.
Combinational and sequential Logic Design using CPLDs. Three lecture hours per week.
Corequisite(s): CPEN 230L

CPEN 230L  Introduction Digital Logic Lab
Three laboratory hours per week. Taken concurrently with CPEN 230.
Corequisite(s): CPEN 230

CPEN 231  Microcomputer Architecture and Assembly Programming
Study of components of simple computer systems: CPU's memory, registers, busses, computer control, microprogramming, assembly language programming. Three lecture hours per week.
Corequisite(s): CPEN 231L

PreRequisite(s): CPSC 121

CPEN 231L  Microcomputer Architecture and Assembly Programming Lab
Three laboratory hours per week. Taken concurrently with CPEN 231.
Corequisite(s): CPEN 231

CPEN 342  Embedded Computer Systems
The micro controller as an engineering component. Hardware expansion with analog and digital devices. Board level design of real-time systems. Design of user-friendly interactive displays. Design project. Troubleshooting with logic analyzer and in-circuit emulation. Three lecture hours per week.
PreRequisite(s): CPEN 231 and EENG 304 (or concurrent)

CPEN 342L  Embedded Computer Systems Lab
Three laboratory hours per week. Taken concurrently with CPEN 342.
Corequisite(s): CPEN 342

CPEN 430  Digital System Design
Modern methods of digital design realization. Technology independence. Designs utilizing gate arrays and custom integrated circuits. Use of high level design software. Extensive use of Verilog hardware design language for system description, simulation and implementation. Three lecture hours per week.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective
Corequisite(s): CPEN 430L

PreRequisite(s): CPEN 230 and CPSC 121

CPEN 430L  Digital System Design Lab

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective
Corequisite(s): CPEN 430

CPEN 435  Parallel and Cloud Computing
Parallel Programming platforms; principles of parallel algorithm design; basic communication operations; analytical modeling of parallel programs; programming using the message-passing paradigm (MPI); programming on shared address space platforms (POSIX Thread and OpenMP); and other advanced topics. On sufficient demand.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective, Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CPEN - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): CPEN 231

CPEN 436 Biomedical Informatics and Comp credit(s): 3
Investigation of the role of computers in the provision of medical services; study of the nature of clinical data, medical information exchange standards, data storage, retrieval, integration and analysis and privacy issues; medical decision-making support; design of healthcare information systems; genomic medicine and its techniques. On sufficient demand.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): EENG - Tech Elective, Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CPEN - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): CPEN 231

CPEN 481 Special Topics credit(s): 1-3

Engineering Management

Chairman: TBD

Professors: S. Bowers, P. McKenny (Emeritus), P. Nowak, P. Ferro, S. Schennum

The Engineering Management Program was developed to address a growing need for individuals that possess both engineering and management skills. Courses taken in the Engineering Management Program are intended to provide students with a broad understanding of the practice and concepts of engineering, and make them adaptive leaders that are ready to address challenges caused by rapid changes in technology. The program provides graduates an opportunity to select from a wide range of career paths, and sufficient preparation for entry into the M.B.A. Program - which can be completed in an additional calendar year. (See “B.S. in Engineering and M.B.A.” for information.)

The Engineering Management program attracts students whose talents and interests are broader than those required for a traditional engineering design and analysis position, and also those that have yet to decide on a particular field of engineering specialization. The program is especially well suited to the typical engineering student attracted to Gonzaga University since it makes use of engineering and leadership skills they develop at GU, with their interest in helping others and making a valuable contribution to society. By combining a strong engineering background with a General Business Minor from the School of Business Administration, students develop a skill-set that is sought after by employers.

In practice, engineering managers combine management expertise and leadership skills with their engineering background to lead teams in various technical fields. Areas of employment typically include engineering project management and supervision, product development, production planning, engineering design and manufacturing, product quality and reliability, materials management, production processes, inventory management, system analysis, industrial plant management, technical sales and marketing, and a range of other positions in a wide variety of industries. As such, your Engineering Management degree will provide you with flexibility in terms of future employment opportunities.

Engineers typically work in teams, create innovative devices, and add value to the products we use in everyday life. Many engineers rise to the highest levels in business organizations to become global leaders and innovators, start companies like Boeing, Google, Hewlett Packard, Intel, and Yahoo, or use their engineering training as a springboard to other fields. They succeed in fields as diverse as investment banking, law, and medicine, and also play a leading role in addressing many world problems' including global warming, clean water shortage, power shortages, poverty, nuclear proliferation, and new medical devices and equipment.

Our Engineering Management program provides students with a foundation in the critical skills required to be successful in their chosen career. The program contains a set of common engineering courses that provide a solid basis in engineering principles, augmented by relevant courses on the process of management as it applies to technically-based projects. Students also develop a technical concentration by taking a set of courses from one of five tracks - Civil, Computer, Electrical, and Mechanical Engineering, or Computer Science. Each technical track draws from a wide selection of interests within a particular engineering discipline. Technical proficiency is increased and management skills strengthened by combining qualitative approaches and quantitative techniques in a balanced curriculum. This combination of management and engineering skills is highly sought after by industry today.
Gonzaga’s School of Engineering and Applied Science is in a unique position to offer this Engineering Management program. Students receive a wealth of engineering knowledge in small class sizes with caring faculty that possess an array of industrial experience. Graduates from the program will be competent and conversant in the basic scientific and engineering principles, and able to formulate concepts, develop system designs, and apply engineering problem solving skills to their solutions. They will be able to see the “big picture” and interact with other engineers to develop practical, technologically achievable solutions within the constraints of time, cost, and resources. They will also be able to mediate between design team members, particularly in their ability to interpret requirements, explain designs and describe features for the non-technical members of the team.

The Engineering Management Department, in conjunction with its various constituencies, has clearly defined program objectives. These engineering program objectives are listed in the School of Engineering and Applied Science section of this catalog, and by the Gonzaga University Mission Statement that may be found at the beginning of the catalog.

Courses:

ENSC 191  First Year Seminar

An introduction to multiple aspects of engineering as well as the university intellectual life. A primary focus is on programming and the use of computers within the engineering disciplines. Through a focus on hands-on projects performed in teams, the course introduces students to commonalities and differences among the engineering disciplines, modes of inquiry, project design, teaming, skills in professional/technical writing, persuasive arguments (based on evidence, logic and critical thinking), innovation, and the use of multiple languages (English, computing, graphic) to communicate technical ideas to colleagues and clients. Fall.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: First Year Seminar

Corequisite(s): ENSC 191

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following College/School(s): School of Engineering and Applied Science

ENSC 191L  First Year Seminar Lab

See ENSC 191.

Corequisite(s): ENSC 191

ENSC 192  First Year Seminar

A continuation of the concepts introduced in ENSC 191. Spring.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Writing, Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Writing Enriched

Corequisite(s): ENSC 192L

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following College/School(s): School of Engineering and Applied Science

ENSC 192L  First Year Seminar Lab

See ENSC 192.

Corequisite(s): ENSC 192
ENSC 193  First Year Seminar  credit(s): 3
The First-Year Seminar (FYS) introduces new Gonzaga students to the University, the Core Curriculum, and Gonzaga's Jesuit mission and heritage. While the seminars will be taught by faculty with expertise in particular disciplines, topics will be addressed in a way that illustrates approaches and methods of different academic disciplines. The seminar format of the course highlights the participatory character of university life, emphasizing that learning is an active, collegial process.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: First Year Seminar
Restriction(s):
Must not be in the following College/School(s): School of Engineering and Applied Science

ENSC 205  Statics  credit(s): 3
A vector treatment of systems of forces and moments in equilibrium. Topics include centroids, distributed loads, effects of friction; analysis of trusses and frames and calculations of moments of inertia. PHYS 103 is a co-requisite or pre-requisite for this course.
PreRequisite(s): PHYS 103 (or concurrent)

ENSC 244  Computer Methods for Engineers  credit(s): 3
PreRequisite(s): MATH 260 (or concurrent)

ENSC 290  Directed Study  credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be decided by faculty.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

ENSC 300  Engineering Economics  credit(s): 2
Techniques of evaluating engineering decisions in the economic realm. Selected topics include: annual cost, present worth, future worth, rate of return, and benefit cost ratio analysis in engineering project alternatives.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 258

ENSC 301  Mechanics of Materials I  credit(s): 3
Behavior of materials, elementary theories of stress and strain, generalization of these theories to stress distribution, and deformation and instability in structural members.
PreRequisite(s): ENSC 205

ENSC 306  Dynamics  credit(s): 3
A vector treatment of kinematics and kinetics. General motion of a particle, energy and momentum methods for particles and rigid bodies.
PreRequisite(s): ENSC 205

ENSC 352  Fluid Mechanics  credit(s): 3
Fluid properties, fluid statics, fluids in motion, momentum and energy equations, dimensional analysis, boundary layers, flow in conduits, drag and lift.
PreRequisite(s): ENSC 205

ENSC 355  Thermal Science  credit(s): 3
First and second law of thermodynamics applied to closed and open systems; introduction to conduction, convection, and radiation heat transfer. For non-mechanical engineering majors only.
Restriction(s):
Must not be in the following Major(s): Mechanical Engineering
ENSC 371  Advanced Engineering Math  credit(s): 3
Application of advanced mathematical techniques to problems of interest to engineers and scientists. Analytical methods involving topics such as ordinary and partial differential equations, special functions, and complex valued functions.
PreRequisite(s): MATH 260

ENSC 400  Fundations of Engineering Exam  credit(s): 0
Proctoring of the practice examination for Students in preparation for the Fundamental of Engineering Exam (1st exam toward professional licensing), and of the School of Engineering and Applied Sciences assessment surveys (dates and times are announced during the semester). Also requires Students to take the Washington State Fundamentals of Engineering (FE) Examination. Students must show proof of having taken the examination as part of the requirements of this course.
PreRequisite(s): EENG 491 or MENG 491 or ENSC 491 or CENG 491 or CPSC 491

ENSC 405  Engineering Project Management  credit(s): 3
Current tools used to manage engineering and technical projects. Topics covering both theory and practice: Definition of a project; Management and organization; Project planning, including chartering, project scope management, project time (schedule) management, project cost management, quality management, communications, project risk management, and procurement/contract management; Project control; and Project completion/termination.
Restriction(s):
    Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

ENSC 413  Automation  credit(s): 2
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): ENSC 244( and EENG 411 or MENG 461)

ENSC 413L  Automation Lab  credit(s): 1
Must be taken concurrently with ENSC 413. Three hour lab per week.

ENSC 432  Core Integration Seminar  credit(s): 3
The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) engages the Year Four Question: “Imagining the possible: What is our role in the world?” by offering students a culminating seminar experience in which students integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the Core, and their disciplinary expertise. Each section of the course will focus on a problem or issue raised by the contemporary world that encourages integration, collaboration, and problem solving. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students’ future role in the world.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Core Integration Seminar

ENSC 481  Special Topics in Engineering  credit(s): 1-6
Special topics in engineering. Admission is based on satisfying any specified pre-requisite, co-requisite and/or restrictions particular to that special topic course. Fall and Spring.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective

ENSC 483  Independent Study in Engineer  credit(s): 1-3
Admission is based on evidence of ability to pursue independent study in depth and approval of a submitted project in engineering science. Prerequisite: permission of Department Chair and Dean. Fall and Spring.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective

ENSC 484  Independent Study in Engineer  credit(s): 1-3
Admission is based on evidence of ability to pursue independent study in depth and approval of a submitted project in engineering science. Prerequisite: permission of Department Chair and Dean. Fall and Spring.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

ENSC 485  Special Topics in Engineering  credit(s): 1-6
Special topics in engineering. Admission is based on satisfying any specified pre-requisite, co-

ENSC 489  Special Topics in Engineering  credit(s): 1-6
Special topics in engineering. Admission is based on satisfying any specified pre-requisite, corequisite and/or restrictions particular to that special topic course. Fall and Spring.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
Restriction(s):
   Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior

ENSC 490  Directed Study  credit(s): 0-3
Directed study of a specific topic in engineering. Admission is based on satisfying any specified pre-requisite, co-requisite and/or restrictions particular to that topic in this course. Fall and Spring.

Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

ENSC 491 Senior Design Project I
Elective senior design project of an interdisciplinary or specialized nature involving both technical and non-technical aspects of an engineering problem for students in any of the engineering majors. Fall.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Fine Arts and Design

Restriction(s):
  - Must be the following Class(es): Senior

ENSC 492 Senior Design Project II
Ongoing completion of an elective senior design project of an interdisciplinary or specialized nature involving both technical and non-technical aspects of an engineering problem for students in any of the engineering majors. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Communication and Speech
Corequisite(s): ENSC 400

Restriction(s):
  - Must be the following Class(es): Senior

PreRequisite(s): ENSC 491

ENSC 497 Internship
Work experience directly related to the student's major area of study. Internship requires completion of an application form, a 3.00 GPA and permission from department. Zagweb registration is not available. Fall, Spring and Summer.
Course repeatable 8 time.

Mechanical Engineering is that branch of engineering that encompasses the study of forces, motion, energy, materials, manufacturing, and design in order to apply them to the creation of mechanical devices and systems that serve society (e.g., engines, refrigerators, machines, tools, etc). This is accomplished through a process of problem description, creative idea generation, design, analysis, judgment, planning, and production that typically involves a host of professionals who may all have been educated as mechanical engineers. For example, mechanical engineers may be involved in product design, analysis, and testing, in developing manufacturing processes, in defining product requirements and trouble-shooting customer problems, in project management, and in research and education.

The profession serves many diverse fields and industries such as the aerospace, pharmaceutical, automotive, biomedical engineering, and power generation industries, to name just a few. In fact, any device or system that involves energy or movement probably involved one or more mechanical engineers in its creation. Some exciting, rapidly developing fields and emerging technologies of interest to mechanical engineers include fuel cells (the use of chemical fuel and an oxidant to directly produce electricity), rapid prototyping (the use of computer-controlled machines to fabricate complete objects in one step directly from computer models), mechatronics (the integration of mechanical systems and electronic sensing and control), biomedical engineering (the application of engineering to problems in medicine and biology), nanoengineering (the creation of materials and devices at the nanometer level, i.e., at the atomic, molecular, or supramolecular levels), and MEMS (Microelectromechanical Systems-the integration of mechanical, chemical, and/or electronic systems at the chip level).
The Department of Mechanical Engineering at Gonzaga University develops men and women who are both competent engineers and educated, responsible human beings. The development of these two characteristics in students is affected by course work from both the liberal arts and the profession. Thus, these two aspects are interwoven, being a single, integrated fabric having many threads contributed by many curricula. This synthesis is expressed by the engineering program educational objectives that are listed in the School of Engineering and Applied Science section of this catalog, and by the Gonzaga University Mission Statement that may be found at the beginning of the catalog.

Diversity of opportunity and professional breadth are hallmarks of the mechanical engineering profession. This translates into a need for a thorough grounding in a variety of mathematical, scientific, and engineering fundamentals. Thus, the Mechanical Engineering Program at Gonzaga University prepares the student in the areas of mathematics, chemistry, physics, mechanics, thermodynamics, fluid mechanics, heat transfer, materials, manufacturing, design, control theory, experimentation, and economics. These fundamentals are enhanced with exposure to important engineering tools such as: mathematical techniques; computer programming; computer applications including computer aided design (CAD), computer aided manufacturing (CAM), finite element analysis (FEA), and computational fluid dynamics (CFD); and the use of equipment, instruments, and software typically found in manufacturing and laboratory situations. Since teamwork is an essential aspect of the modern practice of mechanical engineering, the Mechanical Engineering Program gives considerable attention to building personal communication skills through team design projects, reports, and presentations. Furthermore, as a critical component of the program, all students engage in design courses beginning in their Sophomore year, culminating in a two-semester capstone design experience in the Senior year. That experience typically entails requiring student design teams, led jointly by faculty and practicing engineers, to solve real industrial design problems. Finally, the degree requirements also include the opportunity for breadth as well as concentration in particular engineering applications through a group of technical electives taken in the senior year (the list of allowed technical electives is given below). The department also has a five-year plan available for students wishing to proceed at a slower pace or for those planning to add a minor in business or in a liberal arts subject such as physics, music, or art. Information and a suggested course package is also available for students planning to enroll in the Gonzaga-in-Florence Engineering Semester program.
The following curriculum details the course requirements for each semester. In addition to these courses, all students must take the Fundamentals of Engineering Examination prior to graduation (see ENSC 400, “Fundamentals of Engineering Exam” course in the Spring semester of the Senior year). Finally, students who follow a curriculum sequence other than that listed below should meet with their Academic Advisors at their first opportunity in order to resolve any scheduling conflicts that may arise due to off-schedule course availability and/or course pre- and co-requisite structure. In all cases, students must comply with the pre- and co-requisite requirements in order to be granted admission into courses.

The BS in Mechanical Engineering (BSME) is accredited by the Engineering Accreditation Commission of ABET, http://www.abet.org.

(¹) ENSC 300 is waived under the following circumstances:

- Students enrolled in the Hogan Entrepreneurial Leadership program: ENSC 300 is waived. Students pursuing the General Business or Analytical Finance minor: ENSC 300 is waived after completing both (ECON 200 or (ECON 201 and ECON 202)) and BFIN 320

- Students Pursuing the B.S. in Engineering and M.B.A. program: ENSC 300 is waived after completing both (ECON 200 or (ECON 201 and Econ 202)) and BFIN 320.

The above courses are not intended to be options for the ENSC 300 course. Hence, students who are not in one of the above programs are required to take ENSC 300. Also, students who comply with one of the above criteria must complete all of the courses required to waive ENSC 300 prior to enrolling in any course for which ENSC 300 is a pre-requisite.
Students must show proof of having taken the examination in the State of Washington, as part of the requirements of this course.

Technical Electives

The courses used to satisfy the technical elective requirements must normally be selected from the following list. However, students may take other courses for technical elective credits but only with the prior approval of both the student’s academic advisor and the chair of the Department of Mechanical Engineering. The actual technical elective courses offered from the list below varies from year to year and the department may on occasion offer one or more pre-approved technical elective courses that are not listed below. Courses other than MENG courses may have pre and/or co- requisites that are outside of the normal mechanical engineering curriculum. Students wishing to take these courses should plan well in advance in order to comply with all admission requirements prior to enrolling in the course.

- MENG 435 Applications in Vibrations
- MENG 442 Advanced Heat Transfer
- MENG 445 Heating, Ventilating, and Air Conditioning
- MENG 447 Advanced Energy Systems
- MENG 456 Design for Manufacturing
- MENG 465 Introduction to Finite Elements
- MENG 467 Designing with Polymers and Composites
- MENG 477 Material Selection for Design
- MENG 484 Manufacturing Systems
- CENG 301 Structural Analysis I
- CENG 422 Structural Analysis II
- EENG 412 Digital Control Systems
- ENSC 413 Automation
- PHYS 307 Optics
- PHYS 402 Advanced Mechanics
- PHYS 450 Statistical Physics
Courses:

MENG 221  Materials Engineering
Credit(s): 3
Introduction to the structure-property-processing relationship in metallic, ceramic, and polymeric materials, and to the atomic structure of materials and its influence on mechanical, electrical, and thermal properties. Students explore how alloying and thermomechanical processing modifies structure and changes the properties of materials.

PreRequisite(s): CHEM 101 or TRAN GCHM, minimum grade: T

MENG 291  Introduction to Mechanical Engineering Design
Credit(s): 2
Introduction to mechanical engineering design, with emphasis on the creation and communication of design ideas. Students will learn construction geometry, visualization (orthographic views, isometric views, sectional views, etc.), hand sketching and drawing of initial designs, and how to crate 2-D drawings. Detailed treatment of dimensioning and tolerancing. Strong focus on the design of basic machine elements in order to prepare the student for future coursework in machine design, and senior projects, as well as direct application in the practice of mechanical engineering. The design process, including product specifications, product descriptions, and prototype fabrication will be introduced.

Corequisite(s): MENG 291L

PreRequisite(s): ENSC 192

MENG 291L  Introduction to Mechanical Engineering Design Lab
Credit(s): 1
Hands on use of SOLIDWORKS CAD system to create 3-D models and 2-D drawings of machinery elements and assemblies. Laboratory assignments are coordinated with lecture content from MENG 291. Student projects will focus on the creation of machinery elements and assemblies in a team environment.

Corequisite(s): MENG 291

MENG 301  Manufacturing Processes
Credit(s): 2
Overview of manufacturing processes and how they influence design decisions. Emphasizes design for manufacturability, process comparison, and process specification.

Corequisite(s): MENG 301L

Restriction(s):
- Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Post-Bacc, Senior

PreRequisite(s): MENG 221

MENG 301L  Manufacturing Processes Lab
Credit(s): 1
Laboratory experiences with machine tools and manufacturing processes. Calculations and problem solving that reinforce lecture topics.

Corequisite(s): MENG 301

Restriction(s):
- Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Post-Bacc, Senior

MENG 321  Thermodynamics I
Credit(s): 3
The first and second laws of thermodynamics; thermophysical properties of matter, ideal gases and their mixtures; concept of entropy as applied to thermal systems.

PreRequisite(s): MATH 259

MENG 322  Thermodynamics II
Credit(s): 3
Second Law analysis, power and refrigeration cycles, mixtures, combustion, and high speed flow. Applications of first and second law analysis to engineering systems.

PreRequisite(s): MENG 321
MENG 330 Machine Design credit(s): 3
Application of stress analysis and theories of failure to basic machine elements. Design of elements under static and fatigue loading. Design involving mechanical elements such as shafts, columns, flywheels, springs, and welds.
PreRequisite(s): ENSC 301

MENG 341 Heat Transfer credit(s): 3
One and multidimensional steady conduction, transient conduction, internal and external forced convection, natural convection, radiation heat transfer, boiling and condensation, heat exchangers.
PreRequisite(s): MENG 321 and ENSC 352 and MATH 260

MENG 411 Instrumentation Systems credit(s): 3
Basic concepts of measurement and analysis of measurement uncertainties and experimental data. Study of transducers and investigation of data acquisition, signal conditioning, and data processing hardware typically utilized in performing mechanical measurements.
Corequisite(s): MENG 411L
PreRequisite(s): EENG 201 and ENSC 371 and MATH 321

MENG 411L Instrumentation Systems Lab credit(s): 1
Laboratory exercises supporting the topics covered in MENG 411.
Corequisite(s): MENG 411

MENG 412 Mechanical Measurements credit(s): 3
Study of the techniques used for measuring count, displacement, strain, force, torque, pressure, flow, temperature, shock and vibration, and acoustical phenomena. Investigation of the proper application and the associated limitations of the techniques and of the required instruments. The topics are studied within the context of obtaining experimental solutions to engineering problems in thermodynamics, heat transfer, fluid mechanics, mechanics, and strength of materials.
Corequisite(s): MENG 412L
PreRequisite(s): MENG 411 and MENG 341

MENG 412L Mechanical Measurements Lab credit(s): 1
Laboratory exercises supporting the topics covered in MENG 412.
Corequisite(s): MENG 412

MENG 434 Vibration Engineering credit(s): 3
PreRequisite(s): ENSC 306 and ENSC 371

MENG 435 Applications in Vibrations credit(s): 3
Continuation of MENG 434. Practical applications of vibration theory to topics such as: Control and suppression of vibrations in machinery; vibration isolation and damping treatments; dynamic vibration absorbers; balancing of rotating and reciprocating machinery; critical speed evaluation of flexible rotors; ground vehicle response to road profile excitation and evaluation of ride performance; vibration in electronic equipment and prevention of vibration failures; aircraft vibration and flutter; and response of structures to earthquakes.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): MENG 434

MENG 442 Advanced Heat Transfer credit(s): 3
Advanced topics in conduction, contact resistance, multidimensional transients, periodic heat transfer, non-uniform heat generation, phase change heat transfer, fin heat transfer, and design of shell-and-tube heat exchangers.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): MENG 341

MENG 445 Heating Vent and Air Condition credit(s): 3
Introduction to the techniques used in the analysis and design of heating, ventilating, and air conditioning (HVAC) systems. Topics include the arrangement of typical air conditioning systems (i.e. all air systems, air and water systems, etc.), moist air processes, comfort and health criteria for indoor air quality, heating and cooling loads, piping system design, building air distribution, and operational principles and performance parameters of typical components (i.e., cooling towers, air washers, heating and cooling coils, etc.)
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): MENG 341

MENG 447 Advanced Energy Systems credit(s): 3
This course is designed for students to understand the basic engineering principles of clean, renewable, and advanced energy conversion technologies. This course features an overview of various energy sources, their characteristics, and in-depth coverage of engineering technologies of converting these sources to electricity. Students should understand the engineering principles and limitations of each energy conversion technology. They will gain the ability to choose appropriate energy conversion techniques based on the application and energy resource availability.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): MENG 322 and MENG 341

MENG 450 Topics in Machine Design credit(s): 3
Continuation of material presented in MENG 330. Design topics involving mechanical elements such as bolts, spur and helical gears, journal bearings and flexible mechanical elements.

PreRequisite(s): MENG 330

MENG 456 Design for Manufacturing credit(s): 3
Principles of Design for Manufacturing (DFM) are taught in the context of manufacturing engineering. Tool design, part features, tolerances and material processing parameters are discussed as examples to demonstrate how overall manufacturing costs are affected. Communication within the supply chain, upstream and downstream, are emphasized to achieve design and manufacturing costs goals. Traditional and nontraditional manufacturing (e.g. additive manufacturing) examples are used to show how DFM principles may be employed in globalized manufacturing. Recommendations from Bralla, Design for Manufacturing, are covered. Value engineering, outsourcing, reshoring, maquiladoras and other manufacturing trends are discussed.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective

PreRequisite(s): MENG 221

MENG 461 System Dynamics and Control credit(s): 3

PreRequisite(s): EENG 201 and ENSC 306 and ENSC 371

MENG 465 Introduction to Finite Element credit(s): 3
Development of the stiffness matrix method applied to bar and beam elements. The plane problem is discussed and plane elements are presented. The Isoperimetric formulation is introduced. Modeling and accuracy in linear analysis is considered. Utilizes a commercial finite element program in problem solving. One hour lecture and two hour computer Laboratory each week.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective, Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): ENSC 301
MENG 467  Design with Polymers and Composites  credit(s): 3
Background of composites, stress-strain relations for composite materials, extension and bending of symmetric laminates, failure analysis of fiber-reinforced materials, design examples and design studies, non-symmetric laminates, micromechanics of composites, properties of fibers and matrix materials.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): CENG - Tech Elective, Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): MENG 221
MENG 477  Materials Selection for Design  credit(s): 3
Methods of materials selection. Systematic approaches for selecting optimal material when competing criteria exist. Real applications and case studies are included. Several topics including fracture mechanics, corrosion, titanium alloys, etc. are covered.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): MENG 221
MENG 480  Advanced Fluid Mechanics  credit(s): 3
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): ENSC 352
MENG 484  Manufacturing Systems  credit(s): 3
A course designed to familiarize the student with manufacturing decisions required in the industrial sector. Developing manufacturing strategies, integrating process alternatives, equipment selection analysis, process costs, and total integration of manufacturing systems are assessed quantitatively and qualitatively to maximize outcomes. Supply chain and lean topics are covered.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): MENG - Tech Elective
PreRequisite(s): MENG 301
Master of Business Administration and B.S. in Engineering

To meet the need for business knowledge and skills as an enhancement to the technical engineering degree, students with an aptitude for engineering and the capacity to assume management responsibilities may complete a program which leads to the B.S. in one of the disciplines of engineering and Master of Business Administration (MBA). Earning both the Bachelor’s of Engineering Management and the MBA takes five years of full-time study. Students choosing this program must complete their bachelors degree with the required General Business Minor before being admitted to the Graduate School of Business.

The General Business Minor is preparation for the MBA.

Engineering students who complete BFIN 320 and ECON 200 may have ENSC 300 waived. Additional information about the M.B.A. program can be found in the graduate catalog.

For more information on the MBA program, please contact the Marketing & Recruiting Specialist for the Graduate School of Business and/or the School of Business page.
The School of Nursing and Human Physiology

Dean: Vincent Salyers
Assistant Dean: Jennifer Towers

Welcome to the School of Nursing and Human Physiology (SNHP), which was established in 2013 in response to a growing need and brings together three departments with long histories at Gonzaga: Human Physiology, Nurse Anesthesia, and Nursing. Consistent with the mission of Gonzaga University, our message is that of making a difference through excellence in education and scholarly pursuits in the Jesuit, Catholic tradition.

Students choosing to enroll in one of our undergraduate programs will be taught by faculty with exemplary records in teaching, research, and service. Many faculty maintain clinical schedules to enrich their integration of theory and practice in the classroom. Their research and scholarly work inform and enhance their teaching and result in improvements in individual and population health. Service is an important component of what we do as it provides the school with the opportunity to fulfill the Jesuit commitment to social justice through working to address the needs of society's most vulnerable.

Human Physiology offers a BS degree for undergraduates as a first step in pursuing a graduate career at other institutions in the physiological sciences or clinically related professions, such as medicine, dentistry, or physical therapy, to name a few.

Nursing builds on a solid foundation in the liberal arts, behavioral sciences, and nursing theory and is informed by ethical principles. Graduates are prepared to practice as generalist nurses with their practice grounded in the principles and processes of safe, competent, and ethical care; effective communication; leadership; and professionalism.
Undergraduate Degree Programs in the School of Nursing and Human Physiology

- Human Physiology (B.S.)
- Nursing (B.S.N; undergraduate prerequisites for R.N. to M.S.N. degree are listed in the Undergraduate Catalogue)

Degree Requirements for the School of Nursing and Human Physiology

Students must complete the general degree requirements of the University, including the University Core curriculum, and the requirements of their major.

Please note: No core, major, minor, or concentration courses may be taken under the Pass/Fail option.

Nursing students are referred to the relevant Department of Nursing Student Handbook for a more detailed overview of requirements and expectations. There are separate handbooks for the BSN, MSN, and DNP programs.

Assistant Professors: P. Crosswhite, A. Gidley, E. Donovan, B. Wilkins, C. Wutzke
Lecturers: J. McKenzie, J. Deckert

The Bachelor of Science degree in Human Physiology provides an introduction to the physical and life sciences, followed by a concentrated study of human structure and function spanning the hierarchy of structure and function from molecules to the entire organism. Acute physiological responses and chronic adaptations to normal activity, exercise, disease and aging are emphasized. Laboratory experiences are used to introduce students to the methods of investigation and evaluation of human structure and function. The degree is unique within the University because it emphasizes the scientific basis and mechanisms of human function, adaptation, aging, health and disease, and performance. Because several courses may double-count for both the University Core Curriculum and the Human Physiology degree, the total credits needed to complete the University Core and Human Physiology degree is 104 credits. This can be further reduced by 6 credits if social justice and global studies requirements are carefully selected. Therefore, Human Physiology majors have a minimum of 24 additional elective credits to complete a minor and/or specific prerequisite courses for graduate or professional school.

Because prerequisites for admission to different graduate programs vary, students are advised to obtain the specific prerequisites from programs and schools of interest as early in their academic career as possible.
B.S. Major in Human Physiology: 63 credits

Science Core: 29 credits

BIOL 105, BIOL 105L Information Flow in Biological Systems and Lab 4 credits
CHEM 101, CHEM 101L General Chemistry and Lab 4 credits
CHEM 230, CHEM 230L Organic Chemistry and Lab 5 credits
MATH 148 or higher 3 credits
PHYS 101 and PHYS 101L General Physics I and Lab 5 credits
PHYS 102 and PHYS 102L General Physics II and Lab 5 credits
One of the following two courses: 3 credits
   PSYC 101 General Psychology
   SOCI 101 Introduction to Sociology

Lower Division: 17 credits

HPHY 205 Experimental Research Design and Data Analysis 3 credits
HPHY 210 Scientific Writing 3 credits
HPHY 241 and HPHY 241L Human Anatomy and Physiology I and Lab 4 credits
HPHY 242 and HPHY 242L Human Anatomy and Physiology II and Lab 4 credits
HPHY 274 Human Kinetics 3 credits

HPHY 375 and HPHY 375L Biomechanics 4 credits
HPHY 376 and HPHY 376L Exercise Physiology 4 credits
HPHY 441L Guided Experimental Design 1 credit
HPHY 442L Guided Research 1 credit
HPHY 499 Culminating Experience 1 credit

HPHY 300-400 level electives 12 credits
(three credits may be lower division science credits if approved by the department)

Courses:

HPHY 190 Directed Study credit(s): 1-3
Topic to be decided by faculty. Course may be repeated to total not more than 2 credits. By permission from department only. Fall, Spring, and Summer.
Course repeatable for 3 credit(s).

HPHY 205 Experiments in Research Design and Data Analysis credit(s): 3
Relationships among research, research design, measurement, and data analysis provide the context for an introduction to basic concepts of research design and data analysis. Students will learn how to interpret statistics in peer-reviewed research and how to apply statistical methods to analyze data and address research questions in the sciences. Fall.
Restriction(s):
Must not be in the following Major(s):

HPHY 210 Scientific Writing credit(s): 3
An introduction to the fundamentals of writing scientific reports and manuscripts of experimental research, with special emphasis on research in human physiology. Spring.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Writing Enriched
Restriction(s):
Must not be in the following Major(s):
PreRequisite(s): HPHY 205

HPHY 241 Human Anatomy and Physiology credit(s): 3
An introduction to the fundamentals of anatomical and physiological science, emphasizing basic cell processes as well as homeostasis and control. Basic cell processes include compartmentation of cells and tissues, bioenergetics, membrane dynamics, communication, integration, and homeostasis. Topics include cells, tissues, metabolism, the endocrine system, the nervous system, and muscle. Fall.
Corequisite(s): HPHY 241L
Restriction(s):
Must not be in the following Major(s):
PreRequisite(s): CHEM 101 and CHEM 101L and BIOL 105

HPHY 241L Human Anatomy and Physiology Lab credit(s): 1
This laboratory covers physiology and both microscopic and gross anatomy of the skeletal system, muscular system, nervous system, and integumentary system. Fall.
Corequisite(s): HPHY 241
Restriction(s):
Must not be in the following Major(s):

HPHY 242 Human Anatomy and Physiology II credit(s): 3
This course is a continuation of HPHY 241 emphasizing integration of function. Topics include the cardiovascular, respiratory, renal and immune systems as well as fluid, electrolyte, acid base balance. Spring.
Corequisite(s): HPHY 242L

Restriction(s):

Must not be in the following Major(s):

PreRequisite(s): HPHY 241

HPHY 242L Human Anatomy and Physiology Lab II credit(s): 1
This laboratory covers the anatomy and physiology of the cardiovascular, respiratory, digestive, urinary and reproductive systems as well as vision, hearing, and equilibrium. Spring.
Corequisite(s): HPHY 242

Restriction(s):

Must not be in the following Major(s):

PreRequisite(s): HPHY 241L

HPHY 244 Nutrition and Metabolism credit(s): 3
An introduction to the study of the role macro and micro nutrients including carbohydrates, fat, protein, vitamins, minerals, and water play in bioenergetics. Additional topics include the anatomy and physiology of digestion, absorption, and the microbiome. Spring.

Restriction(s):

Must not be in the following Major(s):

PreRequisite(s): HPHY 241 and HPHY 241L

HPHY 274 Human Kinetics credit(s): 3
An introduction to the basic principles of kinesiology with emphasis on osteology, arthrology, and the mechanical interactions between the muscles and joints of the body. Spring.

Restriction(s):

Must not be in the following Major(s):

PreRequisite(s): HPHY 205 and PHYS 101 and PHYS 101L and HPHY 241 and HPHY 241L

HPHY 304 Practice in Lab Teaching credit(s): 1
Students gain experience in assisting in teaching and directing human physiology laboratory sections. The student must have successful completion of the lab for which the student will be a teaching assistant. By permission from department only. May be repeated for different lab courses (e.g., 241L and 242L) with departmental permission to total not more than 2 credits. Fall, Spring, Summer.

Course repeatable for 2 credit(s).

Restriction(s):

Must not be in the following Major(s):

PreRequisite(s): HPHY 242 and HPHY 242L

HPHY 375 Biomechanics credit(s): 3
An introduction to the physical laws and mechanical aspects governing human motion which covers analysis of internal and external forces acting on the human body and the effects of these forces. Topics include kinematics and kinetics of human motion, function of the musculoskeletal system, and mechanical analysis of movement. Fall.
Corequisite(s): HPHY 375L

PreRequisite(s): HPHY 205 and HPHY 210 and HPHY 242 and HPHY 242L and HPHY 274 and math 148 or above, 3 credits and PHYS 101 and PHYS 101L

HPHY 375L Biomechanics Lab credit(s): 1
An introduction to techniques and experimental methods used in the study of human motion.
Corequisite(s): HPHY 375
HPHY 376  Exercise Physiology
A course dealing with the nature and function of neuromuscular activity, circulation, metabolism, respiration and acid-base balance as they relate to exercise and performance. Fall.
Corequisite(s): HPHY 376L
Restriction(s):
Must not be in the following Major(s):
PreRequisite(s): HPHY 205 and HPHY 210 and HPHY 242 and HPHY 242L and math 148 or above, 3 credits and PHYS 102 and PHYS 102L
HPHY 376L  Exercise Physiology Lab
Laboratory study and techniques dealing with the evaluation of physiological capacities involved in rest, exercise, neuromuscular interactions, metabolism, respiration, and circulation. Fall.
Corequisite(s): HPHY 376
Restriction(s):
Must not be in the following Major(s):

HPHY 390  Directed Study
Topic to be decided by faculty. Course may be repeated to total not more than 2 credits. By permission from department only. Fall, Spring, Summer.
Course repeatable for 2 credit(s).

HPHY 401  Assessment of Health and Function
The course covers the purposes, methods, and guidelines related to assessment of health, fitness, and function. Fall or Spring on need.
Corequisite(s): HPHY 401L
PreRequisite(s): HPHY 376 (or concurrent) and HPHY 376L (or concurrent)

HPHY 401L  Assessment of Health and Function Lab
Students will develop skill in administering selected field and laboratory tests for assessing different components of health, fitness, and function. Fall or Spring on need.
Corequisite(s): HPHY 401

HPHY 422  Cardiovascular Physiology
This course is designed for upper division students and will expand on the core cardiovascular concepts covered in HPHY 242. The course is designed to help students develop a detailed understanding of the physiology and regulation of the cardiovascular system. The course will cover concepts of myocardial function, peripheral vascular function and the integration and regulation of these two components of the cardiovascular system. Fall or Spring on need.
PreRequisite(s): HPHY 376

HPHY 432  Core Integration Seminar
The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) engages the Year Four Question: "Imagining the possible: What is our role in the world?" by offering students a culminating seminar experience in which students integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the Core, and their disciplinary expertise. Each section of the course will focus on a problem or issue raised by the contemporary world that encourages integration, collaboration, and problem solving. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way... that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students' future role in the world.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Core Integration Seminar

HPHY 441L  Guided Experimental Design  credit(s): 1

Laboratory research in the study of physiology or a related sub-discipline such as biomechanics or biomedical engineering. Students work in groups with a faculty advisor (course instructor) in proposing, researching and designing an experiment. Students will author a research proposal and conduct pilot work. Spring.

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Human Physiology

PreRequisite(s): (HPHY 375 and HPHY 375L) and (HPHY 376 and HPHY 376L)

HPHY 442L  Guided Research  credit(s): 1

Laboratory research in the study of physiology or a related sub-discipline such as biomechanics or biomedical engineering. Students work in groups with a faculty advisor (course instructor) in conducting, analyzing, and presenting their research. Fall.

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Human Physiology

PreRequisite(s): HPHY 441L

HPHY 477  Environmental Physiology  credit(s): 3

An in-depth study of specific topics in environmental physiology, including the cellular and systemic responses and adaptations of various organ systems to environmental stress. Spring.

Restriction(s):
- Must not be in the following Major(s):

PreRequisite(s): HPHY 376 and HPHY 376L

HPHY 478  Physiology of Aging  credit(s): 3

An introduction to the causes and structural and functional changes that occur with aging. Relevant terminology, methodologies, and theories of aging will be covered. Spring.

Restriction(s):
- Must not be in the following Major(s):

PreRequisite(s): HPHY 376 and HPHY 376L

HPHY 479  Cell and Molecular Physiology  credit(s): 3

This course will emphasize advanced physiological mechanisms of human cells including signal transduction pathways, cell cycle regulation, and immune function. These topics will also emphasize the pathophysiology of chronic human diseases that represent a challenge to modern society including cancer, human immunodeficiency virus, and autoimmune disorders. The course will be offered in the Fall or Spring (depending on department needs).

PreRequisite(s): HPHY 376

HPHY 485  Biomedical Engineering  credit(s): 3

This course is designed to provide an introduction to the broad field of biomedical engineering. Special focus will be placed on topics such as mechanical properties of biological tissues, biomaterials and their physiological interactions, biocompatibility, biomedical implants, medical imaging, robotics and prosthetics, and biomedical ethics. Spring.

PreRequisite(s): (HPHY 375 and HPHY 375L) or (HPHY 475 and HPHY 475L) or ENSC 301

HPHY 489  Advanced Topics  credit(s): 2 or 3

An in-depth review of current research literature on specific topics in human physiology. This course prepares students to study, critically review and evaluate, and discuss results of human physiology research. Fall and Spring.
Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).

Restriction(s):
- Must not be in the following Major(s):

PreRequisite(s):
- (HPHY 375 or HPHY 475) and HPHY 376

HPHY 490 Directed Study credit(s): 1-2
Topic to be decided by faculty. Course may be repeated to total not more than 2 credits. By permission from department only. Fall, Spring and Summer.
Course repeatable for 2 credit(s).

HPHY 497 Internship credit(s): 0-6
This course is designed to provide students with the opportunity to receive 0 to 6 course credits for professional work experience in a human physiology-related field. The location, duration, learning activities, and specific learning objectives are decided upon through a written agreement established among the student, internship supervisor and the department. This course may be repeated to total not more than 3 credits and is graded as Satisfactory/Non-Satisfactory. By permission from the department only. Credits for this course do not count toward HPHY required elective credits. Fall, Spring, and Summer.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Human Physiology

PreRequisite(s):
- HPHY 242 and HPHY 242L

HPHY 498 Directed Research credit(s): 1-2
This course provides the motivated student with the opportunity to conduct or assist with a research project under the direction of a human physiology faculty member. Course may be repeated to total not more than 2 credits. Fall, Spring and Summer. By faculty permission only.
Course repeatable for 2 credit(s).

HPHY 499 Culminating Experience credit(s): 1
Required of all HPHY majors in their senior or final year. Spring.

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Human Physiology
- Must be the following Class(es): Senior

PreRequisite(s):
- HPHY 441L and HPHY 442L

Introduction

Grounded in Jesuit and Nursing values, the pre-licensure BSN program offered by the Department of Nursing prepares students to be able to practice as registered nurses in a variety of settings. Students learn to promote health, to care for patients with acute and chronic illnesses, and to support patients and their families at the end of life. The BSN program builds on the curricular themes of servant leadership, social justice, community, and reflective practice. The concept of Complex Adaptive Systems (CAS) serves as the organizing framework for the curriculum. One application of this concept is that students initially care for individuals with more predictable healthcare needs. As they progress in the program, they learn to care for individuals, families, and populations with increasingly more complex healthcare needs in highly complex organizational settings.

Program Overview

Students are admitted to the pre-licensure BSN program as freshmen. At the time they submit their applications to Gonzaga University, nursing applicants must indicate "Nursing" as their first academic interest on the Common Application. Nursing applicants are also required to complete "Section V" of the Common Application Gonzaga Student Supplement. Those not admitted into nursing as freshmen may not become a nursing major at Gonzaga. As freshman nursing majors, students begin the process of completing the GU core requirements and the nursing pre-requisite courses.
Due to constraints on availability of clinical placements, it may take nine semesters to complete the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) program. The Nursing faculty tries to accommodate student requests to complete the program in eight semesters, but the eight semester time frame is not guaranteed. Students apply for their preferred time frame (eight or nine semester) placement during the second semester of their freshman year and are notified of their placement by the end of that same academic year. If demand for completion in eight semesters exceeds available clinical placements and/or limits on class sizes, students will be placed based on their ranked grade point average in the nursing pre-requisite courses and progression in the program. Students who are major-ready by the end of their sophomore year but are placed in the nine-semester time frame for the program may take a leave of absence in the fall semester of their junior year. The nine-semester time frame is supported by financial aid in the same way as the eight-semester option, and it provides students with opportunities to pursue a minor or to participate in a study abroad program.

Once students begin their upper division nursing courses, they also complete a series of practicum courses that introduce them to professional nursing practice in a variety of healthcare settings. The program also prepares students to take the National Council Licensing Examination (NCLEX) after graduation, which is a requirement for licensure as a registered nurse.

Admission Requirements

Admission to the pre-licensure BSN program is competitive and selective. Students are admitted to the pre-licensure BSN program as freshmen. The decision to admit a student to the BSN program as a freshman is based on consideration of the student's overall portfolio including:

1. Cumulative GPA and grade trends
2. Four years of math and science courses
3. SAT/ACT scores
4. Work or volunteer experience in healthcare
5. One academic letter of recommendation
6. Written essay as well as responses to short answer questions on the application
Information regarding admission to Gonzaga's Nursing Program will follow notification of acceptance to the University by approximately one month.

During their first two years at Gonzaga, students need to maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or better and achieve a minimum grade of "C" (2.0) in all of the nursing prerequisite courses and their respective labs. If a student receives less than the required minimum grade of "C" in any of the nursing prerequisite courses taken at Gonzaga or taken at any other college/university as a substitution, the student may only retake two of these courses one time only. Continuation to the upper division BSN program is contingent upon maintaining a cumulative GPA of 3.0 and successful completion of nursing prerequisite courses.

RN to MSN Program
(for Registered Nurses)

The RN to MSN program offers the licensed registered nurse with an associate's degree in nursing the opportunity to earn a master’s degree in nursing in less time and with fewer credits than would be required if completing separate BSN and MSN degrees. The MSN is the degree awarded, and there is no option for earning a separate BSN degree. In an effort to meet the needs of working registered nurses, the program is offered in a distance delivery format. Students complete five courses (15 credits) that "bridge" them to the master's level courses.

Once the "bridge" courses have been successfully completed, students progress immediately to the master's level courses provided they maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0. At the master's level, there is an emphasis on preparation for an advanced role as a nursing leader. Students take the core MSN courses and then complete the Nursing Leadership in Healthcare (NLH) track or concentration. Grounded in Jesuit and Nursing values, the program builds on the curricular themes of servant leadership, social justice, community, and reflective practice. The concept of Complex Adaptive Systems (CAS) serves as the organizing framework for the curriculum.

Admission Requirements RN to MSN Program

At the time of application to the RN to MSN program, the applicant also applies for admission to Gonzaga University. The applicant must have an associate's degree in nursing from an accredited college and must submit one official transcript from each college or university. The decision to admit an applicant to the RN to MSN program is based on consideration of the individual's overall portfolio including:

1. Cumulative GPA of 3.0 or better (4.0 scale)
2. Evidence of a current unencumbered RN license
3. One official transcript from every college or university attended. Only degrees and courses from regionally accredited institutions will be accepted.
4. Current curriculum vitae (CV)
5. Two letters of recommendation from individuals such as employers, colleagues, or professors who can attest to the applicant’s leadership, interpersonal skills, professional practice, critical thinking and judgment, and potential for advanced study.
6. Typewritten statement that describes the applicant's:
   a) Interest in the RN to MSN Program and specific MSN option, e.g., Nursing Leadership in Healthcare
   b) Professional goals
   c) Personal and professional strengths
   d) Professional experiences
7. Non-native English speakers are required to provide proof of English proficiency. Gonzaga University accepts the following:
   a) Score of 6.5 or better on the IELTS, or
   b) Official TOEFL score of at least 88 ibt or 580 pbt, or
   c) Completion of an associate's degree in nursing from an institution where English is the primary medium of instruction.

Degree Requirements

The RN to MSN program requires the completion of five "bridge" courses (15 credits) with a minimum GPA of 3.0 in order to progress to MSN-level course work.

Bridge Courses: 15 Credits

- PHIL 280 Person and Conduct (Nursing) 3 credits
- NURS 320 Statistics 3 credits
- NURS 406 Nursing Research 3 credits
- NURS 463 Community Health 3 credits
- NURS 464 Community Health Practicum 3 credits

The master's-level courses are listed in the Graduate Catalog.

Courses:

- NURS 100 Nursing Perspectives
  credit(s): 1
  This course introduces students to the profession of nursing and seeks to develop in the student the necessary skills and characteristics for successful participation in nursing education at Gonzaga University. The background of nursing and nursing theories, the diverse roles and scope of practice governing nurses in health care, appraisal of healthcare information, the use of technology for research, and the responsibility of nurses in addressing contemporary healthcare issues will be explored. Students are introduced to the mission, ethos, and academic honesty policy of the university and the relationship to nursing, thereby increasing self-awareness and clarifying personal beliefs and goals for professional practice.
  Restriction(s):
  Must be in the following Major(s): Nursing

- NURS 210 Growth and Development
  credit(s): 3
  Examines multiple dimensions of individual and family growth and development across the lifespan. Within each developmental stage students examine areas of language, cognition, social-emotional growth and physical development. This course highlights developmental milestones at each stage of the lifespan. Genetic, gender, and cultural influences are considered.

PreRequisite(s): PSYC 101, minimum grade: C and NURS 100, minimum grade: C

NURS 251 Determinants of Health

This course introduces the ecological framework of health and focuses on one's physical and social environments and access to health care as determinants of health, health disparities, and health inequities. Students will gain an understanding of factors that contribute to illness versus wellness, as well as factors that affect health outcomes and recovery from illness. Students will learn basic community assessment skills, including how to use and interpret basic epidemiological measures.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Social Justice

PreRequisite(s): SOCI 101, minimum grade: C and MATH 121, minimum grade: C and NURS 100, minimum grade: C

NURS 311 Professional and Therapeutic Communication

This course is designed to provide the learner a theoretical foundation for effective communication. Using the lens of complex adaptive systems and servant leadership, selected models of communication, health and illness, health communication, conflict resolution and negotiation are explored for their implications for nursing practice. Diversity issues affecting perception of health/illness and influencing verbal and nonverbal communication are examined. Media and internet influence on health care and the profession of nursing are included. Theory-based strategies to improve communication skills throughout the health care continuum are stressed.

PreRequisite(s): NURS 100, minimum grade: C and NURS 210, minimum grade: C and NURS 251, minimum grade: C

NURS 314 Assessing and Promoting Wellness

Complex adaptive systems, as they relate to body systems, individuals (children, adolescents, adults, and older adults), and families are used as a guiding framework. Theoretical and research-based content in individual and family health and development throughout the life span is emphasized. Students learn foundational skills for the health assessment and care of individuals and family. The student integrates functional health patterns, physical assessment findings, and family concepts to formulate nursing diagnoses and a nursing plan of care. The nursing role in health promotion and health education is emphasized.

Corequisite(s): NURS 315, Corequisite(s): NURS 316

PreRequisite(s): NURS 100, minimum grade: C and NURS 210, minimum grade: C and NURS 251, minimum grade: C

NURS 315 Practicum I: Assessment and Promotion of Wellness

Students will use knowledge from Nurs 314 to assess and promote wellness for healthy individuals and families in community settings. Students participate in learning activities in the Learning Resource Center, in a variety of community-based settings, and in post clinical conferences. The course celebrates the body, mind, and spirit of the student in nursing and recognizes that learning transforms. In the process of transformation, reflection provides the key to understanding.

Corequisite(s): NURS 314, Corequisite(s): NURS 316

PreRequisite(s): NURS 100, minimum grade: C and NURS 210, minimum grade: C and NURS 251, minimum grade: C

NURS 316 Pathophysiology and Pharmacology I

This is the first of a two course pathophysiology and pharmacology series in the BSN curriculum. The course is designed to improve the learner’s understanding of how alterations in normal human anatomic structure and physiology function may impact various organ systems, body homeostasis, and medication management. A student-center case-based active learning model will be utilized to exemplify basic and clinical pharmacology principles for common outpatient disease processes. Nursing pharmacology fundamentals, including principles of drug administration, pharmacokinetics, pharmacodynamics, adverse drug effects, drug interactions, and medication errors are introduced. These principles form the foundation for applied pharmacology case studies. Drug class prototypes will be reviewed using an organ system case-based pathophysiologic approach to therapeutics. The case studies illustrate key pathophysiologic and pharmacology concepts thus providing students an opportunity for critical thinking, synthesis, integration, and application of course material to therapeutic decision making, planning, and managing care for individuals.

Corequisite(s): NURS 314, Corequisite(s): NURS 315

Restriction(s):
  Must be in the following Major(s): Nursing

PreRequisite(s): NURS 100, minimum grade: C and NURS 210, minimum grade: C and NURS 251, minimum grade: C

NURS 320 Statistics for Health Professions credit(s): 3
This online course provides an introduction to descriptive and inferential statistics. It includes the statistical procedures used most frequently to analyze quantitative data for health science and nursing research. Emphasis is placed on the conceptual understanding and correct application of statistical tests, as well as the correct interpretation of statistical results. Some mathematical calculation will be necessary. The ultimate goal will be for the learner to understand statistical reasoning and become familiar with the correct use and interpretation of statistics.

Restriction(s):
  Must be in the following Major(s): Nursing, Nursing

NURS 351 Care of Individual and Family credit(s): 4
This course focuses on the development of nursing competence in planning and managing care for individuals and families with alterations in health status. The course stresses the integration of physiological, pathophysiological, pharmacological and developmental concepts as the foundation for professional nursing practice. Theoretical foundations for the provision of care to individuals and families with alterations in health related to fluid and electrolyte balance and to the reproductive, urinary tract/renal, musculoskeletal, and digestive systems, and some of the more common mental health problems are addressed. Use of theory and research based assessment strategies and nursing interventions required to provide care to these individuals/families in health care organizations are emphasized. Critical thinking and diagnostic reasoning are stressed.

Corequisite(s): NURS 352, Corequisite(s): NURS 356

PreRequisite(s): NURS 314, minimum grade: C and NURS 315, minimum grade: C and NURS 316, minimum grade: C (or concurrent)

NURS 352 Practicum II: Care for Individuals and Families credit(s): 5
Using knowledge from NURS 351, this course focuses on the provision of care for individuals and families with health care needs related to fluid-electrolyte disturbances, the endocrine, reproductive, urinary tract/renal, musculoskeletal, and digestive systems. Emphasis is placed on the development of self-discovery and the meaning of experience as a reflective practitioner. Students participate in learning activities in the Learning Resource Center, in a variety of clinical settings within healthcare organizations, and in post-clinical conferences.

Corequisite(s): NURS 351, Corequisite(s): NURS 356

PreRequisite(s): NURS 314, minimum grade: C and NURS 315, minimum grade: C and NURS 316, minimum grade: C
NURS 356  Pathophysiology and Pharmacology II  credit(s): 3
This is the second of a two course pathophysiology and pharmacology series in Gonzaga's BSN curriculum. This course builds on the content and concepts learned in the NURS 316 pathophysiology and Pharmacology I course. It is designed to address more complex pathophysiological processes which are often encountered in hospitalized acute care patients. A student centered case-based active learning method will be utilized to exemplify advanced clinical pharmacology principles for common inpatient disease processes. Drug class prototypes will be reviewed using an organ system case-based pathophysiologic approach to therapeutics. The case studies illustrate key pathophysiologic and pharmacology concepts thus providing students an opportunity for critical thinking, synthesis, integration, and application of course material to therapeutic decision making, planning, and managing care for individuals.

Corequisite(s): NURS 351, Corequisite(s): NURS 352
PreRequisite(s): NURS 314, minimum grade: C and NURS 315, minimum grade: C and NURS 316, minimum grade: C

NURS 402  Care of Individuals and Families  credit(s): 4
Focuses on the continued development of nursing competence in planning and managing care for individuals and families with complex alterations in health status. Stresses integration of physiological, pathophysiological, psychological, and pharmacological concepts as essential to professional nursing practice. Emphasis is placed on development of focused assessment skills needed to provide care to individuals and families with health care needs related to the cardiovascular, neurological, endocrine, pulmonary, renal, and mental health systems.
Corequisite(s): NURS 403
Restriction(s):
Must not be in the following Major(s):
PreRequisite(s): NURS 351, minimum grade: C and NURS 352, minimum grade: C and NURS 356, minimum grade: C

NURS 403  Practicum III: Acute and Chronic Alt Health  credit(s): 6
This course focuses on providing care for individuals and families with chronic and complex health care needs related to the cardiovascular, neurological, endocrine, pulmonary, renal and mental health systems. Examines internal resources (such as faith or spiritual health) as a source of nourishment when making decisions--especially those involving ethics, urgency, reaction and immediacy. Students participate in learning activities in the Resource & Simulation Center, in a variety of clinical settings within healthcare organizations, and in post-clinical conferences.
Corequisite(s): NURS 402
Restriction(s):
Must not be in the following Major(s):
PreRequisite(s): NURS 351, minimum grade: C and NURS 352, minimum grade: C and NURS 356, minimum grade: C

NURS 404  Research and Information Management  credit(s): 3
Provides an introduction to quantitative and qualitative research principles and methodologies, including evaluation of research studies and application to practice. Critical analysis of nursing and health care research is emphasized. Stresses research design, sampling, data collection strategies and ethical considerations in research.
Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Writing Enriched
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Nursing
Must be the following Class(es): Junior, Senior
PreRequisite(s): MATH 121, minimum grade: C
NURS 406  Nursing Research
This course provides an introduction to quantitative and qualitative research principles and methodologies, including evaluation of research studies and application to practice. Critical analysis of nursing and health care research is emphasized. The course stresses research design, sampling, data collection strategies, and ethical considerations in research.

Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Nursing

PreRequisite(s): NURS 320, minimum grade: C

NURS 418  Complexity in HealthCare Organizations
This course considers quality, safety and error reduction within complex healthcare organizations in the United States. Healthcare policy, health care transitions, interdisciplinary health care and social-cultural implications are explored. The nursing role in the delivery and maintenance of safe, quality care of the patient and family are emphasized using current competency models.

Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Nursing

PreRequisite(s): NURS 100, minimum grade: C and NURS 251, minimum grade: C

NURS 432  Core Integration Seminar
The Core Integration Seminar (CIS) engages the Year Four Question: “Imagining the possible: What is our role in the world?” by offering students a culminating seminar experience in which students integrate the principles of Jesuit education, prior components of the Core, and their disciplinary expertise. Each section of the course will focus on a problem or issue raised by the contemporary world that encourages integration, collaboration, and problem solving. The topic for each section of the course will be proposed and developed by each faculty member in a way that clearly connects to the Jesuit Mission, to multiple disciplinary perspectives, and to our students’ future role in the world.

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Core Integration Seminar

NURS 463  Community Health
Designed for the licensed registered nurse, this course introduces community-as-partner model as a guide for providing cost-effective, accessible care for families, groups, and populations. Emphasis will be placed on cultural competence, the use of complex adaptive systems to understand the interaction among and between systems within community health practice, epidemiological concepts in the development of effective health policy/programs, and ethical dilemmas inherent in the community-as-partner model of practice.

Corequisite(s): NURS 464

Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Nursing

NURS 464  Community Health Practicum
This practicum emphasizes the use of the community-as-partner model to guide community health practice. Students will explore the various dimensions of a healthy community as they actively participate in community health practice that emphasizes assessing, planning, implementing, and evaluating cost-effective, accessible care for families, groups, and populations within a complex adaptive system. Students will expand their cultural competence, apply epidemiological concepts in the development of effective health policy/programs, and gain an appreciation of the ethical dilemmas inherent in the community-as-partner model of practice.

Corequisite(s): NURS 463

Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Nursing
NURS 465  Professional Nursing Practice in a Complex Adaptive System  credit(s): 3
Considers nursing leadership roles within complex adaptive systems and examines transition to the professional role. Servant leadership principles are connected to nursing leadership.
Corequisite(s): NURS 466, Corequisite(s): NURS 467, Corequisite(s): NURS 469
Restriction(s):
   Must be in the following Major(s): Nursing
PreRequisite(s): NURS 418, minimum grade: C

NURS 466  Population Focused Health  credit(s): 3
This course will address communities and populations as the clients for nursing interventions. The focus of this course is interventions used to promote and improve population health. A particular emphasis will be interpreting assessment and epidemiological data to identify and prioritize community/population problems and selecting appropriate interventions for an identified population health problem. Learners also will be introduced to selected principles and theories that underlie population-focused interventions. Program planning and evaluation processes and strategies will be considered. Use the criteria of effectiveness, efficiency, equity, security, and liberty to analyze a public health policy.
Corequisite(s): NURS 465, Corequisite(s): NURS 467
Restriction(s):
   Must be in the following Major(s): Nursing
PreRequisite(s): NURS 402, minimum grade: C and NURS 403, minimum grade: C and NURS 404, minimum grade: C and NURS 251, minimum grade: C

NURS 467  Practicum IV: Partner Population Health Practice  credit(s): 2
This is a project-based practicum course. Students will work in an assigned community agency to develop a comprehensive plan for addressing an identified population health problem. This course will give students experience in working in evolving population-focused indirect, nursing roles as a project developer/leader and consultant. Practicum experiences will be intentionally designed to give students experience collaborating with professionals from a variety of other helping disciplines. Students will be expected to interact with their assigned agency and its clients on a regular basis.
Restriction(s):
   Must be in the following Major(s): Nursing
PreRequisite(s): NURS 251, minimum grade: C and NURS 402, minimum grade: C and NURS 403, minimum grade: C and NURS 404, minimum grade: C

NURS 468  Practicum V: Member of the Nursing Profession  credit(s): 3
This capstone course is designed to facilitate the transition from the role of student nurse to that of a professional nurse through an intensive practicum experience in a clinical setting of the student’s choice. With the guidance/supervision of an experienced registered nurse preceptor, the student has the opportunity to synthesize and apply knowledge and skills gained in the Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) program, demonstrate competencies for entry level nursing practice, and practice nursing leadership within a complex adaptive system (CAS). There is continued emphasis on the significance of reflection as a way of gaining the insights needed to achieve safe, high quality, client-centered practice and effective, ethical leadership. Students examine their own clinical practice and leadership in light of the characteristics of servant leadership. Each student develops an individualized learning contract in collaboration with faculty and the clinical preceptor; the learning contract articulates the student’s goals and specific strategies for meeting them. EACH STUDENT PRACTICUM REQUEST WILL BE SUBJECT TO REVIEW BY FACULTY TO DETERMINE FINAL CLINICAL PLACEMENT.

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Nursing

PreRequisite(s):
- NURS 315, minimum grade: C and NURS 352, minimum grade: C and NURS 403, minimum grade: C

NURS 469 Nursing Leadership and Management  credit(s): 2
This course focuses on the professional nursing roles of the nurse leader/manager as a change agent, advocate, and role model for others in the health care setting. The course addresses the management skills of scheduling, budgets, delegation, and information technology, and explores health care policy, finance and regulatory environments. In addition, this course addresses the nurse leader’s role in maintaining clinical expertise, effective communication, flexibility, collaboration and conflict resolution.

PreRequisite(s):
- NURS 418, minimum grade: C

NURS 490 Clinical Internship  credit(s): 1-3
Assists nurses in period of transition from nursing student to registered nurse or from one practice setting to another. Adaptation to role transition fostered through preceptorship with expert clinical RN and through interaction with faculty. Opportunities to both practice and master current knowledge and skills and acquire new ones.
Course repeatable for 15 credit(s).

Restriction(s):
- Must not be in the following Major(s): Must be in the following Major(s): Nursing

NURS 492 Clinical Update Level I-III  credit(s): 1-5
Opportunity to pursue a nursing project or topic of choice with guidance of a faculty member.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

NURS 496 Independent Practicum  credit(s): 1-4
Opportunity to explore a clinical field or an expanded nursing role with guidance of a faculty member and a clinical preceptor.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Nursing (Post RN)

NURS 497 Internship  credit(s): 0-6
Requires completion of a form, department permission and cannot be registered for via Zagweb.
Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

NURS 498 Special Topics  credit(s): 1-3
Seminars designed to address special topics in nursing and health care, based on student and faculty interests. Prerequisite: permission. Fall, Spring, Summer - On sufficient demand.
for 6 credit(s).

NURS 499 Special Topics  credit(s): 1-3
Seminars designed to address special topics in nursing and health care, based on student and faculty interests. Prerequisite: permission. Fall, Spring, Summer - On sufficient demand.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
School of Leadership Studies

Dean: Rosemarie Hunter

Mission

The School of Leadership Studies strives to create, educate, and support leaders; contribute to the health of people, communities, and organizations; and to be of service in meeting the learning needs of a complex society.

Our programs embody the University's Mission and the Ignatian spirit on which Gonzaga University is founded. Ethics, excellence, spirit, and community are guiding values for all aspects of the School. Faculty scholarship and research contribute positively to the professions, the global community, and the classroom.

Through a spirit of inquiry and lifelong learning, our students expand their capacity to transform thinking, and engage in ethical problem solving and decision making. New knowledge is acquired in a learning environment of respect and high standards.

Program in the School of Leadership Studies

  Comprehensive Leadership Program
Comprehensive Leadership Program

Director: Josh P. Armstrong, Ph.D.
Program Coordinator: Kristin Telin, M.A.

The Comprehensive Leadership Program (CLP) at Gonzaga University provides selected undergraduate students with the opportunity to develop core knowledge and skills for leadership. The CLP fosters the development of individuals who lead for the common good. This interdisciplinary, experiential program exposes undergraduates to, and prepares them for, leadership experiences in the world. Students will explore power, authority and influence through three dimensions of leadership: self-awareness, relationship with others, and leadership for the common good.

Students who complete this undergraduate leadership minor will:

- gain knowledge and understanding of foundational leadership theories and demonstrate the ability to apply theories in the practice of leadership
- construct an evolving personal philosophy of leadership that demonstrates self-knowledge and theoretical understanding
- develop an understanding of organizational change processes, team dynamics, emotional intelligence, and conflict management within the practice of leadership
- acquire knowledge of diverse cultures, cross-cultural communication, the dynamics of privilege and oppression, and the uses of power between groups

Undergraduates take the Minor in Leadership Studies in conjunction with their chosen major in any academic field, including business, engineering, nursing, computer science, biology, chemistry, education and the liberal arts. Admission to the Comprehensive Leadership Program is competitive and the application takes place during the fall of a student’s first year, and is based on demonstrated leadership and desire to study leadership through written essays, individual interviews, and group interviews.
Requirements

Students in the Comprehensive Leadership Program complete the requirements for a Bachelor’s degree in business, engineering, the arts and sciences, nursing and human physiology, or education, etc., along with a Minor in Leadership Studies. Students must satisfy the University and college core curricula relevant to their major.

The courses listed below constitute the Minor in Leadership Studies for undergraduate students. The program is designed flexibly so that students with any major can graduate in four years. Waivers and substitutions for department requirements may be granted to meet special academic needs. In addition, the University waives the fees for credits in excess of the usual eighteen-credit per semester limit for qualified students, up to 21 hours per semester when taking an LDRS course in that semester.

CLP students will complete the following Leadership Studies LDRS courses that amount to 15 credit hours, and select 6 credit hours from the interdisciplinary list of courses, one of which must be an LDRS course.

Master of Arts in Communication and Leadership Studies (COML) and Master of Arts in Organizational Leadership (ORGL) 4+1 Program:

Majors interested in pursuing a Master of Arts in Communication and Leadership Studies (COML) or a Master of Arts in Organizational Leadership (ORGL) may apply to the graduate program at the end of the academic year immediately preceding their final year of undergraduate study. Those who meet the COML or ORGL admissions standards will be granted provisional acceptance. During their final year of undergraduate study, these students will be able to enroll in up to six graduate-level COML or ORGL credits in addition to their undergraduate course load, with no additional or separate charge for graduate credits. "4+1" students will be limited to a maximum of 18 credits per semester, including graduate credits, in each of the two semesters of their final year of undergraduate study.

In addition to the course work above, Comprehensive Leadership Program students participate in a variety of co-curricular activities including seminars, retreats, and speakers.

Courses:

LDRS 200 Foundations of Leadership credit(s): 3
This course is designed to engage students in essential foundational questions relating to the areas of knowledge and competence that are fundamental to the study and practice of leadership. Spring.

Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Leadership Studies

LDRS 315 Theories of Leadership and Organization credit(s): 3
This course explores leadership theory and organizational frames models as students develop and systematic theoretical leadership framework for personal and complex organizations. Fall.

Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Leadership Studies

PreRequisite(s): LDRS 200

LDRS 325 The Practice of Leadership credit(s): 3
This course is designed to be a practical, skill-building leadership course. The focus of this course will be on developing and practicing key leadership skills such as managing conflict, team building, communication, decision making, ability to delegate, creativity, empathy and emotional intelligence, practice of presence, provide appropriate feedback, and listening. The course will involve simulations, case studies, role plays, exercises and discussions designed to give students opportunities to practice and cultivate essential leadership skills. Spring.

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Leadership Studies

PreRequisite(s): LDRS 200

LDRS 350 Intercultural Perspective on Leadership
Credit(s): 1
Understand and practice key concepts of leadership theory through an international experience. The leadership theories explored include servant leadership, social change model, and adaptive leadership in Zambia, Africa. Spring

LDRS 355 Intercultural Experience on Leadership
Credit(s): 3
This course seeks to understand and practice key concepts of leadership theory through an international experience, develop and promote an ethic of accompaniment through our community development projects, develop intercultural competencies as they strive to be global leaders, and develop self-awareness and critical thinking skills through experiential education and critical reflection of our international service. Summer

Fulfills the following degree requirement(s): Core: Global Studies

LDRS 375 Leading Across Cultures
Credit(s): 3
Through this course, students will gain knowledge of diverse cultures, cross-cultural communication, the dynamics of privilege and oppression, and the uses of power between groups. To develop cultural competency, leaders need to know: themselves, others, the relevant issues, and have an appreciation and curiosity for working with others. Students will connect global leadership concepts to practice and engage in a number of activities, discussions, and self-assessment instruments to increase their self-awareness of leadership styles, abilities, strengths, and limitations. Fall.

Restriction(s):
- Must be in the following Major(s): Leadership Studies

PreRequisite(s): LDRS 315 and LDRS 325

LDRS 390 Outdoor Leadership
Credit(s): 3
This course is designed to look into the models of outdoor education known as Adventure Education and Expeditionary Learning. Both Adventure Education and Expeditionary Learning came out of the Outward Bound movement of the 1940’s in England and later in the 1960’s in the USA. While the concepts are based in the foundational tenants of outdoor education, Adventure Education and Expeditionary Learning focus on the concept of adventure and the context of the “expedition” as the container in which learning takes place. This is a leadership seminar, but it is also a seminar about risk, adventure, decision-making, education and outdoor competency - it will be about teaching, learning and leading through adventure.

Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).

Restriction(s):
- Must not be in the following Major(s):

LDRS 392 Women and Leadership
Credit(s): 3
This course will look at gender differences in leadership styles and efficacy as well as specific issues women face in attaining and retaining leadership positions. Through readings, discussions, and projects that critically examine images and gender stereotypes of women leaders, the course is designed to give students practical skills they can use to be better communicators and leaders. Spring.
LDRS 394 Leadership and Storytelling
This course offers students an opportunity to explore the growing synergy between two research areas: leadership, and narrative or story. Spring. Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
Restriction(s):
Must not be in the following Major(s):

LDRS 395 Service and Leadership
In this course we will explore the links between community service, social action (activism) and public leadership, which we define as making a difference in one's community, organization, government, state and/or nation. The goal of the course is to bring students to a deeper understanding of their role as servant leaders in the communities they not only find themselves living and working in, but also those they wish to affect in humane ways. Spring. Course repeatable for 9 credit(s).
Restriction(s):
Must not be in the following Major(s):

LDRS 396 Leadership and Social Change
This course provides critical study and preparation for the East LA spring break immersion experience by exploring contemporary expressions of kinship, leadership, and social change. Readings, reflections, and assignments explore societal and structural issues related to homelessness, mass incarceration, gang violence and immigration reform. Students will understand and practice the skills and vision necessary to promote community engagement and social change both locally and in East LA. Students must go to East LA Spring Break, open to all undergraduates by application.

LDRS 397 Leadership and Film
The course initiates a thoughtful consideration of the nature of leadership as depicted in film. Spring.
Restriction(s):
Must not be in the following Major(s):

LDRS 450 Contemporary Issues in Leadership
Through exploring contemporary issues in leadership, this course is designed to be a capstone experience of integrating leadership knowledge and skills. This course will provide students with an understanding of the principles of Servant Leadership (Greenleaf, 1970, 1998, 2001) and an exploration of adaptive leadership theory and practice (Heifetz, 1994, 2001, 2009). These two leadership theories in tandem provide a uniquely Jesuit approach to leadership, with servant leadership cultivating the heart, while adaptive leadership provides an avenue for the head and hands. A focal point of the course is on helping students begin to develop a vision of their vocation as leaders by participating in real-time, casein-point examples of adaptive leadership. As a capstone to the Minor in Leadership Studies, students will practice their leadership skills and knowledge in a legacy project and construct a learning portfolio from their coursework. Fall
Restriction(s):
Must be in the following Major(s): Leadership Studies
PreRequisite(s): LDRS 200

LDRS 489 Leadership Seminar
Topic of course to be determined by department and instructor. Course repeatable 20 time.

LDRS 490 Independent Study
Course content to be determined by the instructor. Course repeatable for 6 credit(s).
LDRS 497  Leadership Internship  credit(s): 1 or 3
This course is designed to give students a hands-on experience in leadership. The course affords students the opportunity to use the skills and knowledge learned through the CLP in real-world internship context. The course materials cover theories behind experiential education, mentorship and internship education. The class time allow opportunity to process and reflect on the student' internship experience.
Course repeatable for 12 credit(s).
Community-Engaged Learning

In accordance with its Jesuit mission to educate men and women for others, community-engaged learning (also referred to as service-learning) at Gonzaga University encourages students to deepen their understanding of community and social justice through exploring links between service and academic work. Community-engaged learning has been incorporated into Gonzaga courses for over twenty years. One of the nation’s most impressive movements in higher education, community-engaged learning unites classroom theory and rigor with direct experience and thoughtful action in the larger civic community.

Nearly 100 community-engaged learning courses sections are offered to Gonzaga students every year. Community-engaged learning courses can be found in almost every academic department and the Law School. Departments including business, philosophy, psychology, religious studies, education and others, are committed to integrating community service as an instrument to achieve academic goals. A typical community-engaged learning course involves 20 hours of outside service that reinforces the course content. Students interested in taking community-engaged learning courses can find them on ZAGWEB through the “community engaged learning” attribute search.

Academic community-engaged learning differs from community service in that the service is performed in the context of an academic course. This researched high impact teaching and learning practice contributes to success both inside and outside of the classroom. The students’ community-based experiences enhance and build upon the learning that is being done in the classroom. These experiences both enhance student learning, as well as help to develop an ethic of service. Students are asked to reflect upon their experiences and to apply these insights to the course material.

Gonzaga’s community-engaged learning program is managed by the Center for Community Engagement with guidance from the faculty-led Community Engaged Learning Advisory Board (CELAB). The Center provides resources for students and faculty, placements in the community, and a network of campus and community connections.
Gonzaga in Florence

Dean: Jason Houston, Ph.D.

Gonzaga in Florence is the flagship off-site academic program of Gonzaga University. Established in 1963, our premier study away program offers comprehensive academic coursework with a particular emphasis on immersive learning. Participants come from Gonzaga as well as a number of approved, U.S. partner institutions. For over half a century, Gonzaga in Florence has led the way among American universities in Italy, and continues to play a key role in study away for both students and faculty.

Florence stands proud as a cultural capital of the world- the intellectual and artistic center of the Middle Ages and the Renaissance. The first Zag to study away in Florence was St. Aloysius Gonzaga, who lived here as a student in the 16th century. Today, Florence's many libraries, museums, churches and monuments give students a unique frame of reference with which to understand the historic influences that have shaped European civilization. Florence firmly holds its place as one of Europe's first global cities, drawing students, artists, and intellectuals for over 500 years.

Gonzaga in Florence is located in the center of Florence, just a stone's throw from the Duomo and looks onto the Giardino dei Semplici, a 16th-century garden created by the Medici family. We work and study just steps away from the San Marco monastery, filled with Fra Angelico's priceless frescoes, and the Galleria dell'Accademia, where Michelangelo's regal David stands.

Our palazzo, the Mozilo Center, provides the space and tools we need for intensive learning and activities. Faculty teach with updated technology; Wi-Fi is robust throughout the building. The Martin Library collection contains more than 10,000 volumes in a dedicated space and reading room. For research, students can connect to the Foley Library resources and databases on Gonzaga University's campus in Spokane. A student lounge and basic fitness center are located on the lower level.

Consider a semester or year with us at Gonzaga in Florence. We can't wait to welcome you to your home away from home in Italy.

Although graduate study involves a quantitative extension of knowledge, it is not a mere continuation of undergraduate or professional training. Intellectual achievement at the graduate level is different in kind, for the graduate student is expected to deepen and master knowledge by a personal and independent grasp of it in its sources and evidence, in its basic meanings and interrelationships.

In addition to offering the previously noted graduate degrees, the Provost & Senior Vice President may periodically approve a new or interdisciplinary graduate degree within an academic specialty. For detailed information on any graduate program, such as curriculum, tuition and admission procedures, students should consult the graduate catalog and contact the academic area responsible for that specific graduate program.
The Hogan Entrepreneurial Leadership Program is a three-year undergraduate minor that immerses students in the fundamental concepts and practices of creating new enterprises in the private and public sectors. Students complete the Entrepreneurial Leadership minor in conjunction with their chosen major in any academic field, including business, engineering, computer science, biology, chemistry, math, education, and the liberal arts. The program has four distinguishing features:

1. An honors program model that attracts outstanding students.
2. Curriculum in the student's major and in entrepreneurial leadership
3. Co-curriculum that immerses students in entrepreneurial organizations and practices through guest lecturers, internships, site visits, mentor relationships, and a student-managed consulting lab
4. Emphasis on Jesuit educational ideals of ethical leadership and commitment to the common good

Admission to the Hogan Entrepreneurial Leadership Program is competitive and based on the student's entrance exam scores, grade point average, and demonstrated leadership, creativity, and community service.

Requirements

Students in the Hogan Entrepreneurial Leadership Program complete the requirements for a Bachelors degree in business, engineering, the arts and sciences, professional studies, or education, along with a minor in Entrepreneurial Leadership. Students must satisfy the University and college core curricula relevant to their major.

The courses listed below constitute the minor in Entrepreneurial Leadership for students majoring in arts and sciences, business administration or accounting, education, and engineering. The program is designed flexibly so that students with any major can graduate in four years. Waivers and substitutions for department requirements may be granted to meet special academic needs. In addition, the University waives the fees for credits in excess of the usual eighteen-credit per semester limit for qualified students, up to 21 hours per semester.

An approved internship is required for completion of the minor in Entrepreneurial Leadership. Approved internships will consist of a minimum work requirement of 180 hours, and may be completed in any field and at any time, pending instructor approval. This requirement is fulfilled via the ENTR 497 course, which may be taken for credit or as a zero-credit option.

In addition to the Hogan ENTR courses, Hogan students must also complete coursework in accounting and economics. This coursework depends on the major field of study. These courses may be completed at any time prior to second semester of the student's junior year, including the pre-Hogan freshman year.

The following course requirements for the Entrepreneurial Leadership minor amount to 18 credit hours for business administration majors and up to 24 credit hours for all other majors, exclusive of double-counted or shared course content.

The Honors Program

Director: Linda Tredennick
Associate Director: Erik Schmidt

The Honors Program at Gonzaga is an energetic community of students and scholars dedicated to flourishing in our new and changing world. The program provides students with innovative and immersive educational experiences designed to empower them to lead lives of meaning, service, and leadership into the future.

Academics

The Honors educational experience begins with a three-day immersion experience, in which students meet each other and begin to bond as a cohort, as well as learn to orient themselves in Spokane, at Gonzaga, and as Honors students. Students then take the Honors First Year Block, a rich, integrated, and interdisciplinary learning experience shared by all students entering the Honors program. Students are introduced to the complex structure and problems of contemporary society while also honing the foundational academic skills of critical reasoning, analysis, and communication. Ideas and experiences are shared across collaboratively-taught, student-centered, and interdisciplinary courses.

Throughout their time at Gonzaga, Honors students have reserved seats in Honors Designated courses: innovative and exciting courses taught by award-winning faculty. In addition, Honors Colloquia are collaboratively taught and interdisciplinary courses on complex, timely, and urgent topics in the context of a global society designed for Honors students. Examples of topics covered in Honors Colloquia are: identity formation and identity politics, race and representation, climate change, educational policy and advocacy, poverty, and homelessness.

Finally, Honors students complete their undergraduate career with the Honors capstone experience. Students imagine and then design a personalized project that both integrates their undergraduate learning and allows them experience which will meaningfully contribute to their future goals. These projects may take the form of researched, academic writing, an internship, creative inquiry – whatever is best suited to the individual students interests and goals.

The Honors program has a wide experience with a number of study abroad programs catering to various fields of interest, including engineering, the physical sciences, and business. Honors students are strongly encouraged to spend a semester abroad.

Student Development

One of the most important elements of the Honors program is the community, friendship, and mentorship it provides. Crimont Hall is the home of the Honors Living-Learning Community, but also provides a quiet, library-style study lounge, a lounge for socializing and relaxing, kitchens, recreational equipment, academic space, and access to Honors Faculty. Throughout the year, the program hosts many events, including socials for the Bigs/Littles (student mentorship) program, open mic nights, lectures, open houses for families and the Gonzaga community, and the annual Haunted House. The two all-program retreats, Christmas party, and Senior brunch are always highlights of the academic year.

Admission

Students can apply for the Honors program as they apply for admission to Gonzaga. A few students are also accepted at the end of their first year at Gonzaga. Acceptance is based not only on evidence of previous academic achievement, but also on promise of future success. The application process values extra-curricular interests, intellectual curiosity and engagement, and ability to bring diverse perspectives and experiences to the program. For more information, one can contact the Honors Program office at 509-313-6547.

Fall, annually.
Military Science

Chairperson: Major Edward Adams, Professor of Military Science
Assistant Professors: Dr. Alan Westfield, Mr. Dan Sheahan

The Military Science program at Gonzaga University is an element of the United States Army Reserve Officers’ Training Corps (ROTC). This highly decorated and nationally recognized program is a cooperative effort between the U.S. Army, Gonzaga University, and Whitworth University. It provides training and qualification for leadership positions in the Regular Army, the U.S. Army Reserve, or the Army National Guard. Qualified students earn a commission as an Army Second Lieutenant while achieving a college degree in the academic discipline(s) of their choosing. Cadets incur no obligation during their first two years of ROTC and are not members of the U.S. Army (unless they are ROTC scholarship winners). Lower-division courses are open to all Gonzaga students.

The objectives of the program are to prepare academically and physically qualified scholar/athlete/leaders for the challenge of serving as commissioned officers in the world’s best Army. To that end, the program strives to build leaders of character and competence to serve their country and community.

Description of the Program

The program meets the country’s requirement for officer-leaders in the Army (active duty, National Guard, and Reserves). It is, therefore, multifaceted, with distinctive sub-elements to meet individual needs and requirements. For example, ROTC is traditionally a four-year program, but individuals with prior service, members of Reserve or National Guard units, participants of JROTC in high school and summer Cadet Initial Entry Training (CIET) participants may receive advanced-placement credit and may complete the program in two years. Students enroll in one military science class, leadership laboratory and the military physical fitness course per semester. The program consists of two phases: the basic course (lower division), normally taken during the freshman and sophomore years or completed through advanced-placement credit, and the advanced course (upper division).
Basic Course

First-year and second-year courses, MILS 101, MILS 102, MILS 201, and MILS 202 are designed for beginning students who want to qualify for entry into the advanced course and for those students who may want to try military science without obligations. In addition to their academic requirements, basic-course cadets may participate in a variety of extracurricular activities. Placement credit for the basic course may be granted to students who have completed initial entry training for the armed forces, three years of Junior ROTC in high school or the ROTC Leaders' Training Course. MILS 101 and MILS 102 concentrate on fundamental skills, concepts, values, and problem solving and provide an overview of how the military fits into society. MILS 201 and MILS 202 more thoroughly address problem solving, critical thinking, communications, conflict-resolution skills and leadership.

Advanced Course

The advanced course consists of MILS 301, MILS 302, MILS 401, and MILS 402. It is open only to students who have completed the basic course or earned placement credit (see above). Students must also enroll in leadership labs (MILS 301L, MILS 302L, MILS 401L, or MILS 402L) and Military Physical Fitness (MILS 303, MILS 304, MILS 403, or MILS 404). Students also attend the four-week ROTC Cadet Leader Course (CLC) during the summer between their junior and senior years. In addition to their academic requirements, advanced-course cadets provide student leadership for the Gonzaga Bulldog Battalion.

Completion of the basic course, advanced course, and CLC, coupled with a bachelor's degree from the college, qualify the cadet for a commission as a Second Lieutenant in the United States Army.

Financial Assistance

Advanced-course students receive a subsistence allowance. Junior cadets receive $450 a month for up to ten months and senior cadets receive $500 a month for ten months. Freshman and sophomore cadets who are on scholarship and contracted will receive $300 and $350 a month, respectively, for ten months each year.

Scholarships: Freshman-level and sophomore-level students may compete for Army ROTC campus-based scholarships. These scholarships are applied to tuition and fees plus an allowance for books. A student need not be enrolled in ROTC to be eligible to compete for two-year or three-year scholarships. No commitment is made until a scholarship is accepted, the student meets all administrative and physical criteria, and the oath for contracting is administered. High school seniors interested in applying for a four-year scholarship normally submit applications by January 1st of their senior year.

Fees, Uniforms, and ROTC Texts:

There are no fees for any classes. Uniforms, texts, and other equipment are furnished without charge. Students are responsible for and must return all government property issued to them.

Extracurricular Activities

Color Guard: The Gonzaga University Color Guard participates in a variety of school and civic functions where precision drill or presentation of the U.S. flag is appropriate.

Intramural Sports: The ROTC program sponsors teams that participate in flag football, volleyball, basketball, softball and other sports of the Gonzaga University intramural leagues. The program sponsors special event teams at both Gonzaga and Whitworth and sponsors cadet intramural teams as coordinated by the Gonzaga cadets with the professor of Military Science.

Special Qualification Training: Advanced-course and select basic-course cadets may participate in confidence-building courses such as Air Assault School, Airborne School, Northern Warfare Training Center, and Cadet Troop Leadership Training at locations around the world.

The School of Law

Dean: Jacob H. Rooksby, J.D., Ph.D.

In 1912, the Trustees of Gonzaga University established the Gonzaga University School of Law with the active support of many prominent members of the bench and bar in Washington State. In its first century, the School of Law produced many exceptional lawyers, and it is committed to an equally exceptional second century. Gonzaga Law is fully accredited by the American Bar Association, which entitles graduates to take the bar exam in any state. Gonzaga Law is also a member of the Association of American Law Schools.

Objectives of Gonzaga University School of Law

Gonzaga Law belongs to a long and distinguished tradition of law schools which deliver a humanistic, Jesuit education rooted in the principles of intellectual inquiry, fairness, justice, and respect for human dignity. The school is committed to preserving this tradition, a tradition that informs each aspect of the student experience.

Just as the school challenges its students to understand the knowledge of the past, it understands that a firm grasp of the innovations of the present is also necessary in order to better serve society. Gonzaga emphasizes the education and development of the whole person and works to instill in its students a strong commitment to social justice as it encourages its students to take individual initiative and personal responsibility for the betterment of their communities.

The school also recognizes its responsibility to the public and to the legal profession. As a result, Gonzaga Law works to prepare its graduates to be analytical thinkers, accomplished writers, and creative problem-solvers. Gonzaga graduates will be able to translate their thoughts into effective, productive action on behalf of their clients.
For those students who may not want to follow a traditional career path, the school’s J.D. curriculum provides students with the tools to succeed in a wide range of other career fields.

One of the school’s greatest strengths is the dedication and commitment of the faculty and staff which provides students with personal, individual attention. Each student’s educational journey will be guided by distinguished and dedicated faculty and shaped by the paths of the many justices, judges, advocates, and leaders who are proud Gonzaga Law alumni.

Gonzaga Law believes that the courtroom can be a powerful classroom and that practical skills should accompany intellectual inquiry. This is why Gonzaga takes pride in providing students with a quality legal education which includes practical, hands-on experience that will ease their transition from the academic world to the world of legal practice. Gonzaga Law graduates are known for being zealous advocates and community leaders.

Full-time Programs

Gonzaga Law offers a full-time, three-year, 90 semester credit degree. In some circumstances, students can take advantage of flexible scheduling to complete their degrees in four or five years.

Gonzaga Law also offers an Executive J.D. program which allows students to earn their degree in two years rather than three. Because the program requires students to carry a full course load for six consecutive semesters, students are required to apply eight of their credits towards experiential learning. This provides the students with the chance to learn outside the classroom in a legal setting while taking their accelerated schedule into consideration.

Of the 90 units necessary for graduation, 49 are required; the remaining units may be selected from electives and seminars. All degree credits must be completed within five years of matriculation.
Curriculum

Gonzaga's legal education program is deliberately focused on educating the whole person. The rigorous, well-rounded curriculum focuses on legal analysis, problem-solving, values, and ethics. Equally important is the emphasis on practical experience, enabling students to develop real-world lawyering skills.

As part of Gonzaga's unique, practice-oriented first-year program, students undertake skills labs in litigation (fall) and transactional work (spring). Gonzaga Law requires students to complete a rigorous, two-year legal research and writing program that helps students develop the writing and analytical skills so valued by employers and so necessary to the practice.

The school offers upper-division electives in many different areas of the law, including: trial and appellate advocacy, education law, family law, employment law, environmental/natural resource law, business and commercial law, and international law. The classes are taught by nationally and internationally, recognized faculty whose scholarship adds an important dimension to their teaching.

To complete their education all students are required to engage in experiential learning, either through working in a professional externship or in Gonzaga's legal clinic, during their second or third year of studies. Gonzaga Law students have externed with courts as well as prosecutor and public defender offices at the local, state, and federal level throughout the state and country including the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals, the Washington Supreme Court, the Federal Trade Commission, the Executive Office of Immigration Review, and other state and federal agencies. Recent placements in non-profit entities include the Northwest Justice Project and Spokane's Center for Justice.

Gonzaga Law has implemented limited externship placements with for-profit law firms.

In 2018, Gonzaga Law founded the Center for Civil and Human Rights to provide students, scholars, and community leaders with opportunities to explore and address issues relating to civil and human rights through research, education, and community engagement. This Center complements students’ classroom work and allows students to dive deeply into legal and community issues.
University Legal Assistance

Another choice that Gonzaga Law students have for experiential learning is the school’s University Legal Assistance (ULA) program. ULA is an on-campus clinic that provides legal services to low-income persons and is a major provider of pro bono legal services in the Spokane area. Clinical positions are available to any student in good standing and students are encouraged to take an active role.

In ULA, students work on real cases with real clients under the supervision of clinical instructors who are licensed attorneys. Students can appear in court on behalf of clients under Rule 9 of the Washington State Bar Association’s Court Rules after they have completed two years of course work (60 semester credits) and been approved by the WSBA.

Gonzaga Law clinical students have argued appeals before the Washington State Supreme Court and the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals. They have testified before Congressional committees in Washington D.C. about the impact of pending legislation. They have appeared in Kalispel Tribal Court as advocates and argued on behalf of their clients. They have helped clients who needed health care services, help with housing, estate planning services, and parenting plans. They helped clients who dreamed of starting their own businesses and clients who did not want to face the IRS alone. In ULA, every student makes a difference.

On-campus clinical offerings include business law, elder law, Indian law, immigration law, tax law, and environmental law and land use.

Dual Degree Programs

Gonzaga Law and the Graduate School of Business offer dual-degree programs leading to the Juris Doctor/Master of Business Administration (J.D./MBA), the Juris Doctor/Master of Accountancy (J.D./MAcc), and the Juris Doctor/Master of Science in Taxation (J.D./MSTax). These programs train attorneys with a business background to provide skilled leadership in the sophisticated and challenging world of modern business transactions. Application must be made to the Gonzaga University Graduate School of Business as well as to the law school.
There is also a Juris Doctor/Master of Social Work (J.D./MSW) dual-degree program which is designed to prepare law and social work professionals to practice either profession competently and to enable them to use this unique amalgamation of skills in new and enriched ways. This four-year program (three years for students with "Advanced Standing" in Social Work) will lead successful students to a J.D. from Gonzaga University School of Law and a Master's in Social Work from Eastern Washington University.

Graduates of the J.D./MSW dual-degree program will be skilled professionals who can make significant contributions in areas such as public benefits, mental health services, children's services, services for people with disabilities, and more. The program meets all applicable American Bar Association and Council on Social Work Education accreditation guidelines. Admission to the J.D./MSW program is highly competitive.

Students must apply and be admitted to both Gonzaga University School of Law and the Eastern Washington University School of Social Work and must meet each school's established admissions criteria. This includes qualifying scores on standardized tests, such as the Law School Admissions Test (LSAT). A candidate's application must be approved by both institutions before the candidate is considered for admission to this dual-degree program.

Co-Curricular Activities

Gonzaga's educational philosophy is based on the centuries-old Ignatian model of educating the whole person: mind, body, and spirit. Gonzaga's student organizations are diverse in nature and, whatever students' interests or career goals, there are activities available that will enhance their knowledge and abilities that also contribute to their community.

Gonzaga is a major player in national moot court competitions and fields a variety of moot court teams. Students also have an opportunity to participate in the Linden Cup, Gonzaga's prestigious intra-school moot court competition. The student-run Gonzaga Law Review is circulated throughout the country, and the Gonzaga Journal of International Law, the online international law journal, receives submissions from around the world.

The Student Bar Association is a strong, active organization that encourages student involvement, and there are abundant opportunities to participate in student organizations, legal fraternities, public service projects, and other activities. Programs such as the Juvenile Records Sealing Project and the Moderate Means Program allow even first-year students to spend time helping members of the Spokane community access legal services.

Gonzaga Law sponsors a summer law program in Florence, Italy where students can take classes in subjects including international human rights law, international mediation, and comparative criminal law, and comparative women's rights.

Physical Facilities and Library

Rising from the banks of the beautiful Spokane River, the Gonzaga Law building, which opened in May 2000, provides a stunning setting for research and learning. The facilities offer a variety of classroom and library environments to support interactive teaching and learning methods. Features throughout the building encourage students to linger to talk and debate ideas in beautiful outdoor spaces, roof plazas and balconies, and comfortable lounges.

Technology is readily available and a wireless network provides the highway for audio-visual, computer, and telecommunications technology. The mix of classrooms, study, seminar rooms, and clinical spaces provide flexibility to integrate the best of traditional law teaching and collaborative and innovative learning. Gonzaga's fine traditions of advocacy training and moot court competitions are promoted in the impressive Barbieri Courtroom.

Chastek Library is a warm and inviting legal learning and research environment filled with natural light designed to be conducive to individual and group study. The library's rich collection of print and electronic resources supports the research and scholarly needs of students, faculty, and the wider legal community.
Admissions

Gonzaga Law endeavors to attract students with ambitious minds, professional motivation, and commitment to the highest ethics and values of the legal profession. A faculty committee reviews all applications and does not restrict their consideration to impersonal statistics. An applicant's unique qualities, such as work and life experiences, personal accomplishments, and the opinions of others as reflected in letters of recommendation, will also be considered.

Gonzaga Law seeks to enroll a diverse student body to ensure that the school and the legal profession are enriched through the participation of people from different cultural and ethnic backgrounds. Those individuals who want the admission review committee to consider diversity factors in their application process should provide information about their experiences and backgrounds in their applications.

Students who are in good standing at another ABA-accredited law school may apply for admission to Gonzaga Law with advanced standing.

Summer Session

Gonzaga University offers a wide range of summer courses, both online and on campus, during two summer sessions.

Students from other colleges and universities are welcome to take Summer Session courses at Gonzaga, and are encouraged to work with their academic advisors at their home institutions regarding transfer credits and course planning. Students are considered “non-degree seeking” when enrolled at another college. See the Admissions section of this catalog for more information on applying for a degree program.

Details on courses, dates, costs, and registration are available on the Summer Session website, http://www.gonzaga.edu/summer, by emailing summer@gonzaga.edu or by calling 509-313-6228.

University Courses

The university offers courses that are not subject to any one discipline, college, or school, but recommended for all students. Students are encouraged to participate in these courses which elaborate on essential parts of University life.
President's Cabinet

Thayne M. McCulloh, D.Phil., President, was elected as interim President by the Board of Trustees in July 2009. On October 22, 2010, Gonzaga University formally inaugurated Dr. McCulloh as its 26th President, the first lay President elected to the post. He is Gonzaga’s chief executive officer and oversees all administrative functions, operations and the general direction of the University. The president represents the University before the public, and is the University’s ultimate administrative authority.

James A. Angelosante, Vice President for Administration, joined Gonzaga in July 2018. He brings over thirty years of administrative, financial, and operational experience to the position. He is responsible for several administrative and business operations at Gonzaga, including Plant and Construction Services, Human Resources, Hemmingson Center and Auxiliary Enterprises (including the Gonzaga University Event Services Team), Sustainability, Campus Security and Public Safety, Emergency Preparedness, Marketing and Communications, Information Technology Services, and Risk Management.

Deena J. González, Ph.D., became Provost and Senior Vice President in June 2019. She is Gonzaga’s chief academic officer overseeing the complete student experience, combining academic and student life. In collaboration with the University President, she is responsible for implementation of academic priorities for Gonzaga University to provide high quality educational programs within and outside of the classroom setting. She supports the strategic direction of the University by supporting development of the "...whole person, intellectually, spiritually, culturally, physically, and emotionally."

Maureen McGuire, J.D., General Counsel, joined Gonzaga in 2013 and is the University's chief legal adviser and responsible for all legal affairs.

Charles J. Murphy, Chief Strategy Officer, was appointed to this position in 2018. After serving as the University’s Vice President for Finance since 1985, he now works directly for the President in advancing institutional strategic initiatives, particularly in the area of diversifying the institution’s revenue sources.
Joseph Poss, Vice President for University Advancement, was appointed to this leadership role in July 2013. He oversees the University’s Development and Alumni Relations operations. He joined University Advancement in 1998.

Mike Roth, Athletic Director, assumed his post in 1997. He oversees all athletic programs, facilities and initiatives related to Gonzaga’s participation in Division 1 intercollegiate athletics in NCAA and West Coast Conference competition, as well as Rudolf Fitness Center and intramural sports.

Charlita Shelton, Ph.D., Special Consultant to the President/COVID-19 Compliance Officer, began her role at Gonzaga as Interim Associate Chief Diversity Officer in September 2019. April 2020, she was appointed as the Chair of the Pandemic Response Task Force and Special Consultant to the President. Currently, Charlita is leading the COVID-19 Compliance, Coordination & Oversight Task Force. Through these various roles, she is responsible for managing the processes that monitor and measure the COVID-19 virus's mitigation within the campus community. Charlita also serves as an advisor to the President on additional projects that emerge from the efforts to resume instructional and educational activities for academic year 2020-21.

John D. Sklut, J.D., Chief of Staff, was appointed in September 2015. He is responsible for protecting, promoting, and advancing the interests of the University by supporting the vision and goals of the President. John initiates and coordinates the flow of communications with, and amongst, the president's executive team and chairs the President’s Cabinet in the absence of the President. He assumes responsibility for specified special projects as delegated by the President.

Joseph P. Smith, Chief Financial Officer, joined Gonzaga in October 2010 after spending nine years in public accounting. He oversees accounting and financial record-keeping, operating and capital budgets, procurement, treasury (banking, financing, investments), and insurance. Joe is a Certified Public Accountant (CPA) and Chartered Global Management Accountant (CGMA).

Michelle Wheatley, D.Min., Vice President for Mission and Ministry, began in this role in an interim capacity in August 2018 and officially assumed the role as Vice President in December 2019. She serves as the mission officer for the university and oversees the team responsible for supporting Gonzaga’s fulfillment of its Jesuit, Catholic, humanistic mission, primarily through pastoral and spiritual care, mission education, and formation for discernment and leadership.
The Board of Members serves to ensure that Gonzaga University functions in vibrant relationship to the Society of Jesus and fulfills its apostolic mission as a work of the Society of Jesus and the Roman Catholic Church.

The Board of Members is composed of Jesuits who are members of the Gonzaga University Jesuit Community. The Board of Members meets regularly with the President to discuss matters specific to the Jesuit and Catholic mission and identity of the University, and works collaboratively with the Board of Trustees regarding matters of mutual concern to the Boards.

Board of Regents

The Board of Regents serve as an advisory board to the Trustees and President of Gonzaga University. The membership of the Board consists of dedicated volunteers from around the country. These volunteer leaders come from and represent the constituencies of the University – our students, alumni, parents, faculty, staff and friends.

Within their volunteer capacity, the members of the Board of Regents also serve as ambassadors to the campus community, as well as the regions of the country they represent.
