

GONZAGA

UNIVERSITY

#BeAZag

Your education isn't meant for you alone. It's meant to be put to work in the world.

Will you cure disease? Will you create new technologies that better connect people? Will you tackle issues of hunger and injustice? Will you share your unique story and listen to other voices and perspectives as you make challenging decisions? Will you educate the next generation to solve complex problems and use their gifts for the greater good?

Gonzaga seeks to be your partner in this endeavor and to call you to be something greater than yourself—to provide challenge when you need it and support to help you actualize your goals. As a Catholic, Jesuit, humanistic university, Gonzaga strives to educate students for lives of leadership and service for the common good.

Prepare for more than a job. Prepare for a calling.

Gonzaga's liberal arts education will push you to ask the questions most lack the courage to ask: Why have we always done it this way? How will my work affect the world? How can I help?

You'll find the answers by engaging with the world: through internships with IBM, Columbia Records or Feed Spokane; by conducting research on Parkinson's disease or sustainable water treatment methods; by studying art in Italy or consumer behavior in Denmark.

When you graduate you will be ready to go with conviction into the places where you are needed most, equipped with equal measures of experience, intellect and heart.
