Introduction (and notes for supervisors)

Thank you for volunteering to supervise a practicum student from Gonzaga University’s Department of Counselor Education. Grounded in the Jesuit tradition, we strive to model and instill in our students those dispositions appropriate to the counseling profession.

The Master of Counselling program is designed to educate and train Canadian residents who might not otherwise have such opportunities. The Program requires 43 semester credits implemented over a two-year period and is designed to prepare students for either school or agency counseling.

Students complete a three-part series of clinical training including 350 hours of placement in the field, at least 250 of which are spent in providing direct services to clients. The following information and attached forms are intended to assist you in the process of guiding our students through their practicum placements with your agency or school.

Should you have any questions or concerns regarding these or any other issue related to our students, please let us know at (800) 533-2554, Extension 6290. We will work diligently to provide the information you seek.

Contractual Arrangements

A critical component between two parties working together is the agreement made between these parties as to how they will interact. An agreement form is included in the Forms section of this document which details responsibilities associated with each person in this triadic arrangement—student, site supervisor, and Program. In addition, many agencies require a written contract between themselves and the University. Also in the Forms section, you will find a sample contract protocol which can be modified to meet the needs of your agency. Please note that these two forms must be completed and submitted prior to Practicum placement.

Practicum Placements, Hours, and Types of Practicum Activities

The Practicum experience is designed to allow students to apply and synthesize knowledge and skills they have learned from course work and to acquire working knowledge of record keeping, available resources, and office protocol. Initially, students regularly observe and receive feedback from the field supervisor. In most cases, students will carry an active caseload of clients by the beginning of the Spring semester.

The Practicum is designed to refine counselling and interviewing skills, and to develop and practice new skills while in a closely supervised environment. This includes individual, family and group counselling skills for agency placements as well as classroom guidance lessons and communications with parents, faculty, and administration for school placements. Through individual and group supervision, the student can expand his or her repertoire of counselling techniques and interpersonal relationship skills. In the practicum, students will be expected to demonstrate a commitment to implementing and expanding the following skills:

- Establishing and maintaining a helpful and supportive counselling/therapeutic relationship.
- Development and application of appropriate individual, family and group counselling techniques.
- Maintaining client records, scheduling client appointments, learning about and using community resources when appropriate.
- Working effectively, observing, and occasionally co-leading with supervisors and colleagues.
- Analysis and presentation of counselling sessions and case studies.
- Continued development of professional behavior.
- Enthusiasm for and commitment to the counselling profession.
- A continued willingness to learn.
- Continued development of personal traits, which are conducive to effective counselling, learning and professional development.

Note. The Canadian Counselling and Psychotherapy Association (CCPA) has established specific minimum hourly requirements for each practicum placement experience. These requirements will be met according to Association standards. The CCPA specifies that the graduate student in counselling must document a minimum of 250 hours of direct client contact. Furthermore, the Association defines “direct client contact” as …

- Individual counselling/therapy
- Couples or family counselling/therapy
- Group counselling/facilitation (or co-facilitation)
- Facilitation or co-facilitation of psycho-educational activities
- Counselling over the telephone
- “Other activities” to be specified by the applicant (e.g., mediation sessions, PTSD debriefings, etc.)

Hours and Types of Supervision

It is required that all pre-practicum and practicum students have at least one hour of supervision per week with their on-site supervisors. The supervisory sessions may be completed in hour segments or they may be broken into smaller sections as deemed appropriate by the site supervisor. Supervision may be individual or in small groups (3 to 1 ratio of students to supervisor). Supervision may consist of review of client load, case conceptualization, discussions regarding the student’s counseling or counseling issues, or any other activity directly delivered by the site supervisor that improves the student’s capacity to effectively provide counseling services. Students must complete a log of all supervisory sessions. This log should be regularly reviewed and signed by the site supervisor.
Prevention of Conflict of Interest

No student is allowed to be supervised by any person in their practicum placement who holds any other evaluative role beyond the role of clinical supervisor for the practicum placement. It is encouraged that students identify practicum placements outside of their regular work setting should the above not be possible at their work sites. Students are informed of this requirement at the onset of the program. Students are reminded of this requirement during a thorough orientation to the practicum placement process. Students are required to provide curriculum vitae (CV) and licensure/certification information regarding their prospective site supervisors to confirm their qualifications and to further assess the suitability of the supervisor for the particular student. Even in very small townships where students have some relationship with nearly every other townsperson, no student will be allowed to have a site supervisor who holds any other role that might result in a conflict of interest or otherwise make an objective evaluation of the student impossible. The local practicum placement coordinator (regional practicum liaison) will be available to dialogue with each site supervisor to further ensure that compliance with this requirement is met.

Case Conceptualization

Students will be required to complete case conceptualizations on clients they are currently treating throughout their practicum placements. These case conceptualizations will not include client name or other data that could identify the client. An outline for completing case conceptualizations is included in the Forms section. Should the site supervisor have other materials that would be beneficial for the student to add to the case conceptualizations, this would be welcomed. The case conceptualizations will accompany video recordings that the student presents to his/her small group for review, critique, and to elicit growth-oriented feedback. The student is responsible for collecting all case conceptualizations following the presentation and completely destroying all related materials.

Video-Recording

The professional literature regularly presents studies conducted with the intent of determining best practice for teaching and training students in counsellor education in order to become effective practitioners. Consistently, one of the best models for teaching/training effective counsellors has been the use of video-recording of students during actual practice and providing a subsequent critique of their successes and areas in need of improvement. Students also learn remarkably well from each other. Hence, Gonzaga’s Counselor Education programs require video-recording.

Every semester we have students who are fairly anxious about this requirement. Some are worried about their competence; some are worried about giving and receiving constructive feedback; and, some are just anxious about the new experience. In any case, some students really have a difficult time getting this assignment started. The most common excuse is that there are no clients suitable for videotaping or that the agency or site supervisor does not value videotaping. Given that you are a site supervisor who highly regards the process of training new counsellors, we know that you will find videotaping invaluable. You may even require that your practicum students videotape their work with clients for your review, alone. Just as you have found it to be so, if a client is asked in a very positive way to help the student by participating in video-taping that will be used for the student’s growth as a counsellor, most clients are more than happy to be helpful. We hope that you will help structure this experience in a positive manner for your practicum student to help assure a successful training experience.

Students will be required to complete at least four (2) video-recordings of their work with clients (on their practicum site) during their Spring semester practicum to be presented along with a thorough but unidentifiable case conceptualization to their small supervision group. Students are required to destroy all video-recordings once their presentations are complete. The Permission to Video-Record request is available in the Forms section.

Release of Information and Confidentiality

In compliance with APA, ACA, CCPA ethics and state and provincial laws regarding confidentiality, students must obtain informed consent from their clients or their clients’ legal guardians prior to videotaping or presenting their case conceptualizations to their small class. If your agency has a preferred form for eliciting the appropriate release of information, students are encouraged to use that form. If not, please find a Permission to Video-Record form in the Forms section of this manual to be used by students in securing a release of information for video-tape/case conceptualization presentations to the students’ small groups. A completed, signed form must accompany all case presentations.

Communication with Students, Regional Practicum Liaison, and Counselor Education Department Faculty

Gonzaga’s Counselor Education Department highly values each site supervisor. We believe it is a tremendous gift you provide to our students when you agree to place them with your agency or school and provide for them on-going supervision and training experiences. We want to be certain that we are providing the education, training, and on-going support necessary to make your job as site supervisor as smooth as possible. To that end we strongly encourage that we communicate (by phone and/or by email) and get oriented to each other early in the student’s placement and that we remain connected throughout the Practicum experience.

Our Regional Practicum Liaison is your official primary Gonzaga University contact. The Liaison for the current year of Pre-practicum/Practicum for the MOC cohort at your location is to be announced. Should you require additional technical assistance regarding the Practicum, please contact Dr. Michelle Ghoston, the MOC Program Director at (toll free) 800-533-2554, Option 1.

As the home campus of Gonzaga University and the Practicum professors/advisors are located in Spokane while our students and their respective site supervisors are in various locations in Canada, there are inherent issues regarding the desirability of an occasionally desirable 3-way dialogue. To most adequately address this issue, should such a situation arise, the student will be responsible to arrange a conference call between the student, site supervisor, and the practicum liaison or the on-campus professor. Such a meeting, if necessary, would be initiated to clarify and resolve any issues or concerns. On-going communication from that point forward would be conducted as needed.

Assessing Fit of Student to Agency

Almost all of the students who begin their practicum experience with an agency will complete that practicum at that site. Most students report having had a remarkable experience at their chosen site and highly value the totality of the experience, including the population they serve, the supervision received, and the general knowledge about the profession they gain over the course of their stay at the agency. On rare occasion, a student may not be a good “fit” to the agency. This may occur for a variety of reasons (e.g., a poor fit to the population being served, a negative match to the agency or site supervisor, a discovered dislike for the tasks involved in counselling).

Should a student have minor difficulties with a placement, every effort is made to work with all parties to assure a resolution of issues so as to make the placement the excellent experience it is intended to be. Should issues remain unresolved, the Counselor Education Department will work with the site supervisor to determine if a new placement is required or if the student is not a good match to the profession. In any case, every effort is made to assist the student to either find a good “fit” to a new placement, to find another role within the profession, or to find a better fit with another profession. It is critical to the program that the site supervisor makes contact with the campus professor as soon as there is an indication that the student and agency are not a good match. This assures early intervention needed to correct the problem or time to make necessary adjustments for the student. Input from the supervisor may be critical to the determination of “best” fit of the student to the profession throughout the program.

Evaluation of Student

One of the important tasks of the site supervisor is to evaluate the practicum student regarding his/her skills, abilities, and performance at the agency. We have prepared an evaluation form that provides the information we need to help assess each student. The evaluation plays a part in the grade the student earns for the pre-practicum and practicum. There are two separate tools for evaluating students, one for the pre-practicum and the other for the practicum. Each of these evaluation tools can be found in the Forms section 1.
We ask our students to begin each semester by reviewing the evaluation tool with their site supervisor and setting goals in accordance with the requirements of the course, the evaluation, and the needs of the agency. We are hopeful that students will meet to discuss their progress throughout the semester. By the time the semester closes and the site supervisor is completing the semester evaluation, the student should be well aware of his/her progress and challenges to date. A completed and signed copy of the evaluation should be provided to the student who will include this evaluation in his/her portfolio. Ultimately, it is the student’s responsibility to assure that the evaluation is completed and provided to the campus professor in a timely manner. A second measure through which helpful information can be obtained and through which the therapeutic relationship can be enhanced is the Counseling Outcome Survey found in the Forms section.

Evaluation of Supervisor/Site

At the end of the practicum experiences, students are asked to provide an evaluation of the student’s placement site as well as the site supervisor. These evaluations are placed in a binder for review by incoming students who are looking for their beginning placements. Historically, students have found a review of this information extremely useful in directing their search for a site that offers the kind of experience, population, and other circumstances suited to the student’s professional goals. A copy of the Supervisor/Site Evaluation is available in the Forms section of this manual, Appendix C.

Benefits of Supervising a Gonzaga Student

There is no communicable way to let you know just how valuable you are as a site supervisor in the education and training of our future counselors. Without you, their training and education would be markedly incomplete. We want to clearly express to you our gratitude for your time, your energy, and your expertise as you partner with us in this important process.

As a token of our appreciation for your services as a clinical supervisor, we will send an honorarium to you at the conclusion of the practicum experiences. Though we wish we could do so with minimal/no effort from you, the United States Government insists that we complete certain paperwork in order to track expenditures. There are two forms to be completed before honoraria can be issued. Your practicum student(s) will bring these forms to you at the beginning of the academic year. Please complete the forms according to the very specific directions included. Incomplete or inaccurately completed forms cannot be processed through to payment. Information and/or clarification on this process is available through our Counselor Education Department Clinical Placement Coordinator, Dr. Tom Trotter at (toll free) 800-533-2554, Option 1 or (direct) 509-313-3840. E-mail at trotter@gonzaga.edu.

We hope another benefit of selecting our students for practicum placement with you is that they can assist your agency in fulfilling its mission by providing progressively more competent counselling services to your clientele. Please let us know how we can assist in this process. We are deeply grateful for your contribution to the training and education of our students and we hope to make it a satisfying experience for you.

Note: The Sample Evidence category provides suggestions about how the supervisor may assess the performance indicator. Other evidence of competence can be used according to the discretion of the supervisor and the uniqueness of the site. Viewing the Internship Log and Intern/Supervisor Weekly Communication Form affords opportunity to assess intern competence in an ongoing way. Many of the performance indicators will have been met in the University classroom at a knowledge and skills level prior to the student entering the practicum and internship. The continued work in the classroom provides ongoing opportunity and support to the student in achieving competence in each performance area throughout the practicum and internship.

Instructions for Form W-8BEN

(Rev. February 2006)

Certificate of Foreign Status of Beneficial Owner for United States Tax Withholding

General Instructions

Section references are to the Internal Revenue Code unless otherwise noted.

For definitions of terms used throughout these instructions, see Definitions on pages 3 and 4.

Purpose of Form. Foreign persons are subject to U.S. tax at a 30% rate on income they receive from U.S. sources that consists of:

- Interest (including certain original issue discount (OID));
- Dividends;
- Rents;
- Royalties;
- Premiums;
- Annuities;
- Compensation for, or in expectation of, services performed;
- Substitute payments in a securities lending transaction; or
- Other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains, profits, or income.

This tax is imposed on the gross amount paid and is generally collected by withholding under section 1441 or 1442 on that amount. A payment is considered to have been made whether it is made directly to the beneficial owner or to another person, such as an intermediary, agent, or partnership, for the benefit of the beneficial owner.

In addition, section 1446 requires a partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States to withhold tax on a foreign partner's distributive share of the partnership's effectively connected taxable income. Generally, a foreign person that is a partner in a partnership that submits a Form W-8 for purposes of section 1441 or 1442 will satisfy the documentation requirements under section 1446 as well. However, in some cases the documentation requirements of sections 1441 and 1442 do not match the documentation requirements of section 1446. See Regulations sections 1.1446-1 through 1.1446-6. Further, the owner of a disregarded entity, rather than the disregarded entity itself, shall submit the appropriate Form W-8 for purposes of section 1446.

If you receive certain types of income, you must provide Form W-8BEN to:

- Establish that you are not a U.S. person;
- Claim that you are the beneficial owner of the income for which Form W-8BEN is being provided or a partner in a partnership subject to section 1446; and
- If applicable, claim a reduced rate of, or exemption from, withholding as a resident of a foreign country with which the United States has an income tax treaty.

You may also be required to submit Form W-8BEN to claim an exception from domestic information reporting and backup withholding for certain types of income that are not subject to foreign-person withholding. Such income includes:

- Broker proceeds;
- Short-term (183 days or less) original issue discount (OID);
- Bank deposit interest;
- Foreign source interest, dividends, rents, or royalties;
- Proceeds from a wager placed by a nonresident alien individual in the games of blackjack, baccarat, crap, roulette, or big-6 wheel.

You may also use Form W-8BEN to certify that income from a notional principal contract is not effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States.

A withholding agent or payer of the income may rely on a properly completed Form W-8BEN to treat a payment associated with the Form W-8BEN as a payment to a foreign person who beneficially owns the amounts paid. If applicable, the withholding agent may rely on the Form W-8BEN to apply a reduced rate of withholding at source.

Provide Form W-8BEN to the withholding agent or payer before income is paid or credited to you. Failure to provide a Form W-8BEN when requested may lead to withholding at a 30% rate (foreign-person withholding) or the backup withholding rate.

Additional Information. For additional information and instructions for the withholding agent, see the Instructions for the Requester of Forms W-8BEN, W-8ECI, W-8EXP, and W-8NY.

Who must file. You must give Form W-8BEN to the withholding agent or payer if you are a foreign person and you are the beneficial owner of an amount subject to withholding. Submit Form W-8BEN when requested by the withholding agent or payer whether or not you are claiming a reduced rate of, or exemption from, withholding.

Do not use Form W-8BEN if:

- You are a U.S. citizen (even if you reside outside the United States) or other U.S. person (including a resident alien individual). Instead, use Form W-9, Request for Taxpayer Identification Number and Certification.
- You are a disregarded entity with a single owner that is a U.S. person and you are not a hybrid entity claiming treaty benefits. Instead, provide Form W-9.
• You are a nonresident alien individual who claims exemption from withholding on compensation for independent or dependent personal services performed in the United States. Instead, provide Form 8233, Exemption from Withholding on Compensation for Independent (and Certain Dependent) Personal Services of a Nonresident Alien Individual, or Form W-4, Employee's Withholding Allowance Certificate.
• You are receiving income that is effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States, unless it is allocable to you through a partnership. Instead, provide Form W-8ECI, Certificate of Foreign Person's Claim That Income Is Effectively Connected With the Conduct of a Trade or Business in the United States. If any of the income for which you have provided a Form W-8BEN becomes effectively connected, this is a change in circumstances and Form W-8BEN is no longer valid. You must file Form W-8ECI. See Change in circumstances on this page.
• You are filing for a foreign government, international organization, foreign central bank of issue, foreign tax-exempt organization, foreign private foundation, or government of a U.S. possession claiming the applicability of section 115(k), 501(c), 592, 595, or 1443(b). Instead, provide Form W-8EXP, Certificate of Foreign Government or Other Foreign Organization for United States Tax Withholding. However, you should use Form W-8BEN if you are claiming treaty benefits or are providing the form only to claim you are a foreign person exempt from backup withholding. You should use Form W-8ECI if you received effectively connected income (for example, income from commercial activities).
• You are a foreign flow-through entity, other than a hybrid entity, claiming treaty benefits. Instead, provide Form W-8IMY, Certificate of Foreign Intermediary, Foreign Flow-Through Entity, or Certain U.S. Branches for United States Tax Withholding. However, if you are a partnership, beneficial owner, or owner of a flow-through entity and you are not yourself a flow-through entity, you may be required to furnish a Form W-8BEN to the flow-through entity.
• You are a disregarded entity for purposes of section 1444. Instead, the owner of the entity must submit the form.
• You are a reverse hybrid entity transmitting beneficial owner documentation provided by your interest holders to claim treaty benefits on their behalf. Instead, provide Form W-8IMY.
• You are a withholding foreign partnership or a withholding foreign trust within the meaning of sections 1441 and 1442 and the accompanying regulations. A withholding foreign partnership or a withholding foreign trust is a foreign partnership or trust that has entered into a withholding agreement with the IRS under which it agrees to assume primary withholding responsibility for each partner’s, beneficiary’s, or owner’s distributive share of income subject to withholding that is paid to the partnership or trust. Instead, provide Form W-8IMY.
• You are acting as an intermediary (that is, acting not for your own account, but for the account of others as an agent, nominee, or custodian). Instead, provide Form W-8IMY.
• You are a foreign partnership or foreign grantor trust for purposes of section 1446. Instead, provide Form W-8IMY and accompanying documentation. See Regulations sections 1.1446-1 through 1.1446-6.

Giving Form W-8BEN to the withholding agent. Do not send Form W-8BEN to the IRS. Instead, give it to the person who is requesting it from you. Generally, this will be the person from whom you receive the payment, who credits your account, or a partnership that allocates income to you. Give Form W-8BEN to the person requesting it before the payment is made to you, credited to your account or allocated. If you do not provide this form, the withholding agent may have to withhold at the 30% rate, backup withholding rate, or the rate applicable under section 1446. If you receive more than one type of income from a single withholding agent for which you claim different benefits, the withholding agent may, at its option, require you to submit a Form W-8BEN for each different type of income. Generally, a separate Form W-8BEN must be given to each withholding agent.

Note. If you own the income or account jointly with one or more other persons, the income or account will be treated by the withholding agent as owned by a foreign person if Forms W-8BEN are provided by all of the owners. If the withholding agent receives a Form W-9 from any of the joint owners, the payment must be treated as made to a U.S. person.

Change in circumstances. If a change in circumstances makes any information on the Form W-8BEN you have submitted incorrect, you must notify the withholding agent or payer within 30 days of the change in circumstances and you must file a new Form W-8BEN or other appropriate form.

If you use Form W-8BEN to certify that you are a foreign person, a change of address in the United States is a change in circumstances. Generally, a change of address within the same foreign country or to another foreign country is not a change in circumstances. However, if you use Form W-8BEN to claim treaty benefits, a move to the United States or outside the country where you have been claiming treaty benefits is a change in circumstances. In that case, you must notify the withholding agent or payer within 30 days of the move.

If you become a U.S. citizen or resident alien after you submit Form W-8BEN, you are no longer subject to the 30% withholding rate or the withholding tax on a foreign partner's share of effectively connected income. You must notify the withholding agent or payer within 30 days of becoming a U.S. citizen or resident alien. You may be required to provide a Form W-9. For more information, see Form W-9 and instructions.

Expiration of Form W-8BEN. Generally, a Form W-8BEN provided without a U.S. taxpayer identification number (TIN) will remain in effect for a period starting on the date the form is signed and ending on the last day of the third succeeding calendar year, unless a change in circumstances makes any information on the form incorrect. For example, a Form W-8BEN signed on September 30, 2005, remains valid through December 31, 2008. A Form W-8BEN furnished with a U.S. TIN will remain in effect until a change in circumstances makes any information on the form incorrect. Provided that the withholding agent reports on Form 1042-S at least one payment annually to the beneficial owner who provided the Form W-8BEN. See the instructions for line 6. beginning on page 4 for circumstances under which you must provide a U.S. TIN.

Definitions
Beneficial owner. For payments other than those for which a reduced rate of withholding is claimed under an income tax treaty, the beneficial owner of income is generally the person who is required under U.S. tax principles to include the income in gross income on a tax return. A person is not a beneficial owner of income, however, to the extent that person is receiving the income as a nominee, agent, or custodian, or to the extent the person is a conduit whose participation in a transaction is disregarded. In the case of amounts paid that do not constitute income, beneficial ownership is determined as if the payment were income.

Foreign partnerships, foreign simple trusts, and foreign grantor trusts are not the beneficial owners of income paid to the partnership or trust. The beneficial owners of income paid to a foreign partnership are generally the partners in the partnership, provided that the partner is not itself a partnership, foreign simple or grantor trust, nominee or other agent. The beneficial owners of income paid to a foreign simple trust (that is, a foreign trust that is described in section 651(a)) are generally the beneficiaries of the trust, if the beneficiary is not a foreign partnership, foreign simple or grantor trust, nominee or other agent. The beneficial owners of a foreign grantor trust (that is, a foreign trust to the extent that all or a portion of the income of the trust is treated as owned by the grantor or another person under sections 671 through 679) are the persons treated as the owners of the trust. The beneficial owners of income paid to a foreign complex trust (that is, a foreign trust that is not a foreign simple trust or foreign grantor trust) is the trust itself.

For purposes of section 1446, the same beneficial owner rules apply, except that under section 1446 a foreign simple trust rather than the beneficiary provides the form to the partnership.

The beneficial owner of income paid to a foreign estate is the estate itself.

Note. A payment to a U.S. partnership, U.S. trust, or U.S. estate is treated as a payment to a U.S. payee that is not subject to 30% withholding. A U.S. partnership, trust, or estate should provide the withholding agent with a Form W-9. For purposes of section 1446, a U.S. grantor trust or disregarded entity shall not provide the withholding agent a Form W-9 in its own right. Rather, the grantor or other owner shall provide the withholding agent the appropriate form.

Foreign person. A foreign person includes a nonresident alien individual, a foreign corporation, a foreign partnership, a foreign trust, a foreign estate, and any other person that is not a U.S. person. It also includes a foreign branch or office of a U.S. financial institution or U.S. clearing organization if the foreign branch is a qualified intermediary. Generally, a payment to a U.S. branch of a foreign person is a payment to a foreign person.

Nonresident alien individual. Any individual who is not a citizen or resident alien of the United States is a nonresident alien individual. An alien individual meeting either the "green card test" or the "substantial presence test" for the calendar year is a resident alien. Any person not meeting either test is a nonresident alien individual. Additionally, an alien individual who is a resident of a foreign country under the residence article of an income tax treaty, or an alien individual who is a bona fide resident of Puerto Rico, Guam, the Commonwealth of the Northern Mariana Islands, the U.S. Virgin Islands, or American Samoa is a nonresident alien individual. See Pub. 519, U.S. Tax Guide for Aliens, for more information on resident and nonresident alien status.

Even though a nonresident alien individual married to a U.S. citizen or resident alien may choose to be treated as a resident alien for certain purposes (for example, filing a joint income tax return), such individual is still treated as a nonresident alien for withholding tax purposes on all income except wages.

Flow-through entity. A flow-through entity is a foreign partnership (other than a withholding foreign partnership), a foreign simple or foreign grantor trust (other than a withholding foreign trust), or, for payments for which a reduced rate of withholding is claimed under an income tax treaty, any entity to the extent the entity is considered to be fiscally transparent (see below) with respect to the payment by an interest holder's jurisdiction.

For purposes of section 1446, a foreign partnership or foreign grantor trust must submit Form W-8IMY to establish the partnership or grantor trust as a look through entity. The Form W-8IMY may be accompanied by this form or another version of Form W-8 or Form W-9 to establish the foreign or domestic status of a partner or grantor or other owner. See Regulations section 1.1446-1.

Hybrid entity. A hybrid entity is any person (other than an individual) that is treated as fiscally transparent (see below) in the United States but is not treated as fiscally transparent by a country with which the United States has an income tax treaty. Hybrid entity status is relevant for claiming treaty benefits. See the instructions for line 5c on page 5.

Reverse hybrid entity. A reverse hybrid entity is any person (other than an individual) that is not fiscally transparent under U.S. tax law principles but that is fiscally transparent under the laws of a jurisdiction with which the United States has an income tax treaty. See the instructions for line 5c on page 5.

Fiscally transparent entity. An entity is treated as fiscally transparent with respect to an item of income for which treaty benefits are claimed to the extent that the interest holders in the entity must, on a current basis, take into account separately their shares of an item of income paid to the entity, whether or not distributed, and must determine the character of the items of income as if they were realized directly from the sources from which realized by the entity. For example, partnerships, common trust funds, and simple trusts or grantor trusts are generally considered to be fiscally transparent with respect to items of income received by them.

Disregarded entity. A business entity that has a single owner and is not a corporation under Regulations section 301.7701-2(b) is disregarded as an entity separate from its owner.
A disregarded entity shall not submit this form to a partnership for purposes of section 1446. Instead, the owner of such entity shall provide appropriate documentation. See Regulations section 1.1446-1.

Amounts subject to withholding. Generally, an amount subject to withholding is an amount from sources within the United States that is fixed or determinable annual or periodic (FDAP) income. FDAP income is all income included in gross income, including interest (as well as OID), dividends, rents, royalties, and compensation. FDAP income does not include most gains from the sale of property (including market discount and option premiums).

For purposes of section 1446, the amount subject to withholding is the foreign partner’s share of the partnership’s effectively connected taxable income.

Withholding agent. Any person, U.S. or foreign, that has control, receipt, or custody of an amount subject to withholding or who can cause or make payments of an amount subject to withholding is a withholding agent. The withholding agent may be an individual, corporation, partnership, trust, association, or any other entity, including (but not limited to) any foreign intermediary, foreign partnership, and U.S. branches of certain foreign banks and insurance companies. Generally, the person who pays (or causes to be paid) the amount subject to withholding to the foreign person (or its agent) must withhold.

For purposes of section 1446, the withholding agent is the partnership conducting the trade or business in the United States. For a publicly traded partnership, the withholding agent may be the partnership, a nominee holding an interest on behalf of a foreign person, or both. See Regulations sections 1.1446-1 through 1.1446-6.

Specific Instructions

TIP A hybrid entity should give Form W-8BEN to a withholding agent only for income for which it is claiming a reduced rate of withholding under an income tax treaty. A reverse hybrid entity should give Form W-8BEN to a withholding agent only for income for which no treaty benefit is being claimed.

Part I

Line 1. Enter your name. If you are a disregarded entity with a single owner who is a foreign person and you are not claiming treaty benefits as a hybrid entity, this form should be completed and signed by your foreign single owner. If the account to which a payment is made or credited is in the name of the disregarded entity, the foreign single owner should inform the withholding agent of this fact. This may be done by including the name and account number of the disregarded entity on line 6 (reference number) of the form. However, if you are a disregarded entity that is claiming treaty benefits as a hybrid entity, this form should be completed and signed by you.

Line 2. If you are a corporation, enter the country of incorporation. If you are another type of entity, enter the country under whose laws you are created, organized, or governed. If you are an individual, enter N/A (for “not applicable”).

Line 3. Check the one box that applies. By checking a box, you are representing that you qualify for this classification. You must check the box that represents the classification (for example, corporation, partnership, trust, estate, etc.) under U.S. tax principles. Do not check the box that describes your status under the law of the treaty country. If you are a partnership or disregarded entity receiving a payment for which treaty benefits are being claimed, you must check the “Partnership” or “Disregarded entity” box. If you are a sole proprietor, check the “individual” box, not the “Disregarded entity” box.

Only entities that are tax-exempt under section 501 should check the “Tax-exempt organization” box. Such organizations should use Form W-8BEN only if they are claiming a reduced rate of withholding under an income tax treaty or some code exception other than section 501. Use Form W-8EXP if you are claiming an exemption from withholding under section 501.

Line 4. Your permanent residence address is the address in the country where you claim to be a resident for purposes of that country’s income tax. If you are giving Form W-8BEN to claim a reduced rate of withholding under an income tax treaty, you must determine your residency in the manner required by the treaty. Do not show the address of a financial institution, a post office box, or an address used solely for mailing purposes. If you are an individual who does not have a tax residence in any country, your permanent residence is where you normally reside. If you are not an individual and you do not have a tax residence in any country, the permanent residence address is where you maintain your principal office.

Line 5. Enter your mailing address only if it is different from the address you show on line 4.

Line 6. If you are an individual, you are generally required to enter your social security number (SSN). To apply for an SSN, get Form SS-5 from a Social Security Administration (SSA) office or, if in the United States, you may call the SSA at 1-800-772-1213. Fill in Form SS-5 and return it to the SSA.

If you do not have an SSN and are not eligible to get one, you must get an individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN). To apply for an ITIN, file Form W-7 with the IRS. It usually takes 4-6 weeks to get an ITIN.

An ITIN is for tax use only. It does not entitle you to social security benefits or change your employment or immigration status under U.S. law.

If you are not an individual or you are an individual who is an employer or you are engaged in a U.S. trade or business as a sole proprietor, you must enter an employer identification number (EIN). If you do not have an EIN, you should apply for one on Form SS-4, Application for Employer Identification Number. If you are a disregarded entity claiming treaty benefits as a hybrid entity, enter your EIN.

A partner in a partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States will likely be allocated effectively connected taxable income. The partner is required to file a U.S. federal income tax return and must have a U.S. taxpayer identification number (TIN).

You must provide a U.S. TIN if you are:
- Claiming an exemption from withholding under section 7871(f) for certain annuities received under qualified plans,
- A foreign grantor trust with 5 or fewer grantors,
- Claiming benefits under an income tax treaty, or
- Submitting the form to a partnership that conducts a trade or business in the United States.

However, a U.S. TIN is not required to be shown in order to claim treaty benefits on the following items of income:
- Dividends and interest from stocks and debt obligations that are actively traded;
- Dividends from any redeemable security issued by an investment company registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (mutual fund);
- Dividends, interest, or royalties from units of beneficial interest in a unit investment trust that are (or were upon issuance) publicly offered and are registered with the SEC under the Securities Act of 1933; and
- Income related to loans of any of the above securities.

You may want to obtain and provide a U.S. TIN on Form W-8BEN even though it is not required. A Form W-8BEN containing a U.S. TIN remains valid for as long as your status and the information relevant to the certifications you make on the form remain unchanged provided at least one payment is reported to you annually on Form 1042-S.

Line 7. If your country of residence for tax purposes has issued you a tax identifying number, enter it here. For example, if you are a resident of Canada, enter your Social Insurance Number.

Line 8. This line may be used by the tier of Form W-8BEN or by the withholding agent to whom it is provided to include any referencing information that is useful to the withholding agent in carrying out its obligations. For example, withholding agents who are required to associate the Form W-8BEN with a particular Form W-8IMY may want to use line 8 for a referencing number or code that will make the association clear. A beneficial owner may use line 8 to include the number of the account for which he or she is providing the form. A foreign single owner of a disregarded entity may use line 8 to inform the withholding agent that the account to which a payment is made or credited is in the name of the disregarded entity. (See instructions for line 1 on page 4.)

Part II

Line 9a. Enter the country where you claim to be a resident for income tax treaty purposes. For treaty purposes, a person is a resident of a treaty country if the person is a resident of that country under the terms of the treaty.

Line 9b. If you are claiming benefits under an income tax treaty, you must have a U.S. TIN unless one of the exceptions listed on the line 6 instructions above applies.

Line 9c. An entity (but not an individual) that is claiming a reduced rate of withholding under an income tax treaty must represent that it:
- Derives the item of income for which the treaty benefit is claimed, and
- Meets the limitation on benefits provisions contained in the treaty, if any.

An item of the treaty may be derived by either the entity receiving the item of income or by the interest holders in the entity or, in certain circumstances, both. An item of income paid to an entity is considered to be derived by the entity only if the entity is not fiscally transparent under the laws of the entity's jurisdiction with respect to the item of income. An item of income paid to an entity shall be considered to be derived by the interest holder in the entity only if:
- The interest holder is not fiscally transparent in its jurisdiction with respect to the item of income, and
- The entity is considered to be fiscally transparent under the laws of the interest holder's jurisdiction with respect to the item of income. An item of income paid directly to a type of entity specifically identified in a treaty as a resident of a treaty jurisdiction is treated as derived by a resident of that treaty jurisdiction.

If an entity is claiming treaty benefits on its own behalf, it should complete Form W-8BEN. If an interest holder in an entity that is considered fiscally transparent in the interest holder's jurisdiction is claiming a treaty benefit, the interest holder should complete Form W-8BEN on its own behalf and the fiscally transparent entity should associate the interest holder's Form W-8BEN with a Form W-8IMY completed by the entity.

An income tax treaty may not apply to reduce the amount of any tax on an item of income received by an entity that is treated as a domestic corporation for U.S. tax purposes. Therefore, neither the domestic corporation nor its shareholders are entitled to the benefits of a reduction of U.S. income tax on an item of income received from U.S. sources by the corporation.

To determine whether an entity meets the limitation on benefits provisions of a treaty, you must consult the specific provisions or articles under the treaties. Income tax treaties are available on the IRS website at www.irs.gov.

If you are an entity that derives the income as a resident of a treaty country, you may check this box if the applicable income tax treaty does not contain a "limitation on benefits" provision.

Line 9d. If you are a foreign corporation claiming treaty benefits under an income tax treaty that entered into force on or before January 1, 1967 (and has not been renegotiated on (a) U.S. source dividends paid to you by another foreign corporation or (b) U.S. source interest paid to you by a U.S. trade or business of another foreign corporation, you must generally be a "qualified resident" of a treaty country. See section 884 for the definition of interest paid by a U.S. trade or business of a foreign corporation ("branch interest") and other applicable rules.

In general, a foreign corporation is a qualified resident of a country if any of the following apply:
- It meets a 50% ownership and business test,
- It is primarily and regularly traded on an established securities market in its country of residence or the United States,
- It carries on an active trade or business in its country of residence,
- It gets a ruling from the IRS that it is a qualified resident.
See Regulations section 1.884-5 for the requirements that must be met to satisfy each of these tests.

If you are claiming treaty benefits under an income tax treaty entered into force after December 31, 1986, do not check box 9d. Instead, check box 9c.

Line 9e. Check this box if you are related to the withholding agent within the meaning of section 267(b) or 7701(n) and the aggregate amount subject to withholding received during the calendar year will exceed $500,000. Additionally, you must file Form 8833, Treaty-Based Return Position Disclosure Under Section 6114 or 7701(b).

Line 10

Line 10 must be used only if you are claiming treaty benefits that require that you meet conditions not covered by the rules in lines 6a through 9a. However, this line should always be completed by foreign students and researchers claiming treaty benefits. See Scholarship and fellowship grants below for more information.

The following are additional examples of persons who should complete this line.

- Exempt organizations claiming treaty benefits under the exempt organization articles of the treaties with Canada, Mexico, Germany, and the Netherlands.
- Foreign corporations that are claiming a preferential rate applicable to dividends based on ownership of a specific percentage of stock.
- Persons claiming treaty benefits on royalties if the treaty contains different withholding rates for different types of royalties.

This line is generally not applicable to claiming treaty benefits under an interest or dividends (other than dividends subject to a preferential rate based on ownership) article of a treaty.

Nonresident alien who becomes a resident alien. Generally, only a nonresident alien individual may use the terms of a tax treaty to reduce or eliminate U.S. tax on certain types of income. However, most tax treaties contain a provision known as a “saving clause.” Exceptions specified in the saving clause may permit an exemption from tax to continue for certain types of income even after the resident has otherwise become a U.S. resident alien for tax purposes. The individual must use Form W-9 to claim the treaty benefit. See the instructions for Form W-9 for more information. Also see Nonresident alien student or researcher who becomes a resident alien later for an example.

Scholarship and fellowship grants. A nonresident alien student (including a trainee or business apprentice) or researcher who receives noncompensatory scholarship or fellowship income may use Form W-8BEN to claim benefits under a tax treaty that apply to reduce or eliminate U.S. tax on such income. No Form W-8BEN is required unless a treaty benefit is being claimed. A nonresident alien student or researcher who receives compensatory scholarship or fellowship income must use Form 8233 to claim any benefits of a tax treaty that apply to that income. The student or researcher must use Form W-4 for any part of such income for which he or she is not claiming a tax treaty withholding exemption. Do not use Form W-8BEN for compensatory scholarship or fellowship income. See Compensation for Dependent Personal Services in the Instructions for Form 8233.

If you are a nonresident alien individual who received noncompensatory scholarship or fellowship income and personal services income (including compensatory scholarship or fellowship income) from the same withholding agent, you may use Form 8233 to claim a tax treaty withholding exemption for part or all of both types of income.

Completing lines 4 and 8a. Most tax treaties that contain an article exempting scholarship or fellowship grant income from taxation require that the recipient be an resident of the other treaty country at the time of, or immediately prior to, entry into the United States. Thus, a student or researcher may claim an exemption even if he or she no longer has a permanent address in the other treaty country after entry into the United States. If this is the case, you may provide a U.S. address on line 4 and still be eligible for the exemption if all other conditions required by the tax treaty are met. You must also identify on line 9a the tax treaty country of which you were a resident at the time of, or immediately prior to, your entry into the United States.

Completing line 10. You must complete line 10 if you are a student or researcher claiming an exemption from taxation on your scholarship or fellowship grant income under a tax treaty.

Nonresident alien student or researcher who becomes a resident alien. You must use Form W-9 to claim an exception to a saving clause. See Nonresident alien who becomes a resident alien on this page for a general explanation of saving clauses and exemptions to them.

Example. Article 20 of the U.S.-China income tax treaty allows an exemption from tax for scholarship income received by a Chinese student temporarily present in the United States. Under U.S. law, this student will become a resident alien for tax purposes if he or she stays in the United States for 5 calendar years. However, paragraph 2 of the first protocol to the U.S.-China treaty (dated April 30, 1984) allows the provisions of Article 20 to continue to apply even after the Chinese student becomes a resident alien of the United States. A Chinese student who qualifies for this exception (under paragraph 2 of the first protocol) and is relying on this exception to claim an exemption from tax on his or her scholarship or fellowship income would complete Form W-9.

Part III

If you check this box, you must provide the withholding agent with the required statement for income from a notional principal contract that is to be treated as income not effectively connected with the conduct of a trade or business in the United States. You should update this statement as often as necessary. A new Form W-8BEN is not required for each update provided the form otherwise remains valid.

Part IV

Form W-8BEN must be signed and dated by the beneficial owner of the income, or, if the beneficial owner is not an individual, by an authorized representative or of the beneficial owner. If Form W-8BEN is completed by an agent acting under a duly authorized power of attorney, the form must be accompanied by the power of attorney in proper form or a copy thereof specifically authorizing the agent to represent the principal in making, executing, and presenting the form. Form 2848, Power of Attorney and Declaration of Representative, may be used for this purpose. The agent, as well as the beneficial owner, may incur liability for the penalties provided for an erroneous, false, or fraudulent form.

Broker transactions or barter exchanges. Income from transactions with a broker or a barter exchange is subject to reporting rules and backup withholding unless Form W-8BEN or a substitute form is filed to notify the broker or barter exchange that you are an exempt foreign person.

You are an exempt foreign person for a calendar year in which:
• You are a nonresident alien individual or a foreign corporation, partnership, estate, or trust;
• You are an individual who has not been, and does not plan to be, present in the United States for a total of 183 days or more during the calendar year; and
• You are neither engaged, nor plan to be engaged during the year, in a U.S. trade or business that has effectively connected gains from transactions with a broker or barter exchange.
