

PRE-PHYSICAL THERAPY RECOMMENDED COURSEWORK

Physical Therapy (PT) schools do not require a specific undergraduate major for admission. However, they do require a strong foundation in the basic sciences. Each school determines its own prerequisite coursework, but based on best practices and available information, H3P (in collaboration with the Office of Academic Advising & Assistance) recommends pre-PT students complete the following courses:

Recommended Courses at Gonzaga	Credits

Instructions & Notes:

- Students should use this list of recommended coursework as a guide, and work with their advisor and/or Academic Advising & Assistance to develop an academic plan that aligns with individual needs and goals.
- PT programs may accept EDPE 276/L and EDPE 277/L for A&P requirement as well as a major-specific Statistics course – contact individual schools.
- Physical Therapy schools accept AP coursework on a case-by-case basis.
- PT schools may require or recommend additional coursework not listed here. Students are responsible for researching PT admissions information to ensure fulfillment of coursework that makes for competitive candidacy at those schools. Refer to the PTCAS Program Directory and/or individual school websites.
- This information is accurate as of the date listed below, and courses are subject to change. Providing this information does not guarantee availability of or access to courses.

Students are ultimately responsible for confirming:

- Details about when courses are offered and any restrictions that may require course authorization for approval to register. This information can be researched in Zagweb, the course catalog, and/or by appointment with an academic advisor and may include:
  - Pre-requisites (course or minimum grade) that need to be completed prior to registering for a course
  - Co-requisite course (or other requirement) that a student must take at the same time
  - Restrictions (major, minor, or class year) that may prevent a student from registering for a course
