PROLOGUE

Cattle, Horses, Sky and Grass

All.

Yoodle—ooh, yoodle-ooh-hoo, so sings a lone cowboy,
Who with the wild roses wants you to be free.

These are the things that sway and pass Before our eyes and through our dreams Through shiny, sparkly, golden gleams Within our psyche that find and know
The value of this special glow
That only gleams for those who bleed Their soul and heart and utter need Into the mighty, throbbing Earth From which springs life and death and birth.

I’m alive! I’m alive, I’m alive, golden.
I’m alive, I’m alive, I’m alive . . .

These cattle, horses, grass, and sky Dance and dance and never die
They circle through the realms of air And ground and empty spaces where A human being can join the song Can circle, too, and not go wrong Amidst the natural, pulsing forces Of sky and grass and cows and horses.

I’m alive, I’m alive, I’m alive . . .

This chant of life cannot be heard It must be felt, there is no word To sing that could express the true Significance of how we wind Through all these hoops of Earth and mind Through horses, cattle, sky and grass
And all these things that sway and pass.

Ordinary Boy

Let’s talk about Matt.

Ordinary boy, ordinary boy, ordinary boy . . .

Born in December in Casper, Wyoming

Ordinary boy
to a father, Dennis and a mother, Judy

Ordinary boy, ordinary boy
Then came a younger brother, Logan

Ordinary boy
His name was Matthew Wayne Shepard. And one day his name came to be known around the world. But as his mother said:

Judy Shepard: You knew him as Matthew. To us, he was Matt.

He went camping, he went fishing, even hunting for a moose He read plays and he read stories and especially Dr. Seuss

He wrote poems with illustrations for the neighbors on the street And he left them in each mailbox till he learned it was illegal

He made friends and he wore braces and his frame was rather small He sang songs his father taught him

Frere Jacques . . .
Row Row Row Your Boat . . .
Twinkle Twinkle Little Star . . .

Just an ordinary boy living ordinary days with extraordinary kindness extraordinary laughter extraordinary shining extraordinary light and joy Joy and light.
Judy: He was my son, my first-born, and more. He was my friend, my confidant, my constant reminder of how good life can be—and . . . how hurtful.

How good life can be, how good life can be Judy: Matt’s laugh, his wonderful hugs, his stories . . .

Matt writes about himself in a notebook:

Matt: I am funny, sometimes forgetful and messy and lazy. I am not a lazy person though. I am giving and understanding. And formal and polite. I am sensitive. I am honest. I am sincere. And I am not a pest.

I am not a pest, I am not a pest . . .

I am my own person. I am warm.

I want my life to be happy and I want to be clearer about things. I want to feel good.

I love Wyoming . . .
I love Wyoming very much . . .

I love theatre
I love good friends
I love succeeding
I love pasta
I love jogging
I love walking and feeling good

I love Europe and driving and music and helping and smiling and Charlie and Jeopardy
I love movies and eating and positive people and pasta and driving and walking and jogging and kissing and learning and airports and music and smiling and hugging and being myself I love theatre! I love theatre!
And I love to be on stage!

Such an ordinary boy living ordinary days
In an ordinary life so worth living
He felt ordinary yearning and ordinary fears
With an ordinary hope for belonging
He felt ordinary yearning and ordinary fears
With an ordinary hope for belonging (Born to live this ordinary life)

I love, I love, I love . . .
Ordinary boy, ordinary boy.

We Tell Each Other Stories / I Am Open

We tell each other stories so that we will remember Try and find the meaning in the living of our days

Always telling stories, wanting to remember Where and whom we came from Who we are

Sometimes there’s a story that’s painful to remember One that breaks the heart of us all Still we tell the story We’re listening and confessing
What we have forgotten
In the story of us all

Trying to find the meaning . . .

I am open to hear this story about a boy, an ordinary boy Who never had expected his life would be this story, (could be any boy)
I am open to hear a story

Open, listen.
All.
Recitation I
Laramie, southeastern Wyoming, between the Snowy Range and the Laramie Range. Tuesday, October 6, 1998.

The Fence (before)
Out and alone on the endless empty prairie the moon bathes me the stars bless me the sun warms me the wind soothes me still still still I wonder will I always be out here exposed and alone?
will I ever know why I was put (here) on this earth?
will somebody someday stumble upon me?
will anyone remember me after I’m gone?
Still, still, still . . . I wonder.

Recitation II
Tuesday night. Matthew attended a meeting of the University of Wyoming’s Lesbian Gay Bisexual Transgender Association, then joined others for coffee at the College Inn. Around 10:30, he went to the Fireside Bar, where he later met Aaron McKinney and Russell Henderson. Near midnight, they drove him to a remote area, tied him to a buck and rail fence, beat him horribly and left him to die in the cold of night.

The Fence (that night)
Most noble evergreen with your roots in the sun:
you shine in the cloudless sky of a sphere no earthly eminence can grasp,
You blush like the dawn, you burn like a flame of the sun.
I held him all night long
He was heavy as a broken heart
Tears fell from his unblinking eyes
He was dead weight yet he kept breathing
He was heavy as a broken heart
His own heart wouldn’t stop beating
The cold wind wouldn’t stop blowing
His face streaked with moonlight and blood I tightened my grip and held on
The cold wind wouldn’t stop blowing
We were out on the prairie alone
I tightened my grip and held on
I saw what was done to this child
We were out on the prairie alone
Their truck was the last thing he saw
I saw what was done to this child
I cradled him just like a mother
Most noble evergreen, most noble evergreen, your roots in the sun . . .
Their truck was the last thing he saw
Tears fell from his unblinking eyes
I cradled him just like a mother
I held him all night long Most noble evergreen . . .

Recitation III
The next morning, Matthew was found by a cyclist, a fellow student, who at first thought he was a scarecrow. After several days in a coma and on life support, Matthew Shepard died on Monday, October 12, at 12:53 a.m. At the funeral, which took place on Friday, October 16, at St Mark’s Episcopal Church in Casper, Fred Phelps and the Westboro Baptist Church protested outside.
A Protestor

_kreuzige, kreuzige!_ (crucify, crucify)

A boy who takes a boy to bed?
Where I come from that's not polite
He asked for it, you got that right
The fires of Hell burn hot and red
The only good fag is a fag that's dead
A man and a woman, the Good Lord said
As sure as Eve took that first bite
The fires of Hell burn hot and red _kreuzige, kreuzige!

Beneath the Hunter's Moon he bled
That must have been a pretty sight
The fires of Hell burn hot and red

C'mon, kids, it's time for bed Say your prayers, kiss Dad good night
A boy who takes a boy to bed?
The fires of Hell burn hot and red

*crucify, crucify . . . the light *crucify the light . . .

Keep It Away From Me

don't wanna look on this never get near flames too raw for me grief too deep
keep it away from me

*stay out of my heart
*stay out of my hope

some son, somebody's pain some child gone child never mine born to this trouble don't wanna be born to this world world where sometimes yes world where mostly no

*the wound of love

smoke round my throat rain down my soul no heaven lies keep them gone keep them never grief too deep, flames too raw keep them away from me
stay out of my heart
stay out of my hope

don't try any old story on me no wing no song no cry no comfort ye no wound ever mine close up the gates of night

*the wound of love

keep this all away from me

*the wound of love
you take away

*the wounds of the world

keep it away from me
Recitation IV
National media began to broadcast the story. As the news began to spread, many people across the country gathered together in candlelight vigils, moved to (silently) speak for life over death, love over hate, light over darkness.

Fire of the Ancient Heart

Cantor:
What have you done? Hark, thy brother’s blood cries to me from the ground.

Choir:
Called by this candle
Led to the flame
Called to remember
Enter the flame

Cantor:
all our flames now swaying and free all our hearts now moving as one every living spirit turned toward peace all our tender hopes awake

Choir:
Called by this candle
Led to the flame
Called to remember
Enter the flame

Fire: howl
Fire: broken
Fire: burst
Fire: rage
Fire: swell Fire: shatter Fire: wail
Fire!

We all betray the ancient heart Ev’ry one of us, all of us
His heart, my heart, your heart, one heart (In each moment the fire rages, it will burn away a hundred veils.)

Burning Breaking Grasping Raging

how do we keep these flames in our hands?
how do we guard these fears in our hearts?
how long to hold these griefs in our songs?
remembering anger weave it with hope remembering exile braid it with praise longing past horror longing past dread dreaming of healing past all our pain

Fire: living in me Fire: purify Fire: now hold me
Fire: seize my heart (enter the flame, enter the flame shatter my heart, shatter my heart called to enter, burn a hundred veils)

Called by this flame Fire of my heart:
Break down all walls
Open all doors
Only this Love

Eyes of flesh, eyes of fire.
Lumina, lumina, lumina Open us, All!

In each moment the fire rages, it will burn away a hundred veils.

Recitation V
Aaron McKinney and Russell Henderson were arrested shortly after the attack and charged with murder, kidnapping, and aggravated robbery. The first of two trials began on October 26, 1999; both were convicted of the murder and sentenced to two consecutive life sentences.
We Are All Sons

Stray birds of summer come to my window to sing and fly away.
And yellow leaves of autumn which have no songs flutter and fall there with a sigh.
Once we dreamt that we were strangers.
We wake up to find that we were dear to each other.

we are all sons of fathers and mothers
we are all sons
we are all rivers the roar of waters, we are all sons

I Am Like You / We Are All Sons

I am like you
Aaron and Russell

When I think of you (and honestly I don’t like to think about you) but sometimes I do, I am so horrified, and just so angry and confused (and scared) that you could do things to another boy—they were so cruel and so undeserved, so dark and hard and full of (I don’t know)

Late one night I had a glimpse of something I recognized, just a tiny glimpse—I don’t even like to say this out loud, it isn’t even all that true—but I wondered for a moment, am I like you?
(in any way)
(I pray the answer is no)
Am I like you?

I bet you once had hopes and dreams, too.
Some things we love get lost along the way,
That’s just like me get lost along the way—
I am like you, I get confused and I’m afraid and I’ve been reckless, I’ve been restless, bored, unthinking, listless, intoxicated, I’ve come unhinged, and made mistakes and hurt people very much.

Sometimes I feel (in springtime, in early afternoon) the sunshine warm on my face; you feel this too (don’t you?), the sunshine warm on your face.
I am like you (this troubles me)
I am like you (just needed to say this)
Some things we love get lost along the way.

we are all sons of fathers and mothers
we are all sons
sometimes no home for us here on the earth no place to lay our heads
we are all sons of fathers and mothers

if you could know for one moment how it is to live in our bodies within the world if you could know you ask too much of us you ask too little
The Innocence

When I think of all the times
the world was ours for dreaming,
When I think of all the times the earth seemed like our home – Every heart alive with its own longing, Every future we could ever hope to hold.

All the times our laughter rang in summer,
All the times the rivers sang our tune Was there already sadness in the sunlight?
Some stormy story waiting to be told?

Where O where has the innocence gone?
Where O where has it gone?
Rains rolling down wash away my memory;
Where O where has it gone?

When I think of all the joys, the wonders we remember All the treasures we believed we’d never ever lose.
Too many days gone by without their meaning, Too many darkened hours without their peace.

Where O where has the innocence gone?
Where O where has it gone?
Vows we once swore, now it’s just this letting go,
Where O where has it gone?

Recitation VI
In the days and weeks after Matthew’s death, many people came to the fence to pay homage and pray and grieve.

The Fence (one week later)

I keep still I stand firm
I hold my ground while they lay down flowers and photos, prayers and poems crystals and candles, sticks and stones they come in herds they stand and stare they sit and sigh they crouch and cry

some of them touch me in unexpected ways without asking permission and then move on but I don’t mind being a shrine is better than being the scene of the crime

Recitation VII
Matthew’s father made his statement to the court on November 5, 1999.

Stars
By the end of the beating, his body was just trying to survive. You left him out there by himself, but he wasn’t alone. There were his lifelong friends with him—friends that he had grown up with. You’re probably wondering who these friends were. First, he had the beautiful night sky with the same stars and moon that we used to look at through a telescope. Then, he had the daylight and the sun to shine on him one more time—one more cool, moreful autumn day in Wyoming. His last day alive in Wyoming. His last day alive in the state that he always proudly called home. And through it all he was breathing in for the last time the smell of Wyoming sagebrush and the scent of pine trees from the snowy range. He heard the wind—the ever-present Wyoming wind—for the last time. He had one more friend with him. One he grew to know through his time in Sunday school and as an acolyte at St. Mark’s in Casper as well as through his visits to St. Matthew’s in Laramie.

I feel better knowing he wasn’t alone.
Recitation VIII

Matthew was left tied to the fence for almost eighteen hours.

In Need of Breath

Matt:
My heart
Is an unset jewel
Upon the tender night

Yearning for its dear old friend
The Moon.

When the Nameless One debuts again
Ten thousand facets of my being unfurl wings
And reveal such a radiance inside

I enter a realm divine
I too begin to sweetly cast light,
Like a lamp,
I cast light
Through the streets of this World.

My heart is an unset jewel Upon existence
Waiting for the Friend's touch.

Tonight

My heart is an unset ruby
Offered bowed and weeping to the Sky.
I am dying in these cold hours
For the resplendent glance of God.

My heart
Is an unset jewel
Upon the tender night

My heart is an unset ruby
Offered bowed and weeping to the Sky.

Gently Rest (Deer Lullaby)

Gently rest now, you the child of angels Spirit shining, resting in creation Universe is holding you so deeply
Gently rest now, you the child of angels

Deer beside you, hear your brother breathing With you always in your starry shelter Dreaming in the holy home of wonder Universe is holding you so deeply Light of every sun you felt around you Blessing bringing our own hearts of longing Spirit sleeping in the arms of ages
Gently rest now, you the child of angels

Universe now dreaming you so deeply Spirit shining, home within creation Dreaming in eternal light of wonder Gently rest now, you the child of angels
Spirit sleeping in the arms of angels Gently rest . . .
Recitation IX
Sheriff’s Deputy, Reggie Fluty, the first to report to the scene, told Judy Shepard that as she ran to the fence, she saw a large doe lying near Matt—as if the deer had been keeping him company all through the night.

Deer Song

Deer:
A mist is over the mountain,
    The stars in their meadows upon the air,
Your people are waiting below them,
    And you know there’s a gathering there.
All night I lay there beside you,
    I cradled your pain in my care,
We move through creation together,
    And we know there’s a welcoming there.

Welcome, welcome, sounds the song,
Calling, calling clear;
Always with us, evergreen heart,
    Where can we be but there?

Matthew:
I’ll find all the love I have longed for,
    The home that’s been calling my heart so long So soon I’ll be cleansed in those waters, My fevers forever be gone;
Where else on earth but these waters?
    No more, no more to be torn;
My own ones, my dearest, are waiting—And I’ll weep to be where I belong.

Welcome, welcome, sounds the song,
    Calling, calling clear;
Always with me, evergreen heart,
    Where can I be but here?

Recitation X
The fence has been torn down.

Pilgrimage

I walk to the fence with beauty before me
The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want

I walk to the fence with beauty behind me Yit’gadal v’yit’ kadash (may his great name grow)

I walk to the fence with beauty above me Om Mani Padme Ham (Om! the jewel in the lotus)

I walk to the fence with beauty below me Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit

I reach the fence surrounded by beauty wail of wind, cry of hawk

I leave the fence surrounded by beauty sigh of sagebrush, hush of stone (Beauty above me, beauty below me By beauty surrounded)

Still, still, still, I wonder....
    wail of wind, cry of hawk

Still, still, still, I wonder. . .
    wail of wind, cry of hawk

Still, still, still

EPILOGUE

Meet Me Here

Won’t you meet me here
Where the old fence ends and the horizon begins
There’s a balm in the silence
Like an understanding air
Where the old fence ends and the horizon begins.

We’ve been walking through the darkness
On this long, hard climb Carried ancestral sorrow
For too long a time
Will you lay down your burden Lay it down, come with me
It will never be forgotten Held in love, so tenderly

Meet me here
Won’t you meet me here
Where the old fence ends and the horizon begins
There’s a joy in the singing
Like an understanding air
Where the fence ends and the horizon begins.

Then we’ll come to the mountain We’ll go bounding to see That great circle of dancing And we’ll dance endlessly
And we’ll dance with the all the children Who’ve been lost along the way We will welcome each other Coming home, this glorious day

We are home in the mountain And we’ll gently understand That we’ve been friends forever
That we’ve never been alone We’ll sing on through any darkness
And our Song will be our sight
We can learn to offer praise again Coming home to the light . . .

Thank You

Choir: Thank you

Listen with the night falling we are saying thank you we are stopping on the bridges to bow from the railings we are running out of the glass rooms with our mouths full of food to look at the sky and say thank you we are standing by the water thanking it standing by the windows looking out in our directions

Thank you, thank you Hohou, hohou (Arahapo—thank you) Yontonwe (Huron—thank you) back from a series of hospitals back from a mugging after funerals we are saying thank you after the news of the dead whether or not we knew them we are saying thank you over telephones we are saying thank you in doorways and in the backs of cars and in elevators remembering wars and police at the door and the beatings on stairs we are saying thank you in the banks we are saying thank you in the faces of the officials and the rich and of all who will never change we go on saying thank you thank you

Hohou, Yontonwe . . .Thank you.

with the animals dying around us taking our feelings we are saying thank you with the forests falling faster than the minutes of our lives we are saying thank you with the words going out like cells of a brain with the cities growing over us we are saying thank you faster and faster with nobody listening we are saying thank you thank you we are saying and waving dark though it is All Of Us

What could be the song? Where begin again? Who could meet us there? Where might we begin? From the shadows climb, Rise to sing again; Where could be the joy? How do we begin?

Never our despair, Never the least of us, Never turn away, Never hide your face; Ordinary boy, Only all of us, Free us from our fear, Only all of us.

What could be the song? Where begin again? Who could meet us there? Where might we begin? From the shadows climb, Rise to sing again; Where could be the joy? How do we begin?

Never our despair, Never the least of us, Never turn away, Never hide your face; Ordinary boy, Only all of us, Free us from our fear, Only all of us.

Only in the Love, Love that lifts us up, Only in the Love . . .

LGBTQIA+ HATE CRIME INTERSECTIONALITIES

We are grateful for the research and presentations of students from Dr. Jonathan Rossing’s Intersectional Communication course—Kelsey Lally, Molly Quillin, Caitlin Fitzgerald, Marisa Montesi, and Lauren Schaefer—who applied an intersectional lens to the public’s response to Matthew Shepard’s story, covered as a hate crime victim who identified as a young, white male. We also remember and honor the stories of the following LGBTQ+ community who were murdered around the same date as Matthew Shepard (October 12, 1998), but who received little or no news coverage, many of whom are people of color, women, or non-binary. We acknowledge that advocacy against hatred targeted at the LGBTQ+ community must also expand into advocating for an end to racialized hatred and for sharing LGBTQ+ stories of all racial identities, genders, abilities, socioeconomic statuses, religious backgrounds, and beyond. We seek to acknowledge the intersections of identity that contribute to silencing LGBTQ+ stories and highlight that homophobic and transphobic acts persist today.
